Ordered, To lie on the table.

Resolved, That three members be added to the committee of cloathing, in the room of those who are absent:

1 In the original Journal this was entered Richard.
October, 1776

The members chosen, Mr. [John] Witherspoon, Mr. [Thomas] Stone and Mr. [John] Penn.

Congress took into consideration the report of the Board of War of the 19th of September; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the inhabitants of Canada, captivated by the United States, and not taken in arms, be released and sent home, except St. Luke la Corne and Mons. Rouville, the elder, upon this condition, that they sign a parole that they will not take up arms against the United States, nor give intelligence to the enemies of these states:

That a register be kept of their names.

Resolved, That the Board of War order gun powder to be delivered for proving cannon for the United States, upon application to them for that purpose.

The Board of Treasury reported, that there is due,

To Joseph Donaldson, for supplies to recruits to General Lee's guard, and provisions to Captain Grier's company, and a guard with powder to Virginia, 20 60/90ths dollars:

To William Faulkner, a prisoner, sent by General Schuyler to Reading, for his allowance from the 9th day of April to the 7th of October, inclusive, being 26 weeks, at two dollars per week, 52 dollars:

To Captain Hazlewood, Captain Greenway and Mr. Bedford, a balance of 267 10/90ths dollars, their whole account of their charge for preparing six sail of fire ships at New York, and their expences going to, in, and coming from, New York to Philadelphia, being 392 10/90ths dollars; of which they have received from S. Moylan, Esq' quarter master general, the sum of 125 dollars; the remainder is 267 10/90ths dollars.

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.
Resolved, That to Morrow be assigned for appointing the commissaries of cloathing and deputy commissary of stores.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1776

Two letters from General Washington, of the 7th and 8 October, with sundry papers enclosed, were laid before Congress, and read: Whereupon,¹

Resolved, That the release of Mons. de Chambault, as proposed by General Washington, on the request of the Count D’Emery, governor general of the French part of St. Domingo, be agreed to:

That the General’s letters, with the papers enclosed, be referred to the Board of War.

Resolved, That General Washington be desired, if it be practicable, by every art, and whatever expence, to obstruct effectually the navigation of the North river, between Fort Washington and Mount Constitution, as well to prevent the regress of the enemies’ frigates lately gone up, as to hinder them from receiving succours.

The Secret Committee informed Congress that a vessel was arrived at Rhode Island, with sundry articles imported by their order, for account of the United States.

Resolved, That the Secret Committee be directed to report in what manner the goods imported ought, in their opinion, to be disposed of.

Resolved, That Mr. S. Collins be requested to order the tents fit for use, which are found in the possession of

October, 1776

William Barrel, lately deceased, to be delivered to Mr. Mease, for the army, and that the amount thereof be paid by Mr. Mease, on application of Mr. Collins, or other person properly authorized for that purpose.

Resolved, That the Marine Committee be directed to deliver over to the direction of the Committee of Secret Correspondence two of the continental cruisers now ready for sea, to perform such voyages as they shall think necessary for the service of these states:

That the Marine Committee give orders to the remainder of the continental cruisers, now in the port of Philadelphia, and ready for sea, to proceed on such voyages, or perform such immediate services, as the Secret Committee shall direct, in writing, addressed to the commanders thereof.

Resolved, That three members be added to the Committee of Secret Correspondence.

The members chosen, Mr. Richard H[enry] Lee, Mr. [John] Witherspoon, and Mr. [William] Hooper.

The Marine Committee to whom was referred the account of Captain Martindale, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That there be paid to Captain Sion Martindale the sum of £43 5 3 lawful money, equal to 144 18/90 dollars, in full of expenses and disbursements on the brig Washington, and other expenses from Halifax to Casco Bay.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that Edward Snickers, of Virginia, produced an account of rifle guns and other articles, furnished for the use of Colonel Stevenson's battalion, amounting to £347 4 0, Virginia currency; of which Captain Abraham Sheppard is to account for £67 15, and the remainder, being £279 9, to be charged to the said battalion; that the said Snickers gives credit for £64 16, money aforesaid, for so much received from Colonel Stevenson, the balance due to said Snickers being £282 8, equal to 941 30/90 dollars, ought to be paid to Thomas Rutherford:

That William Brady, of Colonel Stevenson's battalion, drew an order on Colonel Valentine Crawford, one of the executors of the late Colonel Stevenson, for the use of the said battalion, for the sum of 150 dollars, which order was paid by the said Crawford, and that he ought to be reimbursed the same, which is to be charged to the said Brady:

That they have had under consideration the accounts of Captain Daniel Morgan, amounting, with his own and three lieutenants' pay, the loss of rifles when he was taken at the storm of Quebec, expenses of recruiting his company, repairing of guns which he is charged with, and ought to be allowed, in the whole, to 1,389 80/90 dollars:

That the said Morgan credits the several charges against him in the continental books, amounting to 1,614 8½/90 dollars; by which there appears to be a balance due to the public of 224 18½/90 dollars:

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid and credited, agreeable to the said report.

A petition from William Jenkins being laid before Congress was read.

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Resolved, That General Washington be empowered to appoint a deputy commissary of stores for the army near New York.

The committee appointed to prepare the form of an oath, to be taken by the officers of the army and navy, brought in the same, which was read:

Ordered, To lie on the table.
October, 1776

Resolved, That a member be added to the Marine Committee, in the room of Mr. [Stephen] Hopkins, who is absent.

The member chosen, Mr. [William] Ellery.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o'Clock on Monday.

Monday, October 14, 1776

A letter of the 12 from General Lee;
One from General Gates, of the 30 September;
One from General Mercer, of the 10 October; and One from Joseph Trumbull of the 1, advising that he has drawn on the president in favour of Colonel Lowry, for 60,000 dollars;¹

One from General Washington, of the 7, enclosing a letter from Dr. Morgan, were laid before Congress, and read.

Resolved, That the letters from Generals Lee and Mercer be referred to the Board of War:

That the letter from Dr. Morgan, enclosed in General Washington's letter, be referred to the Medical Committee.

A petition from Francis Mentges was presented to Congress, and read, and referred to the Board of War.²

The Board of War, to whom were referred General Washington's letters, of the 7 and 8 instant, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That General Washington be informed the Congress approve of his appointing Mons' P. Penet his aid ¹The letter of Gates is in No. 154, I., folio 105. That of Mercer is in No. 159, folio 190. That of Trumbull is in No. 78, XXII, folio 145.

²This petition, dated Camp, at Head Quarters, September 29, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, XV, folio 109. It has an endorsement by E. Rutledge "Improperly referred to the Board of War."
de camp by brevet, and that a commission of aid de camp be accordingly transmitted to him:

That the several states in which prisoners have been lodged, be desired to furnish Congress with an account of such expences as have been incurred by the said states, respectively, on account of the said prisoners:

That all Prisoners captivated by the Army of the United States, whether Mechanics or not, be included in the exchange to be made between General Washington and the Enemy.

That the sum of 500,000 dollars be immediately sent to the pay master general, that he may be enabled to pay the bounty to such of the troops as shall re-inlist, to serve during the war.¹

Resolved, That the farther consideration of the report be postponed.

The committee appointed to hear and determine upon the appeal brought against the sentence passed on the libel, ||Joshua Wentworth|| vs. the ship Elizabeth, reported as follows:

Joshua Wentworth Esq. for and in behalf as well of the United States of America, as of John Manly, Daniel Waters and John Ayres, commanders of the officers, marines and mariners, of the three armed vessels Hancock, Lee and Lynch, in the service of the said states, having exhibited a libel before Joshua Brackett, Esq. judge of the court maritime of the state of New Hampshire, against the brigantine Elizabeth, commanded by Peter Ramsay, and her cargo, and Richard Hart, of Portsmouth, in New Hampshire, owner of the said brigantine, and William Jackson and others, of Boston, in the state of Massachusetts bay, owners of sundry goods and merchandise on board of her, having put in their several claims thereto, and the said judge of the court aforesaid, having, on the 21 day of August, in the year of our Lord 1776, decreed and ordered the said brigantine, and so much of her cargo as was claimed to be restored to the respective claimants, and ¹This report, dated "At a Board of War, October 12th, 1776," and in the writing of Edward Rutledge, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 7.

that the claimants recover their legal costs of court, from which decree and sentence the said Joshua Wentworth appealed to Congress.

The committee of Congress, to whom it was referred to hear and determine the said appeal, have diligently inspected the proceedings, and heard the parties by their counsel, and it appearing that on the 1st day of October, in the year of our Lord 1775, General Gage, commander in chief of the British forces, then in Boston, in the state of Massachusetts bay, by his commission to Crean Brush, Esq. directed him to receive into his care, all such goods, chattels, and effects of the inhabitants of that town, some of whom had departed from it, as might be voluntarily delivered into his charge by the owners, or by other persons with whom they were left, giving his receipts for them and to deliver them to the owners, when he should be required; that, on the 10th day of March then following, General Howe, who had succeeded General Gage in the command of the British forces, by his commission to the said Crean Brush, reciting, that as he was informed there were large quantities of goods in Boston, which, if in the possession of the rebels (as he termed the Americans) might enable them to carry on war, and that he had given notice to all loyal inhabitants to remove such goods from thence, and that those who should not remove them, or deliver them to the care of the said Crean Brush, would be considered as abettors of rebels, required him to take into his possession all such goods as answered that description, and give certificates to the owners that he had received them for their use, and would deliver them to the owners, unavoidable accidents excepted, and to seize any such goods, as, upon enquiry, should be found secreted, or left in stores, and to put them on board of the Minerva ship, or brigantine Elizabeth. That, thereupon, the said Crean Brush, assisted by other persons, took into his possession the goods of the claimants, amongst others, and put them into the said brigantine Elizabeth, and other vessels in the harbour of Boston, without the knowledge of some of the owners, and without the consent of all the others, unless it be William Jackson and James Jackson, of whose consent, however, there are no other proofs, than that one of them went with his goods, and watched there on the wharf from whence they were shipped, and that the other was a passenger in the said brigantine Elizabeth, in her voyage towards Halifax. That the said Crean Brush, by certificates under his hand, acknowledged several parcels of the said goods to be in his custody, and engaged to preserve them safely, to make up exact invoices thereof, and, with the approbation of the commander in chief, to return them to the owners. That, on the 29th day of March afterwards the said Peter Ramsay, by orders from Admiral Shuldham, of the British fleet, given about eight days before, went on board the said brigantine Elizabeth, into which some of the claimants' goods had been shifted from the other vessels; and the same day, between the hours of three and four o'clock in the afternoon, sailed with her, under convoy of the British ship of war Niger, for Halifax, in Nova Scotia, and that, on the Tuesday following, the said John Manly, in the Hancock, coming up with the said brigantine Elizabeth, which had, in the mean time, parted from her convoy, fired a broadside at her, which was returned by a volley of small arms; when the said Daniel Waters, in the Lee, and the said John Ayres, in the Lynch, joining the said John Manly, the said Peter Ramsay struck, it being about four or five of the clock in the afternoon, and the said brigantine was seized and carried into Piscataqua river in New Hampshire; whereupon, the committee, after mature deliberation, are of opinion, that the said brigantine Elizabeth is not comprehended in the description of vessels, which, with their cargoes, by the resolutions of Congress of the 25th day of November last, may be forfeited, not being an armed or a transport vessel employed in the present war against the United States, nor carrying provisions, or other necessaries, to the British army or navy, within any of the United Colonies: and that the cases of re-captures, mentioned in the resolution of Congress of the 5th day of December last, adjusting the proportions of salvage, those cases only were intended, in which the vessels and their cargoes remaining in possession of the enemy, might, by the law of nations, be condemned as prize, which is conceived not to be the case of the said brigantine Elizabeth and her cargo; but, that notwithstanding it was the duty of the re-captors to recover the said brigantine and her cargo, and that the owners, who otherwise might, and probably would, have lost their whole property, ought to make a reasonable satisfaction; and that, therefore, the said sentence is erroneous, and ought to be reversed and annulled: That the said brigantine Elizabeth, and such parts of her cargo as were claimed in the said court maritime, be restored to the respective claimants, upon their paying, to the United States, and the re-captors, 1/12th part of the value thereof, to be determined by the appraisement of appraisers on oath, appointed by the judge of the said court: That the residue of the cargo be sold, and the proceeds, after deducting the like proportion and for the same uses, retained for the persons who shall hereafter prove their right to the same; that William Burk, commander, and the marines and mariners of the Warren, an armed vessel in the service of the United States, who claimed a part of the said brigantine Elizabeth and her cargo, as being joint captors, are not entitled to a share of the salvage, it not appearing that they were present, or in sight, at the time of the re-capture: And that the appellants recover against the claimants their costs as well in the said court maritime, as in the prosecution of their appeal here; and that the cause be sent back to the said court maritime, for that court to proceed in carrying this sentence into execution.¹

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report.

Resolved, That such part of the twelfth, adjudged in the foregoing report to be paid in lieu of salvage, as belongs to the United States, be released, and given up to the owners of the goods.

The committee on the state of the prisoners, brought in a report, which was read:

Ordered, To lie on the table.

The Board of Treasury, in order for the more regular settlement of accounts, proposed sundry queries to Congress: Whereupon,

Resolved, That no allowance be made to officers for any arms lost or taken from them by the enemy:

¹ "Yesterday, the Committee appointed to hear the appeal from the Maritime Court in New Hampshire, concerning the Elizabeth, made their report, which was accepted. They have reversed the sentence of our court, and have ordered a salvage of one-tenth part to be paid by the claimants, as she did not come under the order of Congress of November and December last. Afterwards, the Congress, by a vote, gave up to the said claimants their share of the said tenth, so that they will have but one-twentieth part to pay, beside the costs.

"The same Committee have had Mr. Sheafe's petition under their consideration, but have made no report. By what I have conversed with them, I believe they will not think themselves authorized to do any thing in that affair, as there is no appeal from the court to the Congress, and the opposite party not present to be heard in the case, and nothing but the petition, without any thing more before them. They all say the case appears to be hard, but know not how to remedy it, without more proofs than they have at present, and without the opposite party being heard, and the case brought properly before them." Josiah Bartlett to John Langdon, 15 October, 1776. Force, American Archives, Fifth Series, II, 1063.
That the allowance to officers of 1½ dollars bounty for enlisting soldiers be not extended or given on the reinlistment of the soldiers in camp.¹

That no officer, holding two appointments in the continental army, be paid for more than one, after notice was given to the commanders of the respective armies, of the resolution of Congress against officers holding double commissions.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to devise ways and means for supplying the treasury with a farther sum of money:

The members chosen, Mr. R[ichard] H[enery] Lee, Mr. [James] Wilson, and Mr. [Lyman] Hall.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed, to consider what is to be done with negroes taken by vessels of war, in the service of the United States:

The members chosen, Mr. [James] Wilson, Mr. R[ichard] H[enery] Lee, and Mr. [Samuel] Huntington.

Resolved, That 600 dollars be advanced to Mr. R. Erwin, waggon master; he to be accountable.

Resolved, That the Board of War be directed to give orders to the Virginia troops, on their march to New York, to halt at Trenton, till farther orders.

Resolved, That the colonels of the New Jersey militia, make out regular pay rolls of such of the troops as have been under their command, when called into the continental service, and have not been paid by the convention of the said state:

That one penny a mile be allowed, in lieu of rations, to such men as have paid their expenses while on their march to and from the camp, from and to their respective homes.

That such rolls be attested by the oaths of the commanding officer and captains of the respective regiments,

To said Lieutenant Nichols, 36.0

For the use of the executors of Captain Hendricks inlisting money, when the company was raised,

85 men, at 1 dollar and 1/3, 113.30

The whole amounting to 238.60

That there should be advanced to Lieutenant Francis Nichols, for the purpose of paying the soldiers of his company returned from Quebec, the sum of 1,753 30/90 dollars until he can settle the accounts of the company; for which he is to be charged:

Ordered, That the said sums be paid accordingly.

Resolved, That two members be added to the Committee of Treasury:

The members, chosen, Mr. [George] Wythe and Mr. [James] Smith.

The Secret Committee having, agreeable to the order of Congress, taken into consideration how to make the best distribution of the cargo lately arrived at Providence, Rhode Island, in the brig Happy Return; brought in their report; Whereupon,

Resolved, That a copy of the invoice of the cloths and blankets be sent to General Mifflin, ||quarter master general,|| with an order to Messrs. Browns, of Rhode Island, to deliver the whole to his order, and that it be recommended to the said quarter master general, to have the cloths immediately made up for the soldiers, either in Rhode Island, Connecticut, or by the taylors in the army,

as may be thought best by General Washington and himself:

That Messrs. Browns be directed to deliver to the continental agent, at Rhode Island, the remaining part of the cargo, with orders to apply the lead, bullets, flints, muskets and powder, to the use of the continental frigates and cruisers, or such part thereof as may be wanted for that service, and the rest to remain for future orders:

That the said agent be directed to buy as much good fat beef and pork, as can be cured by the salt in his possession, for the use of the navy:

That the agent be directed to forward the sulphur of the said cargo to the powder mills in Connecticut and Rhode Island, and the five tons of salt petre, formerly sent by Congress from Philadelphia to Rhode Island, from thence to the powder mills of Messrs. Livingston and Wisner, on the North River, in the state of New York, to be manufactured into gun powder, for the continental service.

Resolved, That 40,000 dollars be sent to R. Dallam, Esq. deputy pay master general, for the use of the militia and flying camp; he to be accountable.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

Wednesday, October 16, 1776

Sundry letters being received, were laid before Congress, and read: viz.

One from E. Pendleton, Esq. speaker of the assembly of Virginia, of the 9 October;

One from Thomas Jefferson, of the 11th, and

One from Jos. Trumbull, of the 12th, informing that he has empowered Carpenter Wharton to purchase salt to the westward of New Jersey, and as much pork, for the use of the army, as salt can be had for, and requesting that he may be supplied with such sums of money as may be necessary for this purpose, to be charged to said J. Trumbull:¹

Resolved, That Mr. Wharton be supplied with money for the purpose aforesaid.

Resolved, That the sum of £5,040 18 5 lawful money, equal to 16,803 6/90 dollars be paid to Brigadier General Thomas Mifflin, or order, and charged to the account of Jonathan Trumbull, Jun. Esq. deputy pay master general in the northern army; the same being in full of a draught in his favour, by John Pierce, Jun. assistant pay master, in behalf of the said J. Trumbull, dated Albany, October 7, 1776, it being so much stopped for him from the pay of several regiments at Ticonderoga, by the said pay master.

Congress proceeded to the election of a commissary of cloathing for the northern army; when, the ballots being taken,

George Measam was elected.

Resolved, That George Measam be allowed the pay and rations of a major in the continental service.

That the commander in chief in the northern department, appoint suitable persons to appraise, on oath, and deliver to the said commissary, all articles of cloathing there, belonging to the United States, and transmit his receipts, with the appraisement, to the treasury office in Philadelphia:

That the said commissary employ suitable persons to make the cloathing, and add to the appraised value of the goods, the charges of making; and that he deliver the same to the regimental pay masters, agreeable to the orders he may receive from the commander aforesaid.

Resolved, That General Washington be empowered to appoint a commissary of cloathing for the army under his immediate command, and that he be empowered to appoint a deputy muster master general for the flying camp.

Resolved, That one ton of powder be sent to North Carolina, for the use of the continental forces in that state.

A letter, from John Roche, of the 1 October, was laid before Congress, and read:

Resolved, That it be referred to the Marine Committee, who are directed to report thereon empowered to do therein what they think proper.

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the state of the prisoners; Whereupon,

Resolved, That William Livingston, Esq. governor of New Jersey, be informed, that Congress have considered his letter relative to certain prisoners confined in Somerset gaol, and being unacquainted either with their characters, or the causes of their being apprehended, request him to enquire into the same, and report to Congress their names and characters:

That soldiers and sailors, confined in gaol, be hereafter allowed 1 1/3 dollar per week; the allowance of one dollar being found not to be sufficient to support them comfortably.

Resolved, That the remainder of the report be recommitted.

The Marine Committee, to whom were referred the petition of B. Marshall & Brothers, and certain propositions from the state of Massachusetts bay, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,
Resolved, That what relates to the petition of B. Marshall & Brothers be postponed to Wednesday the 23d instant.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the general court of Massachusetts bay, to give the continental agent the full weight of their influence to make the frigate Hancock ready for sea immediately; that whatever expense shall accrue to the state of Massachusetts bay, either for procuring guns or other stores for fitting the said frigate, shall be reimbursed on demand; and that, in directing the cruise of the said frigate, the Congress will pay all the regard to the protection of the commerce of Massachusetts bay, that the zeal of that state, in the common cause, justly entitles it to.

A petition from Captain C. Roberts was presented to Congress, and read.

Resolved, That it be referred to Mr. [George] Walton, Mr. [Francis] Hopkinson, and Mr. F[rancis] L[ightfoot] Lee, who are directed to enquire into the state of facts, and report to Congress.

A memorial from the Chevalier d’Antignac was presented to Congress, and read.

Resolved, That it be referred to the Board of War.¹

A memorial from Colonel D. Campbell was presented to Congress, and read; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the commanding officer in the northern department be desired to confirm or disapprove the sentence of the court martial on Colonel D. Campbell, as he, upon mature judgment, shall think proper, and report to Congress.

Whereas sundry prizes have been heretofore taken by the cruisers fitted out by General Washington, at the con-continental expence, and on continental accounts, and no accounts thereof have yet been rendered by the agents who received and sold the said prizes; and, whereas, a just distribution of such shares of the said prizes as are due to the officers and men, agreeable to the rules and regulations of Congress, ought to be made;

Resolved, That the Marine Committee be empowered to order such distribution of the said prize money amongst the parties interested therein; and that they recover from the said agents the continental share of all the said prizes:

That the present continental agents do account with the Marine Committee, from time to time, for the continental share of all prizes received and sold by them, and that they pay the amount of such prizes to the order of the said committee:

That the said agents make just distribution of the shares in all prizes that appertain to the officers and crews of the continental ships of war, agreeable to the rules and regulations of Congress, as soon after the sales of each prize as possible:

That the Marine Committee apply all the prize money they receive from the agents, to the service of the marine department, and hereafter render accounts thereof to Congress:

That the Marine Committee report, from time to time, all sums of money they receive for prizes to the treasury, in order that the same may be charged to their account in the treasury books.

The Board of Treasury reported, that there is due,

To Captain Sion Martindale and Lieutenant Moses Turner, for their pay and rations from the 1st of January to the 14 October, 1776, the sum of 572 76/90 dollars.

Ordered, That the said account be paid.

Additional instructions to B. F., S. D., and T. J., commissioners from the United States of America to the king of France.

Whilst you are negotiating the affairs you are charged with at the court of France, you will have opportunities of conversing frequently with the ministers and agents of other European princes and states residing there.

You shall endeavour, when you find occasion fit and convenient, to obtain from them a recognition of our independency and sovereignty, and to conclude treaties of peace, amity and Commerce between their princes or states and us, provided, the terms thereof be first imparted to his most Christian Majesty and approved of by him, that they that the same be not inconsistent with the treaty you shall make with his most Christian Majesty, that they do not oblige us to become a party in any war which may happen in consequence thereof, and that the immunities, exemptions, privileges, protection, defense and advantages, or the contrary, thereby stipulated, be equal and reciprocal. If that cannot be effected, you shall, to the utmost of your power, prevent their taking part with Great Britain in the war which his Britannic Majesty prosecutes against us, or entering into offensive alliances with that King, and protest and present remonstrances against the same, desiring the interposition, mediation and good offices on our behalf of his most Christian Majesty, the King of France, and of any other princes or states whose dispositions are not hostile towards us. In case overtures be made to you by the ministers or agents of any European princes or states for commercial treaties between them and us, you may conclude such treaties accordingly.¹

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1776

A petition from Henry Keppele was laid before Congress, and read, setting forth, that he hath entered an appeal against the sentence passed on the ship Charming ¹This report, in the writing of George Wythe, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 25, I, folio 1. It was laid before Congress some time after September 26, and is endorsed: "Postponed. Agreed to October 16, 1776," but no entry appears in the Journals.

October, 1776

Peggy, and praying that a convenient day may be assigned for hearing the said appeal:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, with full power to hear and determine upon the said appeal:

The members chosen, Mr. [Samuel] Huntington, Mr. [Robert Treat] Paine, Mr. [George] Wythe, Mr. [James] Smith, and Mr. [James] Wilson.

Resolved, That a committee of three [four] be appointed to review such of the resolutions of Congress as relate to the capture and condemnation of prizes, and report what alterations or additions should be made respecting the same:

The members chosen, Mr. [George] Wythe, Mr. [Edward] Rutledge, Mr. [Robert Treat] Paine, and Mr. [Samuel] Huntington.

A petition from Carpenter Wharton was presented to Congress, and read:

Resolved, That it be referred to the council of safety of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That a commissary be appointed to supply the battalion, commanded by Colonel Mackay, with provisions; the ballots being taken,

Ephraim Blaine, Esq. was elected.

Resolved, That Mr. Francis Lewis, Jun. be permitted to go to the state of New York with Mr. Foxcroft.

The committee, to whom was re-committed the report on the state of the prisoners in the gaol of Philadelphia, brought in a farther report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the prisoners from North Carolina be permitted to return to their families, if the convention of that state shall be of opinion they may so do, without danger to that or any other of the United States; and, in the mean time, that bedding, blankets, and other necesjuries, be furnished the gaoler, by Mr. Mease, for the use of such prisoners as are unprovided with them:¹

That Captain M'Kenzie be permitted to apply to the state of North Carolina for liberty to return there; and, in the mean time, that he be allowed ten dollars to bear his expences to Lancaster county:

That Lieutenant M'Clean, an half pay officer, taken in Canada, be permitted to reside at Reading on giving his parole.

Resolved, That a Committee of Intelligence be appointed to select and report such authentic accounts, as are, from time to time, received by Congress, of the state of the armies and navy of the United States, as they shall judge proper to be published by authority of Congress:

The members chosen, Mr. [Benjamin] Rush, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, and Mr. [Francis] Hopkinson.²

Resolved, That a committee be appointed to bring in a plan for the better regulating the treasury board:

The members chosen, Mr. [Elbridge] Gerry, Mr. [Philip] Livingston, and Mr. [Francis] Hopkinson.

Mr. Duché having, by letter, informed the president, that the state of his health, and his parochial duties, were such, as obliged him to decline the honour of continuing chaplain to the Congress, ¹A petition from these prisoners is in the Colonial Records of North Carolina, X, 888.

²"Congress have appointed a 'Committee of Intelligence,' to select and publish such intelligence as Congress shall receive from time to time, and it shall be proper to publish. That committee have, in this week's papers, published an account of the sea fight on the lake, but omitted some particulars which I have mentioned. They have also given the public such intelligence as hath been received from the army in the middle department. . . . At this critical period, when we have so much at stake, every friend to his country is anxious to know every thing that takes place. Sensible of this Congress, as I have already mentioned, have appointed a committee of intelligence, whose publications may be relied on: and if the accounts which Congress receives from the armies are particular, the public will be gratified so soon as posts can convey the newspapers to the different states." William Ellery to Governor Cooke, 28 October, 1776. Rhode Island in the Continental Congress, 94, 95.
Resolved. That Mr. president be desired to return the thanks of this house to the Rev. Mr. Duché, for the devout and acceptable manner in which he discharged his duty during the time he officiated as chaplain to it; and that 150 dollars be presented to him, as an acknowledgment from the house for his services.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due,

To Captain A. H. Brice, for his allowance as an officer prisoner, from 19th April, to 17 October, 1776, inclusive, being 26 weeks, at 2 dollars a week, 52 dollars:

To Captain Thomas Hesketh, for his allowance from 20 July to 19 October, inclusive, being, 13 weeks, at 2 dollars a week, 26 dollars:

To George Haas, for the hire of his waggon and his expenses with money from Philadelphia to Boston, 131 24/90 dollars:

To Colonel Hausegger, for the expense of himself and two prisoners from Ticonderoga to Philadelphia, 57 9/90 dollars:

To Captain Matthew Smith, to be paid to Lieutenant Archibald Steel, for inlisting his company, consisting of 80 men, at 1 1/3 dollars each, 106 60/90 dollars:

That they have examined the accounts exhibited by Lieutenant Archibald Steel, of Captain Smith’s company, for the pay of 34 officers and privates, and of Adjutant Christian Febiger, taken prisoners at Quebec, amounting to £590 15 [≈1,575 30/90 dollars] (exclusive of the pay of one serjeant, one corporal and 12 privates, who inlisted in the service of the king of Great Britain, amounting to £178 15 [≈476 60/90 dollars] which is retained) with £117 17 6 [≈314 30/90 dollars] received from Mr. Mease, leaves a balance due to the said Steel of £472 17 6 equal to 1,261 dollars:

20719—vol vi—06—3

Resolved, That the said letters be referred to the Board of War.
The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the deputy commissary general in Virginia be directed to make contracts for the supply of the troops in that department, provided they can be made at a rate not exceeding eight pence, Virginia currency, per ration, the contractors to have the use of the public waggons on any motion or march of the army, from the place or places where stationed:

That the commander in chief of each department be empowered, at the instance of the commissary general, or his deputies, to employ as many persons under him or them, at such salary or wages as he shall think adequate, and as he may think the service, from time to time, requires:

That the rations allowed to the several officers on the staff in the army of the United States, not heretofore settled, be as follows, and that the deputy commissary of

A letter from Mr. [Richard] Bache was read:

Resolved, That it be referred to a committee of three.

The members chosen, Mr. [George] Wythe, Mr. [Robert Treat] Paine, and Mr. [Philip] Livingston.

Whereas the fortifying the entrance of the river of Cape Fear, in the state of North Carolina, will tend greatly to the advantage and security of that state, by furnishing a safe harbour for foreigners, and excluding the enemy's ships:

Resolved, therefore, That it be recommended to the convention of the state of North Carolina, that they do immediately fortify and secure, at the expense of their state, the entrance of the said river, by erecting batteries and other works of defence, by placing obstructions in proper parts of the said river, and pursuing such other measures, as, in their opinion, will best conduce to prevent the introduction of the enemy's ships, and protect the trade of the said state; and, in case heavy cannon cannot be procured in the state of North Carolina, it is further recommended to the said convention, that they apply to the state of South Carolina, requesting the loan of such cannon as they can spare from their own necessities, who, it is not doubted, will contribute, as far as it may be in their power, to accomplish a purpose which will be of general utility to the southern states.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the Marine Committee: Whereupon,
Resolved, That all private ships of war, merchant ships, and other vessels, belonging to the subjects of these states, do pay respect to the continental ships of war, of any kind and denomination, by hauling down their pendants when in company with any of them, and also by lowering the sails usually lowered by British traders to British ships of war when they meet.

That no private ships or vessels of war, merchant ships, and other vessels belonging to the subjects of these states, be permitted to wear pendants when in company with continental ships or vessels of war, without leave from the commanding officer thereof.

That, if any merchant ship or vessel shall wear pendants in company with continental ships or vessels of war, without leave first obtained from the commander thereof, such commander be authorized to take away the pendants from the offenders.

That, if private ships or vessels of war refuse to pay the respect due to the continental ships or vessels of war, the captain or commander, so refusing, shall lose his commission.¹

Resolved, That the further consideration of the report be postponed till to Morrow.

The several matters to this day referred, being farther postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1776

Mr. Duché having, by a letter to the president, acknowledged his obligations for the kind manner in which Congress have expressed their approbation of his services, requests, as he accepted their appointment from motives perfectly disinterested, that Mr. Hancock will please to put the 150 dollars voted to him, may be applied to the relief of the widows and children of such of the Pennsylvania officers, as have fallen in battle in the service of their country:¹

Resolved, That the money be deposited with the council of safety of Pennsylvania, to be applied agreeable to the request and desire of Mr. Duché.

A memorial of Robert Jewell was read and referred to the committee on Governor Livingston’s letter.

Resolved, That 133½ dollars be advanced to Evans and Stretch, the commanding officers of the guard going with money and cloathing to the northern army, they to be accountable.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due,

To Mons. Pierre Gamelin, a prisoner from Canada, for his allowance from 26 March to 28 October, inclusive, being 31 weeks, at 2 dollars a week, 62 dollars:

To Marcus Lucullus Ryall, a prisoner, for his allowance from 22d August to 24 October, inclusive, being 9 weeks, at 2 dollars, 18 dollars:

To Lieutenant Jacob Schalch, a prisoner, for his allowance from 19 July to 25 October, inclusive, being 14 weeks, at 2 dollars, 28 dollars:

To Dr. James Gill, a prisoner, for his allowance from 19 July to 25 October, inclusive, being 14 weeks, at 2 dollars, 28 dollars:

To Lieutenant Simon Evans, a prisoner, for his allowance from 23 August to 18 October, inclusive, being 8 weeks, at 2 dollars, 16 dollars:

¹ Mr. Duché’s letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, VII, folio 75.
To Pelatiah Webster for 200 lbs. of rhubarb, 600 dollars:

To Alexander Middleton, of the 5th Virginia battalion, for his account of medicines, board, nursing, and necessaries for the sick of the said regiment, 86 60/90 dollars:

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

The committee, to whom were referred the resolutions of the convention of Maryland, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the president write to the convention of Maryland, and inform them, that their resolutions relative to their paying ten dollars in lieu of the 100 acres of land, determined by Congress to be given to such non-commissioned officers and soldiers as shall enlist to serve during the war, will, (in the opinion of this house,) if carried into execution, prove extremely detrimental to these states, as it will, in all probability, induce such soldiers as are to compose the remainder of the levies, to require an equal sum from the United States, and by refusing to enlist until their demands shall be complied with, compel the Congress to the immediate payment of an additional bounty, far beyond what is reasonable:

That this house, being satisfied with the propriety of offering land to the soldiery, as an inducement to enlist in the service, cannot rescind the said resolution, and are of opinion, that the faith, which this house, (by virtue of the power with which they were vested,) has plighted, must be obligatory upon their constituents; that no one state can, by its own act, be released therefrom, and that the interest of the United States would be deeply and injuriously affected, should the Congress, at this time, consent to a compromise between any state and the forces to be by them raised:

That the said convention, by their said resolutions, seem to apprehend, that their state would be obliged, in their individual capacity, to make good the bounty of land hereafter to be given to the soldiery; whereas, it was the intention of Congress to provide the said land at the expence of the United States:

That the said convention be requested to reconsider the said resolutions, and to give to their commissioners, appointed to repair to the camp, such instructions as will enable them to carry into execution the views of Congress: That the said convention be informed, that the pay master general has been furnished with a sum of money for the purpose of paying the bounty of 20 dollars ordered by Congress to such soldiers as shall inlist to serve the United States during the war.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the Marine Committee: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the rank of officers of marines be the same as officers of similar commissions in the land service:

That the commanders, officers, seamen, and marines in the continental navy, be entitled to one half of merchant-men, transports, and store ships by them taken, from and after the first day of November, 1776, to be divided amongst them in the shares and proportions fixed by former resolutions of Congress:

That the commanders, officers, seamen and marines, in the continental navy, be entitled to the whole value of all ships and vessels of war belonging to the crown of Great Britain, by them made prize of, and all privateers authorized by his Britannic Majesty to war against these states, to be divided as aforesaid.¹

Resolved, That the part of the report relative to the rank and pay of naval officers, be referred to a special committee of three.

Resolved, That the remainder of the report be re-committed.

of the circumstances related by the express, charged with the said despatches, respecting his loss, but can discover no traces of the robbery or stealth; that the said express does not give so clear and satisfactory an account of this matter as fully to exculpate himself in the opinion of your committee, and therefore have brought him back in order to submit him to the farther examination of Congress; Whereupon,

Resolved, That Timothy Dod, who had charge of the despatches from General Washington, and alledges he lost them at Bristol, be committed to the custody of Mr.
[R.] Jewell, keeper of the public prison, to be safely kept till farther orders of Congress:

That Mr. Jewell be directed to keep Timothy Dod in his own apartments and family, and not to permit any of the prisoners, nor any person, except those of his own family, to converse with him, till farther orders.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to prepare an effectual plan for suppressing the internal enemies of America, and preventing a communication of

Resolved, That the Board of War be directed to have the prisoners removed from Bristol, and the public post roads, to some convenient places back in the country:

That the said Board be directed to have a sufficient guard kept at the public prison, and over the continental stores in and near Philadelphia.

Whereas, it has been represented to Congress, that sundry inhabitants of these United States, to keep supplies from the army, or promote their own interest, have purchased considerable quantities of cloathing, and refuse to dispose of the same, unless upon extravagant or unreasonable terms;

Resolved, That it be recommended to the assemblies, conventions, councils or committees of safety of the several states, forthwith to take suitable measures for obtaining, for the use of the army, such necessary articles, as being thus engrossed in their respective states, cannot be otherwise immediately procured, allowing to the owners reasonable prices for the same; and that laws be provided in each of the states, for effectually preventing monopolies of necessaries for the army, or inhabitants of the same.¹

Ordered, That the committee on the post office to whom Mr. Bache's letter was referred, report, as soon as possible, ways and means of establishing expresses, and conveying intelligence to and from the army, with safety and despatch.

November, 1776

The committee to whom Governor Livingston’s letter was referred, brought in a report, which was read:

The committee, to whom Governor Livingston’s letter concerning some prisoners sailors in New Jersey was referred, beg leave to report, that they have taken into their consideration the unparalleled inhumanity and alarming tendency of a late act of parliament for obliging sailors taken on board American vessels to fight against their brethren and country; therefore,

Resolved, That the Sailors lately taken on board the Sloops Phœnix, the Sally, and the Mary, except such of them as belong to the United States, be immediately put on board some of the armed vessels of the United States, and compelled to fight against their former brethren and the Enemies of this country, in order that and by thus executing the great and necessary law of retaliation, our Enemies may be induced to put a stop to a practice so dishonourable to human nature, and first taught the world by the British nation.

Resolved, that this resolution be extended to all Sailors hereafter taken on board British vessels.

That Robert Colefax, Richard Williams and Peleg Mansfield, natives of America be permitted to return to their families in New England.

VIRGINIA.  Scit.

The House, according to the Order of the Day, proceeded, by Ballot, to the Appointment of a Delegate to represent this State in General Congress, in the Room of Thomas Jefferson, Esq: and the Members having prepared Tickets for the person to be appointed, and put the same into the Ballot Box, Mr. Treasurer, Mr. Braxton, Mr. Clayton, Mr. Starke and Mr. Richard Cary, were appointed a Committee to meet a Committee to be appointed by the Senate, and jointly with

¹ A letter, dated Pittsburgh, September 25, 1776, from the Commissioners for Indian Affairs in the Middle Department [Thomas Walker, John Harvie, John Montgomery and J. Yeates], is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, XXIII, folio 305. With it is a report made upon it by the standing Committee on Indian Affairs. This report is in the writing of George Wythe, but contains no note of its submission to Congress or of any action taken. The letter from the Commissioners has a note: "Report made 4 [?] Novt." Although I am uncertain of the date, the report is here given:

"The committee for indian affairs have considered a letter, addressed to them from the commissioners for indian affairs in the middle department, dated at Pittsburg, the twenty first day of September last, and have come to the following resolution thereupon, viz.

"Resolves, that it is the opinion of this committee, that the commissioners for indian affairs in the middle department, from the intelligence communicated to them of the motions and preparations of some tribes of indians, and from the dispositions of others well known to be hostile, had cause to apprehend that an attack upon Pittsburg, or incursions into some parts of Virginia or Pennsylvania, would be made by those savages; and therefore acted prudently in calling in forces for protection and defense."

them to examine the Ballot Boxes, and report to the House, upon whom the Majority fell.

Ordered, That Mr. Treasurer do acquaint the Senate therewith.

The Committee then withdrew, and after sometime returned into the House, and reported, that they had met a Committee from the Senate in the Conference Room, and had, jointly with them, examined the Ballot Boxes, and that the Numbers appeared as follows: For Benjamin Harrison, Esq. 69—Meriwether Smith, Esq. 5.

Resolved, therefore, That the said Benjamin Harrison be appointed a Delegate to represent this State in General Congress.

Resolved, unanimously, That the Thanks of this House are justly due to the said Benjamin Harrison, for the Diligence, Ability and Integrity, with which he executed the important Trust reposed in him as one of the Delegates from this Country to the General Congress.

A Copy:  JOHN TAZEWELL, Clerk of the House of Delegates.¹

Resolved, That Mr. [Benjamin] Harrison be added to the Board of War, and that he be continued in all those standing committees, of which he was a member, when he left Congress.

A letter from R. H. Harrison, of the 31 October, was read.

The Board of Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That all accounts for services done, or articles supplied the northern army, be presented to the commissioners ||for settling accounts,|| and so much thereof as is approved by them, and confirmed by the general, be paid by his warrants on the pay master, after the commissioners have certified thereon, that the accounts and vouchers are returned to them by the persons receiving such warrants:

That all warrants of the general on the pay master for services to be performed, or articles to be supplied, be sent by the pay master to the office, and entered in the books of the commissioners; after which, the said commissioners shall, as soon as they shall judge expedient, call to account the persons receiving such advances; and having settled the said accounts, they shall be filed in their office:

That where any balance appears to be due to the United States, from persons whose accounts are adjusted as aforesaid, they shall be received by the commissioners, and delivered to the pay master, whose receipts therefor shall be transmitted to the Treasury:

That the commissioners be empowered to administer oaths or affirmations to persons examined by them in the execution of their office.

That the general's and pay master's accounts be sent to the treasury office by the commissioners, together with the pay rolls and accounts discharged by the same, upon their adjusting the accounts of the northern army to the end of the present campaign.

Resolved, That the commissioners appointed to settle the accounts of the army near New York, be directed to govern their conduct agreeable to the foregoing resolutions.

Resolved, That the following instructions be given to the commissioners of the northern army:

1. That, in adjusting the accounts of persons, whose particular circumstances may have rendered them unable to procure vouchers, or that, on the retreat of the army, have lost the same, the commissioners endeavour to obtain the best information from the general officers, or other persons in that department, and use a discretionary power in administering oaths or affirmations for this purpose.

2. That there not having been a muster master in the northern army during the last and present campaign, the commissioners are particularly to attend to the pay rolls that shall be produced as vouchers by the pay master, and should any frauds appear, to report them to the general, that the same may be thoroughly investigated.

3. That in other instances, the commissioners are not to interfere in the muster or pay rolls, unless, in particular cases, it shall be judged expedient by the general and themselves.

4. That the commissioners are not to concern themselves in disputes about back rations or allowances for vegetables said to be due to some officers and soldiers, but are to leave them with the commissary, whose business it is to regulate such disputes.

5. That where any person has done the duty of a deputy or assistant commissary, by desire of a general officer, or the commissary or deputy commissary generals, he be allowed for his services, although he has not received a commission for that purpose.

6. That demands for defending the frontiers of any of the states, if on account of troops not raised by order of Congress, are not to be considered by the commissioners.

7. That the commissioners certify to the general the accounts to be paid in specie, that if the military chest is supplied, the general may issue his warrant accordingly.

8. That the commissioners send to the state of New Jersey, and to the states eastward thereof, for their accounts against the northern army, if such accounts are not forwarded agreeable to a circular letter from the Treasury to the said states.

Resolved, That similar instructions be given to the Commissioners appointed to audit and settle the accounts of the army near New York.

Resolved, That the president write to Governor Livingston, and request him to send two companies of militia to guard the salt works near Tom's river, and one company to be stationed at or near Shrewsbury, to intercept and put a stop to the intelligence said to be carrying on between the tories and Lord Howe's fleet; that the companies consist of fifty men each.

A petition from Joseph Traverses was presented to Congress, and read; Whereupon,

Resolved, That an order for one hundred dollars be drawn on the Treasurer in favor of the said Joseph Traverses; to be accounted for by him on the settlement and payment of his accounts.

The committee to whom the letter from Richard Bache, Esq' comptroller of the post office, was referred, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That for obtaining early and frequent intelligence from the camps at White Plains and Ticonderoga, or such other places as the armies now, or lately there, may march, or have marched to, and forwarding despatches to the commanding officers with the like expedition, the post master general do immediately employ so many more riders, between Philadelphia and head quarters of these armies, as he shall judge will most effectually perform that very important, and, at this time more especially, necessary service; and that he endeavour, to the utmost of his power, to procure sober, diligent, and trusty persons to undertake it; and guard, in the best manner he is able, against robberies of the mails, or losses of their contents otherwise:

That all ferry keepers be enjoined, as much as they are able, to expedite the passage of post riders and other persons charged with letters, despatches, or messages, from and to Congress; and that it be recommended to the several legislatures of the United States, to enforce the observance of this resolution:
November, 1776

That expresses and special messengers, employed in the public service, taking and carrying private letters or packets, ought not to receive the wages they would otherwise be entitled to:¹

That the deputy post master at head quarters be allowed four rations, every day, out of the public stores there, for the subsistence of himself, and his riders, and servant.

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

The Committee of Treasury, to whom that part of the petition and memorial of John Brown, Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment commanded by Colonel Elmore, praying that his extraordinary services in Canada, last year, may be considered, was referred, brought in a report, which was read:

The committee, to whom that part of the petition and memorial of John Brown, Lieutenant Colonel of the regiment commanded by Colonel Elmore, praying that his extraordinary services in Canada last year may be considered, was referred, have examined the matter thereof; and report, that, according to the narrative of Colonel Browne, contained in his letter to Major General Schuyler, he performed many valuable services in Canada; that he was instrumental in procuring useful intelligence of the number and strength of the British forces and armed vessels there, and of the inclinations and designs of the inhabitants and savages; that he cut off the communication between Saint John’s and the circumjacent country, surprized Laprairie, took Chamblé, captivated prisoners, and seised stores and other things; and that during the whole campaign he was almost continually in some active employment, by night as well as by day, suffering much fatigue and hardship, and frequently exposed to dangers; that these allegations are in some measure supported partly by letters to Congress from the late Brigadier General Montgomery, dated the 19 and 24 of September, 16 and 20 of October, 3 of November, and 5 of December, 1775, with the articles of capitulation at Chamblé when it was surrendered, and partly by a certificate signed by Colonels James Livingston and Timothy Bedel, Major Robert Cockran, and Captains Gershom Motte and William Satterlee. That on the eighth day of November, 1775, the Congress in their instructions to the gentlemen appointed to repair to Ticonderoga, authorised them, among other things, to assure Major Brown and Major Livingston, ‘that Congress had a just sense of their important services, and would take the first proper opportunity to reward them.’

But it appears to the committee, that, if Colonel Brown be rewarded by promotion in military rank, which is supposed to have been designed by that assurance, his eye-sight is so impaired by the cold weather last winter that he will not be able to perform the duty of his office, unless it be in some stationary post. It is therefore upon the whole matter submitted to Congress to determine whether any further provision ought to be made for him or in what other manner, he having been [29 July, 1776] promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel from that of major.¹

Ordered, To lie on the table.

A letter to Willing & Morris, from Samuel Smith, master of the Hancock & Adams, (who, on his passage to Philadelphia, was taken by the Gamecock privateer, of Rhode Island, commanded by Timothy Pierce, and carried into Bedford, in the Massachusetts bay) dated Bedford port, November 1, was laid before Congress and read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Secret Committee, and that they report the cargo of the Hancock & Adams, and how it ought to be disposed of.

The Board of War, ||to whom a request from the state of Virginia was referred,|| brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the demands of the Continent for cannon are at present of so pressing a nature that none can be spared for the particular use of any state; but, as soon as a sufficient quantity of ordnance is supplied to the United States, the request of the state of Virginia, to be permitted to purchase cannon at Hughes’s works, shall be complied with.

That Monsieur Romand de Lisle be appointed a major of artillery in the service of the United States, and sent to General Washington, to be employed as he shall think proper.

A memorial from Azariah Dunham was presented to Congress, and read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the council of safety of Pennsylvania.

A letter, of the 9th, from General Washington, enclosing a letter of the 31 of October from General Gates, at Ticonderoga, was read.¹

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on the letter of Timothy Danielson; Whereupon,

Resolved, As the opinion of this Congress, that if the soldiers to be raised by the state of Massachusetts bay, be inlisted on the terms offered to them, which are more advantageous than what are offered to other soldiers serving in the same army, it would much retard, if not totally impede, the inlistment of the latter, and produce discontent and murmur, unless Congress should equally increase the pay of these, which, it is the opinion of this Congress, would universally be reprobated as an immoderate expence, and complained of as a grievous burden by those who must bear it; and, therefore, that the committee from the state of Massachusetts bay be desired not to inlist their men on the additional pay offered by the assembly of that state.

Upon re-considering the resolution of the 16th of September last, for raising eighty eight battalions to serve during the present war with Great Britain, Congress being of opinion, that the readiness of the inhabitants of these states to enter into the service for limited times, in defence of their invaluable privileges, on all former occasions, gives good ground to hope the same zeal for the public good will appear in future, when necessity calls for their assistance, and, least the uncertain length of time which forces, raised during the continuance of the war, may be compelled to serve, may prevent men from enlisting who would otherwise readily manifest their attachment to the common cause, by engaging for a limited time; therefore,

Resolved, That all non-commissioned officers and soldiers who do not incline to engage their service during the continuance of the present war, and shall enlist to serve three years, unless sooner discharged by Congress, shall be entitled to, and receive all such bounty and pay as are allowed to those who enlist during the continuance of the present war, except the one hundred acres of land; which land is to be granted to those only who enlist without limitation of time. And each recruiting officer is required to provide two distinct enlisting rolls, one for such to sign who enlist during the continuance of the war, and the other for such as enlist for three years, if their service shall be so long required.¹

¹"Inclosed you have another Resolve which the necessity of recruiting an army immediately to the Eastward has rendered proper. Congress, tho’ well convinced of the utility of enlisting men during the War, as it would tend to prevent the frequent calls for bounty upon new enlistments, and obviate the difficulties which would result from troops leaving Camp when their services are most essential, and when perhaps the fate of America might depend upon their stay, that we might have an army enured to service and discipline, thought proper to direct them to be raised during the war. An application from the State of Massæ, accompanied with the information that Connecticut and Rhode Island were pursuing similar and equally improper means to compleat their levies, finding that these States urged as an excuse for their extraordinary bounties, the insurmountable difficulties which they met with in recruiting men during the war, suggesting that Soldiers complained of such an engagement as a contract for perpetual servitude, the Continental Congress thought proper to relax and shorten the terms of Enlistment, agreeable to the Resolve which I send you herewith and which the above will fully explain." William Hooper to the Provincial Congress, 16 November, 1776. Colonial Records of North Carolina, X, 907.

"By this express you will probably receive a resolve which Congress have been forced into by the additional bounty and pay which have been offered by some of the New England States, and the additional bounty which hath been offered in one of them. This measure is condemned by many members of Congress, and by our General. It will, they say, necessitate the other States to do the same, which will greatly enhance the continental debt and expense; or we must have an army doing

A letter, of the 12 of October, from Joseph Trumbull, commissary general, was read;¹ Whereupon,

Resolved, That 40,000 dollars be advanced to Thomas Lowry, and charged to the account of Mr. J[oseph] Trumbull, agreeable to his request.

The Marine Committee having recommended Colonel John Nixon, and John Wharton, as fit persons to execute the same services for different rewards, which would occasion jealousies, envyings and discord among the soldiers, to the great injury of the public service. As we have only offered an additional bounty, we are less culpable in the estimation of those who condemn the deviation from the original resolve, than of any of the transgressors. It is now in the option of soldiers to enlist for three years without the grant of land, or during the war with it. This alternative, with the retiring of the enemy, will, I hope, answer the purpose.” William Ellery to Governor Cooke, 16 November, 1776. Rhode Island in the Continental Congress, 99.

“I have seen your opinion to our Commissioners, that they should proceed and inlist our troops for three years. I am apprehensive you do not see the opinion and object of Congress in its fullest extent. The Congress will agree that Maryland may raise her troops for three years, but have declared, and now hold, our State bound to contribute her proportion of the expense attending the procuring of lands for the officers and soldiers furnished by other States for the war.

“We have proposed and urged on Congress that the question as to the procuring lands at the expense of the United States, and our claim that the back lands acquired from the Crown of Great Britain in the present war, should be a common stock for the benefit of the United States, and should remain open for the determination of some future Congress.

“We have proposed that any State which may raise its quota for the war and give a bounty in lieu of land should indemnify the United States from any claim from their officers and soldiers who received an allowance in lieu of land, and that such State should not be chargeable to the United States for any part of the expense attending the procuring of lands for the officers and soldiers of the other States who shall furnish troops for the war. Both these propositions have been rejected. This day a resolve passed that each State be at liberty to inlist for the war or three years. What our Commissioners will do I know not, nor can I advise them. I am amazed at the obstinacy of Congress.” Samuel Chase to the Council of Safety of Maryland, 21 November, 1776. Ordered, That Mr. President furnish the commissioners of the said state, sent therefrom to raise their levies, with the resolution of yesterday, admitting the new levies to inlist for three years only, and, at the same time inform them, that, if the inhabitants of that state will inlist to serve during the continuance of the present war, they already have the faith of the United States of America pledged for the land to be granted to such soldiers.²

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due,

²"Congress have this day given an answer to the resolutions of our State, which being an entire new one, we have despatched to the proper place to be considered. They resolve that the troops may be inlisted for three years, and a bounty of twenty dollars only to be given; or during the war, and one hundred acres of land be added to the bounty. They will not specify where the land lies belonging to the United States.

"Our instructions run that they are to be inlisted during the war; of course when our State accedes to it we can proceed. Congress has got rid of the difficulty with respect to the land, and has not closed in with either of the propositions made by our State, nor receded entirely from their own resolution. But if they have escaped, they embarrass us. What can we do with our Regulars? They are inlisted during the war. Must we inlist them again in the service of the State for three years? I imagine our State will not incline to do so; if they do, we ought to have instructions on that head." Benjamin Rumsey to Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer, 13 November, 1776. The lottery being intended to raise a sum of money on loan, bearing an annual interest of four per cent. which, with the sums arising from the deduction, is to be applied for carrying on the present most just and necessary war, in defence of the lives, liberties and property of the inhabitants of these United States:

Resolved, That the fortunate adventurers in the 1st class, who draw more than 20 dollars, and so in the 2d and 3d classes, who draw more than 30 or 40 dollars, shall, at their option, receive a treasury bank note for the prize or prizes drawn, payable at the end of five years, and an annual interest on the same, at the rate of four per cent., or the pre-emption of such billets in the next succeeding class, as shall not be renewed within the time hereinafter limited. Every adventurer in the 1st class shall have a right to go through the subsequent classes, but shall not be obliged to do it. The drawers of 20, 30 and 40 dollars in the 1st, 2d and 3d classes, who do not apply for their money within six weeks after the drawing ends, shall be deemed adventurers in the next succeeding class, and have their billets renewed without any further trouble. If any others shall neglect or decline taking out and paying the price of their billets, for a subsequent class, within six weeks after the drawing ends, their billets shall be sold to the fortunate adventurers in the preceding class, or to such as shall apply for the same. The fortunate adventurers in the last class, who draw 50 dollars, shall, upon application to the commissioners of the loan offices in the respective states, where the drawers reside, receive their money, without any deduction, and all who draw above that sum, shall receive in like manner, without deduction, for the sums drawn, bank treasury notes payable at the end of five years after the drawing, at the loan office of the state in which the drawers reside. The interest to commence from the last day of drawing, and to be paid annually at the said respective loan offices:

That, for carrying into execution the said lottery, there shall be seven managers, who shall give bond, and be on oath, for the faithful discharge of their duty:

That the money, as fast as received by the managers for billets, be lodged in the continental treasury:

That the drawing of the first class begin at Philadelphia, on the 1st of March, 1777, or sooner, if sooner full.
Resolved, That the further consideration of the report be postponed till to Morrow.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1776

The convention of Maryland having appointed new delegates, two of them attending, produced the credentials of their appointment, which were read, as follows:

MARYLAND

IN CONVENTION, NOVEMBER 10, 1776

Resolved, That the Hon. Matthew Tilghman, Esq; and Thomas Johnson, Jun. William Paca, Thomas Stone, Samuel Chase, Benjamin Rush, and Charles Carroll, Bar. Esquires, or any three or more of them, be Delegates to represent this State in Congress, until the first Day of March next, or until the General Assembly shall make further order therein; and that the said Delegates, or any three or more of them, be Authorized and empowered to concur with the other United States, or a Majority of them, in forming a Confederation, and in making foreign Alliances; provided that such Confederation, when formed, be not binding upon this State without the Assent of the General Assembly; and the said Delegates, or any three or more of them, are also Authorized and Empowered to concur in any Measure which may be resolved on by Congress, for carrying on the War with Great Britain, and securing the Liberties of the United States, reserving always to this State the sole and exclusive Right of regulating the internal Police thereof. And the said Delegates, or any three or more of them, are hereby Authorized and Empowered, notwithstanding any Measure heretofore taken to concur with the Congress, or a Majority of them, in accommodating our unhappy Difference with Great Britain, on such Terms as the Congress, or a Majority of them, shall think proper.

Extract from the Minutes: G. DuVall. 1

for the use of the United States, in the penalty of 20,000 dollars, for the faithful discharge of their trust.

Resolved, That a member be added to the committee appointed to hear the appeal against the sentence passed on the libel, John Barry, qui tam vs. the sloop Betsey, &c. in the room of Mr. [Edward] Rutledge.

The member chosen, Mr. [Samuel] Chase.

Congress being informed, there are two ensigncies vacant in the German battalion, proceeded to elect persons to fill up the same; and the ballots being taken,

George Howard and Jacob Laudermilk were elected.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there ought to be advanced to Colonel James Livingston the sum of two thousand dollars, for which he is to be accountable to the commissioners ||for auditing the accounts|| of the northern department:

That there is due to Edward Rutledge, Esq' for cash he paid by order of Congress, to Joseph Beck, an express to South Carolina, with despatches, intercepted with Kirkland, &c. the sum of 133 30/90 dollars; and for his, Dr. [Benjamin] Franklin, and Mr. [John] Adams, a committee to Staten Island, for their expences there and back, 71 30/90 dollars; the whole amounting to 204 60/90 dollars:

To Joseph Baldwin, for ferriage of militia &c. over Neshaminy ferry, 6 54/90 dollars:

To Samuel Pugh, for victualling troops of the flying camp, on their march, 8 dollars:

To John Jarvis, for ferriage over Neshaminy, 12 21/90 dollars, and horse hire to different expresses, 10 36/90 dollars, amounting to 22 57/90 dollars:

That there should be paid to the Board of War, to be by them sent to Benjamin Harrison, Jun. Esq' deputy pay master general in Virginia, the sum of 300,000 dollars, for the use of the army in that department:

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the Board of War of the 13th instant: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the commissary general, or his deputies, make regular weekly returns of all rations issued or paid to the officers and privates of any regiment, troop, or company in the service of the states, to the adjutant general or his deputies, to be by him inserted in the general returns of the army, and transmitted to Congress monthly:

That, on any sick or disabled non-commissioned officer or soldier, being sent to any hospital or sick quarters, the captain or commandant of the troop or company to which he belongs, shall send to the surgeon, or director of the said hospital, or give to the non-commissioned officer or soldier, so in the hospital or quarters, a certificate, (countersigned by the pay master of the regiment, if he be with the regiment,) of what pay is due to such sick non-commissioned officer or private, at the time of his entering the hospital or quarters; and the captain or commandant of the troop or company, shall not receive the pay of the said soldier in hospital or quarters, or include him in any pay abstract during his continuance therein. And, in case any non-commissioned officer or soldier shall be discharged from the hospital or quarters, as unfit for farther service, a certificate shall be given him, by the surgeon or director, of what pay is then due to him; and the said non-commissioned officer or soldier, so discharged, shall be entitled to receive his pay at any pay office, or from any pay master in the service of the United States; the said pay master keeping such original certificate, to prevent impositions, and giving the non-commissioned officer or soldier his discharge, or a certified copy thereof, mentioning, at the same time, his having been paid:

That this resolution be transmitted to the commanders in chief of the several departments, to be by them given out in orders, and then delivered to the directors of the hospitals in each department, who are to cause the same to be fixed up in some conspicuous place or places, in every military hospital, for the information of all concerned:

That letters be immediately sent to the councils of safety, conventions, or legislatures of Pennsylvania, and the states to the southward thereof, desiring them, forthwith, to lay up magazines of military stores, ammunition, and salt provisions, in the safest and most convenient places in the said states, respectively, for the use of such continental troops and militia, as it may be necessary to bring into the field in the ensuing winter, for the defence of these states:

That some proper person be appointed to act in the capacity of an armourer to assist the commissary of stores in inspecting, superintending repairs, and taking care of all continental arms in the public magazines at Philadelphia.

Congress deem it necessary, upon every principle of propriety, to remind the several states, how indispensable it is to the common safety, that they pursue the most immediate and vigorous measures to furnish their respective quotas of troops for the new army, as the time of service, for which the present army was enlisted, is so near expiring, that the country may be left in a condition in a great measure defenceless, unless quickly supplied by new levies.

Resolved, That Major Stewart, who brought the late intelligence from General Gates, and who is recommended as a deserving officer, have the rank of Lieutenaut Colonel by brevet, and be presented with a sword of the value of one hundred dollars.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1776

Resolved, That 40,000 dollars be advanced to Mr. J. Mease, for the public service; he to be accountable.

The keeper of the public prison, having informed Congress, that he has discovered a plot among the prisoners to effect an escape, which one of them has effected; and that he has good reason to believe horses are purchased for them in Philadelphia, and kept ready for them, when they had broken out of prison; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the gaol keeper be directed to keep the prisoners in his custody close locked up till further orders:

That it be recommended to the council of safety || of Pennsylvania,|| to examine Mr. Jewell, the gaol keeper, respecting this matter, and to take every measure in their power to find out the accomplices in the plot, if any there are.

A letter, of the 18, from Brigadier General Lord Stirling, || was read. ||

The Board of War, to whom were referred the memorials from Captain Lockwood and Captain Oswald, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That such parts of the said memorials as relate to their pay, be referred to the Board of Treasury.

A letter, of the 2d, from Daniel of St. Thomas Jenifer, President of the council of safety of Maryland, was read, and referred to the Board of War.\textsuperscript{1}

A letter, of the 6, from General Lee to Dr. [Benjamin] Franklin, which was brought to the Board of War, || and by them opened,|| being laid before Congress and read:\textsuperscript{2}

Ordered, That the Board of War prepare a letter to General Lee, and report the same to Congress.

Congress proceeded to the election of the managers of the lottery, when the ballots being taken, the following gentlemen were chosen, viz.

Resolved, That a member be added to the Secret Committee, in the room of Mr. [Josiah] Bartlett, who is absent.

The member chosen, Mr. [William] Whipple.

Resolved, That the post master general be directed to remove the post office from Bessonet, to some other house in Bristol, [Penna] Bessonet, from the office of deputy post master, and appoint some other trusty person, in Bristol, to that office:

That the committee, appointed to enquire into the circumstances of the loss of the packet from General Washington, be directed to apply to the council of safety of Pensylvania, to apprehend Bessonet,\textsuperscript{3} of Bristol, and his bar keeper, and keeping them apart, to bring them to Philadelphia, for examination; and that they have the assistance of the continental troops in Philadelphia, if necessary:

That the said committee write to the commanding officer of the continental troops in New Jersey, to make diligent search for one Wilkins, who was at the tavern in Bristol when the packet was lost, and to send him, if found, under guard to Philadelphia.

Resolved, That the Board of War be empowered to administer oaths to persons examined by them.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due,
To Lieutenant Smith, for his expenses with a party to escort money to Brunswick, and to Fort Montgomery, a balance of 19 19/90 dollars, the amount of his account being £20 14 1 [= 55 19/90 dollars,] of which he received from Robert Erwin, £12 [= 32 dollars,] and from R.
Dallam, deputy pay master, £1 10 0 [= 4 dollars,] ballance is £7 4 1, equal to 19 19/90 dollars.

Ordered, That the same be paid.

The Board of Treasury reported farther instructions for the commissioners appointed to settle the accounts of the army, under the command of General Washington, which were agreed to as follows:

That in adjusting the accounts of persons, whose particular circumstances may have rendered them unable to procure vouchers, or who, by unavoidable accidents, have lost the same, or any part of the public stores committed to their care, the commissioners endeavour to obtain the best information from the general officers, or other persons relative to such accounts, and use a discretionary power in administering oaths or affirmations previous to their settling the same:

That the commissioners send to the state of Virginia, and to the states northward and eastward thereof, for their accounts against the said army, if such accounts should not be forwarded, agreeable to a circular letter from the ||Board of|| Treasury to the said states:

That the commissioners use every precaution to prevent the loss of any public books or papers, that may be in their possession; and, for this purpose, that they apply to the quarter master general for a waggon and horses, to be under their direction:

That they consider the flying camp as part of General
Washington's army, and adjust the accounts accordingly:

The Marine Committee to whom was referred the bringing in a plan for increasing the navy of the United States, brought in a report, which was taken in consideration;
Whereupon,

Resolved, That there be immediately undertaken,

In New Hampshire, 1 ship of 74 guns,
In Massachusetts Bay, 1 ditto of 74 ditto, and 1 ditto of 36 ditto,

In Pennsylvania,
     1 ditto of 74 ditto,
     1 brig of 18 guns and a packet-boat;

In Virginia,
     2 frigates of 36 ditto, each;
In Maryland,
     2 ditto of 36 ditto each.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1776

Resolved, That 250 dollars be advanced to Captain Gabriel Long, in the late Colonel Stevenson’s batallion, for the purpose of recruiting his company; he to be accountable:

That Captain Long’s accounts be referred to the Board of Treasury.

As the necessity of obtaining an army immediately, to oppose the designs of the enemy, is so evident and pressing as to render it proper to give all possible facility to that business;
November, 1776

Resolved, That each state be at liberty to direct their recruiting officers to inlist their men either for the war or three years, upon the respective bounties offered by Congress, without presenting inlisting rolls for both terms, according to a former resolution; keeping it always in view, that, in the opinion of Congress, the public service will be best promoted by inlistments for the war, if the recruiting business is not retarded thereby.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due,

To Lieutenant Samuel Lockwood, for his pay as assistant engineer in the army in Canada, from the 5 November, 1775, to the 18 May, 1776, at 20 dollars per month, 128 60/90 dollars; from the 19 May, to 5 November, at 30 dollars per month, 167 dollars; the whole, 295 60/90 dollars:

To John Bates, for two fire hoods, shovel, tongs, &c. for the use of the treasury office, 16 36/90 dollars.

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1776

A letter, of 20th, from General Mercer, was read:¹

Ordered, That an extract thereof be sent to the assembly and council of safety of Pennsylvania.

Congress being informed that a number of sick soldiers were sent to Philadelphia from the flying camp, and lodged in the barracks, and it being apprehended that their continuance in the barracks may endanger the health of the soldiers there,

Ordered, That the Medical Committee take charge of the said sick, and have them quartered in private houses, and properly taken care of, and that they immediately attend to this business:

That Dr. Ludwig be directed to attend the said sick.

The committee to whom was referred the petition and memorial of Mrs. Zedwitz, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That Lieutenant Colonel Zedwitz be removed to Philadelphia, and confined in the state prison; and that due care be taken to prevent him from any intercourse or correspondence with the enemies of these states:

That the sum of 58 49/90 dollars be paid to Mrs. Zedwitz, in full for services done for the Continent, as set forth in her petition:

That the further sum of 80 dollars be paid to the said Mrs. Zedwitz, in full of two months' pay due to her husband.

Resolved, That 100,000 dollars be advanced to the council of safety of Pensylvania; that state to be accountable.1

Congress taking into consideration the present state of the army, of which some parts have already disbanded, and others will probably do so when the times they engaged to serve for, shall expire, which must soon happen; so that there is danger that the enemy must be opposed either by unequal numbers, or by militia, not only a more expensive but a less efficacious aid than regular forces; and there being good grounds to hope that vigorous efforts at this critical juncture, may bring the war to a speedy as well as happy conclusion:2

1 The resolution of the Council of Safety calling for this sum, dated November 22, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 69, I, folio 263.

2 In the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 101, folio 4, is a single sheet in the writing of Charles Thomson giving notes of information obtained from General Mifflin, who had been sent to Philadelphia by Washington.
November, 1776

Resolved, That blank commissions be sent to General Washington, and that he be empowered to insert therein the names of such officers as he shall think fit, not revoking those appointments which have been made by commissioners from any of the United States; and the General, commissioners, and officers are conjured to recruit, by all the means in their power, the regiments now or lately in the camp; and that a committee of three be appointed to repair to head quarters, and, consulting with the General, assist in the accomplishment of this necessary business.

Ordered, That the said committee make particular enquiry why the troops are not paid, and that they enquire into, and redress to the utmost in their power, the just grievances of the soldiers.

Resolved, That the sum of 166,666 2/3 dollars be advanced to the state of Massachusetts bay, in part of their account against the Continent; the said state to be accountable.

Ordered, That a copy of the resolutions respecting the lottery be delivered to the managers, and that the said managers proceed immediately in carrying the lottery into execution.

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the application from the convention of New York, respecting the waste of hides in the army: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the commissaries in each department, be directed to employ proper persons to take immediate charge of the hides and tallow in their respective districts; that the former may be tanned into leather, or, at least, so far cured as to prevent their being spoiled, and the latter rendered into kegs or casks, that there be no waste of those valuable articles, but that they may be stored for the use of the Continent, and be subject to the orders of Congress; and that the said commissaries be strongly urged to pay due attention to this resolve, it being a matter of considerable importance.

Resolved, That two months' pay be advanced to Dr. Ludwig, of the German batallion; he to be accountable.

A state of inconveniences to which the troops on the Eastern Shore of Virginia are particularly subject, was laid before Congress and read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

A letter, of the 16, from Joseph Trumbull, ||commissary general,|| was read, advising, that he has, on that day, drawn a set of bills of exchange of that date payable on the president, at four days' sight, in favour of Mr. Matthew Irwin, to be by him invested in for the sum of 20,000 dollars, to purchase pork and flour, and account for the expenditure desiring the said bills may be paid and charged to his, J. Trumbull's, account:²

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1776

A letter of the 19 and 21, from General Washington, was read:

Resolved, That 500,000 dollars be sent to the pay master general:

That 250,000 dollars be sent to Richard Dallam, Esq:

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, with full powers, to devise and execute measures for effectually reinforcing General Washington, and obstructing the progress of General Howe's army; and they are ordered to proceed immediately on this business.

The members chosen, Mr. [James] Wilson, Mr. [James] Smith, Mr. [Samuel] Chase, Mr. [George] Clymer, and Mr. [Richard] Stockton.

1 This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, III, folio 265. It is printed in Writings of Washington (Ford), V, 41.

2 This committee does not appear formally to have laid the results of its deliberations before the Congress; but they were issued by the Council of Safety of Philadelphia, in the form of a broadside. A copy is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 69, I, folio 265. The committee report is as follows:

"The Committee before mentioned have come to the following Resolutions—

"Resolved, That it be recommended to the Commanding Officers of the several battalions of Associators in Pennsylvania immediately to call together the battalions respectively under their command; and to select out of each battalion one company, or, if possible, two companies of Volunteers.

"That Each company consist of seventy-six privates, one Drummer, one Fifer, four Corporals, and four Serjeants, under the command of a Captain, two Lieutenants, and one Ensign.

"That the field officers of each battalion, or such of them as shall be present, with the approbation and concurrence of the Volunteers, appoint the commissioned and non-commissioned officers of each company.

"That the companies be engaged in the service of the United States till the tenth day of March next, unless sooner discharged by Congress; and be entitled to a pair of shoes and stockings, and to the same rations and the same monthly pay with the other troops on the Continental Establishment, to commence from the time of their enrolment.

"That the form of the enrolment be as follows: I hereby promise and engage to enter into the service of the United States, and to serve them till the tenth day of
Resolved, That the Board of War be directed to order the battalion, on the Eastern Shore of Virginia, and the two Pennsylvania battalions, commanded by Colonel Mackay and Colonel Cooke, to march, with all possible expedition; the former to Philadelphia, and the two latter by the directest rout to Brunswick, in New Jersey, or to join General Washington wherever he may be; and the said Board is empowered to use every means to expedite their march; and they are ordered to attend immediately to this business.

In order the better to oppose the progress of General Howe's army,

March next, unless sooner discharged by Congress; and to observe and obey the orders of Congress, and the orders of the Generals and Officers set over me by them.

That in order to supply the companies with arms, accoutrements, and other necessaries, the field officers of each battalion, or any of them, be empowered and directed to purchase, and, if they cannot purchase, to impress arms, cartouch-boxes, blankets, shoes, stockings, and other necessaries for the use of the said companies.

That the articles impressed be appraised by persons to be appointed by the field officers or any of them for that purpose.

That the field officers or any of them give certificates of the value of the articles so purchased or appraised, which certificates shall be deemed sufficient vouchers to the persons to whom they shall be given, or to their assigns, for the respective sums therein mentioned, and shall be paid at the Continental Treasury.

That the Captains march their companies with the utmost expedition, and join the army under General Washington.

That the Council of Safety of Pennsylvania be empowered and directed to form the said companies into battalions; and to adopt such farther measures as they may find necessary for the march and equipment of the said companies; and particularly to collect, in the city of Philadelphia and its neighbourhood, blankets and other necessaries for their use, and to seize such articles, paying the value of them, if they cannot otherwise be procured.

That one month's pay be advanced to each Volunteer upon his enrolment; and that the Council of Safety be supplied with money for this purpose.

That the Council of Safety be requested to forward by express the foregoing Resolutions to the Commanding Officers of the several battalions of the State of Pennsylvania.

The resolutions and report were printed in the Pennsylvania Gazette, 27 November, 1776.
Resolved, That General Washington be directed forthwith to order, under his immediate command, such of the forces, now in the northern department, as have been raised in the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and that the commanding officer in the northern department, be directed to apply to the legislatures of the eastern states, to afford him such assistance as he may stand in need of.

That General Washington be directed to propose to General Howe, an exchange of William Franklin, Esq.' late governor of New Jersey, for Brigadier General Thompson.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due,

To the committee of Northampton county, and to be paid to Jesse Jones, for sundry supplies of provisions, waggons, &c. to the militia on their march to New Jersey, and for supplies to prisoners and continental troops, the sum of 1,337 54½/90 dollars:

To John Ashbe, for a wagggon, horses, and a negro man, his property, lost in the service of the states at New York, the sum of 786 60/90 dollars.

To John Cox, for eight rifle guns, supplied by Edward Snicker, for the use of Captain Gabriel Long's company, of Virginia riflemen, 146 60/90 dollars:

To Lieutenants Bogart and Ball, two prisoners of the British navy, and to be paid to James Smith, Esq' for their allowance, from 9 July, to 19 November, 1776, inclusive, 19 weeks, at 2 dollars a week, 76 dollars:

To Brigadier General Armstrong, for his pay and rations, from 1 March, to 23 November, instant, inclusive, his travelling expenses to and from South Carolina, 1,781 63/90 dollars:

To Dr. David Jameson, for sundry medicines and attendance to sick soldiers of Captain Grier's company, and Captain Nelson's companies, in the continental service, the sum of 290 24/90 dollars:

To Colonel Jeremiah Dugan, for sundry supplies to the army in Canada, for which he has now produced a voucher, the want of which prevented the same being reported the 19 August last, the sum of 484 73/90 dollars:

To the Board of War, for Richard Dallam, Esq' deputy pay master general, his draft, dated New Brunswick, the 21 instant, in favour of Colonel Clement Biddle, deputy quarter master general, the sum of ten thousand dollars:

That there should be paid to Richard Bache, Esq' post master general, as an advance, for the use of the post office, 2,666 60/90 dollars:

Ordered, That the same be paid.

Resolved, That by any thing heretofore done, it is not intended to prejudice or strengthen the right or claim of the United States, or any of them, to any lands in America, nor to determine in what proportion or manner the expences of the war shall be raised or adjusted, except as to the first three millions of dollars emitted by Congress, and a farther emission of three millions of dollars, on December 26, 1775.¹

Resolved, That 20,000 dollars be advanced to the commissioners appointed by the convention of Maryland, to raise their quota of troops; they to be accountable.

||The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o'Clock on Monday.||

¹"In my last I expressed some hopes of prevailing on Congress to give our State some satisfaction as to the back lands, and the mode by which the proportion of the expenses of the war was to be paid by each State. In this expectation I was delayed and disappointed for two days, by Mr. Jenifer's mentioning that our Commissioners had your orders to proceed. By an obstinate perseverance the enclosed resolution was obtained last Saturday." Samuel Chase to Maryland Council of Safety, 28 November, 1776.
MONDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1776

A letter, of the 23, from General Washington, at Newark, was read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of the whole ||Congress||; and that General Mifflin, who brought the letter, be desired to attend the said committee.

Congress then resolved itself into a committee of the whole; and, after some time, the president resumed the chair, and Mr. [Thomas] Nelson reported, that the committee have had a conference with Brigadier General Mifflin, and have considered the letter referred to them; and, thereupon, came to sundry resolutions, which he was ordered to report; but, that not having come to a conclusion, desired leave to sit again.

The resolutions come into by the committee ||of the whole||, being read, were agreed to as follows:

Resolved, That the council of safety of Pensylvania be requested immediately, to call forth, all the associators in the city of Philadelphia, and its liberties, and in the counties of Philadelphia, Chester, Bucks, and Northampton, to continue in the service of the United States, six weeks from the time they join the army, unless sooner discharged by Congress:

That the volunteers who shall enrol to serve the United States till the tenth day of March next, shall, nevertheless, be discharged as soon as the situation of public affairs will possibly admit of it; it being the intention of Congress to detain them no longer than the present emergency shall render it absolutely necessary:

Resolved, That 35,000 dollars be advanced to the council of safety of Pensylvania, for the public service; the said state to be accountable:

¹This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, III, folio 289.
That 4,000 dollars be advanced to Colonel Hausegger, for the use of his batallion; he to be accountable:

That the Board of War be directed to order the German batallion to march immediately, and join General Washington:

That the said Board write to Governor Henry, of Virginia, and request him to order the light horse, in the service of that state, to march, with all possible expedition, to join General Washington:

That the said Board order Brigadier General Roche de Fermoy, to repair immediately to General Washington, instead of going to the northward.

Resolved, That General Mifflin be directed to stay in the city of Philadelphia until General Washington shall require his attendance at the camp, and that General Washington be informed of this by the President.

Resolved, That this Congress will, to Morrow, resolve itself into a committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of the army.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1776

A letter of the 8, from George Morgan, at Pittsburg, and one, of the 21, from the council of safety of Maryland, were read.

Resolved, That 1,000 dollars be advanced to R[obert] Erwin, waggon master general, for the public service; he to be accountable.

Congress being informed that some persons in this city ||of Philadelphia||, governed by principles inimical to the cause of America, and with views of avarice and extortion, have monopolized and engrossed shoes, stockings, and other necessaries for the army, whilst the soldiers of the Continent, fighting for the liberties of their country, are exposed to the injuries of the weather, at this inclement season:

Resolved, That it be recommended to the assembly of the state of Pennsylvania, to adopt such immediate measures for remedying this evil, as their wisdom shall suggest to be adequate to the present purpose, and for preventing like pernicious practices in future.

The Board of War having brought in a report, the same was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That a regiment of artillery, to be armed with musquets and bayonets, instead of fusees, be raised in the state of Virginia, on continental establishment; the two companies, already raised there, to be part of the said regiment; which is to be composed of one colonel, one lieutenant colonel, one major, and ten companies, each to consist of one captain three lieutenants, one serjeant, four bombardiers, eight gunners, four corporals, and forty eight matrosses.

Resolved, That 1,150 dollars be paid to Gerard William Beekman or order, and charged to the account of Richard Dallam, deputy pay master general, the same being in full of a draught of said R. Dallam on R. Peters, Esq: secretary of the Board of War, in favour of the said Gerard William Beekman, dated New Brunswick, November 15th, 1776.

Mr. [Francis] Lewis, [Jun.] having informed Congress that he cannot, consistent with his private engagements, undertake to be a manager of the lottery, and desiring he may be excused ||from that service,||

Resolved, That he be excused, and that another be appointed in his room:
The ballots being taken, David Jackson was elected.

Ordered, That the committee, who brought in the scheme of the lottery, confer with the managers thereof, in order that they may proceed on that business.

Congress resolved itself into a committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of the army; and, after some time spent thereon, the president resumed the chair, and Mr. [Thomas] Nelson reported, that the committee have had under consideration the matter to them referred, and have come to sundry resolutions, which he was ordered to submit to Congress.

The report of the committee being read, was agreed to ||as follows||: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Cannon Committee be directed to enquire what quantity of cannon are on board the prize ship that arrived yesterday in the port of Philadelphia; and, if they are fit for field artillery, to take measures to have them mounted on proper carriages, and sent to General Washington:

That the assembly of the state of Pennsylvania be requested to give immediate direction, that the brass pieces, with the artillery companies, (or the field pieces singly, if there be no such companies) belonging to this state, be, with all possible expedition, sent to General Washington’s army in New Jersey, and that they be assured, that, as soon as the situation of our affairs will admit of it, they shall be returned, or others in lieu of them:

That Mr. Mease, the continental commissary in the city of Philadelphia, be directed to go to the several shops and stores in the said city, and purchase, for the use of the army of the United States, such articles as are necessary for them, at this and the approaching season of the year; and that he be empowered to employ as many persons as he shall judge necessary to assist him in this service:

That the council of safety of Pensylvania be requested, with all possible expedition, to cause application to be made to the house keepers and others in the said state, for as many blankets and woollen stockings as each can spare, for the use of the soldiers under the immediate command of General Washington, in New Jersies; and that they be delivered, as fast as collected, to Mr. J. Mease, the continental commissary:

That it be recommended to the said council of safety, to appoint persons to appraise the blankets and woollen stockings, so collected, as aforesaid, that the value of them may be paid:

That the committee, who are sent to the camp, be directed to make particular enquiry into the abuses in the medical department in the army, and report thereon to Congress.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 27, 1776

A memorial from Thomas Denef was read and referred to the Board of War.

letter from Thomas Cushing, Esq' and that the report ||on that subject|| by them made, be re-committed.

The committee to whom the letter from Thomas Cushing, Esquire, was referred, have examined the matter thereof, and come to the following resolutions thereupon; viz.

Resolved, that it is the opinion of this committee, that Mr. Samuel Kirkland and Mr. Aaron Crosby, whom the commissioners at Boston, appointed by the society for propagating the gospel among the indians, had employed as missioners for that purpose, the former at Oneida, and the other at Onquaughe, be continued in their offices one year from the expiration of that for which they are now engaged; and that each of them be allowed a salary of four hundred and sixteen dollars and two thirds of a dollar, equal to one hundred pounds sterlign, to be reimbursed by the said commissioners when they shall receive money sufficient from the said society.

Resolved, that it is the opinion of this committee, that the United States ought not to contribute to the support of a missionary to the Mohikon indians, of whom some reside at Stockbridge in the state of Massachusetts bay, and others at several places in the state of New York.¹

Resolved, That the delegates from the four New England governments be directed to take the most effectual measures to have, at least, 10,000 pair of shoes, and 10,000 pair of stockings, purchased in those states, and sent forward to General Washington's head quarters, with all possible expedition, for the use of the soldiers under his command.

That a committee of three be appointed to procure a translation into the German language of the late treaty between the Courts of London and Hesse, for troops to be employed in America. That the said committee be fully authorised to pursue means the most effectual in their judgment, for communicating to the Hessians the said treaties and for accomplishing the views of Congress in their resolves of the 14 and 27th of August last.

That there should be advanced to Thomas Smith, for supplies to the troops of the 5th and 6th Virginia regiments, left sick at Wilmington, the sum of 677 25/90 dollars:

That there is due to Lieutenant Colonel Jacob Boyer, for furnishing his battalion of militia with 7,495 rations of provisions, on their march from Berks county to the camp in New Jersey, 739 45/90 dollars:

To Thomas Edwards, for victualling the 2d battalion of militia, of Lancaster county, commanded by Colonel Curtis Grubb, on their march to Bergen, in New Jersey, and for the hire of two baggage waggons, the sum of 1,319 61/90 dollars, to be paid to Philip Marsteller:

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

Resolved, That 1,000 dollars be advanced to the committee for procuring cannon for the public service; the said committee to account for the expenditure.

Resolved, That for the more speedy and effectual discharge of business, the following rules be invariably observed:

That Congress be opened every morning at 10 o’Clock, Sundays excepted:

That Mr. President take the chair precisely at that time.

Agreeable to the order of the day, the Indians were introduced, and the following speech was delivered to them:
December, 1776

Brothers of the Six Nations, Delawares and Shawanese,
We, the delegates of the thirteen United States of America, are extremely pleased to see you. We take you by the hand, and bid you welcome to our great council fire.

Brothers,
You say that God Almighty has been pleased to bring us together. You say well. He superintends and governs men and their actions. He now sees us. He judges of the sincerity of our hearts, and will punish those who deceive.

Brothers, Sachems and Warriors,
You have heard what our commissioners have said to you at Pittsburgh, by our directions. You have listened to their arguments; and your own reason will suggest, that the conduct they have recommended to you, must be productive of your happiness and welfare. We think that you must be fully convinced that your safety, as nations, depends on preserving peace and friendship with the white people of this island.

We are sorry to hear of the death of your great men, and are well pleased that our commissioners have wiped the tears from your eyes, and covered the graves of our departed friends.

Our hearts are good towards all the Indians in the woods, who have friendly dispositions towards us.
We love peace, and wish that the chain of friendship between us and you may contract no rust. On our part, we will do every thing to keep it bright and strong.

But should we be attacked by any tribe of Indians in the woods, we hope to convince them that we can repel their attempts with ease. Friendship, however, with you, is what we earnestly desire. Our commissioners have told you so, and they have not deceived you.

We now inform you, that we wish to sit down with you under the same tree of peace; to water its roots and cherish its growth, so that it may shelter us and you, and our and your children.

Brothers,
We have prepared some presents for you, which our commissioners will deliver before your departure.

The Indians, having returned thanks for the speech delivered, informed Congress that they had something to say on Monday next, ||and withdrew.||
Resolved, That the council of safety of Pensylvania be desired to suspend the farther execution of the request made to them on the 2d, to procure one thousand waggons:

That the waggons procured, in consequence of the said request, be sent to the quarter master general.

Resolved, That Mr. Mease be directed to return to Mr. Levy, the goods he had from him, receiving back the money advanced on that account: the said goods being sent for by the state of New York, for whose account, [hand by whose order,] they were purchased.

The Committee of Treasury reported, that there is due, To Brigadier General Thompson, for his pay for the months of October and November, 250 dollars:

To Lieutenant Ross Currie, of the second batallion of Pensylvania regular forces, for the ballance of his pay from March to November, inclusive, [£33 15 equal to] 90 dollars:

To Samuel M’Kenzie, surgeon to the 2d batallion of Pensylvania regular forces, for 4 months’ pay, at 33 dollars per month, 132 dollars.

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

ter, of the 17th November, from Lieutenant Colonel Wilson, of the said battalion; and a letter from John Avery, of Boston, 22d November, were read: 1

Also, a letter of the 25 November, from Colonel Moses Hazen, was read, and referred to the committee on the northern army. 2

Resolved, That another member be added to the said committee:

The member chosen, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee.

The Indians, being introduced, spoke to Congress, but having said nothing relative to matters between them and the United States, no notice was taken of it, and they withdrew.

Resolved, That the sum of £43 18 5 [=117.11 dollars]

That 5,000 dollars be advanced to Carpenter Wharton for the public service; he to be accountable.

Resolved, That the council of safety of Pennsylvania be requested to give the continental officers, and all others, employed in removing the public stores from this city, whether by land or water, all the assistance in their power.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to prepare an address to the inhabitants of America, and a recommendation to the several states, to appoint a day of fasting, humiliation, and prayer:

The members, Mr. [John] Witherspoon, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, and Mr. [Samuel] Adams.

Resolved, That Mr. J. Mease be empowered and directed to settle with and pay the arrears due to Colonel Hay's battalion of the flying camp.

Resolved, That Thomas De Naif be appointed a lieutenant of artillery under M. Romand de Lisle.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to enquire into the state of the prisoners sent from New Jersey.

The members chosen, Dr. [John] Witherspoon, Mr. [Abraham] Clark, and Mr. F[rancis] L[ightfoot] Lee.

Whereas, in consequence of many complaints that engrossers had distressed the public, by raising salt to an exorbitant price, the council of safety of Pennsylvania, with the approbation of Congress, took the management of the affair into their hands, and have endeavoured, by as just and equal a distribution as possible of the salt imported from time to time, to supply the different parts of the country; yet, it is found upon trial, either from the artful conduct of interested persons not discovered, or from the impossibility of the thing itself, that the remedy has been ineffectual; and, on the contrary, salt continues scarcer and dearer in this port, than where no regulation has been tried: Therefore,

Resolved, That it be recommended to the council of safety of Pennsylvania, to take off all restraint upon the sale of salt; and give public notice, that it shall be lawful for any person to import and sell it, in such manner, and at such price, as he shall find voluntary purchasers.

Resolved, That 200 dollars be advanced to Mr. William Govett, assistant to the auditor general; he to be accountable.

Resolved, That in case this Congress shall be under the necessity of removing from Philadelphia, it shall be adjourned to Baltimore.

Whereas, General Washington hath repeatedly applied, and yesterday has renewed, his application, for an immediate reinforcement for the defence of this city and State;

Resolved, That the council of safety be requested, this day, to send expresses, that may be relied on, to the several counties in Pennsylvania, earnestly requesting that they march what troops they can collect, armed and provided in the best manner possible, to the army under the command of General Washington.

Resolved, That Mr. J. Mease be directed to furnish Captain Henderson’s company, of the 11th Pennsylvania batallion, with blankets and stockings.

Resolved, That expresses be immediately sent to the committees of the counties of Cecil, Baltimore, Harford, and Frederic, in Maryland, requesting that they apply, without delay, to the militia of their respective counties, to send forward, as fast as possible, for the defence of this city, and the reinforcement of General Washington’s army, as many troops as possible, informing the said committees that some assistance, in the way of arms, may be furnished here, to provide such as have no arms to bring with them:

That an express be sent to the council of safety of Delaware, requesting them to send forward, as fast as possible, for the defence of this city, and the reinforcement of General Washington, as many troops as possible, informing the said council that some assistance in the way of arms may be furnished here, to provide such as have no arms to bring with them.

Resolved, That the Board of War be directed to take care of the arms belonging to the Continent, and have them properly secured.

Resolved, That William Chambers be appointed captain, Alexander Wilson, first lieutenant, Adam Hoops, second lieutenant, in the 3d batallion of the regiment com-danced by Colonel Moses Hazen.

December, 1776

That 1,000 dollars be advanced to the committee of the middle district of Frederic county, to defray the charges of conveying the prisoners there, and the expence of furnishing rations to the prisoners and the guard; the said committee to be accountable.

Resolved, That General Mifflin be directed to repair immediately to the neighbouring counties, and, by all the means in his power, rouse and bring them in, to the defence of Philadelphia.

As the Congress deem it of great importance to the general good and safety, that General Mifflin should make a progress through the several countries in this state ||of Pennsylvania,|| to rouse the freemen thereof, to the immediate defence of this city and country,

Resolved, That the assembly be requested to appoint a committee of their body to make the said tour with General Mifflin, in order to assist him in this good and necessary work.

Resolved, That the president return to Congress the 25,000 of dollars received for the use of the Marine Committee.

Resolved, That Major General Putnam be directed to have the several recruits, and other continental troops in this city, immediately paraded, and that he proceed, without delay, to make the proper defences for the protection and security of this city:

That the council of safety of Pennsylvania be requested to give Major General Putnam all the assistance in their power, for the execution of the above necessary business, by calling forth the inhabitants, and by any other means in their judgment proper.

Resolved, That 2,000 dollars be advanced to the delegates of Georgia, for the use of that state, which is to be accountable.
Resolved, That 135 1/3 dollars be paid to Robert Patton, for his services as messenger, from the 15 May to the 4th December, instant.

The committee appointed to prepare an address to the inhabitants of America, brought in a draught, which was read; and, being debated by paragraphs, was agreed to.

Ordered, That the said committee have it published and dispersed.

The Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, to the People in general, and particularly to the Inhabitants of Pennsylvania and the adjacent States.

Friends and Brethren:

We think it our duty to address a few words of exhortation to you in this important crisis. You are not unacquainted with the history of the rise and progress of this war. A plan was carried on by the British Ministry for several years in a systematic manner to enslave you to that kingdom. After various attempts in an artful and insidious manner to bring into practice the laying you under tribute, they at last openly and decisively asserted their rights of making laws to bind you in all cases whatsoever.

Opposition was made to these encroachments by earnest and humble petitions from every Legislature on the Continent, and more than once by the Congress representing the whole. These were treated with the utmost contempt. Acts of the most unjust and oppressive nature were passed and carried into execution, such as exempting the soldiers charged with murder in America from a legal trial, and ordering them to be carried to Britain for certain absolution, as also directing prisoners taken at sea to be entered on board their ships, and obliged either to kill their own friends or fall themselves by their hands. We only mention these from among the many oppressive acts of Parliament, as proofs to what horrid injustice the love of dominion will sometimes carry societies as well as men. At the same time to show how insensible they will be to the sufferings of others, you may see, by the preambles to the acts and addresses to the King, that they constantly extol their own lenity in those very proceedings which fill this whole Continent with resentment and horror.

To crown the whole, they have waged war with us in the most cruel and unrelenting manner, employing not only the force of the British nation, but hiring foreign mercenaries, who, without feeling, indulge themselves in rapine and bloodshed. The spirit indeed of the Army in general is but too well determined, by their inhuman treatment of those who have unhappily fallen into their hands.

It is well known to you, that at the universal desire of the people, and with the hearty approbation of every Province, the Congress declared the United States free and independent, a measure not only just, but which had become absolutely necessary. It would have been impossible to have resisted the formidable force destined against us last spring, while we confessed ourselves the subjects of that State against which we had taken arms. Besides, after repeated trials, no terms could be obtained, but pardon upon absolute submission, which every publick body in America had rejected with disdain.

Resistance has now been made with a spirit and resolution becoming a free people, and with a degree of success hitherto which could scarce have been expected. The enemy have been expelled from the Northern Provinces where they at first had possession, and have been repulsed in their attempt upon the Southern by the undaunted valour of the inhabitants. Our success at sea, in the capture of the enemy's ships, has been astonishing. They have been compelled to retreat before the Northern Army. Notwithstanding the difficulty and uncertainty at first of our being supplied with ammunition and military stores, those we have now in abundance, and by some late arrivals and captures there is an immediate prospect of sufficient clothing for the Army.

What we have particularly in view in this address is not only to promote unanimity and vigour through the whole States, but to excite the inhabitants of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and the adjacent States, to an immediate and spirited exertion in opposition to the Army that now threatens to take possession of this city. You know that during the whole campaign they have been checked in their progress, and have not till within these two weeks ventured above ten miles from their shipping. Their present advances are owing not to any capital defeat, or a want of valour in the Army that opposed them, but to a sudden diminution of its numbers from the expiration of those short inlistments which, to ease the people, were at first adopted. Many have already joined the Army to supply the deficiency, and we call, in the most earnest manner, on all the friends of liberty to exert themselves without delay in this pressing emergency. In every other part your arms have been successful, and in other respects our sacred cause is in the most promising situation. We think it proper to inform and assure you that essential services have been already rendered us by foreign States, and we have received the most positive assurances of further aid. Let us not, then, be wanting to ourselves. Even a short resistance will probably be effectual, as General Lee is advancing with a strong reinforcement, and his troops in high spirits. What a pity is it, then, that the rich and populous city of Philadelphia should fall into the enemy's hands, or that we should not lay hold of the opportunity of destroying their principal Army, now removed from the ships of war, in which their greatest strength lies.

It is certainly needless to multiply arguments in such a situation. All that is valuable to us as men and freemen is at stake. It does not admit of a question what would be the effect of our finally failing. Even the boasted Commissioners for giving peace to America have not offered, and do not now offer, any terms but pardon on absolute submission. And though (blessed be God) even the loss of Philadelphia would not be the loss of the cause, yet while it can be saved, let us not, in the close of the campaign, afford them such ground of triumph; but give a check to their progress, and convince our friends in the distant parts that one spirit animates the whole.

Confiding in your fidelity and zeal in a contest the most illustrious and important, and firmly trusting in the good providence of God, we wish you happiness and success.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1776

The committee appointed to prepare a resolution for appointing a day of fasting and humiliation, brought in a report, which was read and agreed to, as follows:

Whereas, the war in which the United States are engaged with Great Britain, has not only been prolonged, but is likely to be carried to the greatest extremity; and whereas, it becomes all public bodies, as well as private persons, to reverence the Providence of God, and look up to him as the supreme disposer of all events, and the arbiter of the fate of nations; therefore,

Resolved, That it be recommended to all the United States, as soon as possible, to appoint a day of solemn fasting and humiliation; to implore of Almighty God the forgiveness of the many sins prevailing among all ranks, and to beg the countenance and assistance of his Providence in the prosecution of the present just and necessary war.

The Congress do also, in the most earnest manner, recommend to all the members of the United States, and particularly the officers civil and military under them, the exercise of repentance and reformation; and further, require of them the strict observation of the articles of war, and particularly, that part of the said articles, which forbids profane swearing, and all immorality, of which all such officers are desired to take notice.

It is left to each state to issue out proclamations fixing the days that appear most proper within their several bounds.

Ordered, That the above be published by the committee who brought in the report.

A letter, of the 10th December, 1776, from General Washington, at Head quarters, falls of Delaware, ||was read.||'

Whereas a false and malicious report hath been spread by the enemies of America that the Congress was about to disperse:

Resolved, That General Washington be desired to contradict the said scandalous report in general orders, this Congress having a better opinion of the spirit and vigour of the army and the good people of these states than to suppose it can be necessary to disperse. Nor will they adjourn from the city of Philadelphia in the present state of affairs, unless the last necessity shall direct it.

The committee appointed to examine the prisoners sent from New Jersey, reported, that they have performed that service, and find some considerable distinction between them; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the committee appointed to examine the Jersey prisoners be empowered to discharge from gaol such of them as do not appear to have been engaged in measures against the United States of America; the said prisoners first signing a declaration, that they will not hereafter engage in such measures, or give the enemies of America aid, information, counsel, or assistance, in any way or manner whatsoever; and that such as the said committee judge proper, give security not to depart the city of Philadelphia without leave of this Congress.

Resolved, That General Putnam be directed to order parties of active, spirited men, with proper guides, to cross from this city into Jersey; and, under the conduct of good officers, to act as harassing parties, and get the

A letter, of the 11, from General Washington, was read, and referred to the Board of War.¹

Resolved, That 20,000 dollars be advanced to Gustavus Risberg, and charged to the account of Richard Dallam.

That 50,000 dollars be advanced to the council of safety of Pensylvania, for the public service; the said council to be accountable:

That 5,000 dollars be advanced to Dr. Nicholas Way, ||of Wilmington,|| for the public service; he to be accountable.

Resolved, That the two companys raised in the town of Westmoreland, be ordered to march with all possible expedition and join General Washington.

Resolved, That the continental apothecary be directed immediately to pack up all the continental medicines, and send them to the quarter master general:

That the quarter master general be directed to remove all the medicines belonging to the continent in this city to a place of security:

That the frigate Randolph and the sloop Hornet be directed to act in such manner as the continental general commanding here may direct, for the defence of this city, in preventing the enemy from passing the Delaware.

¹This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, III, folio 339. It is printed in Writings of Washington (Ford) V, 80.
Resolved, That 53 1/3 dollars be advanced to Mr. Sproat, clerk at the war office, for his service; he to be accountable.

Mr. [George] Walton, a delegate from Georgia, attended, and produced a letter from the secretary of the convention [[of that state]], informing him of his appointment, with others, to represent that state for the year ensuing:

Resolved, That he be admitted to a seat.

Resolved, That Elisha Sheldon be appointed lieutenant colonel commandant of a regiment of cavalry on the continental establishment, with the rank and pay of a colonel of foot; and that General Washington be authorized to appoint the other officers to said regiment; and that the colonel, with his officers, proceed, without delay, to raise and discipline the said regiment; and that they repair to and join the army under General Washington's command, by companies, as soon as each company shall be compleat:

That the General be empowered to advance to Colonel Sheldon such sums of money as may be necessary for the service.

Resolved, That the Marine Committee be directed to employ one or more fast sailing vessels, to proceed on a cruise immediately off the Capes of Delaware, to give notice to all ships or vessels inward bound of the state of this port, in order that they may proceed to some other place or places of safety.

Resolved, That General Putnam be directed to send John Connolly under guard to Baltimore, Maryland, there to be confined.

That General Putnam, or the commanding officer in Philadelphia, be desired to appoint suitable persons to make proper provision of combustibles, for burning such of the frigates and other continental vessels as may be in imminent danger of falling into the enemies' possession should this city come into their hands.

But when it shall happen that the General has no further occasion for the use of the frigate Randolph, for the defence of this city, if the same should fall into the enemies' hands, should Captain Biddle in that case carry the said frigate safely to sea, and thereby save her from falling into the enemies' hands, this Congress will reward him and his people with a present of 10,000 dollars.

Resolved, That the continental general commanding in Philadelphia, be directed to defend the same to the utmost extremity, against the attempts of the enemy to get possession of it; and that, for this end, he apply, from time to time, to the council of safety of Pennsylvania for their aid and assistance.

Resolved, That Mr. [Robert] Morris be empowered to borrow a sum, not exceeding 10,000 dollars, for the use of the Marine Committee; and Congress will indemnify him.

Resolved, That Timothy Dod be released from confinement.

Resolved, That the arms, ammunition, and cloathing, in or near the city of Philadelphia, be put under the direction of General Putnam; and that Mr. J. Mease, Mr. Towers, and all other persons having continental stores in care, make immediate return of the same to General Putnam, of the quantities and kinds of each, and where the same are placed, that the general may take proper order therein, whether for safety or use, as he shall judge proper.

Resolved, That General Putnam be authorized to employ all the private armed vessels in this harbour, for the defence and security of the city. And that he take the most effectual measures for manning them, and putting them in fit condition for the above purpose.

General Putnam and Brigadier General Mifflin being called to a conference, and having, by strong arguments, urged the necessity of the Congress retiring, it was, therefore,

Resolved, That Mr. Wilson be desired to inform the assembly and council of safety of Pennsylvania of the proposed adjournment of Congress, and the place to which they have resolved to adjourn; and to inform them, that Congress will, at all times, on their application, be ready to comply with their requisitions for the security of this city and state against the common enemy.

Whereas the movements of the enemy have now rendered the neighbourhood of this city the seat of war, which will prevent that quiet and uninterrupted attention to the public business, which should ever prevail in the great continental council:

Resolved, That this Congress be, for the present, adjoind to the town of Baltimore, in the state of Maryland, to meet on the 20th instant, unless a sufficient number to make a Congress shall be there sooner assembled; and that, until the Congress shall otherwise order, General Washington be possessed of full power to order and direct all things relative to the department, and to the operations of war. That the several matters to this day referred, be postponed to the day to which Congress is adjourned.¹

¹ "The near approach of the enemy to Philadelphia, the slowness of the militia, and the advice of friends, induced the Congress to adjourn to this town." William Thornton to Mehech Wears, 25 December, 1776. Whipple intimates that a panic in all orders of people "seized the nerves of some members of Congress."

In the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 36, IV, folio 241, is an undated motion which probably belongs to this period of removal:

Congress met according to adjournment.

The delegates from Georgia produced the credentials of their reappointment, which were read as follows:

In Convention, Savannah, 9th October, 1776.

The Convention proceeded to ballot for Delegates to represent this State in the Continental Congress for the Year ensuing: when, on closing the Poll, it appeared that Messrs. John Houstoun, Lyman Hall, Button Gwinnett, George Walton, and Nathan Brownson, Esquires were duly elected, and declared so accordingly.

A true Copy from the Minutes,

Edward Langworthy, Secretary.¹

Sundry letters were read, viz.

Three from General Washington, of the 12, and 13, and 15; with one, of the 13th, from General Sullivan.

Four, from Mr. R. Morris, ||at Philadelphia,|| of the 13, 14, 16, and 17th.

One, of the 8, from General Wooster:²

formed from the Associates of this province whose business it shall be to make particular enquiry of all persons attempting to cross such ferries and to prevent such passing who cannot give a good and sufficient account of themselves as friends to these States, or who have not a pass from the Congress or Council of Safety or Board of War, or are not in motion to join the Army of these United States, and that officers of discretion have the command at the several posts and that he [they] be instructed from time to time to transmit whatever may come to their knowledge, which they may deem interesting to these States."

On the back of the paper is noted by Charles Thomson the vote, eight ayes and three noes.

²The letters of Washington are in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, III, folios 343, 351, and 355. They are printed in Writings of Washington (Ford), V, 82, 89, and 100. That of Morris is in No. 137 (appendix), folios 1-19, and that of Wooster is in No. 161, folio 328.
Ordered, That they be referred to a committee of four: The members chosen, Mr. Richard H[enry] Lee, Mr. James Wilson, Mr. [Benjamin] Harrison, and Mr. [Samuel] Adams.

Resolved, That Benjamin Griffith do immediately supply the prisoners from North Carolina with provisions, clothing, and blankets, and fuel, sufficient to protect them from the inclemency of the weather; and that the apartments, in which they are confined, be glazed, and in other respects secured from the weather, so that the health of the prisoners may be preserved, and they experience that humanity which has ever marked the conduct of this Congress to its prisoners.

Resolved, That the President send to the council of safety of Maryland a copy of the resolution passed the 9, and forwarded to the committees of Cecil, &c., and inform the said council of the reason that induced Congress to send the same to the committees, and request the council of safety to exert their utmost endeavours in forwarding the reinforcements.¹

Resolved, That the president write to General Washington, and desire him to send a flag to General Howe, and enquire in what manner General Lee, who has been taken prisoner, is treated: and if he finds that he is not treated agreeable to his rank and character, to send a remonstrance to General Howe on the subject; and farther, to enquire of General Howe whether he will grant permission to send General Lee such supplies of money as may be necessary to support him, during his confinement, in a manner suitable to his rank in the service of the United States of America:

That the president also write to Mr. Robert Morris, and request him to send 100 half-johannes to General Washington for the use of General Lee.

A letter, of the 1 October, from Mr. [Silas] Deane, was read:
A letter of the 19 from the committee of Frederic county, was read, together with sundry resolutions passed by the said committee, respecting the marching of the militia ||of that county||, to reinforce General Washington, ||was read.||²
A number of prisoners being sent to Baltimore: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the committee of Baltimore be requested to secure, in a convenient room, under a guard, the prisoners, arrived this day from Philadelphia, except the two Goodrichs, who are to be committed to gaol; that Mr. [B.]

¹ In the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 36, IV, folio 147 and 239, are two undated motions, as follows:

"Resolved, That the committee appointed to superintend the printing of the Journals of Congress, be empowered and directed to send an Express to enquire where Mr. Robert Aitken, who was employed in printing them, is or may be; and that they cause so much of them as are already printed to be removed to this place, and also to remove his press and Utensils to this place at the public expense: provided the said Robert Aitken shall be willing to come with them, and perform his engagement with Congress."

"Resolved, That the committee appointed to superintend the printing of the Journals write to Mr. Aitken of Philadelphia and request that he would immediately proceed hither with his press and every other matter necessary for compleating the printing of the Journals of the Congress, and that he also bring with him the several Copies of the Journal so far as he has advanced in printing them, and that he may rest assured that the Congress will reimburse him any extraordinary expense which may attend his removal in Addition to what they have already engaged to pay him had not circumstances rendered this additional trouble necessary."

As Dunlap printed the resolution of December 23 on militia accounts, he must have been called to Baltimore almost immediately after the removal of Congress to that place.

Griffith be empowered to supply them with provisions and other things absolutely necessary for them, until farther orders of Congress.

Resolved, That 6,000 dollars be advanced to Colonel Thomas Price, for the purpose of recruiting his battalion; he to be accountable.

The Board of Treasury reported, that they have had under consideration the account of Colonel [Captain] W[illiam] Richardson for guarding the continental treasury from Philadelphia to this place [Baltimore]; that the expence of the guard, with the provender for the teams, amounts to one hundred forty two pounds, one shilling and eleven pence [=378.83 dollars;] and he credits one hundred twelve pounds, ten shillings [=300 dollars] received by a warrant on the treasurer, and that there remains due to the said [Captain] W. Richardson, [twenty nine pounds, eleven shillings, eleven pence Pennsylvania currency, equal to] 78 83/90 dollars:¹

Ordered, That the said accounts be paid.

A letter, of the 15, from General Armstrong, at Philadelphia, was read, and referred to the Board of War.²

The committee to whom were referred the letters from General Washington and Mr. Morris, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That Mr. President inform General Washington by letter, that Congress approve his conduct in not publishing in general orders the resolve of Congress of the 11 instant.

That proper magazines of provision for the army be immediately formed in or near Pennsylvania, and that Congress approve of the General’s sending General Armstrong to fix on the most secure and convenient places for such magazines; to animate the militia, and facilitate the recruiting service in Pennsylvania:

That Congress approve of General Washington's sending General Smallwood to Maryland, to encourage and promote the speedy raising of the new levies therein; and General Smallwood is requested to use his utmost endeavours in executing that business:

That Robert Morris, George Clymer, and George Walton, Esqrs. be a committee of Congress, with powers to execute such continental business as may be proper and necessary to be done at Philadelphia:¹

That 200,000 dollars be immediately sent to Mr. Commissary Mease, subject to the disposition of the said committee, for providing the militia going into service; for paying the soldiers from Ticonderoga, and for such other public uses as they shall think proper:

That if the above sum should be insufficient, the said committee have power to call on the commissioner of the loan office, in Pensylvania, for such farther sums, as the continental use there may demand:

That the said committee keep up a regular correspondence with Congress, informing them, from time to time, of their proceedings herein:

That the resolve respecting the appointment of this committee, and its powers, be transmitted to Messieurs Morris, Clymer, and Walton, by Mr. President; and that he inform the said gentlemen, that Congress approve their care of the public business as signified in Mr. Morris's letters. Also, that Mr. Morris be informed, that Congress highly approve his plan of fitting the continental frigates at Philadelphia regularly for sea, and with all possible expedition:

Resolved, That a magazine of ammunition and arms, with a proper laboratory, be immediately formed at York Town, in Pennsylvania. 1

That Mr. Secretary Peters be directed, by the Board of War, to repair to Baltimore as soon as possible.

Resolved, That 19,000 dollars be advanced to Mr. John Boyd, pay master of Colonel Mackay's battalion, for the use of that battalion; he to be accountable for the expenditure.

Resolved, That two chaplains be appointed to this Congress.

That Monday next be assigned for chusing them.

Congress resumed consideration of the letter from the committee of Frederic county: Whereupon,

Resolved, That 18,000 dollars be transmitted to the committee of Frederic, for the use of the militia of the counties of Frederic, Washington, and Montgomery, who march to reinforce General Washington; the said committee to be accountable: That the committee transmit to General Washington a particular account of the money advanced to the militia.

Resolved, That officers of troops enlisted for three years, or during the war, receive pay on the new establishment, from the time of their being appointed by their respective States, in consequence of the resolution of Congress passed the 16th of September last.

Resolved, That such alteration be made in the rations of the Virginia troops as the governor and council of that state shall direct, provided the expense does not exceed that of the ration established for the continental army.

Resolved, That three thousand dollars be advanced to Colonel W. Richardson for the purpose of recruiting his regiment; he to be accountable.

1 "A subsequent resolution of 27th December, determining a magazine, &c. to be erected at Carlisle, supercedes this." Note in margin.
Resolved, That Mr. [William] Hooper be empowered to examine into the state of the North Carolina prisoners, and have such of them as are sick, removed to a private house, and kept under guard; and that he provide a physician to attend them.

Resolved, That General Washington be directed to pay the militia that may reinforce his army, in the same manner as his other troops are paid; and that, on their discharge, one penny per mile be allowed in lieu of rations, to support them on their march to their respective places of abode.¹

North Carolina be removed from thence to different rooms in the court house, or wherever else they can be procured, and there safely locked up and secured; and that the committee of inspection of the said town, be requested to direct proper apartments for their reception, and from time to time, keep up a good and sufficient guard over them; and, in order to secure them more effectually, that the prisoners, agreeable to their own voluntary proposal, shall be upon their parole not to make any attempts to escape from confinement, nor interfere in the present war with Great Britain, by carrying on any correspondence, conversation, or otherwise, with the enemies of America; and that during this confinement, Benjamin Griffith, who, by a late resolve of this Congress, was directed to supply the prisoners when confined in gaol, continue to supply and accommodate them with necessaries for their support.

Resolved, That Robert Patton be door keeper, and James Long, messenger, ||to Congress.||

Resolved, That to Morrow be assigned for appointing skilful persons to be sent to examine the Salisbury and Mr. Livingston’s foundaries, agreeable to the resolution of the 28 November last.

The Committee of Secret Correspondence, having applied for instructions to enable them to return an answer to the letter read yesterday from Mr. Deane, Congress took the said letter into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Committee of Secret Correspondence be directed to inform the Commissioners at the Court of France, that Congress have received no advices concerning the proceedings of Portugal but what they have seen in the news papers, the authenticity of which may be doubtful. That Congress desire exact information from the Commissioners, whether any American vessels have been prohibited entering, or have been confiscated, in the dominions of Portugal, and on what principles.

That they be directed to remonstrate in the firmest tone with the Portuguese Ambassador on these subjects, so soon as they shall have well informed themselves of the facts above mentioned.

That the Commissioners be authorised to arm and fit for war any number of vessels not exceeding six, at the expence of the United States, to war upon British property, and that commissions and warrants be for this purpose sent to the Commissioners, provided the Commissioners be well satisfied this measure will not be disagreeable to the court of France.

Resolved, That Mr. John Boyd, the pay master of Colonel Mackay's batallion, be empowered to receive from Mr. William Smith, at Hanover, such a number of shoes as may be wanted for the use of the said batallion.

Resolved, That the assemblies, conventions, committees or councils of safety, and other persons that are or may be entrusted with money for the militia reinforcing the armies of the United States, transmit the receipts of the officers receiving the same to the pay master or deputy pay master general of the respective armies; who are hereby directed to make the proper stoppages, and give certificates of the delivery of such receipts, specifying therein, the names of the persons signing them, the dates and sums mentioned in the same, and the persons to whom the receipts were given; which certificates shall be received by the commissioners of the treasury as sufficient vouchers for discharging the respective accounts from the sums expressed in the same.

Resolved, That the Commissioners of Congress at the Court of France be authorised to borrow on the faith of the thirteen United States a sum not exceeding two millions sterling, for a term not less than ten years.

That, if the money borrowed cannot be obtained at a less interest than six per centum, the Commissioners be permitted to engage for that rate of interest, and that they stipulate for the payment of the interest at periods not less than annual.

That if the Commissioners can contract for the payment of the principal and interest in the products of North America, to be delivered here, it will be very agreeable to Congress.

Resolved, That Mr. Hillecas, the treasurer, be empowered to employ proper persons to sign the Bills which remain unsigned in the treasury, and return their names to Congress.

Resolved, That a letter be immediately written by Mr.
President to the assemblies of New Hampshire, Massachusetts bay and Connecticut, informing them, of the critical state of the fortress of Ticonderoga and the other posts in that quarter; and the extreme danger of General Carleton's possessing himself of that fortress as soon as Lake Champlain shall be so frozen, as to be capable of bearing horses: that, by a letter from General Schuyler, Congress is informed, that the troops, now occupying those posts, will not tarry after the 31 of this month; and, in the most pressing terms, urging the necessity of hastening up troops, from their respective states, with the utmost despatch, in the following proportions, viz.
2,500 from Massachusetts bay, 1,500 from Connecticut, and 500 from New Hampshire, making 4,500. Informing them, that Congress desire they will not wait till the several corps are compleated; there being now a plentiful stock of provisions at Ticonderoga, and nothing to fear from the enemy till the lake shall be frozen, as above-mentioned.

Resolved, That two members be added to the committee appointed on the 17 October for the better regulating the Treasury Board:
The members chosen, Mr. [Thomas] Nelson, and Mr.

Resolved, That 533 1/3 dollars be advanced to Thomas

Resolved, That the sum 3,333 1/3 dollars be advanced to Mr. James Nourse, for the use of the militia of Berkley and Frederic counties, in Virginia, who are about to march to reinforce General Washington; the said Mr. J. Nourse to be accountable for the expenditure.

Resolved, That the resolution passed the 3d of December, granting a pair of shoes and stockings to the militia of Pennsylvania, and by which they are entitled to the same rations and the same monthly pay with the other troops on the continental establishment, to commence from the time of their enrolment, be extended to the Virginia militia, who march to reinforce General Washington.

Sundry letters were read, viz.

One of the 23, from Mr. R. Morris; one, of the 3, from General Schuyler, at Saratoga; one from Henricus Godet, of St. Eustatia, of November 30; one, of the 18, from Richard Dallam, deputy pay master general, at Newtown, in Bucks county, Pennsylvania; one, of the 5, from Jonathan Trumbull; one, of the 25 November, from Joseph Trumbull; a petition from Faneuil and others, to the assembly of Massachusetts bay, and a resolution passed by the said assembly in consequence thereof.

1 The letter of Robert Morris is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 137 (appendix), folio 25. That of Schuyler is in No. 153, II, folio 505. That of Godet is in No. 78, X, folio 53. That of Dallam is in No. 78, VIII, folio 91. That of Joseph Trumbull is in No. 78, XXII, folio 175. The petition from Faneuil, Marec, Coppin de la Garde, and Binnal de Laboulbene, is in No. 42, III, folio 13.
December, 1776

The committee on the state of the army, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That a brigadier general of artillery be appointed; and, the ballots being taken,

Colonel Henry Knox was elected.

Resolved, That General Washington be empowered to use every endeavour, by giving bounties and otherwise, to prevail upon the troops, whose time of enlistment shall expire at the end of the month, to stay with the army so long after that period, as its situation shall render their stay necessary:

That the new levies in Virginia, Maryland, the Delaware state, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, be ordered to march by companies, and parts of companies, as fast as they shall be raised, and join the army under General Washington, with the utmost despatch:

That the foregoing resolution be transmitted by the president to the executive powers of the states before mentioned, who are requested to carry it into execution; to appoint commissaries to precede the troops, and procure provision for them on their march; and that they be empowered to draw money for this purpose from the nearest continental pay master:

That General Washington be empowered to appoint a commissary of prisoners, and a cloathier general for supplying the army; to fix their salaries, and return their names to Congress:

That General Washington be requested to fix upon that system of promotion in the continental army, which, in his opinion, and that of the general officers with him, will produce most general satisfaction; that it be suggested to him, whether a promotion of field officers in the colonial line, and of captains and subalterns in the regimental line, would not be the most proper:
That the Committee of Congress at Philadelphia be desired to contract with proper persons for erecting at Carlisle, in Pennsylvania, a magazine sufficient to contain ten thousand stand of arms and two hundred tons of gun powder, and also for erecting an elaboratory adjacent to such magazine.

That the council of Massachusetts may be desired to contract with proper persons for erecting in the town of Brookfield in that state, a magazine sufficient to contain ten thousand stand of arms and two hundred tons of gun powder, and also for erecting an elaboratory adjacent to such magazine.

That Congress approve of General Washington's directing the quarter master general to provide teams for each regiment, and for other necessary purposes:

That the Committee of Secret Correspondence be desired to direct the Commissioners at the Court of France to procure, if possible, from that Court an hundred thousand stand of small arms.

That the 2d and 7th Virginia regiments, with all the convalescents from the other corps left in that state, and now fit for duty, be ordered to march and join the army under General Washington, with the utmost despatch, leaving the arms that they have at present, with the governor and council of that state, as they will be provided with others at the Head of Elk:

That three of the regiments, upon the new establishment, in North Carolina, be ordered to march immediately into Virginia, and put themselves under the direction of the officer commanding there; and that during the interval between the march of the Virginia regiment and the arrival of those from North Carolina to join General Washington:
December, 1776

That the state of Virginia be empowered to call into service, at the continental expence, three regiments of militia, or minute men, if such a measure shall be, by that state, judged necessary.

The unjust, but determined, purpose of the British court to enslave these free states, obvious through every delusive insinuation to the contrary, having placed things in such a situation, that the very existence of civil liberty now depends on the right execution of military powers, and the vigorous, decisive conduct of these, being impossible to distant, numerous, and deliberative bodies:

This Congress, having maturely considered the present crisis; and having perfect reliance on the wisdom, vigour, and uprightness of General Washington, do, hereby,

Resolve, That General Washington shall be, and he is hereby, vested with full, ample, and complete powers to raise and collect together, in the most speedy and effectual manner, from any or all of these United States, 16 battalions of infantry, in addition to those already voted by Congress; to appoint officers for the said battalions; to raise, officer, and equip three thousand light horse; three regiments of artillery, and a corps of engineers, and to establish their pay; to apply to any of the states for such aid of the militia as he shall judge necessary; to form such magazines of provisions, and in such places, as he shall think proper; to displace and appoint all officers under the rank of brigadier general, and to fill up all vacancies in every other department in the American armies; to take, wherever he may be, whatever he may want for the use of the army, if the inhabitants will not sell it, allowing a reasonable price for the same; to arrest and confine persons who refuse to take the continental currency, or are otherwise disaffected to the American cause; and return to the states of which they are citizens, their names, and the nature of their offences, together with the witnesses to prove them:

That the foregoing powers be vested in General Washington, for and during the term of six months from the date hereof, unless sooner determined by Congress.

Resolved, That the council of safety of Pennsylvania be requested to take the most vigorous and speedy measures for punishing all such as shall refuse continental currency; and that the General be directed to give all necessary aid to the council of safety, for carrying their measures on this subject into effectual execution.

Mr. Hillegas having returned the names of persons [by him employed] to superintend the press, and to sign the bills of credit, they were agreed to; and are,

Superintendents of the press: Thomas Harrison, William Smith, and John Merryman, Junior.

Resolved, That 266 2/3 dollars be advanced to John Griffith, for the use of the sick soldiers in Baltimore; he to be accountable.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.
Saturday, December 28, 1776

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to prepare a circular letter to the several United States, explaining the reasons which induced Congress to enlarge the powers of General Washington, and requesting them to co-operate with him, and give him all the aid in their power:

The members chosen, Mr. Richard H[enry] Lee, Mr. [James] Wilson, and Mr. [Samuel] Adams.

Resolved, That the five millions of dollars, which by the resolution of the 2d of November last, the Treasury Board were ordered to prepare and have ready for emission, be now emitted on the faith of the United States.

Resolved, That the council of safety of the state of Maryland, be, and they are hereby, requested, to furnish Mr. John Griffith with fifty blankets for the use of the sick soldiers in Baltimore, who stand in immediate need thereof.

Resolved, That 400 dollars be advanced to Colonel Carvill Hall, for the use of his battalion; he to be accountable.

The committee, to whom the report of the gentlemen who were directed to repair to Ticonderoga, and the papers therein mentioned, were referred, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That in the opinion of Congress, the northern army may be supplied more advantageously and conveniently, in the present mode by the commissary general governing himself by such regulations as have been, and may be, from time to time, ordained by the general or commander in chief, than by contractors:

That the commissary general be directed, without fail, to supply the northern army, this winter, with vegetables.
twice in every week, or more frequently, if possible; and to take effectual measures that they be well supplied with vinegar:

That two large floating batteries be built on Lake Champlain, to cover the boom and the bridge; and that General Schuyler be desired to contract with builders for this purpose in New York, or Massachusetts bay, or both, and that General Schuyler provide the materials:

That the committee for supplying cannon be directed to procure ten brass six inch howitzers, with shells, and a proper attrail, for the use of the northern army:

That a fort be constructed on Mount Independence: that the navigation of the lake near that place be obstructed by Cassons, to be sunk in the water, at small distances from one another, and joined together by string pieces, so as, at the same time, to serve for a bridge between the fortifications on the east and west sides; that, to prevent the enemy from drawing their small craft over land beyond Three Mile Point into Lake George, the passage of that lake be also obstructed, in like manner, by Cassons from island to island in the narrows, if practicable, or by floating batteries; that Fort Stanwix be strengthened, and other fortifications be made at proper places near the Mohawk river, and that General Schuyler, or the commanding officer of the northern army, execute these works this winter; and that the commanding officers of artillery, chief engineer, quarter master general, and commissary general, provide and perform whatever things in their respective departments are necessary, or may contribute to the accomplishment thereof:

That the general court, or council, of the state of Massachusetts bay, be requested to procure such a quantity of oakum, and any other articles, as General Schuyler, who is desired to write to them on the subject, shall require; and to forward the same to such places as he shall direct:¹

The Committee appointed to prepare a plan for obtaining foreign assistance brought in a report, which was read.²

Ordered, That the same be referred to a committee of the whole house, and that Congress do immediately resolve itself into a committee of the whole to take the same into consideration.

Congress then resolved itself into a committee of the whole to take into consideration the report of the committee on the plan of obtaining foreign assistance, and after some time spent thereon, the president resumed the chair, and Mr. [Benjamin] Harrison reported that the committee have had under consideration the report to them referred, and made sundry amendments, but not having had time to go through the whole desire leave to sit again.

Resolved, That Congress will to Morrow resolve itself into a committee of the whole to take into farther consideration the report of the committee.

Resolved, That the Board of War be empowered and directed to write to Philadelphia for accoutrements and necessaries for six troops of light horse ordered from Virginia.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow morning.

¹This report, in the writing of George Wythe, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 21, folio 41.
²This report, in the writing of Elbridge Gerry, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 25, I, folio 3. It is printed under December 30, p. 1068, post.
SUNDAY, DECEMBER 29, 1776

Resolved, That the committee appointed to consider the letter from General Schuyler, dated the 10th of December, be directed to send a suitable person or persons to Mr. Livingston, owner of the foundry in the state of New York, and to Governor Trumbull, under whose direction is the foundry at Salisbury; and also to the council of the state of Massachusetts bay, to procure such cannon and ordnance stores, as are required by the general in his said letter; as being immediately necessary for the northern department.

Congress then resolved itself into a committee of the whole to take into consideration the report of the committee on the plan of obtaining foreign assistance, and after some time, the president resumed the chair, and Mr. F[Francis] L[ightfoot] Lee reported that the committee have had under consideration the report to them referred, and have come to sundry farther amendments, which he was ready to report.

Resolved, That the report be received and taken into consideration to Morrow.

Resolved, That to Morrow be assigned for appointing more general officers.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 30, 1776

A letter, of the 21, from Brigadier General Lewis, was read.

Also two letters, of the 26 and 27, from R. Morris.¹

¹ Lewis’ letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 159, folio 268. Those of Morris are in No. 137 (appendix), folios 33, 37.
December, 1776

The committee, appointed to consider the letters from General Schuyler, and relating to the northern army, brought in a report; Whereupon,

Resolved, That General Schuyler, or the commanding officer of the northern army, be directed to cause an elaborate to be erected at such place as he shall judge most convenient, to fix all the necessary ammunition for the ensuing campaign.

Resolved, That 15 companies, consisting of a captain or overseer, and 30 men each, be engaged, upon such terms as General Schuyler shall think just and equitable, for the batteau service: and be occasionally employed on the highways and other works in the quarter master general’s department; and that four companies of carpenters, to consist of an overseer and twenty five men each, be engaged in like manner to attend the northern army.

That the Overseers have the Rank and receive the pay of and be allowed the same Rations, and the Men be subsisted and paid as private Soldiers. And that General Schuyler or the Commanding officer of that Army grant warrants to the overseers for enlistment.

For the better regulating wagons in the northern army, Resolved, That two wagons be allowed to every company on a march, and one wagon to the colonel, one to the lieutenant colonel and major, one to the staff of a regiment, and one for the particular use of the director of the hospital. Each wagon to be drawn by two horses, (except that for the colonel, which is to be allowed four horses,) and subject to such orders, as shall, from time to time, be issued by the general or commanding officer.

Resolved, That if any commissioned or non-commissioned officer shall employ more carriages than are mentioned in the foregoing resolution, he shall not be allowed to make a public charge of it, but shall pay the customary price himself: and, on his refusal or neglect of so doing, he shall be subject to be fined by a court martial in treble the sum; one third part of such fine to be for the use of the owner of the waggon or other carriage so employed, and the other two thirds to the pay master for the public use; the part adjudged to the owner of the carriage shall be paid to him by any quarter master on the certificate of the president of the court martial, who shall transmit the whole fine to the pay master, in order that the same may be deducted from the pay of the delinquent.¹

Resolved, That the Secret-Committee Board of War be directed to order Sixty Tons of Cannon Powder and Thirty four tons of musquet Powder to be immediately sent to Genl Schuyler for the Use of the Northern Army, provided those quantities can be spared consistent with the Safety of the several States. Postpon’d.¹

Congress being informed that some of the prisoners have broken out of gaol, and made their escape,

Resolved, That the committee of observation for Baltimore county be requested to direct immediate and strict search for the prisoners, who last night escaped from the gaol in Baltimore town; and to offer a reward for the apprehending and securing the said prisoners; and that the said committee make enquiry into the conduct of the gaoler, or any other person suspected of permitting or assisting the escape; and that they take such measures as they shall think proper to bring such offenders to punishment.

Resolved, That 200 dollars be paid into the hands of the committee appointed to consider the letter from General Schuyler of the 10th of December, for the payment of the expences of some suitable person or persons to be sent by them to Mr. Livingston, Governor Trumbull, and the council of the state of Massachusetts bay, agreeable to a resolution passed yesterday; the said committee to be accountable.

The committee appointed to prepare a circular letter to the several states, reported a draught, which was read, amended, and agreed to:

Ordered, That copies be made, signed by the president, and transmitted to each of the United States.

Gentlemen,

Ever Attentive to the Security of Civil Liberty, Congress would not have Consented to the Vesting of such Powers in the Military Department as those, which the Inclos’d Resolves convey to the Continental Commander in Chief, if the Scituation of Publick Affairs did not Require at this Crisis a Decision and Vigour, which Distance and Numbers Deny to Assemblies far Remov’d from each other, and from the immediate Seat of War.

The Strength and Progress of the Enemy, Join’d to Prospects of considerable Reinforcemts have Render’d it not only Necessary that the American Force should be Augmented beyond what Congress had heretofore Design’d, but that it should be brought into the Field with all possible Expedition. These Considerations induce Congress to Request in the most earnest manner, that the fustest influence of your State may be Exerted to Aid such Levies as the General shall Direct in consequence of the Powers now given him, and that your Quota of Battalions formerly fix’d may be Compleated with all the Dispatch that an Ardent Desire to Secure the publick happiness can Dictate.

I have the Honour to be with every Sentiment of Esteem, Gentle-

1 From a copy of the letter, in the writing of John Hancock, in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 58, folio 9. At the foot of the letter he has added:

"The foregoing Letter I have Sent to all the States with the resolves refer’d to, with this Variation, that the States of Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and North Carolina are Desir’d to order their New Levies to Join General Washington; the other States are Address’d as in the foregoing Letter."
It appearing to Congress that it will be extremely difficult, if not impracticable, to supply the army of the United States with bacon, salted beef, pork, soap, tallow and candles, unless the exportation thereof be prohibited; therefore,

Resolved, That none of the said articles, except such as may be necessary for the crew of any ship or vessel, be exported from any of the United States after the 5th day of January next, until the first day of November next, or until Congress shall take further order therein. And it is earnestly recommended to the executive powers of the several United States, to see that this resolution be strictly complied with.¹

Resolved, That the Board of War be empowered to agree with, and employ, as an assistant clerk, Mr. Robert Smith Nourse, late General Lee's secretary.

The report from the committee of the whole being read, the same was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That Commissioners² be forth with sent to the Courts of Vienna, Spain, Prussia and the grand Duke of Tuscany.³

That the several Commissioners of the United States be instructed to assure the respective Courts, that notwithstanding the artful and insidious endeavours⁴ of the Court⁵ of Great Britain to represent the Congress and inhabitants of these states to the European powers, as having a disposition again to submit to the sovereignty of the crown of Great Britain, it is their determination at all events to maintain their independance.

¹The Virginia House of Delegates instructed the delegates in Congress, December 19, to apply for an embargo on the exportation of beef, pork, and bacon.
²In the original report the word “ambassadors” was used in place of “Commissioners.”

December, 1776

That the Commissioners be respectively directed to use every means in their power to procure the assistance of the Emperor of Germany, and of their most Christian, Catholic and Prussian Majesties, for preventing German, Russian, or other foreign troops, from being sent to America for hostile purposes against these United States, and for obtaining a recall of those already sent.

That his most Christian Majesty be induced, if possible, to assist the United States in the present war with Great Britain, by attacking the Electorate of Hanover, or any part of the dominions of Great Britain in Europe, the East or West Indies.

That to this purpose the Ambassadors be instructed to represent to the Court of France, that in Case G. Britain should succeed against America, a military Government will be established here, and the Americans already trained to arms will, however unwilling, be forced into the Service of his Britannic Majesty, whereby his power will be greatly augmented, and may hereafter be employed to reduce to his Government the French and Spanish Islands in the West Indies.¹

That, should the Independance of America be supported, Great Britain, on the Contrary, would at once be deprived of one third of her power and Commerce; that this in a great Measure would be added to the Kingdom of France, whose Territories in the West Indies would be less liable to Molestation from G. Britain and probably enlarged.¹

That the Commissioners be farther empowered to stipulate with the court of France, that all the trade between the United States and the West India islands shall be carried on by vessels, either belonging to the subjects of his most Christian Majesty, or of these states, each having free Liberty to carry on such trade.

That the Commissioners be likewise instructed to assure his most Christian Majesty, that should his forces be employed in conjunction with the United States to exclude his Britannic Majesty from any share in the cod fishery of America, by reducing the islands of Newfoundland and Cape Breton, and ships of war be furnished when required by the United States to reduce Nova Scotia, the fishery shall be enjoyed equally and in common by the subjects of his most Christian Majesty and these states, to the exclusion of all other nations and people whatever; and half the island of Newfoundland shall be owned by and subject to the jurisdiction of his most Christian Majesty; provided, the province of Nova Scotia, island of Cape Breton, and the remaining part of Newfoundland, be annexed to the territory and government of the United States.

That should the proposals already made be insufficient to produce the proposed declaration of war, and the Commissioners are convinced that it cannot be otherwise accomplished, they assure his most Christian Majesty that such of the British West India islands, as in the course of the war shall be reduced by the united force of France and these states, shall be yielded in absolute property to his most Christian Majesty. And the United States engage on timely notice to furnish at their expense, and deliver at some convenient port or ports in the said United States, provisions for carrying on expeditions against the said islands, to the amount of two millions of dollars, and six frigates mounting not less than 24 guns each, manned and fitted for the sea, And to render any other assistance which may be in their power as becomes good allies.¹

¹This last sentence was substituted for the following reading in the original report:

"And the United States engage so soon as the british Arms shall be removed, from their Territories, to furnish and pay ten thousand Men to cooperate with the Arms of France in making a Conquest of said Islands, provided never the less, that his most Christian Majesty will be at the Expence of transporting them to the West Indies and back again."
That the Commissioners for the Court of France and Spain consult together, and prepare a treaty of commerce and alliance, as near as may be similar to the first proposed to the Court of France, not inconsistent therewith nor disagreeable to his most Christian Majesty, to be proposed to the Court of Spain; adding thereto, "that if his Catholic Majesty will join with the United States in a war against Great Britain, they will assist in reducing to the possession of Spain the town and harbour of Pensacola, provided the citizens and inhabitants of the United States shall have the free and uninterrupted navigation of the Mississippi and use of the harbour of Pensacola, and will, provided it shall be true, that his Portuguese Majesty has insultingly expelled the vessels of these states from his ports, or hath confiscated any such vessels,¹ declare war against the said king, if that measure shall be agreeable to and supported by the Courts of France and Spain."

That the Commissioners for the Court of Berlin consult with the Commissioners at the Court of France, and prepare such a treaty or treaties of friendship and Commerce, to be proposed to the King of Prussia, as shall not be disagreeable to their most Christian or Catholic Majesties.

That the Commissioners at the Court of France be informed of the designs of Congress to send Commissioners to the Courts of Vienna and the grand Duke of Tuscany, to cultivate the friendship of those princes, and to form such treaties of commerce as may be beneficial to those countries and the United States, and directed to acquaint the Ambassadors from their courts to that of France with this design; and in the meantime to solicit thro’ those Ambassadors the interference of the Emperor.

and the Duke of Tuscany, to prevent G. Britain from sending foreign troops to this Country, and to procure a recall of such foreign troops as are already here.¹

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 31, 1776

A letter, of the 27, from General Washington.

And one, of the 28th, from the committee of Congress, at Philadelphia, with sundry papers enclosed, were read.²

Resolved, That Doctor Mackenzie be, and he is hereby authorized, to purchase such medicines as are immediately wanted for the sick soldiers belonging to the army of the United States, now in Baltimore, and return an account thereof to Congress.

Resolved, That General Smallwood be directed to exert his utmost endeavours, and give the necessary orders and instructions to expedite the raising the levies in the state of Maryland; and that it be earnestly recommended to the legislature and council of safety, the several committees of observation, the civil, military and militia officers of the said state, and every friend of liberty, and the United States, to give General Smallwood every assistance in their power.

Resolved, That 300 dollars be advanced to Lieutenant Colonel Antill, of Colonel Hazen’s batallion, for the use ¹This last paragraph appears to have been added in committee. A copy, in the writing of Richard Henry Lee, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 25, I, folio 7.

²Washington’s letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 162, III, folio 401. It is printed in Writings of Washington (Ford), V, 401. That of the committee at Philadelphia, prepared by Robert Morris, is in No. 137 (appendix), folio 41. of the said battalion; and that the same be charged to the account of Colonel Hazen, who is to be accountable.

Resolved, That the requisition of General Schuyler for a supply of 60 tons of cannon powder, and 34 tons of musquet powder, for the use of the northern army, be referred to General Washington; and that he be directed to furnish that army with such quantities of that article as can be spared.

Resolved, That the Board of War be directed to inform General Washington of the quantities of gun powder, belonging to the Congress on hand in the different parts of America, as far as may have come to their knowledge.

A memorial from Lieutenant Colonel Antill was present ed to Congress, and read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

A letter from William Kennon, of North Carolina, to General Lee, was read:²

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of three:
The members chosen, Mr. [William] Hooper, Mr.
[Thomas] Heyward, and Mr. [Benjamin] Harrison.

Resolved, That any restrictions heretofore imposed upon the exportation of slaves or other lumber, except to Great Britain, Ireland, and the British Islands, or any place under the dominion of Great Britain, cease.

Resolved, That a letter be written to General Washington, desiring him to order the cloathier general, to send agents into each state, to buy up linens and other cloath-ing proper for the soldier y; and that he give similar orders to the quarter master general to pursue the same mode for procuring a sufficient quantity of tent cloth; and that they severally be directed to apply to the states to afford all necessary assistance therein. And whereas great expence hath heretofore arisen from public agents bidding against each other, the General is desired to caution the cloathier general and the quarter master general, that their agents aforesaid, fall not into the above mistake in times to come.

A memorial from John Matthewson, and others, was read; also a letter from Mr. Hughes:

Ordered, That they be referred to the Marine Committee.

An appeal being lodged against the judgment of the court of admiralty for the state of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, on the libel, Eseck Hopkins vs. Richard Derby:

Ordered, That it be received, that it may be prosecuted before the committee on appeals.

NOTES OF DEBATES IN THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS, BY JOHN ADAMS
NOTES OF DEBATES

IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE

Can't we oblige Britain to keep a navy on foot, the expense of which will be double to what they will take from us? I have heard of bullion Spanish flotas being stopped, lest they should be taken, but perishable commodities never were stopped. Open your ports to foreigners; your trade will become of so much consequence that foreigners will protect you.

Wilson. A gentleman from Massachusetts thinks that a middle way should be taken; that trade should be open for some articles, and to some places, but not for all things and to all places. I think the merchants ought to judge for themselves of the danger and risk. We should be blamed if we did not leave it to them. I differ from the gentleman of Massachusetts. Trade ought in war to be carried on with greater vigor. By what means did Britain carry on their triumphs last war? the United Provinces their war against Spain? If we determine that our ports shall not be opened, our vessels abroad will not return. Our seamen are all abroad; will not return unless we open our trade. I am afraid it will be necessary to invite foreigners to trade with us, although we lose a great advantage, that of trading in our own bottoms.

Sherman. I fear we shall maintain the armies of our enemies at our own expense with provisions. We can't carry on a beneficial trade, as our enemies will take our ships. A treaty with a foreign power is necessary, before we open our trade, to protect it.

Harrison. We have hobbled on under a fatal attachment to Great Britain. I felt it as much as any man, but I feel a stronger to my country.

Wythe. The ports will be open the 1st March. The question is whether we shall shut them up. Fasces Romuli non Republica Platonis. Americans will hardly live without trade. It is said our trade will be of advantage to us, because our vessels will be taken, our enemies will be supplied, the West Indies will be supplied at our expense. This is too true, unless we can provide a remedy. Our Virginia Convention have resolved, that our ports be opened to all nations that will trade with us, except Great Britain, Ireland, and West Indies. If the inclination of the people should become universal to trade, we must open our ports. Merchants will not export our produce, unless they get a profit.

We might get some of our produce to market, by authorizing adventurers to arm themselves, and giving letters of marque, make reprisals. 2d. By inviting foreign powers to make treaties of commerce with us.

But other things are to be considered, before such a measure is adopted; in what character shall we treat—as subjects of Great Britain,—as rebels? Why should we be so fond of calling ourselves dutiful subjects? If we should offer our trade to the Court of France, would they take notice of it any more than if Bristol or Liverpool should offer theirs, while we profess to be subjects? No. We must declare ourselves a free people. If we were to tell them, that after a season, we would return to our subjection to Great Britain, would not a foreign Court wish to have something permanent? We should encourage our fleet. I am convinced that our fleet may become as formidable as we wish to make it. Moves a resolution.

Resolved, That the Committee of Secret Correspondence be directed to lay their letters before this Congress.

Resolved, That be a committee to prepare a draught of firm confederation, to be reported as soon as may be to this Congress, to be considered and digested and recommended to the several Assemblies and Conventions of these United Colonies, to be by them adopted, ratified, and confirmed.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies, Conventions, Councils of Safety, and Committees of Correspondence and Inspection, that they use their utmost endeavors, by all reasonable means, to promote the culture of flax, hemp, and cotton, and the growth of wool, in these United Colonies.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the Assemblies, Conventions and Councils of Safety, that they take the earliest measures for erecting, in each and every Colony, a society for the encouragement of agriculture, arts, manufactures, and commerce; and that a correspondence be maintained between such societies, that the numerous natural advantages of this country, for supporting its inhabitants, may not be neglected.

Resolved, That it be recommended to the said Assemblies, Conventions, and Councils of Safety, that they consider of ways and means of introducing the manufactures of duck and sail-cloth into such Colonies where they are not now understood, and of increasing and promoting them where they are.

Resolved, That a committee to receive all plans and proposals for encouraging and improving the agriculture, arts, manufactures, and commerce, both foreign and domestic, of America, to correspond with the several Assemblies, Conventions, Councils, and Committees of Safety, Committees of Correspondence and of Observation, in these United Colonies, upon these interesting subjects.

How is the interest of France and Spain affected, by the dispute between Britain and the Colonies? Is it the interest of France to stand neuter, to join with Britain, or to join with the Colonies? Is it not her interest to dismember the British empire? Will her dominions be safe, if Britain and America remain connected? Can she preserve her possessions in the West Indies? She has, in the West Indies, Martinico, Guadaloupe, and one half of Hispaniola. In case a reconciliation should take place between Britain and America, and a war should break out between Britain and France, would not all her islands be taken from her in six months? The Colonies are now much more warlike and powerful than they were during the last war. A martial spirit has seized all the Colonies. They are much improved in skill and discipline; they have now a large standing army; they have many good officers; they abound in provisions; they are in the neighborhood of the West Indies. A British fleet and army, united with an American fleet and army, and supplied with provisions and other necessaries from America, might conquer all the French Islands in the West Indies in six months, and a little more time than that would be required to destroy all their marine and commerce.

Monday. Resentment is a passion implanted by nature for the preservation of the individual. Injury is the object which excites it. Injustice, wrong, injury, excite the feeling of resentment as naturally and necessarily as frost and ice excite the feeling of cold, as fire excites heat, and as both excite pain. A man may have the faculty of concealing his resentment, or suppressing it, but he must and ought to feel it; nay, he ought to indulge it, to cultivate it; it is a duty. His person, his property, his liberty, his reputation, are not safe without it. He ought, for his own security and honor, and for the public good, to punish those who injure him, unless they repent, and then he should forgive, having satisfaction and compensation. Revenge is unlawful. It is the same with communities; they ought to resent and to punish.

Is any assistance attainable from France?
What connection may we safely form with her?
1. No political connection. Submit to none of her authority; receive no governors or officers from her.
2. No military connection. Receive no troops from her.
3. Only a commercial connection; that is, make a treaty to receive her ships into our ports; let her engage to receive our ships into her ports; furnish us with arms, cannon, saltpeter, powder, duck, steel.

Whereas the present state of America, and the cruel efforts of our enemies, render the most perfect and cordial union of the Colonies, and the utmost exertions of their strength, necessary for the preservation and establishment of their liberties, therefore,

Resolved, That it be recommended to the several Assemblies and Conventions of these United Colonies, who have limited the powers of their delegates in this Congress, by any express instructions, that they repeal or suspend those instructions for a certain time, that this Congress may have power, without any unnecessary obstruction or embarrassment, to concert, direct, and order such further measures as may seem to them necessary for the defence and preservation, support and establishment of right and liberty in these Colonies.

Mr. Duane moves that the delegation from New York might be read. When we were invited by Massachusetts Bay to the first Congress, an objection was made to binding ourselves by votes of Congress.
Notes of Debates

Congress ought not to determine a point of this sort about instituting government. What is it to Congress how justice is administered? You have no right to pass the resolution, any more than Parliament has. How does it appear that no favorable answer is likely to be given to our petitions? Every account of foreign aid is accompanied with an account of commissioners. Why all this haste! why this urging! why this driving? Disputes about independence are in all the Colonies. What is this owing to but our indiscretion? I shall take the liberty of informing my constituents that I have not been guilty of a breach of trust. I do protest against this piece of mechanism, this preamble. If the facts in this preamble should prove to be true, there will not be one voice against independence. I suppose the votes have been numbered, and there is to be a majority.

McKean construes the instructions from New York as Mr. Sherman does, and thinks this measure the best to procure harmony with Great Britain. There are now two governments in direct opposition to each other. Don't doubt that foreign mercenaries are coming to destroy us. I do think we shall lose our liberties, properties, and lives too, if we do not take this step.

S. Adams. We have been favored with a reading of the instructions from New York; I am glad of it. The first object of that Colony is no doubt the establishment of their rights. Our petitions have not been heard, yet answered with fleets and armies, and are to be answered with myrmidons from abroad. The gentleman from New York, Mr. Duane, has not objected to the preamble, but this, that he has not a right to vote for it. We cannot go upon stronger reasons than that the King has thrown us out of his protection. Why should we support governments under his authority? I wonder that people have conducted so well as they have.

Mr. Wilson. Was not present in Congress when the resolution passed, to which this preamble is proposed. I was present, and one of the committee who reported the advice to Massachusetts Bay. New Hampshire, Carolina, and Virginia, had the same advice, and with my hearty concurrence.

The claim of Parliament will meet with resistance to the last extremity. Those Colonies were royal governments; they could not subsist without some government. A maxim, that all government originates from the people. We are the servants of the people, sent here to act under a delegated authority. If we exceed it, voluntarily, we deserve neither excuse nor justification. Some have been put under restraints by their constituents; they cannot vote without transgressing this line. Suppose they should hereafter be called to an account for it. This Province has not, by any public act, authorized us to vote upon this question; this Province has done much and asked little from this Congress; the Assembly, largely increased, will (not) meet till next Monday. Will the cause suffer much, if this preamble is not published at this time? if the resolve is published without the preamble? The preamble contains a reflection upon the conduct of some people in America. It was equally irreconcilable to good conscience, nine months ago, to take the oaths of allegiance, as it is now. Two respectable members, last February, took the oath of allegiance in our Assembly. Why should we expose any gentlemen to such an invidious reflection? In Magna Charta there is a clause which authorizes the people to seize the King's castles and oppose his arms when he exceeds his duty.

In this Province, if that preamble passes, there will be an immediate dissolution of every kind of authority; the people will be instantly in a state of nature. Why then precipitate this measure? Before we are prepared to build the new house, why should we pull down the old one, and expose ourselves to all the inclemencies of the season?

R. H. Lee. Most of the arguments apply to the resolve, not to the preamble.¹

Confederation

IN COMMITTEE OF THE WHOLE.

Article 14 of the confederation. Terms in this Article equivocal and indefinite.

Jefferson. The limits of the Southern Colonies are fixed. Moves an amendment, that all purchases of lands, not within the boundaries of any Colony, shall be made by Congress of the Indians in a great Council.

Sherman seconds the motion.

Chase. The intention of this Article is very obvious and plain. The Article appears to me to be right, and the amendment wrong. It is the intention of some gentlemen to limit the boundaries of particular States. No Colony has a right to go to the South Sea; they never had; they can't have. It would not be safe to the rest. It would be destructive to her sisters and to herself.

¹ For some notes of debates and proceedings on the Declaration of Independance and Articles of Confederation, see p. , post.
Notes of Debates

Article 15. Jefferson. What are reasonable limits? What security have we, that the Congress will not curtail the present settlements of the States? I have no doubt that the Colonies will limit themselves.

Wilson. Every gentleman has heard much of claims to the South Sea. They are extravagant. The grants were made upon mistakes. They were ignorant of the Geography. They thought the South Sea within one hundred miles of the Atlantic Ocean. It was not conceived that they extended three thousand miles. Lord Camden considers the claims to the South Sea, as what never can be reduced to practice. Pennsylvania has no right to interfere in those claims, but she has a right to say, that she will not confederate unless those claims are cut off. I wish the Colonies themselves would cut off those claims.

Article 16. Chase moves for the word deputies, instead of delegates, because the members of the Maryland Convention are called delegates, and he would have a distinction. Answer. In other Colonies the reverse is true. The members of the House are called deputies.

Jefferson. Objects to the first of November. Dr. Hall moves for May, for the time to meet. Jefferson thinks that Congress will have a short meeting in the Fall, and another in the Spring. Heyward. Thinks the Spring the best time. Wilson. Thinks the Fall, and November better than October; because September is a busy month everywhere. Dr. Hall. September and October the most sickly and mortal months in the year. The season is more forward in Georgia in April, than here in May.

Hopkinson moves that the power of recalling delegates be reserved to the State, not to the Assembly, because that may be changed.

Article 17. "Each Colony shall have one vote." 1

Butledge and Lynch oppose giving the power of regulating the trade and managing all affairs of the Indians to Congress. The trade is profitable, they say. Gwinnett is in favor of Congress having such power. Braxton is for excepting such Indians as are tributary to any State. Several nations are tributary to Virginia. Jefferson explains 1I believe that this line crept into the Adams's notes out of its proper position. Jefferson (p. 1102, post) shows that this article was debated on July 30 and 31, and August 1; and Adams (p. 1079, post) returns to the subject on July 30.

it to mean the Indians who live in the Colony. These are subject to

Wilson. We have no right over the Indians, whether within or without the real or pretended limits of any Colony. They will not allow themselves to be classed according to the bounds of Colonies. Grants made three thousand miles to the eastward, have no validity with the Indians. The trade of Pennsylvania has been more considerable with the Indians than that of the neighboring Colonies.

Walton. The Indian trade is of no essential service to any Colony.
It must be a monopoly. If it is free, it produces jealousies and animosities and wars. Carolina, very passionately, considers this trade as contributing to her grandeur and dignity. Deerskins are a great part of the trade. A great difference between South Carolina and Georgia. Carolina is in no danger from the Indians at present.
Georgia is a frontier and barrier to Carolina. Georgia must be overrun and extirpated before Carolina can be hurt. Georgia is not equal to the expense of giving the donations to the Indians, which will be necessary to keep them at peace. The emoluments of the trade are not a compensation for the expense of donations.

Rutledge differs from Walton in a variety of points. We must look forward with extensive views. Carolina has been run to an amazing expense to defend themselves against Indians; in 1760, &c., fifty thousand guineas were spent. We have now as many men on the frontiers, as in Charleston. We have forts in the Indian countries.
We are connected with them by treaties.

Lynch. Congress may regulate the trade, if they will indemnify Carolina against the expense of keeping peace with the Indians, or defending us against them.

Witherspoon. Here are two adjacent provinces, situated alike with respect to the Indians, differing totally in their sentiments of their interests.

Chase. South Carolina claims to the South Sea; so does North, Virginia and Massachusetts Bay. South Carolina says they have a right to regulate the trade with the Indians; if so, four Colonies have all the power of regulating trade with the Indians. South Carolina could not stand alone against the Indian nations.

Sherman moves that Congress may have a superintending power, to prevent injustice to the Indians or Colonies.

Wilson. No lasting peace will be [made] with the Indians, unless made by some one body. No such language as this ought to be held to the Indians. "We are stronger, we are better, we treat you better than another Colony." No power ought to treat with the Indians, but the United States. Indians know the striking benefits of confederation; they have an example of it in the union of the Six Nations. The idea of the union of the Colonies struck them forcibly last year. None should trade with Indians without a license from Congress. A perpetual war would be unavoidable, if everybody was allowed to trade with them.

Stone. This expedient is worse than either of the alternatives. What is the meaning of this superintendency? Colonies will claim the right first. Congress can't interpose until the evil has happened. Disputes will arise when Congress shall interpose.

Article 17. "In determining questions, each Colony shall have one vote."

Dr. Franklin.¹ Let the smaller Colonies give equal money and men, and then have an equal vote. But if they have an equal vote without bearing equal burthens, a confederation upon such iniquitous principles will never last long.

Dr. Witherspoon.² We all agree that there must and shall be a confederation, for this war. It will diminish the glory of our object, and depreciate our hope; it will damp the ardor of the people. The greatest danger we have, is of disunion among ourselves. Is it not plausible that the small States will be oppressed by the great ones? The Spartans and Helotes. The Romans and their dependents. Every Colony is a distinct person. States of Holland.

Clark. We must apply for pardons if we don't confederate.

Wilson. We should settle upon some plan of representation.

Chase.³ Moves that the word "white," should be inserted in the eleventh Article. The negroes are wealth. Numbers are not a certain rule of wealth. It is the best rule we can lay down. Negroes a species of property, personal estate. If negroes are taken into the computation of numbers to ascertain wealth, they ought to be, in settling the representation. The Massachusetts fisheries, and navigation, ought to be taken into consideration. The young and old negroes are a burthen to their owners. The eastern Colonies have a great advantage in trade. This will give them a superiority. We shall be governed by our interests, and ought to be. If I am satisfied in the rule of levying and appropriating money, I am willing the small Colonies should have a vote.¹

Wilson. If the war continues two years, each soul will have forty dollars to pay of the public debt. It will be the greatest encouragement to continue slavekeeping, and to increase it, that can be, to exempt them from the numbers which are to vote and pay. Slaves are taxables in the Southern Colonies. It will be partial and unequal. Some Colonies have as many black as white; these will not pay more than half what they ought. Slaves prevent freemen from cultivating a country. It is attended with many inconveniences. ²

Lynch. If it is debated, whether their slaves are their property, there is an end of the confederation. Our slaves being our property, why should they be taxed more than the land, sheep, cattle, horses, &c.? Freemen cannot be got to work in our Colonies; it is not in the ability or inclination of freemen to do the work that the negroes do. Carolina has taxed their negroes; so have other Colonies their lands.

Dr. Franklin. Slaves rather weaken than strengthen the State, and there is therefore some difference between them and sheep; sheep will never make any insurrections.

Rutledge. I shall be happy to get rid of the idea of slavery. The slaves do not signify property; the old and young cannot work. The property of some Colonies is to be taxed, in others, not. The Eastern Colonies will become the carriers for the Southern; they will obtain wealth for which they will not be taxed.

AUGUST 1, 1776

Hooper. North Carolina is a striking exception to the general rule that was laid down yesterday, that the riches of a country are in proportion to the numbers of inhabitants. A gentleman of three or four hundred negroes don’t raise more corn than feeds them. A laborer can’t be hired for less than twenty-four pounds a year in Massachusetts Bay. The net profit of a negro is not more than five or six pounds per annum. I wish to see the day that slaves are not necessary.

²Jefferson’s notes of Wilson's remarks are more full, and he adds some remarks by Robert Treat Paine and John Witherspoon. See p. 1101, post.
Notes of Debates

Whites and negroes cannot work together. Negroes are goods and chattels, are property. A negro works under the impulse of fear, has no care of his master's interest.¹

The Consideration of the Seventeenth Article, resumed

Article 17. Dr. Franklin moves that votes should be in proportion to numbers. Mr. Middleton moves that the vote should be according to what they pay.

Sherman thinks we ought not to vote according to numbers. We are representatives of States, not individuals. States of Holland. The consent of everyone is necessary. Three Colonies would govern the whole, but would not have a majority of strength to carry those votes into execution. The vote should be taken two ways; call the Colonies, and call the individuals, and have a majority of both.

Dr. Rush.¹⁰ Abbé Raynal has attributed the ruin of the United Provinces to three causes. The principal one is, that the consent of every State is necessary; the other, that the members are obliged to consult their constituents upon all occasions. We lose an equal representation; we represent the people. It will tend to keep up colonial distinctions. We are now a new nation. Our trade, language, customs, manners, don't differ more than they do in Great Britain. The more a man aims at serving America, the more he serves his Colony. It will promote factions in Congress and in the States; it will prevent the growth of freedom in America; we shall be loth to admit new Colonies into the confederation. If we vote by numbers, liberty will be always safe. Massachusetts is contiguous to two small Colonies, Rhode Island and New Hampshire; Pennsylvania is near New Jersey and Delaware; Virginia is between Maryland and North Carolina. We have been too free with the word independence; we are dependent on each other, not totally independent States. Montesquieu pronounces the confederation of Lycia, the best that ever was made; the cities had different weights in the scale. China is not larger than one of our Colonies; how populous! It is said that the small Colonies deposit their all; this is deceiving us with a word. I would not have it understood that I am pleading the cause of Pennsylvania; when I entered that door, I considered myself a citizen of America.

*a Jefferson made more full notes of Rush's remarks, p. 1104, post.
Dr. Witherspoon. Representation in England is unequal. Must I have three votes in a county, because I have three times as much money as my neighbor? Congress are to determine the limits of Colonies.

S. Hopkins. A momentous question; many difficulties on each side; four larger, five lesser, four stand indifferent. Virginia, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland, make more than half the people.

Connecticut, New York, two Carolinas, not concerned at all. The disinterested coolness of these Colonies ought to determine. I can easily feel the reasoning of the larger Colonies; pleasing theories always gave way to the prejudices, passions, and interests of mankind. The Germanic Confederation. The King of Prussia has an equal vote. The Helvetic confederacy. It can’t be expected that nine Colonies will give way to be governed by four. The safety of the whole depends upon the distinctions of Colonies.

Dr. Franklin. I hear many ingenious arguments to persuade us that an unequal representation is a very good thing. If we had been born and bred under an unequal representation, we might bear it; but to set out with an unequal representation, is unreasonable. It is said the great Colonies will swallow up the less. Scotland said the same thing at the union.

Dr. Witherspoon rises to explain a few circumstances relating to Scotland; that was an incorporating union, not a federal; the nobility and gentry resort to England.

In determining all questions, each State shall have a weight, in proportion to what it contributes to the public expenses of the United States.¹

"Limiting the bounds of States, which by charter, &c. extend to the South Sea."

Sherman thinks the bounds ought to be settled. A majority of States have no claim to the South Sea. Moves this amendment to be substituted in place of this clause, and also instead of the fifteenth article;—"No lands to be separated from any State, which are already settled, or become private property."

Chase denies that any Colony has a right to go to the South Sea.

Harrison. How came Maryland by its land, but by its charter? By its charter, Virginia owns to the South Sea. Gentlemen shall not pare ¹Jefferson gives notes of remarks by Wilson, p. 1105, post.

away the Colony of Virginia. Rhode Island has more generosity than to wish the Massachusetts pared away. Delaware does not wish to pare away Pennsylvania.

Huntington. Admit there is danger from Virginia, does it follow that Congress has a right to limit her bounds? The consequence is, not to enter into confederation. But as to the question of right, we all unite against mutilating charters. I can’t agree to the principle.
We are a spectacle to all Europe. I am not so much alarmed at the danger from Virginia as some are; my fears are not alarmed; they have acted as noble a part as any. I doubt not the wisdom of Virginia will limit themselves. A man’s right does not cease to be a right, because it is large; the question of right must be determined by the principles of the common law.

Stone. This argument is taken up upon very wrong ground. It is considered as if we were voting away the territory of particular Colonies, and gentlemen work themselves up into warmth upon that supposition. Suppose Virginia should. The small Colonies have a right to happiness and security; they would have no safety if the great Colonies were not limited. We shall grant lands, in small quantities, without rent or tribute or purchase-money. It is said that Virginia is attacked on every side. Is it meant that Virginia shall sell the lands for their own emolument? All the Colonies have defended these lands against the King of Britain, and at the expense of all. Does Virginia intend to establish quit rents? I don’t mean that the United States shall sell them, to get money by them.

Jefferson. I protest against the right of Congress to decide upon the right of Virginia. Virginia has released all claims to the land settled by Maryland, &c.
NOTES OF DEBATES IN THE CONTINENTAL CONGRESS, BY THOMAS JEFFERSON
NOTES OF DEBATES

Furnished to J[ames] M[adison] by M[r] Jefferson in his hand writing; as a copy from his original notes

IN CONGRESS, Friday, June 7, 1776.

The delegates from Virginia moved in obedience to instructions from their constituents that the Congress should declare that these United colonies are and of right ought to be free and independent states, that they are absolved from all obedience to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved: that measures should be immediately taken for procuring the assistance of foreign powers, and a Confederation be formed to bind the colonies more closely together.

The house being obliged to attend at that time to some other business, the proposition was referred to the next day when the members were ordered to attend punctually at ten o'clock.

Saturday June 8th they proceeded to take it into Consideration, and referred it to a Committee of the whole, into which they immediately resolved themselves, and passed that day and Monday the 10th in debating on the subject.

It was argued by [James] Wilson, Robert R. Livingston, E. Rutledge, [John] Dickinson and others

That tho they were friends to the measures themselves, and saw the impossibility that we should ever again be united with Great Britain, yet they were against adopting them at this time:

That the conduct we had formerly observed was wise and proper now, of deferring to take any capital step till the voice of the people drove us into it:

² The original notes use the word "allegiance."
That they were our power and without them our declarations could not be carried into effect:

That the people of the middle colonies (Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania, the Jersies and N. York) were not yet ripe for bidding adieu to British connection; but that they were fast ripening, and in a short time would join in the general voice of America:

That the resolution entered into by this house on the 15th of May, for suppressing the exercise of all powers derived from the crown, had shewn, by the ferment into which it had thrown these middle colonies that they had not yet accommodated their minds to a separation from the mother country.

That some of them had expressly forbidden their delegates to consent to such a declaration, and others had given no instructions, and consequently no powers to give such consent:

That if the delegates of any particular colony had no power to declare such colony independant, certain they were the others could not declare it for them; the colonies being as yet perfectly independant of each other:

That the assembly of Pennsylvania was now sitting above stairs, their convention would sit within a few days, the convention of New York was now sitting, and those of the Jersies and Delaware counties would meet on the Monday following, and it was probable these bodies would take up the question of Independance, and would declare to their delegates the voice of their state:

That if such a declaration should now be agreed to, these delegates must retire and possibly their colonies might secede from the Union:

That such a secession would weaken us more than could be compensated by any foreign alliance:

That in the event of such a division foreign powers would either refuse to join themselves to our fortunes, or having us so much in their power as that desperate declaration would place us they would insist on terms proportionably more hard and prejudicial:

That we had little reason to expect an alliance with those to whom alone as yet we had cast our eyes:

That France and Spain had reason to be jealous of that rising power which would one day certainly strip them of all their American possessions:

That it was more likely they should form a connection with the British court, who, if they should find themselves unable otherwise to extricate themselves from their difficulties, would agree to a partition of our territories, restoring Canada to France, and the Floridas to Spain, to accomplish for themselves a recovery of these colonies:

That it would not be long before we should receive certain information of the disposition of the French court, from the agent whom we had sent to Paris for that purpose.

That if this disposition should be favourable, by waiting the event of the present campaign, which we all hoped would be successful, we should have reason to expect an alliance on better terms:

That this would in fact work no delay of any effectual aid from such ally, as, from the advance of the season, and distance of our situation, it was impossible we could receive any assistance during this campaign:

That it was prudent to fix among ourselves the terms on which we would form alliance, before we declared we would form one at all events:

And that if these were agreed on and our Declaration of Independ-ance ready by the time our Ambassador should be ready¹ to sail, it would be as well as to go into that Declaration at this day.

On the other side it was urged by J. Adams, Lee, Wythe and others

That no gentleman had argued against the policy or the right of separation from Britain, nor had supposed it possible we should ever renew our connection; that they had only opposed it’s being now declared:

That the question was not whether, by a declaration of Independ-ance, we should make ourselves what we are not; but whether we should declare a fact which already exists:

That as to the people or parliament of England, we had alwais been independant of them, their restraints on our trade deriving efficacy from our acquiescence only, and not from any rights they possessed of imposing them, and that so far our connection had been federal only, and was now dissolved by the commencement of hostilities:

That as to the king, we had been bound to him by allegiance, but that this bond was now dissolved by his assent to the late act of parliament, by which he declares us out of his protection, and by his levy-ing war on us, a fact which had long ago proved us out of his protection; it being a certain position in law that allegiance and protection are reciprocal, the one ceasing when the other is withdrawn:

¹The original notes use the word “prepared.”
No delegates then can be denied, or ever want a power of declaring an existent truth:

That the delegates from the Delaware counties having declared their constituents ready to join, there are only two colonies Pennsylvania and Maryland, whose delegates are absolutely tied up, and that these had by their instructions only reserved a right of confirming or rejecting the measure:

That the instructions from Pennsylvania might be accounted for from the times in which they were drawn, near a twelvemonth ago, since which the face of affairs has totally changed:

That within that time it had become apparent that Britain was determined to accept nothing less than a carte blanche, and that the king’s answer to the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and common council of London, which had come to hand four days ago, must have satisfied every one of this point:

That the people wait for us to lead the way:

That they are in favor of the measure, tho’ the instructions given by some of their representatives are not:

That the voice of the representatives is not alwais consonant with the voice of the people, and that this is remarkably the case in these middle colonies:

That the effect of the resolution of the 15th of May has proved this, which, raising the murmurs of some in the colonies of Pennsylvania and Maryland, called forth the opposing voice of the freer part of the people, and proved them to be the majority, even in these colonies:

That the backwardness of these two colonies might be ascribed partly to the influence of proprietary power and connections, and partly to their having not yet been attacked by the enemy:

That these causes were not likely to be soon removed, as there seemed no probability that the enemy would make either of these the seat of this summer’s war:

That it would be vain to wait either weeks or months for perfect unanimity, since it was impossible that all men should ever become of one sentiment on any question:

That the conduct of some colonies, from the beginning of this contest, had given reason to suspect it was their settled policy to keep in the rear of the confederacy, that their particular prospect might be better, even in the worst event:

That therefore it was necessary for those colonies who had thrown

themselves forward and hazarded all from the beginning, to come forward now also, and put all again to their own hazard:

That the history of the Dutch revolution, of whom three states only confederated at first proved that a secession of some colonies would not be so dangerous as some apprehended:

That a declaration of Independance alone could render it consistent with European delicacy for European powers to treat with us, or even to receive an Ambassador from us:

That till this they would not receive our vessels into their ports, nor acknowledge the adjudications of our courts of Admiralty to be legitimate, in cases of capture of British vessels:

That tho' France and Spain may be jealous of our rising power, they must think it will be much more formidable with the addition of Great Britain; and will therefore see it their interest to prevent a coalition; but should they refuse, we shall be but where we are; whereas without trying we shall never know whether they will aid us or not:

That the present campaign may be unsuccessful, and therefore we had better propose an alliance while our affairs wear a hopeful aspect:

That to wait the event of this campaign will certainly work delay, because during this summer France may assist us effectually by cutting off those supplies of provisions from England and Ireland on which the enemy's armies here are to depend; or by setting in motion the great power they have collected in the West Indies, and calling our enemy to the defence of the possessions they have there:

That it would be idle to lose time in settling the terms of alliance, till we had first determined we would enter into alliance:

That it is necessary to lose no time in opening a trade for our people, who will want clothes, and will want money too for the payment of taxes:

And that the only misfortune is that we did not enter into alliance with France six months sooner, as, besides opening their ports for the vent of our last year's produce, they might have marched an army into Germany and prevented the petty princes there from selling their unhappy subjects to subdue us.

It appearing in the course of these debates that the colonies of N. York, N. Jersey Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland⁵ were not yet matured for falling from the parent stem, but that they were fast advancing to that state, it was thought most prudent to wait a while for them, and to postpone the final decision to July 1. but that this might occasion as little delay as possible, a committee was appointed to prepare a declaration of independence. the commee were J. Adams, D' Franklin, Roger Sherman, Robert R. Livingston and myself. committees were also appointed at the same time to prepare a plan of confederation for the colonies, and to state the terms proper to be proposed for foreign alliance. the committee for drawing the declaration of independance desired me to do it. it was accordingly done, and being approved by them, I reported it to the house on Friday the 28th of June when it was read and ordered to lie on the table. On Monday the 1st of July the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole and resumed the consideration of the original motion made by the delegates of Virginia, which being again debated through the day, was carried in the affirmative by the votes of N. Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode island, N. Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, N. Carolina, and Georgia. S. Carolina and Pennsylvania voted against it. Delaware having but two members present they were divided: the delegates for N. York declared they were for it themselves, and were assured their constituents were for it, but that their instructions, having been drawn near a twelvemonth before, when reconciliation was still the general object, they were enjoined by them to do nothing which should impede that object. they therefore thought themselves not justifiable in voting on either side, and asked leave to withdraw from the question, which was given them. the commee rose and reported their resolution to the house. Mr Rutlege of S. Carolina then requested the determination might be put off to the next day, as he believed his collegues, tho they disapproved of the resolution, would then join in it for the sake of unanimity. the ultimate question whether the house would agree to the resolution of the commee, was accordingly postponed to the next day, when it was again moved and S. Carolina concurred in voting for it. in the mean time a third member had come post from the Delaware counties and turned the vote of that colony in favour of the resolution. members of a different sentiment attending that morning from Pennsylvania also, their vote was changed, so that the whole 12 colonies, who were authorized to vote at all, gave their voices for it; and within a few days the convention of N. York approved of it, and thus supplied the void occasioned by the withdrawing of their delegates from the vote.

Congress proceeded the same day to consider the declaration of Independence, which had been reported and laid on the table the Friday preceeding, and on Monday referred to a comittee of the whole. the pusillanimous idea that we had friends in England worth keeping terms with still haunted the minds of many. for this reason those passages which conveyed censures on the people of England were struck out lest they should give them offence. the clause too reprobing the enslaving the inhabitants of Africa was struck out in complaisance to S. Carolina and Georgia, who had never attempted to restrain the importation of slaves, and who on the contrary still wished to continue it. our Northern brethren also, I believe, felt a little tender under those censures; for tho' their people have very few slaves themselves, yet they had been pretty considerable carriers of them to others. the debates having taken up the greater parts of the 2d, 3d and 4th days of July, were, in the evening of the last, closed; the declaration was reported by the comittee, agreed to by the house; and signed by every member¹ except mr Dickinson. as the sentiments of men are known not only by what they receive, but what they reject also, I will state the form of the declaration as originally reported. the parts struck out by Congress shall be distinguished by a black line drawn under them;² and those inserted by them shall be placed in the margin³ or in a concurrent column.

A Declaration by the representatives of the United States of America in [General] Congress assembled

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station, to which the laws of nature and of nature's god entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self evident. that all men are created equal; that they are endowed by their creator with certain inherent and inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness: that to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed; that whenever any form of government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying it's foundation on such principles, and organising it's powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness. prudence indeed will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. but when a long train of abuses and usurpations begun at a distinguished period and pursuing invariably the same object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies, and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter expunge their former systems of government. the history of the present king of Great Britain is a history of repeated unremitting injuries and usurpations among which appears no solitary fact to contradict the uniform tenor of the rest, but all have all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute tyranny over these states. to prove this let facts be submitted to a candid world, for the truth of which we pledge a faith yet unsullied by falsehood.

he has refused his assent to laws the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.

he has forbidden his governors to pass laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation till his assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

he has refused to pass other laws for the accomodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of representation in the legislature, a right inestimable to them, and formidable to tyrants only.

he has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their public records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.

he has dissolved representative houses repeatedly and continually for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.
he has refused for a long time after such dissolutions to cause others to be elected, whereby the legislative powers, incapable of annihilation, have returned to the people at large for their exercise, the state remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasions from without and convulsions within.

he has endeavored to prevent the population of these states; for that purpose obstructing the laws for naturalization of foreigners, refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new appropriations of lands.

he has obstructed suffered the administration of justice totally to cease in some of these states by refusing his assent to laws for establishing judiciary powers.

he has made our judges dependant on his will alone for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.

he has erected a multitude of new offices by a self assumed power and sent hither swarms of new officers to harrass our people and eat out their substance he has kept among us in times of peace standing armies and ships of war without the consent of our legislatures.

he has affected to render the military independant of and superior to the civil power.

he has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitutions and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his assent to their acts of pretended legislation for quartering large bodies of armed troops among us; for protecting them by a mock-trial from punishment for any murders which they should commit on the inhabitants of these states; for cutting off our trade with all parts of the world; for imposing taxes on us without our consent; for depriving us in many cases of the benefits of trial by jury; for transporting us beyond seas to be tried for pretended offences; for abolishing the free system of English laws in a neighboring province, establishing therein an arbitrary government, and enlarging it's boundaries, so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these colonies states; for taking away our charters, abolishing our most valuable laws, and altering fundamentally the forms of our governments; for suspending our own legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.
he has abdicated government here by declaring us out of his protection and waging war against us, withdrawing his governors and declaring us out of his allegiance and protection.

he has plundered our seas, ravaged our coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.

he is at this time transporting large armies of foreign mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny already begun with circumstances of cruelty and perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the head of a civilized nation.

he has constrained our fellow citizens taken captive on the high seas to bear arms against their country, to become the executioners of their friends and brethren, or to fall themselves by their hands.

he has excited domestic insurrections among us, and has endeavored to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian savages, whose known rule of warfare is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions of existence.

he has incited treasonable insurrections of our fellow-citizens with the allurements of forfeiture and confiscation of our property.

he has waged cruel war against human nature itself, violating it’s most sacred rights of life and liberty in the persons of a distant people who never offended him, captivating and carrying them into slavery in another hemisphere, or to incur miserable death in their transportation thither. this piratical warfare, the opprobrium of infidel powers, is the warfare of the Christian king of Great Britain. determined to keep open a market where Men should be bought and sold, he has prostituted his negative for suppressing every legislative attempt to prohibit or to restrain this execrable commerce. and that this assemblage of horrors might want no fact of distinguished die, he is now exciting those very people to rise in arms among us, and to purchase that liberty of which he has deprived them, by murdering the people on whom he also obtruded them: thus paying off former crimes committed against the liberties of one people, with crimes which he urges them to commit against the lives of another.

In every stage of these oppressions we have petitioned for redress in the most humble terms: our repeated petitions have been answered only by repeated injuries. a prince whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people who mean to be free. Future ages will scarcely believe that the hardness of one man adventured, within the short compass of twelve years only, to lay a foundation so broad and so undisguised for tyranny over a people fostered and fixed in principles of freedom.

Nor have we been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable a jurisdiction over us. These our states. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here no one of which could warrant so strange a pretension. That these were effected at the expense of our own blood and treasure, unassisted by the wealth or the strength of Great Britain: that in constituting indeed our several forms of government, we had adopted one common king, thereby laying a foundation for perpetual league and amity with them: but that submission to their parliament was no part of our constitution, nor ever in idea, if history may be credited: and we have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity and we have conjured them by as well as to the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations which would inevitably were likely to interrupt our connection and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity, and when occasions have been given them, by the regular course of their laws, of removing from their councils the disturbers of our harmony they have, by their free election, re-established them in power. At this very time too they are permitting their chief magistrate to send over not only soldiers of our common blood, but Scotch and foreign mercenaries to invade and destroy us. These facts have given the last stab to agonizing affection, and manly spirit bids us to renounce for ever these unfeeling brethren. We must endeavor to forget our former love for them, and to hold them as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends. We might have been a free and a great people together; but a communication of grandeur and of freedom it seems is below their dignity. Be it so, since they will have it. The road to happiness and to glory is open to us too. We will tread it apart from them, and we must therefore acquiesce in the necessity which denounces our eternal separation! and hold them as we hold the rest of mankind, enemies in war, in peace friends.
We therefore the representatives of the United states of America in General Congress assembled do in the name and by authority of the good people of these states reject and renounce all allegiance and subjection to the kings of Great Britain and all others who may hereafter claim by, through, or under them: we utterly dissolve all political connection which may heretofore have subsisted between us, and the people or parliament of Great Britain: and finally we do assert and declare these colonies to be free and independant states appealing to the supreme judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the name and by the authority of the good people of these colonies solemnly publish and declare that these United colonies are and of right ought to be free and independant states; that they are absolved from all allegiance to the British crown, and that all political connection between them and the state of Great Britain is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as free and independant states they have full power to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliances, establish commerce, and to do all other acts and things which independant states may of right do. and for the support of this declaration with a firm reliance on the protection of divine providence we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor.

On Friday July 12. the committee appointed to draw the articles of Confederation reported them, and on the 22d the house resolved themselves into a committee to take them into consideration. on the 30th and 31st of that month and 1st of the ensuing, those articles were debated which determined the proportion or quota of money which each state should furnish to the common treasury and the manner of voting in Congress. the first of these articles was expressed in the original draught in these words. 'Art. XI. all charges of war and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defence, or general welfare, and allowed by the United states assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several colonies in proportion to the number of inhabitants of every age, sex and quality, except Indians not paying taxes in each colony,

Notes of Debates

triennially taken and transmitted to the assembly of the United states.'

Mr Chase moved that the quotas should be fixed, not by the number of inhabitants of every condition, but by that of the 'white inhabitants.' he admitted that taxation should be always in proportion to property; that this was in theory the true rule, but that from a variety of difficulties it was a rule which could never be adopted in practice.
the value of the property in every state could never be estimated justly and equally. some other measure for the wealth of the state must therefore be devised, some standard referred to which would be more simple. he considered the number of inhabitants as a tolerably good criterion of property, and that this might always be obtained.
he therefore thought it the best mode which we could adopt, with one exception only. he observed that negroes are property, and as such cannot be distinguished from the lands or personalities held in those states where there are few slaves. that the surplus of profit which a Northern farmer is able to lay by, he invests in cattle, horses &c.
whereas a Southern farmer lays out that same surplus in slaves.
there is no more reason therefore for taxing the Southern states on the farmer's head, and on his slave's head, than the Northern ones on their farmers' heads and the heads of their cattle. that the method proposed would therefore tax the Southern states according to their numbers and their wealth conjunctly, while the Northern would be taxed on numbers only: that negroes in fact should not be considered as members of the state, more than cattle, and that they have no more interest in it.

Mr John Adams observed that the numbers of people were taken by this article as an index of the wealth of the state and not as subjects of taxation. that as to this matter it was of no consequence by what name you called your people whether by that of freemen or of slaves.
that in some countries the labouring poor were called freemen, in others they were called slaves: but that the difference as to the state was imaginary only. what matters it whether a landlord, employing ten laborers in his farm, gives them annually as much money as will buy them the necessaries of life, or gives them those necessaries at short hand. the ten labourers add as much wealth annually to the state, increase it's exports as much in the one case as the other. certainly 500 freemen produce no more profits, no greater surplus for the payment of taxes than 500 slaves. Therefore the state in which are the labourers called freemen should be taxed no more than that in which are those called slaves. Suppose by any extraordinary operation of nature or of law, one half the labourers of a state could in the course of one night be transformed into slaves: would the state be made the poorer or the less able to pay taxes? That the condition of the labouring poor in most countries, that of the fishermen particularly of the Northern states is as abject as that of slaves. It is the number of labourers which produce the surplus for taxation, and numbers therefore indiscriminately are the fair index of wealth. That it is the use of the word 'property' here, and it's application to some of the people of the state, which produces the fallacy. How does the Southern farmer procure slaves? Either by importation or by purchase from his neighbor. If he imports a slave, he adds one to the number of labourers in his country, and proportionally to it's profits and abilities to pay taxes. If he buys from his neighbor, it is only a transfer of a labourer from one farm to another, which does not change the annual produce of the state, and therefore should not change it's tax. That if a Northern farmer works ten labourers on his farm, he can it is true, invest the surplus of ten mens' labour in cattle: but so may the Southern farmer working ten slaves. That a state of 100,000 freemen can maintain no more cattle than one of 100,000 slaves. Therefore they have no more of that kind of property. That a slave may indeed from the custom of speech be more properly called the wealth of his master, than the free labourer might be called the wealth of his employer; but as to the state both were equally it's wealth, and should therefore equally add to the quota of it's tax.

Mr Harrison proposed a compromise, that two slaves should be counted as one freeman. He affirmed that slaves did not do so much work as freemen, and doubted if two effected more than one. That this was proved by the price of labor, the hire of a labourer in the Southern colonies being from 8. to 12 £, while in the Northern it was generally 24 £.

Mr Wilson said that if this amendment should take place the Southern colonies would have all the benefit of slaves, whilst the Northern ones would bear the burthen. That slaves increase the profits of a state, which the Southern states mean to take to themselves; that they also increase the burthen of defence, which would of course fall so much the heavier on the Northern. That slaves occupy the places of freemen and eat their food. Dismiss your slaves and freemen will take their places. it is our duty to lay every discouragement on the importation of slaves: but this amendment would give the just trium liberorum to him who would import slaves. that other kinds of property were pretty equally distributed thro' all the colonies: there were as many cattle, horses, and sheep in the North as the South, and South as the North: but not so as to slaves. that experience has shewn that those colonies have been alwais able to pay most which have the most inhabitants, whether they be black or white. and the practice of the Southern colonies has always been to make every farmer pay poll taxes upon all his labourers whether they be black or white. he acknowledges indeed that freemen work the most; but they consume the most also. they do not produce a greater surplus for taxation. the slave is neither fed nor clothed so expensively as a freeman. again white women are exempted from labour generally, which negro women are not. in this then the Southern states have an advantage as the article now stands. it has sometimes been said that slavery is necessary because the commodities they raise would be too dear for market if cultivated by freemen; but now it is said that the labour of the slave is the dearest.

Mr Payne urged the original resolution of Congress, to proportion the quotas of the states to the number of souls.

D'Witherspoon was of opinion that the value of lands and houses was the best estimate of the wealth of a nation, and that it was practicable to obtain such a valuation. this is the true barometer of wealth. the one now proposed is imperfect in itself and unequal between the states. it has been objected that negroes eat the food of freemen, and therefore should be taxed. horses also eat the food of freemen; therefore they also should be taxed. it has been said too that in carrying slaves into the estimate of the taxes the state is to pay, we do no more than those states themselves do who always take slaves into the estimate of the taxes the individual is to pay. but the cases are not parallel. in the Southern colonies slaves pervade the whole colony; but they do not pervade the whole continent. that as to the original resolution of Congress, it was temporary only, and related to the monies heretofore emitted: whereas we are now entering into a new compact and therefore stand on original ground.

the question being put, the amendment proposed was rejected by the votes of N. Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode island, Connecticut, N. York, N. Jersey, and Pennsylvania, against those of Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North and South Carolina. Georgia was divided.
The other article was in these words.
'Art. XVII. In determining questions each colony shall have one vote.'

July 30. 31. Aug. 1. present 41 members. Mr Chase observed that this article was the most likely to divide us of any one proposed in the draught then under consideration. that the larger colonies had threatened they would not confederate at all if their weight in Congress should not be equal to the numbers of people they added to the confederacy; while the smaller ones declared against a union if they did not retain an equal vote for the protection of their rights. that it was of the utmost consequence to bring the parties together, as should we sever from each other, either no foreign power will ally with us at all, or the different states will form different alliances, and thus increase the horrors of those scenes of civil war and bloodshed which in such a state of separation and independance would render us a miserable people. that our importance, our interests, our peace required that we should confederate, and that mutual sacrifices should be made to effect a compromise of this difficult question. he was of opinion the smaller colonies would lose their rights, if they were not in some instances allowed an equal vote, and therefore that a discrimination should take place among the questions which would come before Congress. that the smaller states should be secured in all questions concerning life or liberty, and the greater ones in all respecting property. he therefore proposed that in votes relating to money, the voice of each colony should be proportioned to the number of it's inhabitants.

D' Franklin thought that the votes should be so proportioned in all cases. he took notice that the Delaware counties had bound up their delegates to disagree to this article. he thought it a very extraordinary language to be held by any state, that they would not confederate with us unless we would let them dispose of our money. certainly if we vote equally we ought to pay equally: but the smaller states will hardly purchase the privilege at this price. that had he lived in a state where the representation, originally equal, had become unequal by time and accident, he might have submitted rather than disturb government: but that we should be very wrong to set out in this practice when it is in our power to establish what is right. that at the time of the union between England and Scotland the latter had made the objection which the smaller states now do. but experience had proved that no unfairness had ever been shewn them. that their advocates had prognosticated that it would again happen as in times of old that the whale would swallow Jonas: but he thought the prediction reversed in event and that Jonas had swallowed the whale, for the Scotch had in fact got possession of the government and gave laws to the English. he reprobated the original agreement of Congress to vote by colonies, and therefore was for their voting in all cases according to the number of taxables.

D' Witherspoon opposed every alteration of the article. all men admit that a confederacy is necessary. should the idea get abroad that there is likely to be no Union among us, it will damp the minds of the people, diminish the glory of our struggle, and lessen it's importance: because it will open to our view future prospects of war and dissension among ourselves. if an equal vote be refused, the smaller states will become vassals to the larger; and all experience has shewn that the vassals and subjects of free states are the most enslaved. he instanced the Helots of Sparta, and the provinces of Rome. he observed that foreign powers discovering this blemish would make it a handle for disengaging the smaller states from so unequal a confederacy. that the colonies should in fact be considered as individuals; and that as such in all disputes they should have an equal vote. that they are now collected as individuals making a bargain with each other, and of course had a right to vote as individuals. that in the East India company they voted by persons and not by their proportion of stock. that the Belgic confederacy voted by provinces. that in questions of war the smaller states were as much interested as the larger and therefore should vote equally; and indeed that the larger states were more likely to bring war on the confederacy, in proportion as their frontier was more extensive. he admitted that equality of representation was an excellent principle; but then it must be of things which are co-ordinate; that is, of things similar, and of the same nature: that nothing relating to individuals could ever come before Congress; nothing but what would respect colonies. he distinguished between an incorporating and a federal union. the union of England was an incorporating one; yet Scotland had suffered by that union: for it's inhabitants were drawn from it by the hopes of places and emploiments. nor was it an instance of equality of representation; because while Scotland was allowed nearly a thirteenth of representation, they were to pay only one fortieth of the land tax. he expressed his hopes that in the present enlightened state of men’s minds we might expect a lasting confederacy, if it was founded on fair principles.

John Adams advocated the voting in proportion to numbers. he said that we stand here as the representatives of the people. that in some states the people are many, in others they are few; that therefore their vote here should be proportioned to the numbers from whom it comes. reason, justice and equity never had weight enough on the face of the earth to govern the councils of men. it is interest alone which does it, and it is interest alone which can be trusted. that therefore the interests within doors should be the mathematical representatives of the interests without doors. that the individuality of the colonies is a mere sound. does the individuality of a colony increase it’s wealth or numbers? if it does, pay equally. if it does not add weight in the scale of the confederacy, it cannot add to their rights, nor weigh in argument. A. has 50£ B. 500£ C. 1,000£ in partnership. is it just they should equally dispose of the monies of the partnership? it has been said we are independant individuals making a bargain together. the question is not what we are now but what we ought to be when our bargain shall be made. the confederacy is to make us one individual only; it is to form us, like separate parcels of metal, into one common mass. we shall no longer retain our separate individuality, but become a single individual as to all questions submitted to the confederacy. therefore all those reasons which prove the justice and expediency of equal representation in other assemblies, hold good here. it has been objected that a proportional vote will endanger the smaller states. we answer that an equal vote will endanger the larger. Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts are the three greater colonies. consider their distance, their difference of produce, of interests and of manners, and it is apparent they can never have an interest or inclination to combine for the oppression of the smaller. that the smaller will naturally divide on all questions with the larger. Rhode-island from it’s relation, similarity, and intercourse will generally pursue the same objects with Massachusetts; Jersey, Delaware and Maryland with Pennsylvania.

D’ Rush took notice that the decay of the liberties of the Dutch republic proceeded from three causes. 1. the perfect unanimity requisite on all occasions. 2. their obligation to consult their constituents. 3. their voting by provinces. this last destroyed the equality of representation; and the liberties of Great Britain also are sinking from the same defect. that a part of our rights is deposited in the hands of our legislatures. there it was admitted there should be an equality of representation. another part of our rights is deposited in the hands of Congress: why is it not equally necessary there should be an equal representation there? were it possible to collect the whole body of the people together, they would determine the questions submitted to them, by their majority. why should not the same majority decide, when voting here by their representatives? the larger colonies are so providentially divided in situation as to render every fear of their combining, visionary. their interests are different, and their circumstances dissimilar. it is more probable they will become rivals and leave it in the power of the smaller states to give preponderance to any scale they please. the voting by the number of free inhabitants will have one excellent effect, that of inducing the colonies to discourage slavery and to encourage the increase of their free inhabitants.

Mr. Hopkins observed there were 4. larger, 4 smaller and 4 middle-sized colonies. that the four largest would contain more than half the inhabitants of the Confederating states, and therefore would govern the others as they should please. that history affords no instance of such a thing as equal representation. the Germanic body votes by states. the Helvetic body does the same; and so does the Belgic confederacy. that too little is known of the antient confederations to say what was their practice.

Mr Wilson thought that taxation should be in proportion to wealth, but that representation should accord with the number of freemen. that government is a collection or result of the wills of all. that if any government could speak the will of all it would be perfect; and that so far as it departs from this it becomes imperfect. it has been said that Congress is a representation of states, not of individuals. I say that the objects of it's care are all the individuals of the states. it is strange that annexing the name of 'State' to ten thousand men, should give them an equal right with forty thousand. this must be the effect of magic, not of reason. as to those matters which are referred to Congress, we are not so many states; we are one large state. we lay aside our individuality whenever we come here. the Germanic body is a burlesque on government and their practice on any point is a sufficient authority and proof that it is wrong. The greatest imperfection in the constitution of the Belgic confederacy is their voting by provinces. The interest of the whole is constantly sacrificed to that of the small states. The history of the war in the reign of Q. Anne sufficiently proves this. It is asked Shall nine colonies put it into the power of four to govern them as they please? I invert the question and ask Shall two millions of people put it in the power of one million to govern them as they please? It is pretended too that the smaller colonies will be in danger from the greater. Speak in honest language and say the minority will be in danger from the majority. And is there an assembly on earth where this danger may not be equally pretended? The truth is that our proceedings will then be consentaneous with the interests of the majority: and so they ought to be. The probability is much greater that the larger states will disagree than that they will combine. I defy the wit of man to invent a possible case, or to suggest any one thing on earth, which shall be for the interests of Virginia, Pennsylvania, and Massachusetts, and which will not also be for the interest of the other states.¹

SPEECH OF JOHN WITHERSPOON ON THE MESSAGE FROM LORD HOWE

SPEECH OF JOHN WITHERSPOON

MR. PRESIDENT: [5 September, 1776]

The subject we are now upon is felt and confessed by us all to be of the utmost consequence, and perhaps I may also say, of delicacy and difficulty. I have not been accustomed in such cases to make solemn professions of impartiality, and shall not do it now, because I will not suppose that there are any suspicions to the contrary in the minds of those who hear me. Besides, the variety of opinions that have been formed and delivered upon it, seem to prove that we are giving our own proper judgment without prejudice or influence, which I hope will lead to the discovery of what is most wise and expedient upon the whole.

As the deliberation arises from a message sent to us by Lord Howe, at least by his permission, I think it is of importance to attend with greater exactness to all the circumstances of that message than has been done by any gentleman who has yet spoken on the subject. It comes from the Commander-in-Chief of the forces of the King of Great Britain, and one who is said to carry a commission to give peace to America.

From the conduct of the Ministry at home, from the acts of Parliament, and from Lord Howe's proclamation in conformity to both, it is plain that absolute, unconditional submission is what they require us to agree to, or mean to force us to. And from the most authentick private intelligence, the King has not laid aside his personal rancour; it is rather increasing every day. In these circumstances Lord Howe has evidently a great desire to engage us in a treaty; and yet he has constantly avoided giving up the least punctilio on his side. He could never be induced to give General Washington his title. He plainly tells us he cannot treat with Congress as such; but he has allowed a prisoner of war to come and tell us he would be glad to see us as private gentlemen.

It has been said that this is no insult or disgrace to the Congress; that the point of honour is hard to be got over in making the first advances. This sir, is mistaking the matter wholly. He has got over this point of honour; he has made the first overtures; he has told General Washington, by Colonel Putnam, that he wished that message to be considered as making the first step. His renewed attempts by Lord Drummond, and now by General Sullivan, point out to all the world that he has made the first step. It will, doubtless, be related at home; and I am of opinion it is already written and boasted of to the Ministry at home that he has taken such a part. Therefore any evil or condescension that can attend seeking peace first, has been submitted to by him. Yet has he uniformly avoided any circumstance that can imply that we are anything else but subjects of the King of Great Britain in rebellion. Such a message as this, if in any degree intended as respectful to us, ought to have been secret; yet has it been open as the day. In short, such a message was unnecessary; for if he meant only to communicate his mind to the Congress by private gentlemen, his might have done that many ways, and it needed not to have been known either to the publick or the Congress till these private gentlemen came here on purpose to reveal it. These, then, are the circumstances which attend this message as it is now before us: and the question is, shall we comply with it in any degree or not? Let us ask what benefit shall be derived from it? There is none yet shown to be possible.
It has been admitted by every person without exception who has spoke, that we are not to admit a thought of giving up the independence we have so lately declared; and by the greatest part, if not the whole, that there is not the least reason to expect that any correspondence we can have with him will tend to peace. Yet I think in the beginning of the debate such reasonings were used as seemed to me only to conclude that we should grasp at it as a means of peace. We were told that it was easy for us to boast or be valiant here, but that our armies were running away before their enemies. I never loved boasting, neither here nor anywhere else. I look upon it as almost a certain forerunner of disgrace. I found my hope of success in this cause, not in the valour of Americans or the cowardice of Britons, but upon the justice of the cause, and still more upon the nature of things. Britain has first injured and inflamed America to the highest degree, and now attempts, at the distance of three thousand miles, to carry on war with this whole country, and force it to absolute submission. If we take the whole events of the war since it commenced, we shall rather wonder at the uniformity of our success than be surprised at some cross events. We have seen bravery as well as cowardice in this country, and there are no consequences of either that are probable, that can be worth mentioning as ascertaining the event of the contest.

Lord Howe speaks of a decisive blow not being yet struck, as if this cause depended upon one battle, which could not be avoided. Sir, this is a prodigious mistake. We may fight no battles at all for a long time, or we may lose some battles, as was the case with the British themselves in the Scotch rebellion of 1745, and the cause notwithstanding be the same. I wish it were considered, that neither loss nor disgrace worth mentioning has befallen us in the late engagement, nor comparable to what the British troops have often suffered. At the battle of Preston, sir, they broke to pieces and ran away like sheep, before a few Highlanders. I myself saw them do the same thing at Falkirk, with very little difference—a small part only of the army making a stand, and in a few hours the whole retreating with precipitation before their enemies. Did that make any difference in the cause? Not in the least—so long as the body of the nation were determined, on principle, against the rebels. Nor would it have made any other difference, but in time, though they had got possession of London, which they might have easily done if they had understood their business; for the Militia in England there gathered together, behaved fifty times worse than that of America has done lately. They generally disbanded and run off as soon as the rebels came within ten or twenty miles of them. In short, sir, from anything that has happened, I see not the least reason for our attending to this delusive message. On the contrary, I think it is the very worst time that could be chosen for us, as it will be looked upon as the effect of fear, and diffuse the same spirit in some degree through different ranks of men.

The improbability of anything arising from this conference, leading to a just and honourable peace, might be shown by arguments too numerous to be even so much as named. But what I shall mention only is, that we are absolutely certain, from every circumstance, from all the proceedings at home, and Lord Howe’s own explicit declaration in his letter to Dr. Franklin, that he never will acknowledge the independence of the American States.

I observed that one or two members said, in objection to the report of the Board of War, that it was like a begging of a question, and making a preliminary of the whole subject in debate. Alas, sir, this is a prodigious mistake. It was not only not the whole, but it was properly no subject of debate at all, till within these three months.
We were contending for the restoration of certain privileges under the Government of Great Britain, and we were praying for re-union with her. But in the beginning of July, with the universal approbation of all the States now united, we renounced this connection, and declared ourselves free and independent. Shall we bring this into question again? Is it not a preliminary? has it not been declared a preliminary by many gentlemen, who have yet given their opinion for a conference, while they have said they were determined on no account and on no condition to give up our independence? It is then a necessary preliminary—and it is quite a different thing from any punctilios of ceremony. If France and England were at war, and they were both desirous of peace, there might be some little difficulty as to who should make the first proposals; but if one of them should claim the other as they did long ago as a vassal or dependent subject, and should signify a desire to converse with the other, or some deputed by him, and propose him many privileges so as to make him even better than before, I desire to know how such a proposal would be received? If we had been for ages an independent Republic, we should feel this argument with all its force. That we do not feel it, shows that we have not yet acquired the whole ideas and habits of independence: from which I only infer, that every step taken in a correspondence as now proposed, will be a virtual or partial renunciation of that dignity so lately acquired.

I beg you would observe, sir, that Lord Howe himself was fully sensible, that the Declaration of Independence precluded any treaty, in the character in which he appeared; as he is said to have lamented that he had not arrived ten days sooner—before that declaration was made. Hence it appears, that entering into any correspondence with him in the manner now proposed, is actually giving up, or at least subjecting to a new consideration, the independence which we have declared. If I may be allowed to say it without offence, it seems to me that some members have unawares admitted this, though they are not sensible of it; for when they say that it is refusing to treat, unless the whole be granted us, they must mean that some part of that whole must be left to be discussed and obtained, or yielded, by the treaty.

But, sir, many members of this House have either yielded, or at least supposed, that no desirable peace, or no real good, could be finally expected from this correspondence, which is wished to be set on foot; but they have considered it as necessary in the eye of the publick, to satisfy them that we are always ready to hear anything that will restore peace to the country. In this view it is considered as a sort of trial of skill between Lord Howe and us, in the political art. As I do truly believe, that many members of this House are determined by this circumstance, I shall consider it with some attention. With this view it will be necessary to distinguish the publick in America into three great classes: 1. The Tories, our secret enemies. 2. The Whigs, the friends of independence, our sincere and hearty supporters. 3. The Army who must fight for us.

As to the first of them, I readily admit that they are earnest for our treating. They are exulting in the prospect of it; they are spreading innumerable lies to forward it. They are treating Whigs already with insult and insolence upon it. It has brought them from their lurking holes; they have taken liberty to say things in consequence of it, which they durst not have said before. In one word, if we set this negotiation on foot, it will give new force and vigour to all their seditious machinations. But, sir, shall their devices have any influence upon us at all? If they have at all, it should be to make us suspect that side of the question which they embrace. In cases where the expediency of a measure is doubtful, if I had an opportunity of knowing what my enemies wished me to do, I would not be easily induced to follow their advice.

As to the Whigs and friends of independence, I am well persuaded that multitudes of them are already clear in their minds, that the conference should be utterly rejected; and to those who are in doubt about its nature, nothing more will be requisite than a clear and full information of the state of the case, which I hope will be granted them.

As to the Army, I cannot help being of opinion, that nothing will more effectually deaden the operations of war, than what is proposed. We do not ourselves expect any benefit from it, but they will. And they will possibly impute our conduct to fear and jealousy as to the issue of the cause; which will add to their present little discouragement, and produce a timorous and despondent spirit.”

I remember once when in conversation with your brother over this particular item, he remarked humorously that this Newport edition must have been the pattern for the original act, as according to the imprint it was printed three weeks before July 4. One is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 47, folio 21, is endorsed by Charles Thomson, "First draught of Articles of Confederation as brought in by Committee, June [July] 12, 1776." It bears no other manuscript marks. The second copy is in the Jefferson Papers, and has, in his writing, the changes probably made in July or early in August, 1776, for they differ somewhat from the form in which the document was reported on August 20, 1776. See in this volume under date July 12, 1776. The Jefferson copy measures 34 x 22 cms; that in the Papers of the Continental Congress has been slightly trimmed.

Resolution for a Fast.

136. [Resolved that it be recommended to all the United States, as soon as possible, to appoint a day of solemn fasting and humiliation . . . . .]

A copy is in the New York Public Library, Emmet, 2003. The compiler of the “Calendar of the Emmet Collection” adds the following note: “The resolution was adopted on Dec. 11; the day following Congress adjourned to meet at Baltimore on the 20th. The fact that no Philadelphia edition of the broadside has been noted may perhaps be explained thereby, this Baltimore edition being the first, printed about the time of removal.”

“As it is of great consequence to the people to be informed of the situation of public affairs, and there is no press now in the City capable of giving such intelligence; therefore

“Resolved, That Mr. Dunlap’s press and types be employed for that purpose, and as it is a time of more than usual danger, this board will pay the value of them in case they should fall into the enemy’s hands.” Colonial Records.

"This addition appears to have been issued in monthly parts. Aitken says of it, 'I was ordered [in April 1776] to print no more in this large type, and to begin a new edition beginning the session of Congress, which rendered the sale of the above abortive, meantime, I sold 80 copies. I also sold 14 reams of this edition to Benjamin Flower, for the use of the army for cartridges at 30s per ream.'" Hildeburn.

The Pennsylvania Gazette, 9 October, 1776, contains an advertisement of the issue of this volume "this Day," "containing nearly 240 Pages, large Octavo, in blue Boards, Price One Dollar."
