THE ARTICLES OF CONFEDERATION, WITH AMENDMENTS :: :: :: APRIL OCTOBER, 1777 ARTICLES OF CONFEDERATION AND PERPETUAL UNION, BETWEEN THE STATES OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE, MASSACHUSETTS-BAY,
 RHOE-IsLAND,
 CONNECTICUT,
 NEW-YORK,
 NEW-JERSEY,
 PENNSYLVANIA,

THE name of this Confederacy shall be "THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA."

ART. II. The said States hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other, for their common defence, the security of their liberties, and their mutual and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to or attacks made upon them or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, or any other pretence whatever.

ART. III. Each State retains its sovereignty, freedom and independence, and every power, jurisdiction and right which is not by this Confederation expressly delegated to the United States in Congress assembled.

ART. IV. No State, without the consent of the United States in Congress Assembled, shall send any Embassies to, or receive any Embassies from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance or treaty with any King, Prince or State; nor shall any person holding an office of profit or trust under the United States or any of them, accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever from any King, Prince or foreign State; nor shall the United States Assembled, or any of them, grant any title of nobility.

ART. V. No two or more States shall enter into any treaty, confederation or alliance whatever between them without the consent of the United States in Congress Assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into, and how long it shall continue.

ART. VI. No State shall lay any impost or duties which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties entered into by the United States Assembled with any King, Prince or State, in pursuance of any treaty, treaty or compact made, or which may be made, by Congress with any foreign power.
ART. VII. No vessels of war shall be kept up in time of peace by any State, except such number only as shall be deemed necessary by the United States Assembled for the defence of such State or its trade, nor shall any body of forces be kept up by any State in time of peace, except such number only as in the judgment of the United States in Congress Assembled shall be deemed requisite to garrison the forts necessary for the defence of such State, but every State shall always keep up a well regulated and disciplined Militia, sufficiently armed and accoutred, and shall provide and constantly have ready for use in public stores a due number of field pieces and tents and a proper quantity of ammunition and camp equipage.

ART. VIII. When land forces are raised by any State for the common defence, all officers of or under the rank of Colonel shall be appointed by the legislatures of each State respectively by whom such forces shall be raised, or, in such manner as such State shall direct, and all vacancies shall be filled up by the State which first made the appointment.

ART. IX. All charges of war and all other expenses that shall be incurred for the common defence or general welfare, and allowed by the United States Assembled, shall be defrayed out of a common treasury, which shall be supplied by the several States in proportion to the number of inhabitants of every age, sex and quality, except Indians not paying taxes in each State; a true account of which, distinguishing the white inhabitants, shall be triennially taken and transmitted to the Assembly of the United States. The taxes for paying that proportion shall be laid and levied by the authority and direction of the legislatures of the several States within the time agreed upon by the United States Assembled.

ART. X. Every State shall abide by the determinations of the United States in Congress Assembled, on all questions which by this Confederation are submitted to them.

ART. XI. No State shall engage in any war without the consent of the United States in Congress Assembled, unless such State be actually invaded by enemies or shall have received certain advice of a resolution being formed by some nation of Indians to invade such State, and the danger is imminent as not to admit of a delay till the other States can be consulted, nor shall any State grant commissions to any ships or vessels of war, nor letters of marque or reprisal, except it be for a declaration of war by the United States Assembled, and then only against the Kingdom or State and the subject thereof against which war has been so declared, and under such regulations as shall be established by the United States Assembled.

ART. XIV. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, Delegates shall be annually appointed in such manner as the legislature of each State shall direct, to meet in the City of Philadelphia in Pennsylvania, until otherwise ordered by the United States Assembled, which meeting shall be on the first Monday in November in every year, with a power referred to each State to recall its Delegates or any of them at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead for the remainder of the year. Each State shall support its own Delegates in meetings of the States, and while they act as members of the Congress, shall be entitled to mention their votes.

ART. XIII. In determining questions each State shall have one vote.

ART. XIV. The United States Assembled shall have the sole and exclusive right and power of determining on peace and war, except in the cases mentioned in the eleventh article—of establishing rules for deciding in all cases what captures on land or water shall be legal in what manner prizes taken by land or naval forces in the service of the United States shall be divided or appropriated—granting letters of marque and reprisal in times of peace—appointing Courts for the trial of pirates and felonies committed on the high seas—establishing Courts for receiving and determining final appeals in all cases of captures—funding and receiving Ambassadors—entering into treaties and alliances—deciding all disputes or differences now existing or that may arise or exist between two or more States, concerning boundaries, jurisdiction, or any other case or matter; fixing the standard of weights and measures throughout the United States—regulating the trade and managing all affairs with the Indians, not members of any of the States—Establishing and regulating Post-Office from one State to another throughout all the United States, and exacting such postage on the papers passing through the same as may be requisite to defray the expenses of said office—appointing the several officers of the land forces in the service of the United States—making rules for the government and regulation of the land and naval forces, and directing their operations.
The United States in Congress Assembled shall have authority to appoint a Council of State and such Committees and Civil Officers as may be necessary for managing the general affairs of the United States, under their direction while assembled and in their recesses under that of the Council of States—such number of them as may be necessary—on the post of the United States, and to adjourn to any time within the year and to any place within the United States—to agree upon and fix the necessary sums and expenses...to borrow money or emit bills on the credit of the United States—to build and equip a navy—to agree upon the number of land forces, and to make requisitions from each State for its quota in proportion to the number of white inhabitants in such State, which requisitions shall be binding, and afterwards the legislature of each State shall appoint the regimental officers, raise the men, and arm and equip them in a uniform manner, and the officers and men so armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed and within the time agreed on by the United States Assembled.

But if the United States in Congress Assembled shall on consideration of circumstances judge proper that any State or States should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than the quota or quotas of such State or States, and that any other State or States should raise a greater number of men than the quota or quotas thereof, such extra numbers shall be raised, officered, armed and equipped in the same manner as the quota or quotas of such State or States, unless the legislature of such State or States respectively shall judge that such extra-numbers cannot be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, arm and equip as many of such extra-numbers as they judge can be safely spared. And the officers and men so armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed and within the time agreed on by the United States Assembled.

The United States in Congress Assembled shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances except for peace, nor coin money nor regulate the value thereof, nor agree upon nor fix the sums and expenses necessary for the defence and welfare of the United States, or any of them, nor emit bills, nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of ships or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a Commander in Chief of the army or navy unless nine States assent to the same; nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the United States. No person shall be capable of being a Delegate for more than three years, in any term of six years.

No person holding any office under the United States for which he, or another for his benefit, receives any salary, fees or emolument of any kind, shall be capable of being a Delegate.

The Assembly of the United States to publish the Journal of their Proceedings monthly, except such parts thereof relating to treaties, alliances, or military operations, as in their judgment require secrecy, the yeas and nays of the Delegates of each State on any question to be entered on the Journal when it is devised by any Delegate, and the Delegates of a State or any of them, at his or their request, to be furnished with a transcript of the said Journal, except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislatures of the several States.

Art. XV. The Congress of the United States shall consist of one Delegate from each State, to be named annually by the Delegates of each State, and where they cannot agree, by the United States assembled.

The Congress shall have power to receive and open all letters directed to the United States, and to return proper answers, but not to make any engagements that shall be binding on the United States—To correspond with the legislature of every State, and all persons acting under the authority of the United States, or of the said legislatures—To apply to such legislatures, or to the Officers in the several States who are entrusted with the executive powers of government, for occasional aid whenever and wherever necessary—To give counsel to the Commanding Officers, and to direct military operations by sea and land, not changing any objects or expeditions determined on by the United States assembled, unless an alteration of circumstances which shall come to the knowledge of the Council after the receipt of the States, shall make such change absolutely necessary—To attend to the defence and preservation of forts and strong posts—To procure intelligence of the condition and dispositions of the enemy—To expedite the execution of such measures as may be resolved on by the United States assembled, in pursuance of the powers hereby given to them—To draw upon the Treasurers for such sums as may be appropriated by the United States assembled, and for the payment of such contracts as the Fair Council may make in pursuance of the powers hereby given to them—To superintend and control or suspend all Officers civil and military, acting under the authority of the United States.—In case of the death or removal of any Officer within the appointment of the United States Assembled, to employ a person to fulfill the Duties of said Office until the Assembly of the States meet—To publish and disperse authentic accounts of military operations—To furnish an Assembly of the States at an early day that appointed for their next meeting, if any great and unexpected emergency should render it necessary for the safety or welfare of the United States or any of them.—To prepare matters for the consideration of the United States, and to lay before them at their next meeting all letters and addvices received by the Council, with a report of their proceedings.—To appoint a proper person for their Clerk, who shall take an oath of secrecy and fidelity before he enters on the exercise of his office.—Even Members shall have power to sit,—In case of the death of any Member, the Council shall immediately apply to his surviving colleagues to appoint some one of themselves to be a Member thereof till the meeting of the States, and if only one survives, they shall give immediate notice, that he may take his seat as a Councillor till such meeting.

ART. XVI. Canada acceding to this Confederation, and entirely joining in the measures of the United States, shall be admitted into and entitled to all the advantages of this Union: But no other Colony shall be admitted into the same unless such admission be agreed to by nine States.

These Articles shall be proposed to the legislatures of all the United States, to be by them considered, and if approved by them, they are advised to authorize their Delegates to ratify the same in the Assembly of the United States, which being done, the Articles of this Confederation shall inviolably be observed by every State, and the Union is to be perpetual: No shall any alteration at any time afterwards be made in these Articles or any of them, unless such alteration be agreed to in an Assembly of the United States; and be afterwards confirmed by the legislatures of every State.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1777

Letters of the 1st, and 12 September, from Captain N. Biddle, of the Randolph, the first containing charges against Lieutenant Panatiere de la Falconer; one, of the 26 August, and one, of the 12 September, from John Dorsius; and, two letters of intelligence respecting stores and cloathing, were read:

Ordered, That everything relative to the intelligence now received respecting stores and cloathing be kept secret.

That the Committee of Commerce be authorized and directed to pursue such measures as they judge proper in consequence of the intelligence now received.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be paid to James Hays, in discharge of a bill of exchange assigned to him, drawn by John Ashe, Esq', public treasurer of the State of North Carolina, on the continental treasurer, 250 dollars, being for pay and subsistence of the continental troops raised in that State; the said sum to be charged to the State of North Carolina and being in part of the money heretofore appropriated for the use of that State.

Adjourned to 4 o’Clock P. M.

FOUR O’CLOCK, P. M.

Resolved, That Monday next be assigned for appointing commissioners to audit and settle the accounts of Georgia against the United States.

1 The letters of Nicholas Biddle are in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, II, folios 237 and 241. Three of Dorsius are in No. 78, VII, folios 113, 117, and 127. Two anonymous letters on stores are in No. 78, I, folios 121 and 125.
The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon, it was moved, "That the consideration of the report of the Board of War, respecting the Baron de Kalb, be postponed; that a copy of the Baron's letter to R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, Esq' of the 28 September, and of General Conway's letter to Congress of the 25 September, be transmitted to General Washington, and that General Washington direct an enquiry to be made into the priority of rank between the Baron de Kalb and General Conway in France, and report the same to Congress:" And the question being put, and the yeas and nays required:

So it passed in the negative.

The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o'Clock to Morrow.
A letter, of the 30 September, from Charles Stewart, commissary general of issues, and one of this day from the Chevalier de Preudhomme de Borré, were read:¹

Ordered, That such part of Mr. Stewart’s letter as relates to money, be referred to the Board of Treasury, and the remainder to the Board of War.

Congress took into consideration the letter of the 1st, from Mons. Preudhomme de Borré, wherein he asks to be made a major general, and complains of being condemned before he was heard; and considering that Congress had ordered an enquiry into the conduct of Mons’ de Borré, and that he, being notified thereof, did, on the 14 of September, wait on the president with an offer to resign his commission of brigadier general; and his resignation being accepted,

Resolved, That Congress do not consider him as an officer in the service of the United States, he having resigned his commission; and that his request to be made a major general, or to be further employed in the service of the United States, cannot be complied with.

A motion being made, “That General Washington be directed to order 2,000 stands of the arms expected from Springfield, to the State of Maryland, to be delivered to the governor and the council of that State, the arms so delivered to be charged to that State:” on motion made, and question put,² ¹The letter of De Borré is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, II, folio 279.

²This motion, in the writing of Samuel Chase, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 36, I, folio 13a.
Resolved, That the consideration thereof be postponed.

The House was moved to pass the following resolution: "Whereas, it appears by letters to Congress from John Adam Treutlan, Esq' governor of Georgia, and particularly by one dated the 19 June last, that it is the desire of the executive powers of government in the State of Georgia, that Congress should take under their consideration the several accusations against George M'Intosh, and determine on the case, and for that purpose have transmitted to Congress, divers minutes of council and assembly, together with certified copies of depositions relative to the said case, and had for that purpose ordered that the said M'Intosh should be conducted under guard to Philadelphia; and whereas, the said George M'Intosh has signified his consent to submit to an enquiry, by a committee of Congress, into the causes of his commitment:

Resolved, That the committee appointed to consider and report upon the letters, depositions, and other papers which have been received from Governor Treutlan, be authorized to inform the said G. M'Intosh, now attending the orders of Congress, of the accusations alledged against him, and to furnish him, if he shall require it, with copies of the depositions and other evidence in support of the charge, to hear and receive such answers as he may offer in his defence, and report the whole to Congress."

Question put, passed in the negative.

It was then moved, that the committee to whom the letters from Governor Treutlan, with the papers accompanying them, [were referred], be discharged from considering them; and the question being put, and the yeas and nays required:

So it was resolved in the affirmative.

A motion was then made respecting George M’Intosh; and, on a motion, made,

Resolved, That the consideration thereof be postponed till Monday next.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be paid to Mons. de Romanet, Mons. du Ballet, Mons. Villefranche, Mons. l’Enfant, Mons. Niverd, Mons. Fouquet and Mons. Fouquet, Jun'r lately arrived from France, to tender their services to the United States, each 100 dollars, for which they shall respectively be accountable.¹

Resolved, That the commissary general of issues be supplied, from time to time, with money for the payment of the several officers and other expences of his department, out of the continental treasury, for which purpose he is to apply to Congress, and to be accountable for the expenditure; and that 10,000 dollars be advanced to him or his agent, on account of the said department, for which he is to be accountable.

The committee to whom were referred the two letters to William Buchanan, Esq’ commissary general of purchases; the one from Peter Colt, Esq’ deputy commissary general of purchases; [dated 2 September] and the other from Major General Putnam, commanding officer at Peekskill, [dated the 7 September] on the subject of the commissary general’s department, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

1. Resolved, That if the deputy commissary general of purchases, or of issues, appointed for the eastern district, shall decline to accept of, or officiate in, their respective offices, Major General Putnam, the commanding officer at Peekskill, or the commanding officer there for the time being, be authorized and directed to appoint suitable persons to those respective offices, or either of them; and that Major General Gates, or the commanding officer for the time being of the northern department, have similar power with respect to the deputy commissary general of purchases and of issues for the northern department, and that they respectively certify the names of the commissaries, which they may appoint, to Congress, for their approbation.

2. Resolved, That every assistant appointed, or that hereafter may be appointed by the respective deputy commissaries general of purchases and of issues, shall enter into bond to the president of Congress, in the penalty of
October, 1777

5,000 dollars, for the faithful performance of his duty; and such bond, being taken by the deputy commissary general, and lodged with the paymaster general, or deputy paymaster general of the district, to be by him transmitted to the Treasury Board, the deputy commissary general shall no longer be chargeable or accountable for the good behaviour of such assistants:

3. That every deputy commissary general shall be authorized to appoint as many clerks, not exceeding the number of three, as the respective commissaries general shall judge necessary, who are directed to report the same to Congress.

4. And whereas it is represented that it will be exceeding difficult to comply with the regulations of Congress, for branding and numbering cattle on the horns:

Resolved, That the purchasers of live stock be respectively directed to adopt such other modes for marking the same as they shall judge expedient, and to transmit to Congress, by the earliest opportunity, the regulations for that purpose by them adopted.¹

5. That the Commissary General of purchases be directed to inform the Deputy Commissary General of purchases for the eastern District, that the Regulations of Congress requiring the Receipts of the issuing Commissaries as Vouchers to the Accounts of the purchases of Cattle are necessary, as well to ascertain the Weight of the Meat, Hides, and Tallow w[ith] the s[econd] issuing Commissaries are respectively to account for, as to inform Congress with the Cost thereof, and therefore that the said Regulations can by no Means be dispensed with.²

5. That each of the deputy commissaries general of purchases be authorized to allow to the purchasers of live stock, in his respective district, a longer time for making the returns required by the 10th article of the regulations

²Against this paragraph was written "Omit this Clause."
of the departments of the commissaries, than is therein specified; provided such deputy commissary general shall judge it necessary, and the time further allowed does not exceed one month. And if, in the hurry of a march or engagement, or at any other time, any deputy appointed to receive, kill, and deliver live stock, shall be unable to weigh the meat, hides, and tallow thereof, he shall be indemnified from any charge of neglect, upon producing to the respective purchaser of cattle, a certificate from the commanding officer of the army, post, or detachment, of the fact as aforesaid; and such certificate shall also excuse the purchaser of live stock from producing the receipt of the issuing commissary, required by the 14th article of the said regulations:

6. Resolved, That it Never was the Intention of Congress, by any of the regulations of the Commissarys Departments, to charge the Loss of Cattle on the Road, or straying from their Keepers at the Camp, to the purchaser of Live Stock, or any officer of the Department unless when the Officers on whom it was incumbent, shall not have taken proper and reasonable Care, according to the Circumstances of the place, post, or Magazine, for the Security of such Cattle.¹

6. That it never was the intention of Congress to make any purchaser of live stock, or officer of the department, liable for unavoidable loss of all or any part of such live stock, when such purchaser or officer shall make appear that proper care hath been taken to prevent such loss.

Resolved, That there be advanced to Marquis Calmes, commander of the division of Virginia militia from Frederick county, 1,000 dollars, for the use of the said division, the said Marquis Calmes to be accountable.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be advanced to Captain Weaver, appointed to conduct the prisoners of war to Virginia, 2,000 dollars, for the use of the detachment under his command, and the support of the prisoners in the march; and for which he shall be accountable.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report from the Board of War; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Baron de Kalb be at liberty to give up his commission of major general, if the contingency mentioned in his letter of the 28 ult. should happen:

That the Baron de Kalb’s commission be dated the same day with that of the Marquis de la Fayette, [agreeable to the request of the Baron]:¹

That the Chevalier de Buisson have a Brevett Commission of Lieut. Colonel with the Pay of a Major.

That a compliance with the 4 and 5 articles of Baron de Kalb’s letter would be improper at this time, as Congress have not made any provision for their own officers, with whom foreign officers of equal merit and service will always be considered on a footing.

[Resolved,] That the commissary general of purchases employ a proper person to receive all the wheat belonging to the United States in the several mills and store-houses in the neighbourhood of York Town, and have such parts as are good manufactured into flour and delivered to the commissary general of issues; the bran and damaged wheat to be delivered to the commissary of forage.

Resolved, That Major Henry Brockholst Livingston, aid de camp to Major General Schuyler, be promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel, as a reward for his merit and services in the American army.²

² This paragraph was not in the original report. In the writing of Charles Thomson it is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 352, with 9 ayes and 1 no recorded.
Resolved, That Major Troup, aid de camp to General Gates, be presented with a commission of lieutenant colonel, as a reward of his merit and services in the American army.

Resolved, That the Chevalier de Buisson shall have a commission as a major, and that whenever he shall think proper to return to France, he shall, if not promoted before that time to a higher rank, receive a commission of lieutenant colonel.¹

Resolved, That it be referred to General Washington to make such provision for the quartering the troops in the winter season, as he shall think proper.

Resolved, That a standing committee of Indian affairs be appointed, and that the petition of Abraham Nimham be referred to them:

That Monday next be assigned for appointing the said committee.

Resolved, That the governor and council of New York, be desired to erect a monument, at continental expense, of the value of 500 dollars, to the memory of the late Brigadier Herkimer, [commanding the militia of Tryon county, in the state of New York,]² who was killed fighting gallantly in defence of the liberties of these states.

Resolved, That a letter be written to General Gates, informing him, that Congress highly approve of the prowess and behaviour of the troops under his command, in their late gallant repulse of the enemy under General Burgoyne.³

Resolved, That the thanks of Congress be presented to General Stark of the New Hampshire militia, and the

So it was resolved in the affirmative.

Resolved, That the thanks of Congress be given to Colonel Gansevoort, and to the officers and troops under his command, for the bravery and perseverance which they have so conspicuously manifested in the defence of Fort Schuyler:

That Colonel Gansevoort be appointed colonel commandant of the fort he has so gallantly defended.

That Congress have a just sense of the distinguished merit of Lieutenant Colonel Willet, for a repeated instance of his bravery and conduct in his late successful sally on the enemy investing Fort Schuyler; [and that the commissary general of military stores be directed to procure an elegant sword, and present the same to Lieutenant Colonel Willet, in the name of these United States.]¹

That a Letter be written to General Gates informing him that Congress highly approve of the Behaviour of the Troops under his Command in their late gallant and spirited Repulse of the Enemy under General Burgoyne.²

That Daniel and Samuel Hughes of the State of Maryland should be released from their Contract for supplying the United States with Cannon at the Rate of per Ton and that it should be referred to Arbitraters, to be respectively appointed by Daniel and Samuel Hughes and by the Board of War in Behalf of the United States, to settle the Accounts for Monies advanced to the said Daniel and Samuel Hughes, and if they should judge it equitable, to make such additional Allowance to the Contract Price for Cannon already cast, as they shall deem sufficient to ensure a reasonable Profit to the said Daniel and Samuel Hughes for the Trouble they have been at in carrying on their Works for the Public Use.

That the Works of Daniel and Samuel Hughes should be engaged for the Public Use from the Day of to the Day of 1779; and that a Contract should be made forthwith to allow them for what Cannon, Mortars and other Ordnance or Stores they may cast during that Term at the same averaged Price per Ton as Potts shall bear at Quarterly Periods at any two Furnaces which the Board of War shall think proper to point out in said Contract. The Price of Carriage to be allowed from the Furnace of the said Daniel and Samuel Hughes to the Places where they are to be delivered, at the customary Rates.³

2 The letter of Washington is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 162, V, folio 77. It is printed in Writings of Washington (Ford), VI, 91. That of Putnam is in No. 159, folio 99, and that of De Borre, in No. 78, II, 283.
General Putnam be referred to the Board of War, they be directed to prepare an address to the inhabitants of Pennsylvania, and report the same to Congress.

Ordered, That a copy of the letter from General Putnam, be immediately transmitted to General Washington; and that he pursue such measures in consequence thereof, as he judges most conducive to the public safety, and that he advise General Gates of the steps he may think proper should be taken.

Ordered, That a copy of the said letter be sent to General Gates, and that he be directed to give such assistance for strengthening the defences of Hudson's river, as the circumstances of his own department may admit, of which he is to judge.

Resolved, That General Washington be directed, if the situation of his army will admit, to send one of the four engineers to do duty at Fort Montgomery and the defences on Hudson's river.

Ordered, That the letter from the Chevalier de Preudhomme de Borre, be referred to the Board of War, and that they be directed to report thereon as soon as possible.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Resolved, That two companies be raised on continental establishment for the purpose of guarding the stores at Carlisle; these companies to have no bounty, and to be enlisted for one year, unless sooner discharged by Congress, under an engagement from Congress that they shall not be removed from Carlisle, nor be ordered on any other service. That James Armstrong Wilson be appointed to one of the said companies, with the rank and pay of a major, and that Samuel Postlethwaite be appointed captain of the other company.

Resolved, That the commissaries general of purchases and issues, and their deputies and assistants, have power and authority to impress and seize waggons, shallops, and proper store-houses, on extraordinary occasions, for the use of their departments; this authority to extend to the distance of 70 miles from head-quarters, and to be in force until the first day of January next, and no longer; and that they respectively be directed not to contravene a former resolution of Congress, relative to waggons going with necessaries to the army; and, as far as circumstances will admit, that they exercise their authority on persons who have not taken the oaths or affirmations of allegiance to the respective states, in compliance with the laws of such states.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report; Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be advanced to George Eichelberger, Esq; deputy quarter master general at Yorktown, 2,500 dollars, on his application in behalf of the quarter master general, for the use of that department, and for which the quarter master general is to be accountable; and that a copy of this order be sent to General Mifflin, quarter master general.

Ordered, That there be paid to William Churchill Houston, or his order, 333 1/3 dollars, for his salary as deputy secretary of Congress, from the 1st day of April to 1st of September last, being five months, at the rate of 800 dollars per ann.

Resolved, That the drawing of the United States’ lottery be deferred until the sixth day of January next, on account of the unsettled state of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, occasioned by the invasion of the enemy; and that the managers of the said lottery give notice thereof by advertisement in the newspapers of the several states.¹

A letter, of the 5, from General Mifflin, enclosing one of the 4th, from Colonel Lutterloe, was read.

Congress proceeded to the election of a committee for Indian affairs; and, the ballots being taken, Mr. [James] Duane, Mr. [George] Walton, Mr. [Thomas] Burke, Mr. [Joseph] Jones and Mr. [Richard] Law, were elected.

A petition, from Charles M. Davitt, Patrick Smith and others, was read:

Ordered, That the said petition be referred to the commissioners of accounts for the northern department, and that they or any two of them enquire into the facts suggested by the petitioners, and also into the objections made by General Gates against allowing the claims of the petitioners, and make report thereof to Congress, delivering a copy of their report to General Gates.¹

Ordered, That the letters of the 19 June, and the 14 August, from Governor J. A. Treutlan, be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Ordered, That to morrow morning, at 11 o’clock, Congress take into consideration that part of the confederation that relates to the mode of voting in Congress.

Resolved, That so much of the resolution of the 23d day of March, 1776, as directs that the wages of seamen and mariners taken on board British merchant vessels, be paid and deducted out of the prize money, be repealed and made null and void.

Resolved, That all masters, officers and mariners, and all subjects of the king of Great Britain, taken on board any prize made by any continental vessel of war, be hereafter considered as prisoners of war, and treated as such; and that the seamen and mariners of such prize be con-

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 7, 1777

A letter, of this day, from Peter Tarlan, deputy quar-ter master general for Georgia, was read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Ordered, That 390 dollars be advanced to R. Peters, Esq: secretary of the Board of War, for contingent expences, and for which he is to be accountable.

A memorial, from Mons. le Brun, was read:²

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

Agreeable to the order of the day, Congress took into consideration the 13th article of the confederation as reported by the committee of the whole, vizt.: “In determining questions each State shall have one vote.” To which sundry amendments were moved. After debate, the farther consideration thereof was postponed to the afternoon.

Ordered, That 20,000 dollars be advanced and charged to the Committee of Commerce, by a draught on the loan office in Boston, to be paid to Mr. John Bradford, agent for the committee, he to be accountable to the committee.

Adjourned to 4 o’Clock.

October, 1777

FOUR o’CLOCK, P. M.

Congress resumed the debate on the amendments proposed and the question being put on the first amendment, viz., after "questions" leave out "each State shall have one vote" and insert:

"Rhode Island, Delaware and Georgia shall have one vote, and every other State shall have one vote for every fifty thousand white inhabitants therein, taken and transmitted according to the directions of the 9th article; and when the white inhabitants of Rhode Island, Delaware or Georgia shall exceed fifty thousand, the number of votes to be given by such State shall be increased in the proportion of one vote for every fifty thousand such inhabitants, that an equality in this national assembly may be preserved as nearly as possible, and that those who are bound by measures and are to pay taxes demanded by an assembly, the members of which are elected not by all the people, but by those of a particular district, may have the same proportionable number of votes as they would have if they were personally present. If, in process of time, the people shall so multiply as that the Congress, consisting of one delegate for every fifty thousand white inhabitants, would be too numerous, the proportions shall be again adjusted, wherein the same rule of equality in the representation shall be observed;" and the yeas and nays being required:

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1777

A letter, of the 5, from General Washington, was read; also a petition from David Redick:²

Ordered, That the petition be referred to the Board of War.

¹This day’s proceedings on the confederation, in the writing of Charles Thomson, are in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 47, folio 77.
²The letter of Washington is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, V, folio 81. It is printed in Writings of Washington (Ford), VI, 93. That of Redick is in No. 42, VI, folio 421.
October, 1777

Whereas, the fourth Georgia battalion of continental troops, commanded by Colonel John White, is about to march from the State of Pennsylvania to its station in the State of Georgia; and, whereas, it may be necessary for the good order of the said battalion that general courts martial may be held to try and punish offenders for breach of the articles of war on the march of the said battalion; and whereas, there is no general officer in the service of the United States stationed on or near the route of its march, without whose authority, according to the articles of war, no general court martial can be held for the trial and punishment of such offenders:

Resolved, therefore, That the said Colonel John White be empowed, at any time in the course of his said march, to order a general court martial to consist of his own officers, if none others of the continental army can be conveniently summoned, and to try any non-commissioned officer and soldier belonging to the said battalion, who shall be charged with breaking any of the articles of war; and to confirm the sentence of any such court martial, to discharge the said court martial, or to confirm any such sentence, and afterwards to remit the punishment that shall be so sentenced, as he shall think proper; provided that the powers hereby given shall cease and determine so soon as the said battalion shall arrive at its station in Georgia.

The house being moved to pass a resolution, to prevent an intercourse between the towns in the possession of the enemy and the inhabitants of the country;

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of three: The members chosen, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, Mr. J[ohn] Adams and Mr. [Samuel] Chase.

Adjourned to 4 o’Clock.
The committee to whom was referred the resolution for preventing an intercourse between the towns in the possession of the enemy and the inhabitants of the country, brought in a report; Whereupon Congress came to the following resolutions:

Whereas, it is of essential consequence to the general welfare that the most effectual measures should be forthwith pursued for cutting off all communication of supplies, or intelligence to the enemy's army now in, and near the city of Philadelphia; and whereas, it has been found, by the experience of all states, that, in times of invasion, the process of the municipal law is too feeble and dilatory to bring to a condign and exemplary punishment persons guilty of such traitorous practices:

Resolved, That any person, being an inhabitant of any of these states, who shall act as a guide or pilot by land or water for the enemy, or shall give or send intelligence to them, or in any manner furnish them with supplies of provisions, money, clothing, arms, forage, fuel, or any kind of stores, be considered and treated as an enemy and traitor to these United States; and that General Washington be empowered to order such person taken within thirty miles of any city, town or place in the states of Pennsylvania, Jersey and Delaware, which is, or may be in the possession of any of the enemy's forces, to be tried by a court martial, and such courts martial are hereby authorized to sentence any such persons convicted before them of any of the offences aforesaid, to suffer death or such other punishment as to them shall seem meet.

This resolve to remain in force until the first day of January next, unless sooner revoked by Congress.

And, whereas, it has been represented to Congress, that many evil disposed persons, enemies to these United
October, 1777

States, make a practice of passing to and from the enemy's quarters, propagating false intelligence, whereby to dispirit the people and aid the cause of our enemies,

Resolved, That it be recommended to all magistrates and officers, civil and military, and to all the good people of these states, to be vigilant in apprehending, securing and bringing to condign punishment all such offenders, in order that a speedy and effectual stop may be put to such a pernicious practice.

Resolved, unanimously, That the thanks of Congress be given to General Washington, for his wise and well concerted attack upon the enemy's army near Germantown, on the 4th instant, and to the officers and soldiers of the army, for their brave exertions on that occasion; Congress being well satisfied that the best designs and boldest efforts may sometimes fail by unforeseen incidents, trusting that, on future occasions, the valour and virtue of the army will, by the blessing of Heaven, be crowned with complete and deserved success.

Resolved, That Mr. [Henry] Laurens and [Thomas] Heyward be added to the committee appointed to carry into execution the resolution of Congress, ordering a medal to be struck and presented to General Washington.

Resolved, That to morrow morning Congress take into consideration that part of the confederation that relates to taxation.

A letter, of the 27 September, from General Schuyler, at Albany, was read.¹

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That a warrant be drawn on the treasurer, in favour of William Hornby, for twenty thousand dollars, in discharge of a bill drawn on the president of Congress by the president of Georgia, for the use of the continental troops in that State; and that the said sum be considered as part of the three hundred thousand dollars ordered to be sent to supply the military chest in that State, the said State to be accountable:

Resolved, That another warrant be drawn on the treasurer in favour of the said William Hornby, for five hundred dollars, to defray his expences in coming and returning from Georgia to York town, in Pensylvania, agreeable to the request of the president of Georgia, and that the said sum be considered as part of the four hundred thousand dollars, ordered to be sent to that State to reimburse it for its expenditures for the Continent, the said State to be accountable.

Resolved, That there be advanced to the Marine Committee eight hundred Dollars, for which they are to be accountable.

Resolved, That five thousand dollars be advanced to Colonel Peter Tarling, deputy quarter master general to the troops in Georgia, he to be accountable; and that the same be considered as part of the three hundred thousand dollars ordered to be transmitted for the use of the continental troops in that State.¹

that so much of the said letter as relates to his request of being furnished with a copy of the accusations against him, be referred to the committee appointed to conduct the enquiry into the conduct of the general officers in the northern department, at the time of surrendering Ticonderoga [and Mount Independence.]

A petition from Captain Silas Talbut, was read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

A memorial from George M'Intosh was read.² Upon considering the said memorial, a motion was made, that it be resolved, "That this Congress have no power to try and determine the case of George M'Intosh, he being a citizen of Georgia." occasion may require, which shall not be subject to be impressed for any other service by any officer of the army, unless by special direction of the commander in chief for the time being; and, if any officer shall (except as before excepted) on any pretence whatsoever, impress, without his consent, any waggon, cart, or carriage, in the service of the said commissary of hides, he shall immediately, on application to the commanding officer nearest the place where the transaction happens, be put under arrest, be liable to pay all loss the states sustained by such impressment, and suffer such other punishment as shall be deemed proper by a court martial.

That the commander in chief, and the commanding officer of any department post or detachment, be directed to supply the commissary general of hides and his respective deputies with guards for their waggons, when the said commissary shall apply for the same, and they shall appear to be necessary:¹

That the said commissary of hides shall make a return, once in every three months, to the Board of War, of his whole transactions, specifying the number of workmen employed, the quantities of hides on hand, the quantities exchanged for leather and shoes, what quantity made up into shoes, and what otherwise disposed of; and to enable him to do this, his deputies and assistants, (whose names, occupations and pay or wages he is also to return,) shall make monthly returns to the said commissary of hides:

That the said commissary of hides shall receive and take care of the tallow, and all other useful offal of the cattle

¹This paragraph was an amendment by Elbridge Gerry, taking the place of the following: "That he or his Deputies and Assistants shall have Power and Authority to call on any Officer commanding a Regiment or Company for a Guard when Occasion shall require, and if any such Officer without sufficient Reason refuse a Guard on such Application being made, he shall be arrested and tried by a Court Martial in Manner aforesaid, pay all Loss the Continent sustains by such Refusal and be liable to such further Punishment as the said Court Martial shall direct."
belonging to the United States, and see that the said tallow is properly rendered and made fit to be manufactured into candles and soap for the use of the army, and shall deliver the said tallow, so rendered, to the commissary general of purchases, or his order, taking receipts for the same, reserving so much of the said tallow, as may be necessary for the manufactory of the leather and the use of his own department:

That the commissary of hides have the appointment of all deputies and assistants to be employed under him, for whose conduct he shall be responsible, and have authority to displace them at pleasure.¹

The Board of Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be advanced to George Ewing, Esq' commissary of hides, eight thousand dollars, for the use of his department, and for which he is to be accountable.

Whereas, it is represented that Mons. du Coudray had in his pocket-book, the day he was unfortunately drowned, the order of Congress of the 15 September, for paying to him 1,500 dollars for the use of the gentlemen who accompanied him from France, named in the said order, and that the said order has never been paid, but is lost,

Ordered, That the money mentioned in the said order be paid to Mons. le Brun, for the use of the gentlemen therein named; and for which he is to be accountable:

Ordered, That there be paid to Thomas Heyward, Esq' one of the Committee on Foreign Affairs, 29 84/90 dollars advanced by him to an express for bringing despatches to Congress.

Ordered, That there be paid to Silas Talbot the sum of 433 2/3 dollars, in full for his account of expences and

The letter from Governor Livingston be referred to the Board of War.

That the letters from General Gates, and the letter from Mr. J. Smith, with the papers enclosed, and the memorial from Israel Pemberton, and others, be referred to the Board of War.

A letter, of the 2, from Colonel Nicola, was read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the commissioned and non-commissioned officers, who have accompanied Mons. du Coudray from France, have the ranks proposed for them in France, together with the pay and emoluments of officers of equal ranks in the service of the United States.

That in case the said officers shall decline accepting the above proposals, it be referred to the Board of Treasury to take into consideration what gratifications should be given to the said officers, respectively, in compensation for their loss of time and expence, and to defray the charges of their voyage to France.

That it be referred to the Board of Treasury to settle the accounts of the late Mons. du Coudray.²

On motion, Ordered, That the Board of War apply to the executive powers of Pensylvania, and request their co-operation, to supply the army with shoes, stockings and other necessaries; that the said Board maintain a constant correspondence with the executive powers of the said State, and with General Washington, for the purposes above mentioned, and for the service of the army in general.

Adjourned to 4 o’Clock.

¹This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 163, folio 17.
²This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, 1, folio 367. The members of the Board present were: John Adams, Samuel Adams, Francis Lightfoot Lee, Charles Carroll and William Duer.
Resolved, That it would be inconsistent with the public safety to permit Dr. John Connolly, at present a prisoner on parole, to remain any longer at large, and, therefore, that the Board of War be directed to order him into safe custody immediately, taking care to seize such of his papers as may be of a political nature.

Whereas, a number of the members appointed to hear and determine appeals are absent;

Resolved, That a new committee, to consist of five members, be appointed, and that they or any three of them be empowered to hear and finally determine upon appeals brought to Congress:

The members chosen, Mr. J[ohn] Adams, Mr. [Joseph] Jones, Mr. [Richard] Law, Mr. [Henry] Marchant and Mr. [Henry] Laurens, Congress resumed the consideration of the ninth article of confederation.

And it was moved,

"That the proportion of the public expence, incurred by the United States for their common defence and general welfare, to be paid by each State into the treasury, be ascertained by the value of all property except household goods and wearing apparel within each State, to be ascertained agreeable to the directions of Congress:" And the question being put, passed in the negative.¹

Another amendment was moved; and, after debate, the determination thereof, at the request of a State, was postponed till to morrow.

Journals of Congress

So it was resolved in the affirmative.¹

A memorial from William Buchanan, commissary general of purchases, was laid before Congress and read:²

Ordered, It be referred to the committee appointed to confer with Mr. Buchanan.

Resolved, That Mr. [Nathaniel] Folsom, Mr. [John] Penn, and Mr. [Henry] Laurens be added to the Marine Committee, in the room of the members from their respective states, heretofore appointed on the said committee.

Whereas, the British nation have received into their ports, and condemned in their courts of admiralty, as lawful prize, several vessels and their cargoes belonging to these states, which the masters and mariners, in breach of the trust and confidence reposed in them, have betrayed and delivered to the officers of the British crown: and whereas such contract is contrary to that good faith and honour which all men ought to preserve inviolate, and repugnant to the practice of the commercial and civilized nations of Europe:

Resolved, therefore, That any vessel or cargo, the property of any British subject, not an inhabitant of Bermuda or any of the Bahama islands, brought into any of the ports or harbours of any of these United States by the master or mariners, shall be adjudged lawful prize, and divided among the captors in the same proportion as if taken by any continental vessel of war.

October, 1777

Resolved, That Congress highly approve of the brave and spirited conduct of Commodore Hazlewood, and the other officers and men concerned in the defence of the river Delaware, and of their undaunted perseverance and resolution to maintain that pass to the city of Philadelphia to the utmost extremity.

Resolved, That four members be added to the Board of War:

The members chosen, Mr. [John] Harvie, Mr. [John] Witherspoon, Mr. [William] Williams, and Mr. [Joseph] Jones.

A letter, of this day, from Joseph Pennell, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.

The committee appointed to consider a motion made on the 15 for recruiting the army, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon, Congress came to the following resolutions:

Whereas, the deficiency of the several battalions, now in the service, has, in the present campaign, been attended with manifest disadvantages to the United States; and, whereas, the divided state of the enemy's troops, their reduced number, and distance from their ships of war, afford the most favourable opportunities for attacking and subduing them before reinforcements can be sent to their aid; which salutary purpose may, under Providence, be obtained by the vigorous exertions of the several states for speedily filling their respective battalions:

Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended to the said states, to use their utmost endeavours for immediately completing their several quotas, and to address their inhabitants on the advantages that will result therefrom:

That to the premium of 5 dollars offered by a resolution of Congress of the 31 July last, for apprehending and securing deserters from the continental army, an addition be made of 5 dollars for each deserter so apprehended and secured, and 12/90 parts of a dollar for each mile between the place in which he may be taken and to which he may be conveyed:¹

That the premium and other expences for apprehending deserters be stopped out of the pay which may be already due to such deserters respectively, or that shall become due to such of them as may receive a pardon:

That it be recommended to the Legislatures of the several states to provide by Law, that any person may apprehend and carry any Deserter from the Land or Sea Service of the united States before the nearest Justice of the peace who shall forthwith cause such Deserter to be conveyed to the nearest Continental officer of the Land or Sea Service, as the Case may be, or to the public Goal of the County. The Justice shall give a Certificate expressing the arrest of, and the Distance, such Deserter shall be brought, which Certificate shall entitle the Bearer to a reward of 8 Dollars for apprehending such Deserter and 12/90ths of a Dollar for every Mile therein expressed; that any person, who shall deliver the Deserter to the officer, Sheriff or Goal, shall receive the same Mileage; that the Reward and Mileage aforesaid shall be paid by the officer or sheriff, to whom such Deserter shall be delivered, that the Sheriff be reimbursed by his State, the Money by him paid, together with the expense of advertising such Deserter, and 1/5 of a Dollar per day for his Maintenance, to be charged to the united States; that the Sheriff shall immediately publish the Name of the Deserter and the Company, Regiment or Vessell, to which he belongs, or such of those circumstances as shall come to his Knowledge, in some one of the News Papers of his State, for four successive Weeks: That the Justice, before whom any Deserter shall be brought, shall immediately transmit an account thereof to the Secretary of the Continental Board of War, and to the Commanding Officer of such Deserter.

That it be recommended to the legislatures of the several states to provide by law for the more effectual detecting and punishing any person who shall knowingly harbour, conceal or assist any deserter from the land or sea service of these states, or who shall, knowingly, detain, buy, exchange or receive any horse, arms, accoutrements, or cloaths belonging to the United States, from any soldier, trooper, mariner, deserter, or any other person; and that the penalties for such offences be exemplary, and the mode of recovery easy and expeditious:¹

That copies of the above resolves, with duplicates of the resolution of Congress of the 31 of July last, be sent to the respective states, and that they be desired to publish such parts thereof as they shall judge necessary:

That General Washington be directed, forthwith, to order one or more of his officers, that are or may be appointed to receive recruits and deserters, agreeable to the resolution of the 31 of July last, to apply to the supreme executive authority of each respective State for the names of the recruiting officers and of the places of rendezvous, which the said executive authority were requested to appoint by the resolution aforesaid; and the said executive authority are requested to furnish such commissioned officer or officers with sufficient sums of money to pay the premiums, mileages, and subsistence of the recruits and deserters, which they may receive, agreeable to the said resolve; to draw on Congress for such advances; to call to account therefor, the officer or officers, and arrest such as shall refuse a compliance therewith; and the said officer or officers are respectively directed punctually to pay the premiums for each recruit and deserter as aforesaid; to take receipts therefor, and to adjust their respective accounts with the supreme executive authority aforesaid before they leave the State, and constantly to publish the names of the places of their residence and rendezvous as aforesaid:

Journals of Congress

That General Washington be directed to publish a proclamation, offering pardon to such as have deserted from the continental army, and shall, on or before such day as he shall think proper to fix in his proclamation, return to their respective corps, or surrender themselves to the officers appointed to receive recruits and deserters in the respective states, or to any other continental commissioned officer.¹

Some packets being brought from Martinico, and laid before Congress, directed to Willing, Morris, & Co. and Mr. Morris being absent, and there being strong reasons from the information of the messenger who brought the said packets, that they contained public despatches for Congress, or some of its committees:

Ordered, That the covers be opened.

The committee on the post office brought in a report.
Adjourned to 4 o’Clock.

Four o’Clock, p. m.

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the post office; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the post master general be authorized, during the present exigence, to appoint two additional surveyors of the post office, and that all the surveyors be allowed six dollars a day each, in full consideration of travelling expences, and all other allowances:

That the tour of the whole be as follows: one from Casco Bay to Philadelphia, or, during the enemy’s being in possession of that city, to Lancaster; one from Philadelphia or Lancaster, to Edenton, in North Carolina, and the third from Edenton to Savannah, in Georgia:

¹This report, in the writing of Elbridge Gerry, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 21, folio 135. The proclamation by Washington was issued October 24. See Writings of Washington (Ford), VI, 139n.
October, 1777

That an inspector of dead letters be appointed, with a salary of one hundred dollars a year: to examine all dead letters at the expiration of each quarter; to communicate to Congress such letters as contain inimical schemes or intelligence; to preserve carefully all money, loan office certificates, lottery tickets, notes of hand, and other valuable papers enclosed in any of them, and be accountable for them; and to keep a book containing an exact account of such papers, &c. so found, the date of the letters, from whence and by whom written, and to whom directed; that he be under oath faithfully and impartially to discharge the duties of his office; that he be enjoined to take no copy of any letter whatever, and not to divulge their contents to any but Congress, or those whom they may appoint for the purpose:

That the post go not out of his regular and usual course in order to pass by head quarters, but that the post masters on each side of head quarters, and nearest to them, have authority to hire expresses for the purpose of carrying letters for the army to the post office there:

That the rate of postage be increased fifty per centum above its present rate, as the present profits of the office fall far short of the expense created by it.

Resolved, That an allowance of 250 dollars be made to the present surveyor of the post office, for past extraordinary services.

Resolved, That 3,000 dollars be advanced to the Postmaster General for Post office expenses, he to be accountable. 1

Resolved, That the Committee of Intelligence be authorized to take the most speedy and effectual measures for getting a printing press erected in this town ||York town,|| for the purpose of conveying to the public, the intelligence that Congress may, from time to time, receive.

1This report, in the writing of Richard Henry Lee, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 61, folio 443.
Congress resumed the consideration of the report on the War Office, which was agreed to: Whereupon,

Resolved, That a Board of War be established by Congress, to consist of three persons not members of Congress:

That there shall be a secretary to the said Board, to be appointed by Congress:

That the Board shall recommend, for the approbation and appointment of Congress, as many clerks as shall be necessary for assisting them in the execution of the business of their department:

That the powers and duties of the said Board shall be as follows:

To obtain and keep an alphabetical and accurate register of the names of all officers in the land forces in the service of the United States, with their ranks and the dates of their commissions; to fill up all military commissions which shall be signed by the president of Congress, and countersigned by the secretary of the war office, and to publish annually a register of all appointments.

To obtain and keep regular and exact accounts of the numbers and disposition of the forces of the United States.

To obtain and keep exact accounts of all the artillery, arms, ammunition, warlike stores, clothing, medicines, and provisions, belonging to the United States, and of the manner in which, and the places where the same shall, from time to time, be lodged and employed.

To take the immediate care and direction of all such artillery, arms, ammunition, and warlike stores, as shall not be employed in actual service.

To superintend the building and management of laboratories, arsenals, foundries, magazines, barracks, and other public buildings, the necessity of which they are, from time to time, to report to Congress.

To forward all despatches from Congress to the states and armies, and all moneys ordered by Congress to be transmitted for the public service, and to provide guards for the safe conveyance of such despatches and moneys, whenever it shall appear to the board to be necessary.

To superintend the raising, recruiting, and despatching, of the land forces in the service of the United State.

To take the care and direction of prisoners of war.

To lay before Congress proper and seasonable estimates of such artillery, arms, ammunition, and warlike stores, cloathing and medicines, as shall, from time to time, be wanted for the service of the United States.

To execute all such matters as they shall be directed, and give their opinion on all such subjects as shall be referred to them by Congress; and, in general, to superintend the several branches of the military department; and if, at any time, they think a measure necessary for the public service, to which their powers are incompetent, they shall communicate the same to Congress, for their direction therein.

To keep fair entries of all the business transacted by them.

The said Board shall sit in the place where Congress shall be held, and no member of the Board shall absent himself without leave of Congress:

All the proceedings of the Board shall be inspected by Congress, or a committee by them appointed for that purpose, once a month, or oftener, as may be thought proper and convenient; and every member of Congress may have free access to the records of the said Board, and take copies thereof, excepting copies of returns of the armies, provisions, or military stores, which shall not be delivered to any member without the order of Congress.

Resolved, That all military and other officers attending upon or connected with the army of the United States, be, and they are hereby, required and enjoined to observe the directions of the said Board, in making and transmitting proper returns, and such other matters as may tend to facilitate the business of the said Board:

That it be recommended to each of the United States, to give the said Board all necessary assistance in the execution of the business of their department.

Resolved, That the salary of each of the three gentlemen who shall conduct the business of the Board of War, be two thousand dollars per annum.

Ordered, That to morrow be assigned for electing commissioners to audit and settle the accounts of Georgia against the United States.

||The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock to Morrow.||

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1777

A letter, of the 12th, from General Gates, at Saratoga, with sundry papers enclosed, was read:¹

Ordered, That the same be referred to the Committee of Intelligence.

Resolved, That all letters, returns and despatches relative to the public affairs of these United States, in the department of the Treasury Board, the Board of War, the Marine Committee, the Commercial Committee, the Committee of Foreign Affairs, and all other committees and departments, be, in future, directed to Congress or the president; any resolution of Congress to the contrary notwithstanding.

The Committee of Commerce laid before Congress a letter from Mr. Bingham, at Martinico, containing a copy of sundry resolutions passed by the assembly of the State of Georgia, 26 May last, and sundry other papers, which were read; Whereupon,

Congress, taking into consideration a resolve of the house of assembly of Georgia, of the 26 of May last, purporting, "that Captain de la Playne be empowered to engage two or three engineers of character, with some officers for the artillery service, and that there be delivered to him some blank continental commissions, which he may bestow on such officers as he shall think proper for recruiting men, both soldiers and sailors, which business, if completed, the officers and men shall be received into the continental battalions and service of that State; and that he do also receive cadets according to the usual custom of the army."

Resolved, That Congress highly disapprove of the continental commissions being sent abroad in the manner and for the use mentioned in the said resolve, as well as of the design to recruit soldiers for the continental service in foreign parts, without application to Congress, and permission from the princes and governments within whose dominions such recruits may be obtained.

Ordered, That this resolve be transmitted to the American commissioners at Paris, by the Committee for Foreign Affairs:

That a copy be sent to the State of Georgia.

Ordered, That the said letters and papers be referred to the Board of War.

A letter from William Shippen, director general, to the Medical Committee, was laid before Congress and read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

\\The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,\\

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock on Monday.
A letter, of the 16, from General Washington, at Wentz's tavern, enclosing a letter of the 8th, and one of the 13, from Jacob Duché; also, a letter of the 11, from Colonel David Mason, enclosing the judgment of a court martial on the trial of John More, a deserter, were read: 1

Ordered, That the judgment of the court martial be referred to the Board of War, and the letter from Colonel Mason to the Board of Treasury.

A letter, of the 16th, from the Rev. Mr. George Duffield, at Trenton, was read, wherein he declares his acceptance of the office of chaplain to Congress. 2

Congress proceeded to the election of one of the chaplains for the hospital in the middle department, and, the ballots being taken,

The Rev. Mr. Elihu Spencer was elected.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the governor and council of Maryland be informed that the artillery regiments in the service of the United States have suffered so much in the late engagements, that there are not a sufficient number to do the duty of artillery men in the army, and therefore that the government of that State be earnestly requested to order the companies of matrosses in the service of the State of Maryland to join the army immediately, and promising that the said companies shall be ordered to return whenever the government of that State shall require it.

Resolved, That the result of the court of enquiry into the expedition of Staten Island, so honourable to the character of General Sullivan, is highly pleasing to Congress, and that the opinion of the said court be published in justification of the injured character of that officer.\textsuperscript{1}

Resolved, That Brigadiers General Howe and M'Dougal, be promoted to the rank of Major General in the service of the United States.\textsuperscript{2}

Resolved, That Mr. William Massey be appointed deputy muster master general to the continental troops raised or to be raised in the States of South Carolina and Georgia.

Resolved, That those parts of Mr. President Rutledge’s letter of the 8 August, and the whole of that of the 11th September, to the delegates of South Carolina, relative to Indian affairs, be referred to the Committee on Indian Affairs:

Resolved, That General R. Howe’s letter of the 29 August last, relating to the general hospital in South Carolina, be referred to the Medical Committee.

Congress taking into consideration General Howe’s letter of the 4 September, 1777, to the speaker and assembly of the State of Georgia, and another of the 28 August to the president of Congress, in which he represents the danger of an Indian war, being provoked by the wantonness and indiscretion of several persons in that State;

Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended to the president and assembly of the State of Georgia, to use their utmost exertions to cultivate peace and harmony with the Indian nations; and to enable them to effect this salutary purpose, that they forthwith enact laws inflicting severe penalties on such of their inhabitants as

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee appointed to confer with the commissary general of purchases, on the measures adopted by him for obtaining the necessary supplies of provisions for the ensuing year, together with a letter from the said commissary to the Committee, and an estimate of the necessary quantities of the respective species of provisions &c., for the support of the army; and on a proposed alteration in the rations; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the commissary general of purchases be authorized and empowered to apply to the governor and council of safety of Connecticut, or to the board of war of the Massachusetts bay, or to empower the deputy commissary general of purchases for the eastern district, to import (or contract with persons who shall import and supply, on reasonable terms) a sufficient quantity of salt, for the army of the United States, in the middle district; that the masters of the vessels to be employed for this purpose, be severally directed to deliver their cargoes of salt at such ports in the middle or southern districts as the commissary general shall think most convenient, and that he order cargoes of flour or grain, on the arrival of these vessels at the ports aforesaid, to be provided and shipped in them for the army in the eastern district:

¹This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, V, folio 111.
And the said governor and council of safety and board of war are severally requested to assist the commissary in accomplishing these purposes, and to grant or procure permits for exporting cargoes to purchase the salt.

And, whereas, there is an immediate demand for the article aforesaid in the middle district:

Resolved, That the supreme executive authorities of the states of Massachusetts bay and Connecticut, be respectively requested to assist the commissary general of purchases in procuring waggons or teams for removing 12,000 bushels of salt from the eastern to the middle district, that the said commissary be directed to employ the waggons or teams procured in the Massachusetts bay, to remove the salt from thence to Connecticut; and those procured in the state last mentioned in removing the salt from thence to such places on the North River as he shall judge most convenient; and the said commissary general is directed to procure waggons or teams in the middle district, and load them with flour, to be delivered at the North River, and sent by the teams bringing the salt from Connecticut to the magazines of the army in that State; and that the waggons or teams from the middle district be employed to bring from the North River the salt to be deposited there as aforesaid:

That the commissary general of issues be directed to apply to General Washington for a certificate of the provisions allowed for each ration drawn by the army, previous to the appointment of himself to the office aforesaid, and to direct the several issuing commissaries under him to deliver provisions to the army agreeable to the said certificate, till the further order of Congress, any resolution of Congress to the contrary notwithstanding; and that the commissary general of issues transmit to Congress by the earliest opportunity, a copy of the certificate which he shall receive from General Washington.

Resolved, That the alteration proposed by the commissary general of purchases in the ration at present ordered by Congress to be issued to the army, be transmitted to General Washington, and that he be desired to communicate to Congress his sentiments on this subject as soon as possible.

That a Committee be appointed to enquire into the Conduct of Colonel Morgan, agent of Indian Affairs; that they correspond with General Hand and such other persons as they may think capable of giving them Information, relative thereto, and that in the Interim the Business of the Commissary’s Department be conducted, as heretofore, by Colonel Morgan.

Ordered, That the committee who brought in the foregoing report prepare a plan for establishing a board to superintend the departments of the commissaries and quarter master general.¹

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1777

Prayers.

A petition from Mons. le Brun, was read, praying that the president would grant him a certificate to verify the death of the late Mons. Charles Tronson du Coudray, brigadier, colonel, and adjutant general of artillery in France, born in Rheims, in the province of Champaigne, which happened the fifteenth day of September, 1777, and representing that such a certificate is necessary for his family, and that he would wish to have it triple, in order to send it to his brother by different ways:³ Whereupon,

Ordered, That the prayer of the petition be granted.

¹This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, I, folio 455.
²The memorial of Dorset is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 41, II, folio 424.
³This petition, dated October 22, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, II, folio 289.
Congress resumed the consideration of the 14 article of confederation, whereon it was moved to strike out the words "general officers" in the 24 line, and insert "all officers:" and to add after "United States," "excepting regimental officers." And on the question put, the same was agreed to.

It was then moved to strike out the next paragraph, and in the following paragraph, after the word "forces" to insert these words, "and commissioning all officers whatever." And on the question put, the same was agreed to.

The president having taken leave of Congress.

Resolved, That the secretary officiate as president until a new choice is made.

On motion, Ordered, That the secretary wait upon the president and request him to furnish the house with a copy of the speech with which he took leave of Congress.

Congress resumed the consideration of the 14 article of confederation, and after some time spent thereon.
Adjourned to 10 o'Clock to Morrow.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1777

Prayers.
The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be advanced to Stevens Thomson Mason, Esq; appointed deputy commissary for the prisoners of war in Virginia, two thousand dollars, for the maintenance of the said prisoners, and for which he is to be accountable; and that a copy of this order, signed by the secretary, be a sufficient voucher to the treasurer to pay this sum.¹

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the government of the State of Connecticut be requested to permit the workmen at Salisbury iron works to cast mortars for continental use of such calibres, and in such numbers, as shall be directed by Brigadier General Knox, and that he be informed of this resolution, and desired to write to Governor Trumbull on the subject:

That a letter be written by the Board of War to the government of the State of New York, representing, in the strongest terms, the great want of lead, the absolute necessity there is for providing seasonable resources of that article: that it be therefore earnestly recommended to the said government forthwith to take measures for having the lead mines in that State worked; and that, in case a sufficient number of labourers cannot be procured for that purpose, the commissary general of prisoners be directed to furnish a competent number of prisoners of war for that end.²

Resolved, That William Feltman, second lieutenant in Captain Weaver’s independent company, be advanced to the rank of first lieutenant:

That Ensign Bachenstone be promoted to the rank of second lieutenant; and

That Joseph Bank be appointed an ensign in the said company.³

¹ This report, in the writing of James Duane, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, I, folio 425.
² These paragraphs were in two reports of the Board, dated October 28 and 29, in Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folios 375 and 377.
³ These promotions were made on a report from the Board of War, dated October 24, in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 373. The report had the following note: “An Officer is Waiting in Town for the Confirmation of the above promotions, by Congress, and for the Commissions.”
Congress resumed the consideration of the 14 article of confederation, whereon it was moved in the 2d l. 4 p. to strike out "council of state, and such" and insert "a committee to sit in the recess of Congress, to consist of one delegate from each State, and to appoint such other," and then to strike out what follows "direction" to the end of the paragraph, and on the question put,
Resolved in the affirmative.
A motion was then made [on] the first part of the next paragraph, when, at the desire of a State, the consideration thereof was postponed.
It was then moved to strike out "and a suitable person for a secretary," ||and read "to appoint one of their number to preside:"|| and after the word "year" in the 8 line to insert, "so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months."
In the 9 line to strike out "agree on and fix" and assert "ascertain," and after "sums" to strike out "and expenses," and insert, "of money to be raised for the service of the United States, and to appropriate and apply the same for defraying the public expenses:"
In the 11 line after "States" to add, "transmitting every half year to the respective states an account of the money so borrowed or omitted."
In the 16 line after "and," to insert "cloath."
In the 17 l. after "manner," to insert "at the expence of the united states."
In the 18 l. after "so," to insert "cloathed."
In the 27 l. after "officered," to insert "cloathed."
In the 32 l. before "arm," to insert "cloath."
In the 34 l. before "armed," to insert "cloathed."
In the 39 l. to strike out "except for peace."
And the questions being severally put thereon,
Resolved in the affirmative.

1Some words necessary to clearness were omitted by Thomson.
It was then moved after "same" in the 47 l. to insert "provided that the nine states so assenting shall comprehend a majority of the people of the united states excluding negroes and indians, for which purpose a true account of the number of free people in each State shall be triennially taken and transmitted to the assembly of the united states." FRIDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1777

Prayers.

A letter, of the 18 October, from General Gates, with the copy of the convention at Saratoga, whereby General Burgoyne surrenders himself and his whole army; and another, of the 20th, enclosing the copy of a letter from him to Major General John Vaughan, were read:¹

Ordered, That the letters from General Gates, with the papers enclosed, be referred to the Board of War, and that the Committee of Intelligence publish the convention.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to prepare a recommendation to the several states, to set apart a day of thanksgiving, for the signal success, lately obtained over the enemies of these United States:

The members chosen, Mr. S[amuel] Adams, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, and Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau.

A letter from Robert Towers, to Mr. Roberdeau, was laid before Congress and read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

Ordered, That Colonel Wilkinson, who brought the despatches from General Gates, be directed to attend [Congress]:

Colonel Wilkinson attending, was admitted, and having informed Congress that he had sundry papers to lay before Congress as soon as he could have time to digest and arrange them, and having answers to sundry questions relative to the situation of our army, and those of the enemy, before, at the time of, and since the capitulation of General Burgoyne, he withdrew.

Ordered, That an express be immediately despatched to General Washington, with a copy of General Gates's letter to Congress, and the enclosed capitulation.

Adjourned to 4 o'Clock.

¹The letter of the 18th is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 154, I, folio 278.
The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Ordered, That there be paid to William Buchanan, Esq; commissary general of purchases, one hundred thousand dollars, for the use of his department, and for which he is to be accountable; and that a copy of this order, certified by the secretary and passed at the Treasury Board, be a sufficient voucher for the payment of the said money.¹

Ordered, That the speech with which Mr. [John] Hancock took leave of Congress, be entered on the journal, which is as follows:

Gentlemen: Friday last compleated two years and five months since you did me the honour of electing me to fill this chair. As I could never flatter myself your choice proceeded from any idea of my abilities, but rather from a partial opinion of my attachment to the liberties of America, I felt myself under the strongest obligations to discharge the duties of the office, and I accepted the appointment with the firmest resolution to go through the business annexed to it in the best manner I was able. Every argument conspired to make me exert myself, and I endeavoured, by industry and attention, to make up for every other deficiency.

As to my conduct, both in and out of Congress, in the execution of your business, it is improper for me to say any thing. You are the best judges. But I think I shall be forgiven if I say I have spared no pains, expence, or labour, to gratify your wishes, and to accomplish the views of Congress.

My health being much impaired, I find some relaxation absolutely necessary, after such constant application; I must therefore request your indulgence for leave of absence for two months.

But I cannot take my departure, gentlemen, without expressing my thanks for the civility and politeness I have experienced from you. It is impossible to mention this without a heartfelt pleasure.

If, in the course of so long a period as I have had the honour to fill this chair, any expressions may have dropped from me that may have given the least offence to any member, as it was not intentional, so I hope his candor will pass it over.

May every happiness, gentlemen, attend you, both as members of this house and as individuals; and I pray heaven, that unanimity and perseverance may go hand in hand in this house; and that every thing which may tend to distract or divide your councils be forever banished.

It was then moved, that the thanks of Congress be presented to John Hancock, Esq; for the unremitted attention and steady impartiality which he has manifested in discharge of the various duties of his office, as president, since his election to the chair on the 24th day of May, 1775.

After debate it was moved, that the consideration of this motion be postponed, till the sense of Congress be taken on a general proposition, and on the question put,

Resolved in the affirmative.

It was then moved to resolve, as the opinion of this Congress, that it is improper to thank any president for the discharge of the duties of that office;

And the yeas and nays being required:

Mr. [William] Clingen, a delegate from Pennsylvania, attended and took his seat.

Congress proceeded to the choice of a president; and, the ballots being taken,

The Hon\(^{\text{te}}\) Henry Laurens was elected.\(^{1}\)

The committee appointed to prepare a recommendation to these states, to set apart a day of thanksgiving, brought in a report; which was agreed to as follows:

Forasmuch as it is the indispensable duty of all men to adore the superintending providence of Almighty God; to acknowledge with gratitude their obligation to him for benefits received, and to implore such farther blessings as they stand in need of; and it having pleased him in his abundant mercy not only to continue to us the innumerable bounties of his common providence, but also to smile upon us in the prosecution of a just and necessary war, for the defence and establishment of our unalienable rights and liberties; particularly in that he hath been pleased in so great a measure to prosper the means used for the support of our troops and to crown our arms with most signal success: It is therefore recommended to the legislative or executive powers of these United States, to set apart Thursday, the eighteenth day of December next, for solemn thanksgiving and praise; that with one heart and one voice the good people may express the grateful feelings of their hearts, and consecrate themselves to the service of their divine benefactor; and that together with their sincere acknowledgments and offerings, they may join the penitent confession of their manifold sins, whereby they had forfeited every favour, and their humble and earnest suppliance that it may please God, through the merits of Jesus Christ, mercifully to forgive and blot them out of remembrance; that it may please him graciously to afford his blessing on the governments of these states respectively, and prosper the public council of the whole; to inspire our commanders both by land and sea, and all under them, with that wisdom and fortitude which may render them fit instruments, under the providence of Almighty God, to secure for these United States the greatest of all human blessings, independence and peace; that it may please him to prosper the trade and manufactures of the people and the labour of the husbandman, that our land may yet yield its increase; to take schools and seminaries of education, so necessary for cultivating the principles of true liberty, virtue and piety, under his nurturing hand, and to prosper the means of religion for the promotion and enlargement of that kingdom which consisteth "in righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost."

And it is further recommended, that servile labour, and such recreation as, though at other times innocent, may be unbecoming the purpose of this appointment, be omitted on so solemn an occasion.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1777

Prayers.

A letter, of the 24 October, from R. Bache; one, of the 20th of the same month, from Governor Trumbull, enclosing a resolution passed in the house of assembly of Connecticut, 11 of the same month; one, of the 25 of the same month, from General Sullivan, with sundry papers enclosed, were read:¹

Ordered, That the president return an answer to Major General Sullivan, and enclose him a copy of the resolution passed the 20th October last:²

That the letter from Governor Trumbull, with the papers enclosed, be referred to the committee appointed to confer with the commissary general of purchases, and that they be directed to confer farther with the commissary general on the subject, and bring in a report this afternoon:

That the letter from Mr. Bache be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Ordered, That Colonel Wilkinson be admitted to lay before Congress ||this afternoon|| sundry papers relative to the affairs in the northern department.

Adjourned to 4 o’Clock.

FOUR O’CLOCK, P. M.

According to order, Colonel Wilkinson attended and delivered a message from General Gates, in the words following:

I have it in charge from Major General Gates to represent to the honble the Congress, that Lieutenant General Burgoyne, at the time he capitulated, was strongly entrenched on a formidable post, with twelve days' provision; that the reduction of Fort Montgomery, and the enemy's consequent progress up the Hudson's river, endangered our arsenal at Albany, a reflection which left General Gates no time to contest the capitulation with Lieutenant General Burgoyne, but induced the necessity of immediately closing with his proposals, hazarding a disadvantageous attack, or retiring from his position for the security of our magazine; this delicate situation abridged our conquests, and procured Lieutenant General Burgoyne the terms he enjoys. Had our attack been carried against Lieutenant General Burgoyne, the dismemberment of our army must necessarily have been such as would have incapacitated it from further action. With an army in health, vigour, and spirits, Major General Gates now waits the commands of the hon'ble Congress. 1

He then laid before Congress sundry original papers, relative to the convention, which were read, viz.

No. 1. A message from Lieutenant General Burgoyne to Major General Gates, with General Gates's answer, the 13 October, 1777:

2. A message from Lieutenant General Burgoyne to Major General Gates, October 14, 1777:

3. Another message accompanying the former:

4. General Gates's proposals to General Burgoyne, with General Burgoyne's answer:

5. A message from General Burgoyne to General Gates:

6. General Burgoyne's proposals, and General Gates's answer:

7. Message from General Burgoyne to General Gates, October 15:

8. Another message from General Burgoyne to General Gates, October 16:

9. Message from General Gates to General Burgoyne:

10. Return of General Burgoyne's army, which surrendered:

11. Return of ordnance, &c. taken and surrendered:
12. Articles of convention:
13. General Gates' explanation to include General Burgoyne in the convention:¹

After which Colonel Wilkinson withdrew.

The committee to whom was referred the letter from Governor Trumbull, with the enclosed resolution of the general assembly of Connecticut, brought in a report, which was read and considered; Whereupon,

Resolved, That a copy of the resolutions of Congress of the 4th of October last, relative to the department of the purchasing and issuing commissaries, be forthwith transmitted by express to the governor and council of safety of Connecticut, who are authorized and requested to appoint a deputy commissary general of purchases, and a deputy commissary general of issues for the eastern district, provided the appointments of Congress to the respective offices aforesaid are not accepted, and General Putnam has not made such appointments, agreeable to the powers given him by the resolution last mentioned, or that the officers so appointed should appear to the said governor and council incompetent to the business:

That a copy of the preceding resolution be transmitted by the express aforesaid to Major General Putnam, who is directed to inform his excellency Governor Trumbull of his conduct relative to the premises, and to direct the officers who may have accepted the appointments aforesaid, forthwith to apply to the governor and council of safety for instructions, and that General Putnam cease to proceed further in the business aforesaid:

¹Some of these papers, in the writing of Charles Thomson, are in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 57, folio 96. A list of twelve of the papers, and some notes evidently of Wilkinson's testimony, in the writing of Charles Thomson, is in No. 59, II, folio 69.
November, 1777

That a duplicate warrant for two hundred thousand dollars, on the loan office of the State of New York, be issued by the president in favour of William Buchanan, Esq; commissary general of purchases, to serve, in case a warrant of the 10th of October last, drawn for the same sum in favour of him on the loan office aforesaid, by the hon. John Hancock, Esq; late president of Congress, in pursuance of a resolve of Congress of the said 10 day of October, should have miscarried; and that the commissary general of purchases be directed to transmit the same to the governor and council of Connecticut for the deputy commissary general of purchases of the eastern district:

That the governor and council aforesaid be requested to afford such assistance to the officers in the purchasing and issuing departments of the eastern district, as shall be requisite for obtaining the necessary supplies of provisions for the army, and furnishing them therewith, and that they be farther requested to advance such supplies of money as may be immediately wanted by the deputy commissary general of purchases aforesaid, and take his order therefor on the commissary general of purchases.¹

A motion being made for directing the future operations of General Gates:

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of three:
The members chosen, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, Mr. J[ohn] Adams and Mr. [Elbridge] Gerry.

||The several matters to this day referred, being postponed,||

Adjourned to 10 o'Clock to Morrow.

¹This report, in the writing of Elbridge Gerry, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 20, I, folio 263.
The Marine Committee brought in a report, which was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury. The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon, Ordered, That a warrant issue in favour of Thomas White, for five hundred dollars, in discharge of John Ashe, provincial treasurer of North Carolina, his following drafts on the continental treasurer, in favour of the said T. White, expressed for the service of the United States, for which sum the said State is to be accountable, and is to be considered as part of the five hundred thousand dollars heretofore appropriated for the use of the said State, viz. one dated 9 May, for 100 dollars, one, dated 10 May, for 100 dollars, and one dated 11 May, for 300 dollars.

Ordered, That a warrant issue in favour of Robert Morris, Esq', for the sum of 12,221 ½ dollars, being for the payment of ninety-five barrels of powder and one hundred muskets purchased of him by the order of the Board of War and Ordnance:

The proceedings of a general court martial, held at the German Flats, August 20, 1777, by order of Major General Arnold, on the trial of Walter Butler, an ensign in the king's or 8th regiment, being transmitted to Congress:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

The committee to whom was referred the motion for directing the future operations of the army under the command of General Gates, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; and, after debate,

Resolved, That General Gates be directed to make a proper disposition of the army under his command for reducing forthwith the posts of the enemy on the North or Hudson's River, keeping in mind the importance of regaining the possession of Ticonderoga and Mount Independence, at such time as he shall judge most convenient.

Resolved, That it be re-committed, and that Mr. [William] Duer be added to the committee.

A letter, of the 3d, from the president of the council of Pennsylvania, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

The Marine Committee reported, "that they have received a letter from the navy board at Bordentown, dated the 27 October last, informing them of orders given by General Washington to scuttle the frigates in the river Delaware, in order to prevent their falling into the hands of the enemy, and that having taken the same into consideration, they are of opinion, that the frigates should be lightened as much as possible, and either run into some adjacent creek or hauled as high upon shore as may be without ballast, and a battery constructed with the guns of the Washington on the most convenient ground, to cover the frigates from the enemy; that the frigates should be charged properly with combustibles, and a careful watch employed under a vigilant officer to

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1777

A letter from Monsieur de la Balme, was read:¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.
The Board of War brought in a report, which was read:

Ordered, That the consideration thereof be postponed.
The committee to whom was re-committed the report for directing the future operations of the army under the command of General Gates, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon, ¹This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, VII, folio 143.

Resolved, That General Washington be informed that it is the earnest wish of Congress to regain the possession of the forts and passes of the North or Hudson’s river, and to secure the communication thereof; and for that purpose, that General Gates should remain in command in that quarter; and that General Putnam be called upon to join the main army with such a detachment from the army under the command of General Gates, as General Washington may think can be spared, not exceeding the number of two thousand five hundred men, including Colonel Morgan’s corps:

That a copy of the foregoing resolution be sent to General Gates, and that he be directed to make a proper disposition of the army under his command for reducing, forthwith, the posts of the enemy on the North river, and that he order such of the continental troops and militia, in the service of the United States, as are posted on or near the said river, to join him for the services aforesaid:

That General Gates be empowered to apply to the respective states of Massachusetts bay, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey, for such a number of their militia as he shall judge necessary to maintain the posts which he shall order to be taken on the said river, to the end that his army may be in readiness to pursue such operations as Congress shall direct; and that the said militia be enrolled to serve until the fifteenth day of March next, unless sooner discharged by Congress or the commander in chief:

That General Washington be directed to order one or more able engineers to the North river, to attend the army under the command of General Gates:

That General Gates be empowered to order such a number of gallies, gunboats, fire-rafts, chains, cassoons, and chevaux-de-frize to be provided, and such fortifications to be erected, for obstructing and keeping possession of the North River, as he shall judge necessary:

That the governor and council of the State of New York be furnished with a copy of these resolutions, and requested to appoint a committee of three active and judicious persons, to assist General Gates in obtaining such artificers and materials for accomplishing these purposes as he shall direct; and the said committee are empowered to apply to the several states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts bay, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York and New Jersey, for their assistance, who are requested to afford the same by furnishing the said committee with such artificers and materials as they, by direction of General Gates, shall apply for; and the said states are respectively requested to furnish such a number of men as General Gates shall require, to accomplish the important and salutary purpose of maintaining the communication between the northern and southern states, by keeping possession of the North river:

That General Gates be authorized and directed to apply to the State of New York, and the states eastward of North River, for such aids as he shall judge necessary for the reduction of Ticonderoga and Fort Independence, if not reduced by General Stark, at such time as he shall deem best adapted for that expedition; and that the said states be requested to supply General Gates with such a number of their militia as he shall judge necessary for the purposes intended:

That General Gates be directed to take effectual care that the fortifications which shall be erected on the North river be not too extensive, and that each be completed with a well, magazines, barracks, bomb-casements, &c. sufficient for a determined defence:

That if General Washington, after consulting with General Gates and Governor G. Clinton, shall be of opinion, that a reinforcement exceeding the number above-mentioned can be detached to the main army, consistent with the attainment of the objects specified in the preceding resolutions, in such case he be directed to order such further reinforcements to the main army as may be thought conducive to the general welfare, any thing in the preceding resolutions to the contrary notwithstanding.

In debating the last resolution, it was moved after "directed" to insert "with their concurrence;" and the yeas and nays being required:

Resolved, That Jacob Rush, be appointed deputy secretary.

On motion, Resolved, That Mr. John Eustace, who has served with honour, fidelity and bravery as aid-de-camp to General Lee and General Sullivan, have the commission of a major, in the service of the United States.

Resolved, That to morrow be assigned for electing a quarter master general in the room of General Mifflin.

The Board of Treasury, to whom was recommitted their report of the 6th, reported, "That agreeable to the order of Congress, referring to the Board the claims of Mons. le Brun and the other French gentlemen who accompanied the late Mons. du Coudray from France in consequence of an agreement with Mr. Deane, they have been attended by Mons. le Brun, who is agent for the other gentlemen:

That the Board offered Mons. le Brun to report it as their opinion, and which they had reason to believe would be agreeable to Congress, notwithstanding they had declared that the United States were not bound by Mr. Deane's convention, that Mons. le Brun and all the other gentlemen whom he represents should be received into the service of the United States and enjoy the several ranks and employments which had been stipulated for them by Mr. Deane, and the same pay and appointments which were allowed to other officers of similar ranks and employments in the American army, explaining, at the same time, the mischief which must arise from partial distinctions in the appointments of the officers of the army; that they had made the same propositions and remarks with respect to him and the gentlemen whom he represents, to Mons' du Coudray, in his life time, which they presume had been communicated; that Mons' le

"In margin is written the word "brevet."
Brun, in answer to this proposal, declared that he, and the gentlemen whom he represented, were determined to return to France as soon as possible, and presented a paper setting forth their claims against the United States, which, with the account referred to them by Congress, the Board took into consideration:

That Congress, on the 13th day of October last, did pass the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the commissioned and non-commissioned officers who have accompanied Mons’ du Coudray from France, have the ranks proposed for them in France, together with the pay and emoluments of officers of equal ranks in the service of the United States:"

That it appears from a memorial presented to Congress by Mons’ du Coudray, that he received, at Havre-de-Grace, in France, from Mr. Montieu, by order of Mr. Deane, twenty-six thousand five hundred and forty-one livres, as well for himself as the officers who accompanied him; which sum was intended to have been applied to defray the expence of their voyage to America, and of furnishing themselves with necessary camp equipage on their arrival, and for which the committee agreed to make no charge against them. On these principles the Board submit to Congress the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this committee, that the return of the said gentlemen to France, at their own request, be facilitated, and that it will be doing full justice to allow them continental pay according to their respective stations, from the time of their agreement with Mr. Deane, to the first day of November, 1777, their expences in travelling to the eastward or southward for embarkation for Europe, and a farther sum in bills of exchange for their passages to France and travelling charges to Paris; that the bills be drawn in their favour, by the president, on the commissioners in France, at thirty days’ sight, and that these allowances shall be in full satisfaction of their several claims against the United States; and the committee having made an estimate of the allowances according to this resolution, submit the same, in manner according:

12 sergeants of artillery, 1,625 do.

15,625½  2,800  25,200

1 In a list of names submitted by Du Condroy in September the following difference in spelling is noted: Fontpeyde, Rivau, Cauyette, Boischard.
Of which they have been paid 11,421 dollars, so that there remains a balance of pay 4,201 2/3 dollars, for travelling expenses 2,800 dollars, and for taking a draught at Marcus Hook 219 dollars, amounting in the whole to 7,220 2/3 dollars.

The said report being read,

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report and resolution of the Board of Treasury, and that the said balance of seven thousand two hundred and twenty dollars and two thirds of a dollar be paid, and the bills drawn ||for 25,200 livres|| accordingly.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a farther report, which was read; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the provision made for Mons' le Brun, and the officers who accompanied him from France, be extended to Mr. le Balme, who has resigned his commission as inspector general of horse in the service of the United States, and intends to return to Paris, and that there be paid to the said Mons' le Balme the balance of his pay 167 45/90 dollars, and also one hundred dollars for his travelling expenses to Boston or Charlestown, and a further sum of 900 livres, in bills of exchange, for his passage to France, and travelling charges to Paris, and that the bills be drawn in his favour on the commissioners in France, at thirty days' sight, and that these allowances shall be in full satisfaction of his claims against the United States.¹

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee brought in this morning: Whereupon,

Resolved, That Major General Heath be directed forthwith, to cause to be taken down the name and rank of every commissioned officer, and the name, former place of abode, occupation, size, age, and description of every non-commissioned officer and private soldier, and all other persons comprehended in the convention made between Lieutenant General Burgoyne and Major General Gates, on the 16 day of October, 1777, and transmit an authentic copy thereof to the Board of War, in order that if any officer, soldier, or other person, as above mentioned, of the said army, shall hereafter be found in arms against these states in North America during the present contest, he may be convicted of the offence, and suffer the punishment in such case inflicted by the law of nations:

That Major General Heath be directed to take the parole in writing of the officers according to the convention, and transmit authenticated copies of such paroles to the Board of War.

Ordered, That the committee have leave to sit again.

A memorial from sundry officers of the Pennsylvania troops was read: ¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

Resolved, That General Mifflin be desired, notwithstanding his resignation of quarter master general is accepted, to continue in the exercise of that office, and that he be invested with full powers to act until another quarter master general is appointed and enters upon the duties of the office. ²

The Committee on Foreign Applications reported a memorial and proposal of Mons' Fouquet and son, to continue in the service of the Continent:

Ordered, That they be referred to the Board of War, and that they be empowered to enter into a contract with Mons' Fouquet and son, and engage them in the service of the United States.

and one, of the 10th inst. from William Buchanan, Esq'r, commissary general of purchases, were read:¹

Ordered, That the letter from Governor Clinton be referred to the Board of War; and that the letters of the 30 and 31 October, from General Gates, the letters from Mr. Buchanan, and the memorial from Mons' le Brun, be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Sundry depositions relative to the conduct of one Lieutenant Reynolds, of the additional regiments, were read:

Ordered, That the same be referred to General Washington, and that he be directed to cause strict enquiry to be made into the conduct of Lieutenant Reynolds, as set forth in the said depositions, that if found guilty he may be punished as his crimes deserve.

Congress took into consideration a report of the Board of War of the 6th; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Committee of Foreign Affairs be directed to write to the commissioners of the United States, in France and Spain, to purchase and ship, on continental account, in armed vessels, in addition to what has been heretofore ordered by Congress, fifty thousand blankets of a proper sort for soldiers five hundred tons of lead, four hundred tons of powder, one million gun-flints, tents for fifty thousand men, and ten thousand yards of flannel for cartridges, to be sent to such ports or places as the said committee shall direct; and that the former orders of Congress, and the commercial committee for cloathing, fire-arms, equipage, brass field-pieces, salt, and other articles, and for 130,000 blankets, be compleated as soon as may be:²

²This report, dated November 6 and in the writing of Richard Peters, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 883. The members of the Board present were: Francis Lightfoot Lee, William Duer, John Harvie, Joseph Jones, and William Williams. The report called for "all the Blankets they can possibly procure in any Part of Europe."
That the committee be also directed to write to the commissioners, and instruct them to contract with, and send over, by different conveyances, two or three persons, well acquainted with the making of gun-flints, in order to instruct persons in that business, and introduce into these states so useful a manufacture; [likewise, three or more proper persons, skilful in working lead mines and refining lead ore, and three or more persons, skilful in the discovery of sulphur mines, and manufacturing and refining sulphur.]

Ordered, That the Commercial Committee, and the Committee of Foreign Affairs, immediately report to Congress what orders they have transmitted to the commissioners of the United States, in France and Spain, for military supplies, designating what have arrived, and such as they are informed have been taken by the enemy, or have miscarried.

Resolved, That General Gates be authorized to order the deputy pay master general to pay, upon the certificates of such officers as he shall think proper, the sums due to the officers and soldiers of the army, under his command, for rations or parts of rations, allowed to, but not drawn by them, respectively, provided the regulations of the commissary's department, relative to the payment of rations as aforesaid, be no longer dispensed with than General Gates shall judge it necessary.

Ordered, That to-morrow be assigned for appointing a deputy commissary general of purchases and a deputy commissary of issues in the western department.

Adjourned to 4 o'Clock.

new articles proper to be added to, or included in, the confederation, brought in a report which was read:

The Committee appointed to take into Consideration new articles proper to be added or included in the Confederation, beg leave to

Agreed

1. That Freedom of Speech and Debate in Congeress Shall not be impeached or questioned in any Court or Place out of Congress.

2. That the United States in Congress Assembled, shall have Power to censure and to fine any of their Members, the better to enforce Obedience to the Rules and Orders of the House.\footnote{This paragraph was struck out in Congress.}

3. That if any Person charged or Suspected of any Crime committed in any State Shall flee or escape into another, upon Application of the Governor or Chief Justice of the former State to the Governor or Chief Justice of the \textit{latter}, the said charged or Suspected Person shall be sent back for Tryal according to the \textbf{Laws} of the State he fled from.\footnote{This paragraph was struck out in Congress.}

4. That full Faith and Credit shall be given in each of these States to the Records, Acts, and Judicial Proceedings of the Courts and Magistrates of every other State, and that an Action of Debt may lie in the Court of Law in any State for the Recovery of a Debt due on Judgment of any Court in any other State; provided the Judgment Creditor gives sufficient Bond with Sureties before Said Court before whom Action is brought to respond in Damages to the Adverse Party in Case the original Judgment Should be afterwards reversed and Set aside.\footnote{These last three words struck out, and "where the Crime shall have been committted" inserted by Duane. The paragraph was struck out in Congress.}

\footnote{"Consideration" was substituted for "that Purpose" by Duane.}

\footnote{"Person" substituted by Duane and "Person" after "suspected" struck out.}

\footnote{To this point the report is in the writing of Richard Law. Some verbal changes were introduced by Duane, and the paragraph then read as follows: "and that an Action of Debt may lie in a Court of Law of any State for the Recovery of a Debt due on a Judgment of any Court in any other State, provided the Judgment Creditor shall give Bond with sufficient Sureties before said Court, in which the said Action shall be brought to Answer in Damages to the Adverse Party, in case the original Judgment should be afterwards reversed and set aside." The paragraph beginning with the words "and that an Action, &c.," was struck out in Congress.}
5. And for the more certain preservation of friendship and mutual intercourse between the people of the different States in this Union, the Citizens of every State, going to reside in another State, shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of the natural born free Citizens of the State to which they go to reside; and the people of each State shall have free egress and regress for their persons and property to and from every other State, without hindrance, molestation or imposition of any kind. Provided, that if Merchandise of any sort be imported for purposes of traffic within any State, that the person so importing shall be liable to the same imposts and duties as the people of the State are by law liable to where such importations are made, and none other. And provided also that the benefit of this Article shall extend to the property of the United States, and of any particular State, in the same manner as to the property of an Individual in any State.

And the better to secure and perpetuate mutual Friendship and Intercourse between the People of the different States in this Union, the free Inhabitants of each of these States, Paupers Vagabonds and fugitives excepted, shall be entitled to all Privileges and Immunities of free Citizens in all and every of said the respective States (saving to the Inhabitants of the respective States the Admission of their own Inhabitants and the Sole Management of their own municipal Affairs). And the People of each State shall have free Ingress and Egress for their Persons and Property to and from every other State, to trade and traffic, without any Hindrance or Imposition of any Kind whatsoever, provided that if any Merchandise or Commodity be imported into any State for the purpose of Traffic therein, the Person so importing shall be liable to the same Imposts and Duties as the People of the State are by Law liable to where such Importations are made and none other, provided also that the Benefit of this Article shall Extend to the property of the United States and of any particular State in the same Manner as to the property of an Individual.

1 "Recommitted from +", Henry Laurens.
2 This paragraph is in the writing of Richard Henry Lee.

Second form.

5. And [the better to secure and perpetuate mutual]¹ friendship and intercourse between the people of the different States in this Union, the Inhabitants of every State [Paupers Vagabonds and fugitives from Justice excepted]² going to reside in another State shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges of the natural born free Citizens of the State to which they go to reside: And the people of each State shall have free [Ingress and Egress]³ for their persons and property to and from every other state without hinderance, or imposition of any kind, Provided that if Merchandize be imported [into any State]⁴ for purpose of traffick therein, the person so importing shall be liable to the same imposts and duties as the people of the State are by law liable to where such importations are made, and none other, And provided also that the benefit of this article shall extend to the property of the United States, and of any particular State, in the same manner as to the property of an Individual.⁵

6. That all Bills of Credit emitted, Monies borrowed, and Debts Contracted, by or under, the Authority of Congress, before the Assembly of the United States in pursuance of the present Confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a Charge against the United States; for Payment and Satisfaction whereof the said States, and the publick Faith, are hereby Solemnly pledged.

¹Inserted by James Duane.
²Inserted by Richard Law.
³The paragraph was struck out in Congress.
7th. That all Controversies concerning the private Right of Soil claimed under different Grants of two or more States, whose Jurisdictions as it respects such Lands, and the States from whence the Grants in Question issued, are adjusted, the Title [on either part] of one of the Parties, being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such Settlement of Jurisdiction, shall on [the last Resort] the Petition of either party to Congress be finally determined [on an Appeal to Congress] in the same manner as near as may be which is before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial Jurisdiction between different States.¹

7. That all controversies concerning the private Right of Soil claimed under different Grants of two or more States whose Jurisdictions, as they may [affect] respect such Lands and the States which passed such grants are adjusted; being at the same time claimed to have Originated antecedent to such Settlement of Jurisdiction, shall on the Petition of either party to Congress be finally determined in the Same manner, as near as may be, which is before prescribed for deciding Disputes respecting territorial Jurisdiction between different States.²

Ordered, That it be taken into consideration to morrow morning.

Congress proceeded to the election of a deputy commissary general of issues, for supplying the forts and posts on the western frontiers of Pennsylvania and Virginia, and the ballots being taken,

John Erwing was elected.

The president laid before Congress a copy of a resolution passed in Congress on 18 September last, ordering commissions to be granted to a number of officers in the department of the commissary general of military stores, which was delivered to him by Colonel Flower, C. G. M. S. together with the list of the officers, who, notwithstanding the foregoing resolution, have not yet received their commissions;

A letter, of the 8, from General Washington, at White Marsh, enclosing a copy of a letter from General Dickinson; one, of the 31 October, from General Heath; also, a letter of the 30th October, from Ebenezer Hancock; and one, of the 16 October, from J. Bradford; were read:¹

Ordered, That the letters from General Washington and Mr. E. Hancock be referred to the Board of Treasury; and that the letter from J. Bradford be referred to the Committee of Commerce.

Resolved, That a copy of General Heath’s letter of the 31 day of October be transmitted to the general assembly of the State of Massachusetts bay, who are requested to afford Samuel Allen Otis, Esq:’ agent of the cloathier general in the said State, the necessary assistance for procuring the cloathing mentioned in the said letter, and for having it made up for the army, who are in great want thereof.

An order drawn on John Hancock, Esq:’ president of Congress, by George Morgan, in favour of Sampson Matthews, dated October 1, 1777, was laid before Congress.

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury. Congress took into consideration the new articles proposed to be added to the confederation; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the following be included:

Freedom of speech and debate in Congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of Congress:

¹The letter of Washington is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, V, folio 181. That of Heath is in No. 157, folio 21; that of Hancock, in No. 78, XI, folio 240; and that of Bradford, in No. 78, II, folio 297.
The members of Congress shall be protected in their persons from arrests and imprisonments during the time of their going to, and from, and attendance on, Congress, except for treason, felony or breach of the peace.
Adjourned to 4 o'Clock.

FOUR O'CLOCK, P. M.

The Board of Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That Jonathan Trumbull, Esq' transmit to Congress a certificate from Mr. Cuyler, deputy commissary general of purchases for the northern district, specifying the sum supplied the latter from the military chest, and that the Board of Treasury be authorized thereupon to credit Mr. Trumbull for the said sum, and charge it to the commissary general of purchases.¹

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Nathaniel Appleton, Esq' commissioner of the continental loan office of the State of Massachusetts bay, in favour of Dr. William Shippen, director general of the hospitals, for sixty-seven thousand dollars, for the use of his department, and for which he is to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Nathaniel Appleton, commissioner of the continental loan office of the State of Massachusetts bay, in favour of William Buchanan, commissary general of purchases, for two hundred thousand dollars for the use of the eastern department; and that one other warrant issue on the continental treasurer in favour of the Board of War for two hundred thousand dol-ars, to be by them transmitted to the deputy commissary general of purchases for the northern department; that one other warrant issue in favour of the Board of War, on the continental treasurer, for two hundred thousand dollars, to be by them transmitted to the deputy commissary general of purchases for the southern department; for which three sums, amounting to 600,000 dollars, William Buchanan, Esq' commissary general of purchases, is to be accountable.¹

Congress resumed the consideration of the articles reported by the committee as proper to be included in the confederation;

And upon the question put, the following were adopted:

If any person guilty of, or charged with treason, felony, or other high misdemeanor in any State, shall flee from justice, and be found in any of the United States, he shall, upon demand of the governor or executive power of the State from which he fled, be delivered up and removed to the State having jurisdiction of his offence.

Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these states, to the records, acts and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other State.

To which it was moved to add,

And an action of debt may lie in a court of law of any State for the recovery of a debt due on a judgment of any court in any other State; provided the judgment of any court creditor shall give bond with sufficient sureties before the said court, in which the action shall be brought, to answer in damages to the adverse party, in case the original judgment should be afterwards revised and set aside, and provided the party against whom such judgment may have been obtained, had notice in fact of the service of the original writ upon which such judgment shall be founded; and the yeas and nays being required,

A letter, of the 10, from General Washington, was read, together with the proceedings of a board of general officers for settling the rank of the Pensylvania field officers, included therein dated August 19, 1777, and the same being taken into consideration; Whereupon,1

Resolved, That Congress agree to the principle adopted by the said board in settling the relative rank or precedence of officers according to that standing they held in the army immediately before their present commissions, except where persons are promoted upon a principle of merit only; and that the arrangement made by the said board, with respect to the relative rank of the Pensylvania field officers, be, and it is hereby confirmed.

Resolved, That the commissions heretofore granted to the said officers be by them respectively, and they are hereby vacated.

1This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 152, V, folio 173. It is printed in Writings of Washington (Ford), VI, 180.
Ordered, That the said commissions be delivered by the respective officers to General Washington.

Ordered, That new commissions be made out for the said officers, with the rank and dates annexed to their names respectively, and transmitted to General Washington:

A letter, of the 17 October, from William Aylett, Esq' enclosing his accounts for the purchase of flour, was laid before Congress ||and read:||

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to enquire into the cause of the obstructions in the department of the post master general, and report thereon to Congress:

The members chosen, Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau, Mr. [Elbridge] Gerry, and Mr. [Henry] Marchant.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the commissioner of the loan office of the State of Massachusetts bay, in favour of Ebenezer Hancock, Esq' deputy pay master general of the eastern department, for two hundred thousand dollars, to be paid after the warrants drawn the 12th instant, in favour of the commissary general of purchases; it being for the use of the said department, and for which the said deputy pay master general is to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the continental loan officer for the State of Rhode Island, for forty-four thousand dollars, and another warrant on the commissioner of the loan office for the State of Maryland for eight thousand dollars, both in favour of the Marine Committee, or their order, and for which they are to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of Colonel Jesse Ewell, of a regiment of militia from the State of Virginia, for 1,097 30/90 dollars, for which he is to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the continental loan officer for the State of Massachusetts bay, for twenty thousand dollars, and another warrant on the commissioner of the loan office for the State of New Hampshire,

Journals of Congress

All bills of credit emitted, moneys borrowed, and debts contracted by or under the authority of Congress, before the assembling of the United States in pursuance of the present confederation, shall be deemed and considered as a charge against the United States, for payment and satisfaction whereof the said United States and the public faith are hereby solemnly pledged.

All controversies concerning the private right of soil claimed under different grants of two or more states, whose jurisdictions, as they may respect such lands, and the states which passed such grants, are adjusted, the said grants, or either of them, being at the same time claimed to have originated antecedent to such settlement of jurisdiction, shall, on the petition of either party to the Congress of the United States, be finally determined in the same manner, as near as may be, as is before prescribed for deciding disputes respecting territorial jurisdiction between different states.

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to revise and arrange the articles of confederation as amended and passed agreed to, and to prepare a circular letter to the respective states to accompany the said articles:

The members chosen, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, Mr. [James] Duane, and Mr. [James] Lovell.

Major General Schuyler having greatly suffered in his private affairs by the barbarous ravages of the British army, under the command of Lieutenent General Burgoyne, on their retreat from Saratoga:

Resolved, That General Schuyler be at liberty to attend to his private affairs until the committee appointed to enquire into the causes of the loss of Ticonderoga and Mount Independence shall make their report, and he shall have notice to attend at head quarters, in order to an enquiry into that event.

Whereas, the committee appointed to enquire into the causes of the loss of Ticonderoga and Mount Independence, have not yet been able to collect materials and make their report:

Resolved, That Major General St. Clair be at liberty to attend his private affairs until he shall have notice to repair to head quarters, in order to an enquiry into his conduct.¹

Ordered, That a warrant issue in favour of the Board of War, for 150,000 dollars, to be forthwith transmitted, agreeable to the request of William Palfrey, Esq': pay master general, to William Bedlow, his deputy at Fish kill; the said William Palfrey, Esq': to be accountable; and that the Board of War direct the commanding officer at Fish kill to inform the troops there, that money shall be sent as soon as possible to discharge the arrearages due to them.

Ordered, That the letter from General Washington, with the papers enclosed, be referred to the Board of War:

The committee appointed to take into consideration the application of the commissioned and non-commissioned officers who accompanied Mons' du Coudray from France, to revise the report of the treasury and the resolutions of Congress thereon respecting those officers, and as soon as possible to report to Congress what farther sums, if any, they shall apprehend it is just and expedient Congress should grant them, and also to take into consideration the memorial of the Chevalier Dorset and the application of any other foreign gentlemen now attending Congress; report, that they have upon mature consideration of the premises agreed upon the following report, which they beg leave to submit to Congress:

Your committee find by the representation of Mons' le Brun, that among the officers of the late General du Coudray's corps, there are six gentlemen who have received no part of the gratifications allowed to the other officers of that corps out of the 26,541 livres granted by Mr. Deane, which sum of 26,541 livres has been otherwise expended, as appears from an account presented to Congress by General du Coudray before his death: that the reason of these officers being formerly omitted, except Mons' Touzard and Mons' Epiniers, who received part of their gratifications, arose from its being more agreeable to them to receive their portions in America than in France, having money sufficient for immediate use in that country, prior to their embarkation; your committee therefore are of opinion, that it will be equal and right to allow the gentlemen formerly omitted, gratifications proportionable to what have already been made to others of similar rank in the same corps, as follows, viz. To Monsieur des Espiniers, 900 livres, Mons’ Romanett, 1,500 livres, Mons’ Touzard, 450 livres, Mons’ Matigny, 600 livres, Mons’ l’Enfant, 600 livres, Mons’ Ganot, 600 livres, amounting in the whole to 4,650 livres.

Your committee also think it reasonable, that provision be made for the travelling expences and the passages of twelve serjeants belonging to General du Coudray’s corps, who are likewise returning to France, in proportion to the allowance already made the commissioned officers which proportionate allowance the committee estimate at 60 dollars each, for travelling expences to Boston, and 450 livres each, for passage and travelling expences to Paris, amounting to 720 dollars and 5,400 livres.

Your committee likewise find on examination, that in the former settlement a ballance of travelling expences, accruing on the journey from Boston to Philadelphia, was omitted to be credited, which ought to be allowed, amounting to 1,004 dollars.

Your committee are farther of opinion, that the inconveniences of dissimilar pay to persons of similar ranks serving in the same army, being no bar at present, since the officers under consideration are returning to France, it will be expedient and proper that they be allowed their pay in livres, by which it appears that a ballance should be paid to Mons’le Brun, to be distributed among the respective officers and non-commissioned, amounting to 14,580½ livres; that the livres allowed by this report be paid in the same manner as those lately reported by the Committee of Treasury for the same corps.

Your committee are of opinion, that no settlement of General du Coudray's affair can properly be made but with his legal representatives, and that Mons' le Brun may, if he desires it, be furnished with a certificate of this opinion, as well as that it is deemed unnecessary to comprehend Mons' Fleury in this settlement, since that gentleman is now engaged in the continental service, and that Mons' le Brun be furnished with a copy of this report, attested by the secretary of Congress.

Your committee are farther of opinion, that the two servants of Mons' du Coudray be furnished each with a draught on the commissioners for 450 French livres, to pay their passage to France; which sum is to be charged in account with General du Coudray.

On a motion to agree to the report of the committee:

So it was resolved in the affirmative.

\textit{Resolved,} That the additional allowances now made shall be deemed and considered to be in full satisfaction of all claims which the said gentlemen, or either of them, have against the United States or against Mr. Deane.

Resolved, That General Washington be informed that Congress have long since written to the commissioners in France for cloaths complete for eighty thousand men, and have received for answer that they might be expected here by the setting in of winter; in consequence of which, Congress have reason to hope for this necessary arrival in a short time: that Congress have also adopted various other means for importing cloathing, which they have reason to expect will be successful; and, on the 16th day of October, ordered a copy of the General’s return of articles wanted for the army to be transmitted to the respective assemblies of the eastern and middle states, with a pressing recommendation to them to use their utmost endeavours to collect the same without delay, and send them to the army. But, since the wants of the army are immediate, Congress wish the General may avail himself of the powers vested in him for obtaining these necessary supplies from the disaffected inhabitants, Congress being of opinion that the well disposed people of these states will rather be pleased than dissatisfied with a procedure, by which their enemies shall be compelled to supply those things that are essential to the support and comfort of the army; and the more especially as even the disaffected will be paid a reasonable price for what is demanded of them;

Resolved, That the powers with which General Washington was invested by a resolution of Congress of the 17 September, and another of the 8th of October last, be continued till the first day of March next, unless sooner revoked.

Resolved, That Mr. President write a letter to the Honorable Thomas M’Kean, speaker of the house of assembly of the State of Delaware, requesting him to exert his utmost endeavours effectually to prevent the disaffected inhabitants of that State from furnishing the enemy’s fleet or army with provisions or supplies of any kind, and if he shall be of opinion that the strength of the well disposed people is not sufficient for the purposes above mentioned, that he inform Congress thereof, and what additional aid it may be necessary to send for effectually preventing the enemy getting supplies from the Delaware State; and that Mr. Speaker be informed a representation in Congress, from that State, is immediately wanted.

The delegates from New York produced credentials of their appointment made in assembly and council October 3, 1777, whereby it appears that the honorable Philip Livingston, James Duane, Francis Lewis, William Duer, and Gouverneur Morris, or any two of them, are empowered to represent that State in Congress.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1777

A memorial from Edward West, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the executive council of the State of Pennsylvania.

Resolved, That an extract of General Washington’s letter of the 11th inst. relative to cloathing, be forthwith sent to the states of Massachusetts bay, Connecticut, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Virginia, who are requested to send, without delay, to the army under his command, the blankets and other articles of cloathing that may be collected, agreeably to a recommendation of Congress of the 16 day of October last, to answer the pressing demands of the army previous to the arrival of supplies of cloathing expected by Congress; and that duplicate receipts be taken for the same from the cloather general or his deputies respectively.

A copy of the confederation being made out, and sundry small verbal amendments preserving made in the diction, without altering the sense, the same was agreed to, and is as follows:

Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union, between the States of New Hampshire, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts Bay, Delaware, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Maryland, Connecticut, Virginia, New York, North Carolina, New Jersey, South Carolina, Georgia.

SECOND REPORT.

ARTICLE 1. The stile of this confederacy shall be "The United States of America."

United States of America."

1 In the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 47, folios 41 and 51, are two copies of the Articles of Confederation in the writing of Charles Thomson. The first is, with the exception of the few words written on the margin by Duane, entirely in the writing of Thomson, and is without endorsement. The second copy is also in Thomson's writing, but it has on the first page a marginal direction to the printer, as to numbering the paragraphs, written by Duane, and the last paragraph is in his writing. The marginal captions of the articles are also in another hand. As the sheets bear the finger marks of the printer, they are undoubtedly the set sent to the printer [Francis Bailey]. They are endorsed: "Articles of Confederation made out for the press—as agreed to by Congress, Nov 15, 1777."

I have used the first copy (which appears to be the earlier in time) in the first column, adding in a note any differences found in the second copy, except mere erasures of words, or where the change is not explained by a transfer from one article to another.

2 In the second copy James Duane has written against this heading: "Let the numbers of the articles be in Roman characters, as Art. I, Art. II, Art. III, &c."

3 Originally written "confederacy," then "confederation," and again altered to first form.
Art. 2. Each state retains its sovereignty, freedom and independence, and every power, jurisdiction and right which is not by this confederation expressly delegated to the United States, in Congress assembled.

Art. 3. The said states hereby severally enter into a firm league of friendship with each other, for their common defence, the security of their liberties and their mutual and general welfare, binding themselves to assist each other against all force offered to, or attacks made upon them or any of them, on account of religion, sovereignty, trade, or any other pretence whatever.

Art. 4. The better to secure and perpetuate mutual friendship and intercourse among the people of the different states in this union, the free inhabitants of each of these states, paupers, vagabonds and fugitives from justice excepted, shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of free citizens in the several states: and the people of each state shall have free ingress and regress to and from any other state and shall enjoy therein all the privileges of trade and commerce, subject to the same duties, impositions and restrictions... as the inhabitants thereof respectively, provided that such restriction shall not extend so far as to prevent the removal of property imported into any state to any other state of which the owner is an inhabitant; provided, also that no imposition, duties or restriction shall be laid by any state on the property of the United States or either of them.

Full faith If any person guilty of or charged with treason, felony or other high misdemeanor in any state shall flee from justice and be found in any of the united states, he shall upon demand of the governor or executive power of the state from which he fled from be delivered up and removed to the state having jurisdiction of his offence.

Full faith and credit shall be given in each of these states to the records, acts and judicial proceedings of the courts and magistrates of every other state.

Arrt. 5. For the more convenient management of the general interests of the United States, delegates shall be annually appointed, in such manner as the legislature of each State shall direct, to meet in Congress, on the 1st Monday in November in every year, with a power reserved to each State to recall its delegates, or any of them,

1 This paragraph, beginning with the words "and the people of each state," and word for word with the adopted form, is found on two slips of paper, in the writing of Elbridge Gerry, in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 47, folio 99—1-2.
every year, with a power reserved to each state to recall its delegates or any of them, at any time within the year, and to send others in their stead for the remainder of the year.¹

No state shall be represented in Congress by less than two nor by more than seven members, and no person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years in any term of six years: nor shall any person being a delegate be capable of holding any office under the United States for which he or another for his benefit receives any salary, fees or emolument of any kind.

Each state shall maintain its own delegates in a meeting of the states and while they act as members of the committee of the states.

In determining questions in the United states in Congress assembled each state shall have one vote.

Freedom of speech and debate in Congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of congress. And the members of congress shall be protected in their persons from arrests and imprisonments during the time of their going to and from and attendance on Congress, except for treason felony or breach of the peace.

¹From this point to Art. 6 was written on a separate sheet for insertion.

November, 1777

Art. 5. No state without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance or treaty with any king, prince or state; nor shall any person holding any office of profit or trust under the United States or any of them accept of any present, emolument, office or title of any kind whatever from any king, prince, or state foreign state; nor shall the United States in Congress assembled, or any of them grant any title of nobility.

Art. 6. No state, without the consent of the United States, in Congress assembled, shall send any embassy to, or receive any embassy from, or enter into any conference, agreement, alliance, or treaty with any king, prince, or state; nor shall any person, holding any office of profit or trust under the United States, or any of them, accept of any present, emolument, office or title, of any kind whatever, from any king, prince, or foreign state; nor shall the United States, in Congress assembled, or any of them, grant any title of nobility.

No two or more states shall enter into any treaty, confederation or alliance whatever between them without the consent of the United States in Congress assembled, specifying accurately the purposes for which the same is to be entered into and how long it shall continue.

Art. 7. No state shall lay any imposts or duties, which may interfere with any stipulations in treaties entered into by the United States in Congress assembled with any king, prince or state, in pursuance of any treaties already proposed by Congress to the courts of France and Spain.

In the second copy this paragraph is numbered Art. 7, and the marginal caption is set against Art. 6 as above.
ART. 8. and the officers and men so clothed armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed and within the time agreed on by the United States in Congress assembled.

But if the United States in Congress assembled shall on consideration of circumstances judge proper that any State or States should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than the quota or quotas of such States or States; and that any other State or States should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed and equipped in the same manner as the quota or quotas of such State or States, unless the legislature of such State shall judge that such extra number cannot be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared. And the officers and men so clothed, armed and equipped shall march to the place appointed and within the time agreed on by the United States in Congress assembled.

The United States in Congress assembled shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor agree upon nor gress assembled; but if the United States, in Congress assembled, shall, on consideration of circumstances, judge proper that any State should not raise men, or should raise a smaller number than its quota, and that any other State should raise a greater number of men than the quota thereof, such extra number shall be raised, officered, clothed, armed, and equipped in the same manner as the quota of such State, unless the legislature of such State shall judge that such extra number cannot be safely spared out of the same, in which case they shall raise, officer, clothe, arm, and equip as many of such extra number as they judge can be safely spared. And the officers and men so clothed, armed and equipped, shall march to the place appointed and within the time agreed on by the United States, in Congress assembled.

The United States, in Congress assembled, shall never engage in a war, nor grant letters of marque and reprisal in time of peace, nor enter into any treaties or alliances, nor coin money, nor regulate the value thereof, nor ascertain the sums and expences necessary for the defence and welfare of the United States, or any of them; nor emit bills, nor borrow money on the credit of the United States, nor appropriate money, nor agree upon the number of vessels of war to be built or purchased, or the number of land or sea forces to be raised, nor appoint a commander in chief of the army or navy unless nine states assent to the same; nor shall a question on any other point, except for adjourning from day to day be determined, unless by the votes of a majority of the united states in Congress assembled.

No state shall be represented in Congress by less than two nor by more than seven members.

No person shall be capable of being a delegate for more than three years in any term of six years.

No person being a delegate shall be capable of holding any office under the United States for which he or another for his benefit receives any salary, fees or emolument of any kind.

Freedom of speech and debate in Congress shall not be impeached or questioned in any court or place out of Congress, and the members of Congress shall be protected in their persons from arrest and imprisonment during the time of their going to and from and attendance on Congress, except for treason, felony, or breach of the peace.
The Congress of the United States shall have power to adjourn to any time within the year, and to any place within the United States, so that no period of adjournment be for a longer duration than the space of six months, and shall publish the journal of their proceedings monthly, except such parts thereof, relating to treaties, alliances or military operations, as in their judgment require secrecy; and the yeas and nays of the delegates of each State on any question shall be entered on the journal, when it is desired by any delegate; and the delegates of a State or any of them, at his or their request shall be furnished with a transcript of the said journal except such parts as are above excepted, to lay before the legislatures of the several states.

Art. 10. The committee of the states shall be authorized to execute in the recess of Congress such of the powers of Congress as the United States in Congress assembled by the consent of nine states shall from time to time think expedient to vest them with, provided that they no power be delegated to the said committee of the exercise of which by the articles of confederation the voice of any nine of them.

A letter, of the 14, from G. Bryan, vice president of the council of Pennsylvania, to the delegates of that State in Congress, together with sundry papers relative to Indian depredations on the western frontiers, was laid before Congress and read.³

Ordered, That they be referred to a committee of three; the members chosen, Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau, Mr. [John] Harvie and Mr. [Cornelius] Harnett.

Ordered, That Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee have leave of absence for the recovery of his health.

²"The Articles were printed and returned to the president on Friday, November 28, who had them tied in bundles, and gave 18 to the delegates of each State, reserving the rest for himself; so that none came into the Secretary’s office. C. T." Note by Charles Thomson.

³This letter and enclosures are in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 66, I, folios 433.
Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to collect and digest the late useful discoveries for making molasses and spirits from the juice of corn stalks, and report a plan for communicating the said discoveries to the inhabitants of the several states.

The members chosen, Mr. [Elbridge] Gerry, Mr. [Richard] Law and Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau.

Resolved, That a copy of the letter from J. Bradford, dated Boston, 16 October, 1777, to the Secret Committee, be transmitted to the cloathier general, to the quarter master general, and to the Board of War; that the cloathier general, without delay, appoint a deputy in each State, if he hath not already made such appointments; that the cloth for soldiers' cloathing, mentioned in the said letter to be imported into Bedford for account of Congress, be delivered to the cloathier general, or his order; the bales of tents to the quarter master general or his order; and that the Board of War give directions respecting the arms mentioned in the said letter; that the receipts taken on the delivery, be forthwith transmitted to the Commercial Committee; that the cloathier general be directed immediately to give orders to his deputy for the State of Rhode Island, to receive the said cloth for soldiers' cloathing, and procure the making up the same into cloaths there or elsewhere, as soon as may be, and to forward them with the utmost despatch to General Washington's army; that the cloathier general, also write to the governor and council for the State of Rhode Island, requesting them, in case the person appointed by him as his deputy should decline acting, to appoint a suitable person for that purpose, and forwarding the same as above directed; and the said governor and council are requested to make such appointment accordingly, and to give every necessary aid to the above important business.
The committee appointed to consider the applications of foreign officers, &c., having had under consideration the memorials of Chevalier Crenis, Monsieur Dorset, and Chevalier de la Colombe, report:

That although the committee are sensible of the zeal and good intentions of the Chevalier Crenis and Monsieur Dorset in their wishes to serve the United States, yet when they reflect upon the circumstances of the American army, and consider that the number of officers now in commission are greatly disproportionate to the soldiers to be commanded, they cannot venture to recommend the said Chevalier Crenis as lieutenant colonel and Monsieur Dorset as major in the service of the United States, which ranks are respectively desired by the gentlemen aforesaid:

That considering the expences these gentlemen have incurred, and the inability stated by Monsieur Dorset of returning to his own country, they submit it to the wisdom of Congress, whether it may not be expedient to furnish the necessary aid for this purpose.

That with regard to the Chevalier de la Colombe, for whom the Marquis de la Fayette requests a captain’s commission in the American service, your committee think the same may be granted: [as the Chevalier may be usefully employed in the quality of captain in the family of the Marquis during his service in the American service.]

1 A memorial from Crenis is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 41, II, folio 37.
2 This paragraph read in the original report: “are so greatly disproportionate to the men to be commanded, that it will be proper during the course of this winter to dismiss a considerable number of the American officers as supernumerary, &c.”

November, 1777

The said report being read, on the question put to agree to the first paragraph, resolved in the affirmative.
The second paragraph was taken into consideration, and a motion being made to grant Moner. Dorset a sum to defray his expenses to France, and the question put, passed in the negative.
The third paragraph was read, whereupon, Resolved, That a captain’s commission be granted to the Chevalier de la Colombe.

November, 1777 933

This business, equally intricate and important, has, in its progress, been attended with uncommon embarrassments and delay, which the most anxious solicitude and persevering diligence could not prevent. To form a permanent union, accommodated to the opinion and wishes of the delegates of so many states, differing in habits, produce, commerce, and internal police, was found to be a work which nothing but time and reflection, conspiring with a disposition to conciliate, could mature and accomplish.

Hardly is it to be expected that any plan, in the variety of provisions essential to our union, should exactly correspond with the maxims and political views of every particular State. Let it be remarked, that, after the most careful enquiry and the fullest information, this is proposed as the best which could be adapted to the circumstances of all; and as that alone which affords any tolerable prospect of a general ratification.

Permit us, then, earnestly to recommend these articles to the immediate and dispassionate attention of the legislatures of the respective states. Let them be candidly reviewed under a sense of the difficulty of combining in one general system the various sentiments and interests of a continent divided into so many sovereign and independent communities, under a conviction of the absolute necessity of uniting all our councils and all our strength, to maintain and defend our common liberties: let them be examined with a liberality becoming brethren and fellow-citizens surrounded by the same imminent dangers, contending for the same illustrious prize, and deeply interested in being forever bound and connected together by ties the most intimate and indissoluble; and finally, let them be adjusted with the temper and magnanimity of wise and patriotic legislators, who, while they are concerned for the prosperity of their own more immediate circle, are capable of rising superior to local attachments, when they may be incompatible with the safety, happiness, and glory of the general Confederacy.

We have reason to regret the time which has elapsed in preparing this plan for consideration: with additional solicitude we look forward to that which must be necessarily spent before it can be ratified. Every motive loudly calls upon us to hasten its conclusion.

More than any other consideration, it will confound our foreign enemies, defeat the flagitious practices of the disaffected, strengthen and confirm our friends, support our public credit, restore the value of our money, enable us to maintain our fleets and armies, and add weight and respect to our councils at home, and to our treaties abroad.

In short, this salutary measure can no longer be deferred. It seems essential to our very existence as a free people, and without it we may soon be constrained to bid adieu to independence, to liberty and safety; blessings which, from the justice of our cause, and the favour of our Almighty Creator visibly manifested in our protection, we have reason to expect, if, in an humble dependence on his divine providence, we strenuously exert the means which are placed in our power.

To conclude, if the legislature of any State shall not be assembled, Congress recommend to the executive authority to convene it without delay; and to each respective legislature it is recommended to invest its delegates with competent powers ultimately in the name and behalf of the state to subscribe articles of confederation and perpetual union of the United States; and to attend Congress for that purpose on or before the day of

The Committee of the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration: Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Thomas Smith, Esq', commissioner of the loan office for the State of Pennsylvania, in favour of William Henry, Esq', of Lancaster, for 10,000 dollars, for the purchase of shoes and leather for the use of the army, the said W. Henry to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Josiah Clarke, Esq', commissioner of the loan office for the State of Rhode Island, in favour of the Marine Committee, for 20,950 dollars, to enable Daniel Tillinghast, Esq', to pay a balance due to the commissioners who built the frigates; the said committee to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue in favour of Brigadier General du Portail, for 400 dollars, advanced to him, and for which he is to be accountable:

Ordered, That there be paid to Colonel Richard Henry Lee, Esq', pursuant to an order of Patrick Henry, Esq', governor of Virginia, the sum of 50 dollars, for transporting the baggage of Baron de Kalb from Williamsburg to York town, and to be charged to the account of the Baron de Kalb:

Ordered, That a warrant issue in favour of Dr. Jonathan Elmer, for 700 dollars, advanced to, and to be charged the State of New Jersey, at the request of Dr. Elmer, a delegate of the said State.

Ordered, That the return of ordnance, &c. taken from the enemy, which was enclosed in General Gates's letter of the 10th, and the letter from the council of safety of New York, be referred to a committee of three:

The members chosen, Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, Mr. [William] Duer, and Mr. [Francis] Dana.

Ordered, That the letter of General Gates, with the other papers enclosed, be referred to the Board of War.

Congress being informed that there is a quantity of leather on the way to this town from North Carolina; which may be purchased, Ordered, That the Board of War purchase the same, and take measures to have it made into shoes for the use of the army.

Congress having received information, through various channels, that the American soldiers and other inhabitants of the United States of America, whom the fortune of war hath made prisoners to the British army under command of General Howe, are now imprisoned in Philadelphia, and treated with such shocking inhumanity that numbers expire in the prison yard for want of food; and whereas, such treatment of the American prisoners is not only inconsistent with the practice of civilized nations, but totally the reverse of that humane treatment which the British prisoners have uniformly received in these United States:

Resolved, That General Washington be desired to make strict enquiry into the truth of this information, and to report to Congress, as soon as possible, the result of his enquiries.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That David Poe be appointed quarter master for the town of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland, in

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1777

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee to whom were referred the letter from G. Bryan, Esq’ ||the vice president of Pensylvania,|| and the letters from Fort Pitt, which is as follows, viz.:

That an inroad has been made on the western frontiers of Virginia and Pensylvania, by some savage tribes of Indians, wherein a number of helpless people have been cruelly massacred, and the peaceable inhabitants driven from their homes and reduced to great distress:

That from a number of papers styled proclamations,¹ under the hand and seal of Henry Hamilton, lieutenant governor of Fort Detroit, left by the Indians where they committed their murders, and of which there is one now in the possession of your committee, as well as from other information and circumstances, it appears that these savages have been instigated by British agents and emissaries, and particularly by the said H. Hamilton, to this barbarous and murderous war.

Your committee apprehend, that so long as that post continues to be garrisoned by British troops who are restrained by no laws of humanity from using every means to accomplish their purpose of subjugating these states, those frontiers will be incessantly exposed to the barbarous ravages of the Indian tribes under their influence.

That by means of the said agents and emissaries a dangerous spirit of disaffection has been excited and fomented among some worthless and evil-disposed persons on the said frontiers, who, lost to all sentiments of virtue, honor, or regard for their country, have been induced to aid our remorseless enemy.

That the Shawanese and Delaware Indians continue well affected and disposed to preserve the league of peace and amity entered into with us; for which reason they are threatened with an attack by their hostile neighbours who have invaded us, and are at the same time exposed to danger from the attempts of ill-disposed or ill-advised persons among ourselves.

Your committee therefore are of opinion, that for the safety and security of the frontiers, as well as to preserve the public faith of these United States, plighted to our Indian allies, speedy and effectual measures ought to be taken to suppress the spirit of disaffection among our own deluded people, to repel and put a stop to the hostile invasions of our enemies, to protect our Indian allies, and confirm them in their good disposition, and to remove, if possible, the cause from whence all the evils in that quarter arise. For which purpose your committee submit the following resolutions,

Resolved, That three commissioners be appointed to repair, without delay, to Fort Pitt; that they be instructed to investigate the rise, progress, and extent of the disaffection in that quarter, and take measures for suppressing the same, and bringing the deluded people to a sense of their duty:

That the said commissioners be invested with full power to suspend for misconduct any officers in the service of the United States employed in that quarter, and appoint others in their room, and to confine, in safe custody, all such officers against whom they shall have satisfactory proof of being offenders against the rights and liberties of America:

That the said commissioners be directed to cultivate the friendship of the Shawanese and Delawares, and prevent our people from committing any outrages against them:

That they be empowered to engage as many of the Delaware and Shawanese warriors in the service of the United States as they judge convenient:

That they be empowered and directed, for effectually checking the progress of the enemy, to concert with Brigadier General Hand a plan of carrying the war into the enemy’s country, and cause the same to be executed with all convenient despatch:

And in order to prevent such barbarous incursions for the future, that the said commissioners be empowered to cause the operations of the war to be extended against the British garrison at Detroit and its dependencies, provided the reduction of that fortress can, in their opinion, be effected at this season of the year, and the whole can be accomplished by a force not exceeding two thousand men, exclusive of Indian auxiliaries:

That it be earnestly recommended to the legislative powers of Virginia and Pennsylvania, to invest the commissioners with every necessary authority over their respective militias, to empower them to arrest and commit for trial such of their respective inhabitants on the western frontiers as shall appear to have been concerned in any conspiracy or plot against the United States; and otherwise to afford the said commissioners such assistance as shall be necessary to prosecute with vigour the measures that they may adopt in consequence of these resolutions.

Upon the question put,

Resolved, That Congress agree to the report of the committee.

Resolved, That General Washington be requested to send Colonel William Crawford to Pittsburg, to take command, under Brigadier General Hand, of the continental troops and militia in the western department.

The committee appointed to enquire into the conduct of Colonel G. Morgan, brought in a report; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the case of Colonel G. Morgan be included in the business referred to the consideration of the commissioners who are to be appointed for various purposes on the western frontiers: that, in the mean while, Colonel Morgan be restored to the appointment of agent for Indian affairs, and that he be appointed deputy commissary general of purchases in the western district.

Ordered, That the letter from Paul Zantzinger to Brigadier Wayne, enclosed in General Washington’s letter, together with such part of the said letter as relates thereto, be referred to the Board of Treasury:

That the letter from General Washington, with the other papers enclosed, and the letter from Governor Livingston, be referred to the Board of War.

A petition from Thomas Moore, with an account enclosed, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury, who are directed to report specially thereon.

A petition from sundry inhabitants of Sharpsburg, and a memorial from sundry officers, prisoners there, also a petition from John Sumner, were read:¹

Ordered, That they be referred to the Board of War.

Whereas all the commissioners of the Board of War have not yet attended, and it is essential to the public good that several matters referred to the consideration of the said commissioners should be immediately entered upon,

Resolved, That any one or more of the Commissioners of the Board of War, together with any two members of the committee which constituted the late Board of War, be authorised to execute the trust reposed in the commissioners of the war office in pursuance of the resolution of Congress of the 17 October last, till such time as the commissioners shall enter on the execution of their department or till Congress shall determine otherwise.²

Resolved, That Silas Deane, Esq. be recalled from the court of France, and that the Committee for Foreign Affairs be directed to take proper measures for speedily communicating the pleasure of Congress herein to Mr.

\footnote{2}{‘Inclosed I send you a Copy of the Confederation, the Eighth article of which respects Taxation, and has given me great uneasiness, as I cannot see any Justice in the Rule therein laid down, for proportioning the several States with the charges of the present war. In the first place, it appears to me that one third part of the wealth of the Southern States which consists in Negroes, is entirely left out, and no notice taken of them in determining their ability to pay taxes, notwithstanding it is by them that they procure their wealth; neither are we to have any advantage of them in proportioning the number of men to be drawn from the several States to carry on the war, that being fixed on the number of white inhabitants in each State, so that by their negroes being left at home, they can till their lands and get bread and riches, while some other States may be greatly distressed. In the next place, the wealth that is in some States more than there is in others, by no means fixes a proportionable Value on the Lands in such States,—which if this be true, seems to prove that the plan laid down by Congress is not just: These are my own thoughts on this head; but refer you to your own better judgment on them. It seems to be the sense of Congress, that if any of the Articles of Confederation, should be thought hard of or unequal to any of the States, that they will make a representation of the same to Congress, with the reasons of their disapprobation to such articles, in order if possible to give satisfaction and ease to each and every of the States. The time fixed on for the several Legislatures, to determine on these great Points, is by some members thought too short; but I make no doubt but they will take as much time to deliberate thereon as may be thought just and necessary.” Nathaniel Folsom to Methuch Weare, 21 November, 1777. was re-committed, they having taken the same into consideration, beg leave to observe,

That there is no mention in the said return of standards, military chest, medicines or tents; that the quantity of powder is very small, being only 15 barrels grained and 2 barrels mealed, and the quantity of fixed ammunition very inconsiderable; that the muskets amount only to 4,847, a number not equal to the prisoners who surrendered agreeable to the convention of Saratoga, and all these muskets, are returned unfit for service; that there are only 638 cartouch boxes; that the number of bayonets is greatly inferior to the muskets, and these, as well as the cutlasses, are returned “without scabbards” or belts; in short, the whole return seems very inadequate to a well appointed army and to what might be expected from the answers returned by Lieutenant General Burgoyne to the first propositions made by Major General Gates: your committee, therefore, are of opinion, that an enquiry ought to be made into the causes of this deficiency: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the president immediately send an express to General Gates, and desire answers to the following questions, viz.

What is become of the standards belonging to the respective regiments in General Burgoyne’s army?
Where is the military chest, and medicines?
What is become of the cartouch boxes?
How comes the quantity of powder and cartridges to be so small?
How comes it that the number of muskets is less than that of the prisoners, and that all the muskets are unfit for service?
How comes the number of bayonets to be so greatly inferior to that of the muskets?
Where are the scabbards and belts of the bayonets and cutlasses?
Was there any destruction, waste, removal or concealment of the arms, tents, colours, treasure, or other military stores, belonging to General Burgoyne’s army, from the time the first proposal was made, on the 13 October, to the time of surrender?
What was the state and condition of the arms and military stores when received by General Gates?
Were the arms piled agreeable to the articles of convention? If they were not, did any damage necessarily accrue in consequence of the failure?
And that General Gates be directed to make the necessary enquiries and return his answers to Congress as soon as possible.

Resolved, That it is not to be understood that the embarkation of the troops under Lieutenant General Burgoyne is in any wise to be delayed on account of the foregoing queries if transports arrive before the answers are returned and the enquiry directed is finished.

In debating the foregoing report, it was moved,

That a committee of be appointed to repair immediately to Albany to confer with General Gates on every particular respecting the execution of the convention of Saratoga on the part of General Burgoyne, and that as the basis of their joint enquiries the following points be particularly recommended; and then the questions to follow; and the yeas and nays being required:

It was then proposed to add, "and return his answers to Congress as soon as possible,"

"And whereas it is probable that sufficient evidence cannot be obtained in Albany touching the premises; Resolved, that Major General Heath be directed to collect all the evidence he can possibly procure concerning the state of the arms, tents, standards, treasure, medicines, and other military stores belonging to General Burgoyne's army, before proposals were made for entering into a convention, and whether there was any destruction, waste, concealment or removal of any of the above articles from the time when General Burgoyne's first proposal was made on the 13 October to the time of surrender; and that he transmit to Congress, with all possible despatch and properly authenticated, the evidence which he may so collect:"

On this the previous question was moved, whether that question be now put? and the yeas and nays being required:

So it passed in the negative.

Congress having received information, that the insidious enemies of the United States of America have endeavoured to propagate in Europe false and groundless reports, that a treaty had been held between Congress and the commissioners of the king of Great Britain, by which it was probable that a reconciliation would take place:

29696—VOL IX—07—13
Be it declared and resolved, That the commissioners of the said United States at the several courts in Europe be authorized to represent to the courts at which they respectively reside, that no treaty whatever has been held between the king of Great Britain or any of his commissioners and the said United States since their declaration of independence:

And whereas, the cause of these United States may be greatly endangered, unless such of the European powers as regard the rights of mankind should interpose to prevent the ungenerous combination of other powers against the liberties of the said states:

Resolved, That the commissioners of the United States at the several courts in Europe be directed to apply to the respective courts, and request their immediate assistance for preventing a farther embarkation of foreign troops to America, and also to urge the necessity of their acknowledging the independence of these states.

Resolved, That all proposals for a treaty between the king of Great Britain, or any of his commissioners, and the United States of America, inconsistent with the independence of the said states, or with such treaties or alliances as may be formed under their authority, will be rejected by Congress.

Resolved, That the commissioners of the United States be severally directed to communicate to the respective courts the purport of the first and second resolutions when they shall think it expedient, and to suspend the last until upon a general consultation of the commissioners a majority shall judge it necessary.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report from the Board of Treasury of the 19th; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the pay of Jonathan Trumbull, Jun. Esq' deputy pay master general of the northern department, be augmented to one hundred and twenty-five dollars per month:

Resolved, That the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars be allowed to Jonathan Trumbull, Jun. Esq; deputy pay master general of the northern department, for his past extraordinary services."

Resolved, That the resolution passed yesterday, relative to the execution of the war department, be annulled, and that the former Board of War be authorized to proceed on the business of that department till such time as a quorum of the commissioners of the war office shall attend.

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee to whom were referred the letter from the Hon. Stephen Hopkins, Esq; and the proceedings of the committees from New Hampshire, Massachusetts bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut and New York, and for other purposes mentioned in a resolution of Congress of the 10th of September last, and the same being read and debated by paragraphs, was agreed to, as follows:

Pursued by the injustice and the vengeance of the King and Parliament Great Britain, these United States have been compelled to engage in a bloody and expensive war. Amidst much great every distress that they have yet experienced may befal them, it will be their consolation to appeal to Heaven for the rectitude of their measures; since they have yet to befall them; they have had recourse to arms, not from ambition or the lust of power, but to resist actual invasion and boundless rapine, and to secure to themselves and to their posterity the common rights and privileges of human nature: the blessings of freedom and safety that they have had recourse to arms.

Aided by venal foreigners and domestic traitors, the war has been prosecuted by our implacable foes with their utmost force and vigour, and aggravated by more than savage barbarity.

1This paragraph, in the writing of Elbridge Gerry, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, I, folio 487.
Congress, nevertheless, supported by the virtue, patriotism, and good faith of their constituents have hitherto raised all the necessary supplies on the public credit confidence of their fellow citizens, without burthening them with taxes or pecuniary contributions, have hitherto raised all the necessary supplies on the public faith. For these purposes.

To maintain our fleets and armies, large sums have been emitted in continental bills of credit, and the same expedient method has been adopted embraced by the respective states to answer the demands of their internal governments their internal wants. By these exertions expedients, our paper currency, notwithstanding the settled solid basis on which it is founded, is multiplied beyond the rules of good policy. No truth being more evident, than that where the quantity of money of any quality or denomination exceeds what is useful as a medium of commerce, its comparative value must be proportionably reduced. To this cause, conspiring with the arts and practices of our open and secret enemies, the shameful avidity of too many of our professed friends, and the scarcity of foreign commodities are we to ascribe the depreciation of our currency: the consequences to be apprehended are equally obvious and alarming.¹ They tend to the depravity of morals,— decay of public virtue,— a precarious supply for the war,— debasement of the public faith,— injustice to individuals, and the destruction of the honour, safety, and independence of the United States. Loudly, therefore, are we called upon to provide a seasonable and effectual remedy against these dangerous evils.

Blessed be God, they are not unavoidable irremediable.² The means of repressing them are still in our own power. Let the virtuous patriots of America reflect on the inestimable value of the prize for which we are contending. Hitherto spared from taxes, let them now with a cheerful heart contribute according to their circumstances. Let the sordid wretches, who shrink from danger and personal service, and meanly prefer their own inglorious ease and emolument to the good of their country, be despised, and their ill-gotten wealth be abhorred as a base disgrace. Let the extortioner and oppressor be punished; the secret traitor dragged to light; the necessities of the army attended to and relieved; and the quantity of money in circulation be reduced; and we shall soon see the public credit fully established, and with the continuance of the divine favour, a glorious termination of the present arduous conflict.

"If the Depravity of Morals, if the Extinction of publick Virtue, if the Supplies for carrying on the War, if the Interests of Individuals, if the preservation of the publick Faith and the Honour, Safety and Independeace of the United States, are Objects, which are worthy of our Concern, we are loudly, &c."

To promote these great and salutary purposes, Congress, upon mature deliberation and with the most earnest solicitude, recommend the following propositions to the legislatures of the respective states, to be immediately adopted and carried into effect:

1. Resolved, That it be most earnestly recommended to the respective states to raise in the course of the year 1778, commencing on the first day of January next, by quarterly payments, the sum of five millions of dollars, by taxes, to be levied on the inhabitants of the respective states, in the proportions following, viz.

That the sum so assessed and to be raised shall not be considered as the proportion of any State, but being paid into the treasury shall be placed to each of their respective credit, and bearing an interest allowed thereon of six per cent. per annum, from the time of payment until the quotas shall be finally ascertained and adjusted by the Congress of the United States, agreeable to the confederation hereafter to be adopted and ratified by the several states. And if it shall then appear that any State is assessed more than its just quota of the said tax, it shall continue to receive interest on the surplus, and if less it shall be charged with interest on the deficiency, until by a future tax such surplus or deficiency shall be properly adjusted by the Congress of the United States.

2. Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended to the legislatures of the several states to refrain from further emissions of paper bills of credit, and where there is a sufficient quantity of continental bills of credit for the purposes of a circulating medium, forthwith to call in by loans or taxes and to cancel the paper money, small bills for change under a dollar excepted, which such State has already emitted; and, for the future, to provide for the exigencies of war, and the support of government by taxes to be levied within the year, or such other expedients as may produce a competent supply.

3. And whereas the obstruction of the course of justice in any State may not only prove injurious to its in habitants citizens, but also to the circulation and credit of the currency of such State and of the United States:

Resolved, therefore, That it be recommended to the several states, forthwith to take effectual care that justice be duly administered within their respective jurisdictions, as well for the recovery of debts as for the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors; provided, that no suit or action shall be maintainable for the benefit of the enemies of these United States.

4. And whereas signal advantages have arisen from the establishment of continental loan offices, on which Congress continue to place great dependence; in order, therefore, as far as it is practicable, to ascertain the supplies for the war for the next four months which may be raised in the several states upon loan office certificates;

Resolved, That it be recommended to the legislatures, or, in the recess of any of them, to the executive authority of the respective states, to cause subscriptions to be opened under the inspection of one or more respectable inhabitants citizens within each town or district, specifying the names of the lenders, and the sums they are willing to lend, in monthly payments, and that a copy of such subscriptions shall, as soon as possible from time to time, be transmitted delivered to the respective commissioners of the continental said loan offices, and by them forwarded transmitted to Congress; provided, that no certificate shall issue for less than two hundred dollars.¹

5. Resolved, That it be recommended to the legislatures, or, in their recess, to the executive power of the respective states of New Hampshire, Massachusetts bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware, respectively, to appoint commissioners to convene at New Haven, in Connecticut, on the 15 day of January next; and to the states of Virginia, Maryland, and North Carolina, respectively, to appoint commissioners to convene at Fredericksburg, in Virginia, on the said 15 day of January; and to the states of South Carolina and Georgia, respectively, to appoint commissioners to convene at Charleston, on the 15 day of February next; in order to regulate and ascertain the price of labour, Provisions and other Necessaries for the supply of the fleets and armies of the United States manufactures, internal produce, and commodities imported from foreign parts, military stores excepted; and also to regulate the charges of inn-holders; and that, on the report of such the commissioners, each of the respective legislatures enact such suitable laws, as well for enforcing the observance of such of the regulations as they shall ratify, and enabling such inn-holders to obtain the necessary supplies, as to authorize the purchasing commissaries for the army, or any other person whom the legislature may think proper, to take from any engrossers, forestallers, or other person possessed of a larger quantity of any such commodities or provisions than shall be competent for the private annual consumption of their families, and who shall refuse to sell the surplus at the prices to be ascertained as aforesaid, paying only such price for the same.

6. And in order to introduce immediate economy in the public expence, which is become indispensable the spirit of sharpening and extortion, and the rapid and excessive rise of every commodity being confined within no bounds; and considering how much time must unavoidably elapse before the plan proposed directed by the preceding resolution can be carried into effect,

Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended to the respective legislatures of the United States, without delay, by their separate authority, to adopt and effectually enforce a temporary regulation of the prices of provisions and other commodities for the supply of the army, in such manner as they shall judge reasonable; and to continue in force until the general regulation before proposed shall be adopted.

VII. Resolved, that it be earnestly recommended to the Legislatures of the respective States to [exert themselves to the utmost of their Power] furnish and supply the soldiers already enlisted, or who shall hereafter enlist, as the Quota of their respective States in the Continental Army, with Blankets shoes, stockings and other warm clothing sufficient to defend them from the Inclemency of the Winter; And

The Board of War reported,
"That they have had a conference with General Mifflin on the late establishment made by Congress for conducting the war department, and are unanimously of opinion, that a sufficient number of commissioners have not been appointed for giving due weight to the execution of the regulations which may be recommended by the Board, and adopted by Congress, and particularly for enabling one of the board of commissioners to visit, from time to time, the different armies, posts, or garrisons, in order to see that the regulations adopted by Congress are carried into execution, and to examine what are the wants of the army, and what defects or abuses prevail, from time to time, in the different departments;" Whereupon,

That it would further greatly tend to facilitate the Business of the Department, especially at the commencement of the new Establishment, to secure the Continuation of the Services of the Secretary of the late Board of War, who in their opinion has discharged the Duties of an arduous and complicated Department in its infant Stage, with Honour to himself, and much Disinterestedness, and with Fidelity and advantage to the Public.

The Board further beg leave to represent that General Mifflin has expressed a warm Sollicitude that Major General Gates should be appointed President of this Board, from a Conviction that his Military Skill would suggest Reformations in the different Departments of the Army essential to good Discipline, Order and Economy, and that his Character and Popularity in the Army would facilitate the execution of such Reformations when adopted by Congress; a Task in the opinion of this Committee more arduous and important, than the formation of any new Establishment, however wise it may be in Theory!

On these principles your Committee are of opinion That two additional Commissioners should be appointed to execute the Department of the War Office in pursuance of the resolution of Congress of the 17th of Oct: and that any three of the said Commissioners should be a Quorum to transact business, any thing in the former resolutions respecting the Board to the contrary notwithstanding.
The Board are further of Opinion that the Resolution passed on the Inst relative to the Execution of the War Department should be annulled; and that the former Board of War should be authorized to proceed on the Business of that Department, 'till such Time as a Quorum of the Commissioners of the War Office shall attend.¹

Resolved, That two additional commissioners be appointed to execute the department of the war office, in pursuance of the resolution of the 17 October last, and that any three of the said commissioners be a quorum to transact business, any thing in the former resolutions respecting the Board to the contrary notwithstanding.²

The committee to whom was referred a letter from William Buchanan, Esq: commissary general of purchases, dated York Town, 21 November, 1777, report:

That on conferring with the commissary general upon the supplies of flour for the army in the middle district, he informed the committee, that he knew of no other magazines established for this purpose than those at Lancaster and York Town; that he could not ascertain the quantity of flour therein, but supposed the former contained 1,000 and the latter 5,000 barrels; that to transport these to the camp some teams were provided, and persons employed to procure as many more as were necessary; that these magazines would soon be exhausted, the consumption of the army being about 200 barrels a day; that if by stormy weather or any accident the teams employed in this business were interrupted, he imagined the army would want bread; that he knew not where to purchase flour, as a scarcity had taken place in Pennsylvania from the backwardness of farmers to thresh out their wheat, or from the want of casks by the draughts of coopers in the militia for reinforcing the army; that from the middle district he had his present supplies of beef for the army; that this resource could not be lasting, and he had no expectation of immediate supplies from the eastern or northern districts; that he had employed some coopers to make barrels for salting pork, but that he was not able to assure the committee that a sufficient number by these means would be procured, and that no pork was yet engaged, as the season was not yet arrived for this business; that he could not inform the committee what, or whether any, measures were taken by the governor and council of safety of Connecticut, or executive council of Massachusetts bay, to send salt to the North River, agreeable to the request of Congress, of the 22 of October last, having received no letter from them on the subject; that if salt should be sent to the North River, he did not know where to obtain teams to transport it from thence, as some that he had sent to camp, and ordered on to the river, were employed in the army: from all which circumstances your committee apprehend that the present prospect of supplies of provision for the army in this district is very precarious, and, unless more effectual measures are speedily adopted, disagreeable consequences must necessarily follow. They are, therefore, of opinion, that the immediate attention of Congress to this business is necessary; and, to remedy present inconveniences, have recommended to the commissary the advice of General Mifflin, namely,

² From a memorandum in the writing of Henry Laurens, in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 19, III, folio 165, Gates and Peters were nominated this day.

To proceed to head quarters, and hire 12 or more mills within six miles of, and covered by the army, to purchase or impress wheat in the sheaf; if the farmers cannot be prevailed on to thrash for the troops, to solicit the General to spare 150 men from the army for that purpose, and set the mills to work.

By these means, a present supply may be obtained, which bad weather cannot prevent, and time will be gained for establishing at Pottsgrove, Reading, Lancaster, &c. magazines of flour for three months, in which time the new Board of War will probably take up the business, and give proper orders for the supplies of the next campaign.

The committee farther reported, that the commissary general was gone to camp on this business, and that they have recommended to him, on his way, to apply to the executive council or assembly of this State for such assistance as shall be necessary: all which they submit to Congress: Whereupon,

Resolved, That Congress concur with the committee, and approve the advice given and measures taken for the supply of the army.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed, to devise ways and means for providing a sufficient supply of provisions for the army.

The members chosen, Mr. [Elbridge] Gerry, Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau, Mr. [Eliphalet] Dyer, Mr. [John] Harvie, and Mr. [William] Smith.

The commissioners for building ships of war in Virginia, having represented to the Marine Committee the necessity of a guard being provided for the protection of the continental frigates now on the stocks in that State against the efforts of the enemy's ships of war, five of which lie frequently within ten miles of the yard where the frigates are building, and the committee having taken the same into consideration, brought in a report, which was read; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the governor and council of Virginia be requested to provide such a guard, from time to time, at the continental expence, as may be deemed necessary by the said commissioners, upon consideration of circumstances, for the protection aforesaid; and also to furnish the said commissioners with arms and ammunition sufficient to enable the men working in the yard, to assist the guard in repelling any attempt that may be made by the enemy for the destruction of the frigates aforesaid.

Resolved, That the commissioners aforesaid be authorized to prepare a few fire-rafts for the better security of the said frigates, it being represented by the commissioners that such rafts may be of considerable service, and fixed at no great expence.

Resolved, That for the purposes of laying in provisions, and other expences of the said yard, an order be drawn on the loan office for the State of Virginia, in favour of the Marine Committee, or their order, for the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be remitted to the commissioners aforesaid.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That it be recommended to the commonwealth of Virginia, to appoint proper persons to re-inlist the soldiers of their first nine regiments, whose times of service are near expiring, and, in failure thereof, to take some speedy and effectual course for supplying their places in the continental army; and Congress agree to allow the men inlisting for the war, or three years, the usual bounty given to such recruits.

Resolved, That Monsieur Fleury, in consideration of the disinterested gallantry which he has manifested in the service of the United States, be appointed to the rank of lieutenant colonel in the army.

That Monsieur Du Plessis be informed that Congress entertain a due sense of the spirit and Bravery exhibited by him during his being stationed at Red Bank, and will take the first proper opportunity of promoting him agreeable to his merit.²

Ordered, That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq. auditor general, in favour of the delegates of the State of Connecticut, for 1,000 dollars, the same being advanced to that State on the application of Mr. [William] Williams and Mr. [Richard] Law, two of its delegates; the said State to be accountable:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq. auditor general, in favour of Thomas Hains and Frederick Severs, two invalid soldiers, late belonging to the invalid regiment, discharged at their own request, for 35 48/90 dollars, for two months' twenty-four days' pay due to each of them, as appears by Colonel Lewis Nicola's certificates; the said Colonel Nicola to be accountable.¹

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on the letter from S. Hopkins, Esq. &c. when the seventh article was agreed to as follows:

7. And whereas, notwithstanding the large quantities of cloathing which have seasonably been ordered from Europe for the armies of the United States, such have been the obstructions, from British Cruisers a variety of causes,² that an adequate supply hath not been imported, and it is become necessary that immediate provision should be made to defend the troops from the inclemency of the winter, and to prevent future disappointments in a matter so essential of the like nature, and that, for this purpose, the several states should be called upon for assistance.

Resolved, therefore, That it be earnestly recommended to the several states, from time to time to exert their utmost endeavours to procure, in addition to the allowances of cloathing heretofore made by Congress, supplies of blankets, shoes, stockings, shirts, and other cloathing, for the comfortable subsistence of the officers and soldiers engaged in the defence of their country of their respective battalions; and to appoint one or more persons to dispose of such articles to the said officers and soldiers in such proportions as the general officers, from the respective states commanding in such army, shall direct, and at such reasonable prices as shall be assessed by the cloathier general or his deputy, and be in just proportion to the wages of the officers and soldiers, charging the surplus of the cost to the United States: Provided that for preventing any Competition between the purchasing Agents to be appointed by the States, and the Commissary General of Cloathing and his Deputies and Agents: no greater Price shall be given for any Article than such as shall be limited by the said Commissary General of Cloathing and his Deputies. And that this proviso shall remain in Force until the Regulation of Prices herein before directed shall take effect and no longer.

And all Cloathing hereafter to be supplied to the officers and soldiers of the Continental Army out of the publick stores of the united States: beyond the Bounties already granted, shall be charged at the like Prices, the surplus to be defrayed by the united States. A particular Regard in the Distribution of such Continental Cloathing being paid to the Wants of the Troops of such States, who from the obstruction of their commerce cannot with equal advantage cloath their respective Troops with equal Facility with those States w. enjoy the Blessings of Commerce and peace.

Provided that Measures be adopted by each State for preventing any Competition between their purchasing Agents and ye Cloathier General or his Agents, who are severally directed to observe ye direction of ye Legislature of such State. Instructions of ye respective States relative to ye prices of Cloathing which they may purchase therein and each State shall purchase within its own limits only purchased within such State.

flour and pork barrels, and teams to transport salt from the North River, and report thereon as soon as may be.

Resolved, That a copy of the resolution of Congress of the 22d October and 3d of November, relative to the commissary’s department, be transmitted to his excellency the governor and council of safety of the State of Connecticut, who are requested to order the salt to be sent from the eastern to the middle district agreeable to the resolution first mentioned, to such parts of the North River, and to the care of such officer or person there as they shall judge expedient, and inform Congress or the commissary general of purchases thereof; and the governor and council aforesaid are further requested to take effectual measures for sending immediate supplies of cattle to the army in the middle district, and to the prisoners quartered near Boston; and to this purpose they are fully authorized to superintend the deputy commissary general of purchases and issues, and their respective deputies or assistants in the eastern and northern districts, and to remove and appoint others in the room of such as shall refuse or neglect to comply with their directions.

Resolved, That General Heath be directed to take effectual care that fresh provisions be issued to the prisoners in the eastern district, and that the salt provisions be reserved for the army of the United States for the next campaign.

Resolved, That General Washington be directed to apply to General Howe for passports to convey provisions and wood to the British and German troops, quartered, agreeable to the convention of Saratoga, in the neighbourhood of Boston, and that he send such passports by express to General Heath.

Resolved, That the commissary general of issues be directed to preserve the flour barrels of the army, and send them by the return waggons to the mills from whence supplies of flour may be sent to the army; that he save the pork and beef barrels, and as much of the salt therein as can be collected, and that for this purpose he employ a suitable number of coopers, and inform Congress of his proceedings herein.¹

Resolved, That that the committee to repair to Lancaster consist of three; the members chosen, Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau, Mr. [Eliphalet] Dyer, and Mr. [John] Penn. The Committee of Commerce, to whom were referred the proposals of Alexander Gillon, Esq' contained in his letter of the 20th inst. reported,²

That they have conferred with Mr. Gillon on the subject, and are of opinion, that a sum of money not exceed 250,000 dollars should be advanced to the said Alexander Gillon, Esq' or his attorneys, annually for three years if the war with Great Britain shall continue so long; the said advances to be made by this committee, or such other as may hereafter be appointed to superintend the continental commerce, in such sums and at such periods as may be necessary for accomplishing purchases of suitable produce or other articles to be remitted to Europe:

That the said Alexander Gillon, Esq. or his attorneys, shall purchase all the remittances they make, to Europe, on the best terms in their power that and charter or purchase ships suitable for transporting the same to Europe, on the best and most frugal terms in their power, and under such orders, restrictions, and limitations, as they may, from time to time, receive from the committee or board that superintend the continental commerce, who

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1777

A letter, of the 1 November, from Joseph Trumbull, at Providence, and one, of the 6, from Major General Spencer, at Providence, with a copy of a letter written by him to Joseph Trumbull, Esq: late commissary general, and Mr. Trumbull’s answer; also a letter from General Spencer to Governor Cooke, were read:

Ordered, That the letter from Mr. Trumbull, and such parts of General Spencer’s letter as relate to money, and the correspondence between him and Mr. Trumbull, together with the letters that passed between them, be referred to the Board of Treasury:

That such part of General Spencer’s letter as relates to the expedition to Rhode Island, together with the copy of the letter to Governor Cooke, be referred to the committee appointed to report the mode of conducting an enquiry into the cause of the failure of that expedition.

The committee to whom were referred a motion made yesterday, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration:
Whereupon, Congress came to the following resolutions:

The quantity of paper money issued to defray the necessary expences of the war, having at length become so considerable as to endanger its credit, and Congress apprehending that the slow operation of taxes may not be adequate to the prevention of an evil so pernicious in its consequences, and as experience proves that the method of paying the interest by bills on France does not fill the loan offices so fast as the urgent calls of war demand:

Resolved, That the commissioners at the Courts of France and Spain, be directed to exert their utmost endeavours to obtain by means most effectual to the end, a loan of two millions sterling, on the faith of the thirteen United States, for a term not less than ten years, with permission, if practicable, to pay the same sooner, if it shall be agreeable to these states, giving twelve months' previous notice to the lender of such intention to return the money.

That if the money borrowed cannot be obtained at a less interest than six per centum, the commissioners be permitted to engage for that rate of interest and that they stipulate for the payment of the interest at periods not less than annual.

That the commissioners be instructed to consider the money hereby directed to be borrowed as a fund to be applied (unless Congress direct otherwise) solely to the purpose of answering such draughts as Congress shall make for the purpose of lessening the sum of paper money in circulation.

That in order more effectually to answer the good purposes intended by this plan, the commissioners be also instructed to keep secret, as the nature of the thing will permit, whatever loan they shall be able to obtain for this purpose on account of the United States.
And that the Commissioners be desired to give Congress the most early and repeated information of their success in this application.

Whereas, it is the uniform practice of our enemies to pursue every measure which may tend to distract, divide and delude the inhabitants of these states; to effect which purposes, they have, amongst other arts, promoted associations for supporting the credit of the public money, struck under the authority and sanction of the king of Great Britain, which associations are evidently calculated to sap the confidence of the public in the continental bills of credit, and in those issued by the authority of the respective states, and to furnish a medium for carrying on a pernicious and traitorous commerce between the enemy and the citizens of these states:

Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended to the legislative authorities of the respective states, forthwith to enact laws requiring all persons within their respective states, who may be possessed of any bills of credit struck under the sanction and authority of the king of Great Britain, or on or before the 19th of April, 1775, forthwith to deliver in the same to a commissioner or commissioners for that purpose to be appointed in each county of the respective states; authorizing such commissioner or commissioners to give in exchange for any sum so paid in, continental money or bills of credit of their respective states; and to declare in the laws so to be enacted, that all bills of credit, under the description above mentioned, which shall not be so delivered in within such reasonable time as the respective states shall for such purpose limit, shall thenceforth become utterly irredeemable.

A representation from Captain ||W.|| Peery, of Lewistown, to the Board of War, was laid before Congress and read; Whereupon,
December, 1777

Congress came to the following resolution:

Whereas the situation of the enemy's ships and forces, and the arts and number of the malignants in the county of Sussex, in the State of Delaware, have rendered the operation of the civil authority there utterly ineffectual, whereby it has become not only essential to the preservation of the independency of that State, but likewise to the general welfare of these United States, that the most vigorous measures should be forthwith pursued for repressing the arts and violence of the open and secret enemies of these states;

Resolved, That the Board of War be authorized to pursue such measures for supporting the friends of America in the county of Sussex, in the State of Delaware, and for curbing the spirit and checking the evil designs of the disaffected, as they shall deem most effectual.

Whereas, the Baron de St. Ouary, a gallant gentleman from France, engaged as a volunteer in the service of the United States, was lately, by the fortune of war, made prisoner by the British troops;

Resolved, That General Washington be directed to propose to General Howe, that the Baron de St. Ouary be permitted to return from his captivity, agreeably to the practice of Europe respecting volunteers: that if General Howe shall refuse this, it be proposed to take the baron's parole for his enlargement, Congress engaging, when an exchange takes place, to return a British officer for the Baron de St. Ouary: and that General Howe be informed, if neither of these propositions be accepted, that it is expected the gentleman be treated as a prisoner of war, having respect to his merit and rank in the French army.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,
Ordered, That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq' auditor general, in favour of Colonel George Morgan, for 3,134 86/90 dollars, advanced as the balance of his account for building boats, purchase of canoes, carpenter's wages, &c. at Fort Pitt, exclusive of £56 2 10, charged by Thomas Lawrence as a commission on goods purchased by him for the said service, and for paying carpenter's wages; which charge is reserved for consideration; the said Colonel Morgan to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq' auditor general, in favour of Thomas Butler, continental armourer, for 1,800 dollars, advanced for the use of his department; he to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq' auditor general, in favour of Captain William Peery, for 3,200 dollars, advanced for the use of his independent company stationed at Lewistown; the said Captain Peery to be accountable:

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the commissioner of the continental loan office, for the State of South Carolina, in favour of Colonel Thomas Polk, or his order, for ten thousand pounds, South Carolina currency, equal to six thousand two hundred and fifty dollars, borrowed from Colonel Polk by Brigadier General Moore, represented by the said brigadier to have been lodged in the hands of Commissary William Kennon, for the use of the troops in the southern department, as appears by a letter from the said brigadier to Congress, dated the 9th February last, and a bill drawn by him on the continental treasurer in favour of Colonel Polk, for the said sum, which is to bear interest to be computed from the 7th day of July, when it was tendered for payment, and to be charged to the executors of the said Brigadier General Moore, who are to be accountable for the same.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq: auditor general, in favour of Colonel Thomas Polk, for 2,387 72/90 dollars, being the hire of two waggons and the purchase of one waggon and four horses, as appears by the certificates of Joseph Thornburgh, waggon master general, and Jacob Hiltzheimer, agent for waggons; the said sum to be accounted for by Major General Mifflin, quarter master general.

Resolved, That one million of dollars be emitted under the direction of the Treasury Board, and on the faith of the United States: that the bills shall, excepting the numbers, be of the same tenor and date as the emission directed on the 7th November last, be numbered from the last number of each respective denomination of that emission progressively, and consist of the following denominations: viz.

| 15,384 do. of 4 ditto    | 15,385 do. of 2 ditto    |
| 15,384 do. of 5 ditto    | 15,385 do. of 8 ditto    |
| 15,384 do. of 6 ditto    | 15,385 do. of 50 ditto   |

That all power and duties of Michael Hillegas, Esq: and of the inspectors of the press, signers and printers of the emission, directed on the 20th May last, shall extend to the said one million to be emitted, subject, however, to such directions and instructions as the Board of Treasury may judge expedient.¹

Resolved, That three members be added to the Board of Treasury.

Journals of Congress

The members chosen, Mr. [Francis] Dana, Mr. [Benjamin] Rumsey, and Mr. [Joseph] Jones.

Resolved, That Mr. [Francis] Dana be excused from attending the Board of War, in order that he may attend the duties of the Treasury Board.

Ordered, That Mr. [Richard] Law, Mr. [William] Williams, and Mr. [James] Duane have leave of absence.

The committee for Indian affairs, to whom were referred a letter from the president of South Carolina, and sundry other papers, having taken the same into consideration, reported a speech to the Six Nations and instructions to the commissioners for Indian affairs in the northern department, which were taken into consideration, and agreed to as follows:

Brothers, Sachems, and Warriors of the Six Nations!
The great council of the United States call now for your attention. Open your ears, that you may hear, and your hearts, that you may understand, Brothers, Sachems, and Warriors of the Six Nations!

When the people on the other side of the great water, without any cause, sought our destruction, and sent over their ships and their warriors to fight against us, and to take away our possessions, you might reasonably have expected us to ask for your assistance. If we are enslaved, you cannot be free. For our strength is greater than yours. If they would not spare their own brothers, of the same flesh and blood, would they spare you? If they burn our houses and ravage our lands, could yours be secure?

But, brothers, we acted on very different principles. Far from desiring you to hazard your lives in our quarrel, we advised you to sit still in ease and peace. We even entreated you to remain neuter; and, under the shade of your trees, and by the side of your streams, to smoke your pipe in safety and contentment. Though pressed by our enemies, and when their ships obstructed our supplies of arms and powder, and clothing, we were not unmindful of your wants. Of what was necessary for our own use, we cheerfully spared you a part. More we should have done, had it been in our power.

Brothers, Cayugas, Senecas, Tuscaroras, and Mohawks!

Open your ears and hear our complaints. Why have you listened to the voice of our enemies? why have you suffered Sir John Johnson and Butler to mislead you? why have you assisted General St. Leger and his warriors from the other side of the great water, by giving them a free passage through your country to annoy us; which both you and we solemnly promised should not be defiled with blood? why have you suffered so many of your nations to join them in their cruel purposes? Is this a suitable return for our love and kindness? or did you suspect, that we were too weak or too cowardly to defend our country; and join our enemies, that you might come in for a share of the plunder? what has been gained by this unprovoked treachery? what but shame and disgrace! your foolish warriors and their new allies have been defeated and driven back in every quarter; and many of them justly paid the price of their rashness with their lives. Sorry are we to find that our ancient chain of union, heretofore so strong and bright, should be broken by such poor and weak instruments as Sir John Johnson and Butler, who dare not shew their faces among their countrymen, and by St. Leger, a stranger, whom you never knew! what are become of the spirit, the wisdom, and the justice of your nations? is it possible that you should barter away your ancient glory, and break through the most solemn treaties for a few blankets or a little rum or powder? that trifles such as these should prove any temptation to you to cut down that strong tree of friendship, by our common ancestors planted in the deep bowels of the earth at Onondaga, your central council fire; that tree which has been watered and nourished by their children until the branches had almost reached the skies! as well might we have expected, that the mole should overturn the vast mountains of the Allegany, or that the birds of the air should drink up the waters of Ontario!

Brothers, Cayugas, Senecas, Tuscaroras, Mohawks!

Look into your hearts, and be attentive. Much are you to blame, and greatly have you wronged us. Be wise in time. Be sorry for and amend your faults. The great council, though the blood of our friends, who fell by your tomhawks at the German Flats, cries aloud against you, will yet be patient. We do not desire to destroy you. Long have we been at peace; and it is still our wish to bury the hatchet, and wipe away the blood which some of you have so unjustly shed. Till time shall be no more, we wish to smoke with you the calumet of friendship around your central council fire at Onondaga. But, brothers, mark well what we now tell you. Let it sink deep as the bottom of the sea, and never be forgotten by you or your children. If ever again you take up the hatchet to strike us; if you join our enemies in battle or council; if you give them intelligence, or encourage or permit them to pass through your country to molest or hurt any of our people, we shall look upon you as our enemies, and treat you as the worst of enemies, who, under a cloak of friendship, cover your bad designs, and, like the concealed adder, only wait for an opportunity to wound us, when we are most unprepared.

Brothers: Believe us who never deceive. If, after all our good counsel, and all our care to prevent it, we must take up the hatchet, the blood to be shed will lie heavy on your heads. The hand of the thirteen United States is not short. It will reach to the farthest extent of the country of the Six Nations; and while we have right on our side, the good spirit whom we serve, will enable us to punish you, and put it out of your power to do us farther mischief.

Brothers, Oneidas and Onondagas!

Hearken to what we have to say to you in particular: It rejoices our hearts, that we have no reason to reproach you in common with the rest of the Six Nations. We have experienced your love, strong as the oak, and your fidelity, unchangeable as truth. You have kept fast hold of the ancient covenant-chain, and preserved it free from rust and decay, and bright as silver. Like brave men, for glory you despised danger; you stood forth, in the cause of your friends, and ventured your lives in our battles. While the sun and moon continue to give light to the world, we shall love and respect you. As our trusty friends, we shall protect you; and shall at all times consider your welfare as our own.

Brothers, of the Six Nations!

Open your ears and listen attentively. It is long ago that we explained to you our quarrel with the people on the other side of the great water. Remember that our cause is just; you and your forefathers have long seen us allied to those people in friendship. By our labour and industry they flourished like the trees of the forest, and became exceeding rich and proud. At length, nothing would satisfy them, unless, like slaves, we would give them the power over our whole substance. Because we would not yield to such a shameful bondage, they took up the hatchet. You have seen them covering our coast with their ships, and a part of our country with their warriors; but you have not seen us dismayed; on the contrary, you know, that we have stood firm like rocks and fought like men, who deserved to be free. You know that we have defeated St. Leger, and conquered Burgoyne and all their warriors. Our chief men, and our warriors, are now fighting against the rest of our enemies, and we trust that the good spirit will soon put them in our power, or enable us to drive them all far beyond the great waters.

Brothers: Believe us that they feel their own weakness, and that they are unable to subdue the thirteen United States. Else why have they not left our Indian brethren in peace, as they first promised, and we wished to have done? Why have they endeavoured by cunning speeches, by falsehood and misrepresentation, by strong drink and presents, to embitter the minds and darken the understandings of all our Indian friends on this great continent, from the north to the south, and to engage them to take up the hatchet against us without any provocation? The Cherokees, like some of you, were prevailed upon to strike our people. We carried the war into their country and fought them. They saw their error, they repented, and we forgave them. The United States are kind and merciful, and wish for peace with all the world. We have, therefore, renewed our ancient covenant-chain with that nation.

Brothers: The Shawanese and the Delawares give us daily proofs of their good disposition and their attachment to us; and are ready to assist us against all our enemies. The Chickasaws are among the number of our faithful friends. And the Choctaws, though remote from us, have refused to listen to the persuasions of our enemies, rejected all their offers of corruption, and continue peaceable. The Creeks are also our steady friends. Oboylaco, their great chief, and the rest of the sachems and warriors, as the strongest mark of their sincere friendship, have presented the great council with an eagle’s tail and rattle trap. They have desired that these tokens might be shewn to the Six Nations and their allies, to convince them that the Creeks are at peace with the United States. We, therefore, have directed our commissioners to deliver them into your hands. Let them be seen by all the nations in your alliance, and preserved in your central council-house at Onondaga.

Brothers, Sachems, and Warriors of the Six Nations!

Hearken to our counsel. Let us, who are born on the same great continent, love one another. Our interest is the same, and we ought to be one people, always ready to assist and to serve each other. What are the people who belong to the other side of the great water to either of us! They never came here for our sakes; but to gratify their own pride and avarice. Their business now is to kill and destroy our inhabitants, to lay waste our houses and farms. The day, we trust, will soon arrive when we shall be rid of them forever. Now is the time to hasten and secure this happy event. Let us then, from this moment, join hand and heart in the defence of our common country. Let us rise as one man and drive away our cruel oppressors. Henceforward let none be able to separate us.

If any of our people injure you, acquaint us of it, and you may depend upon full satisfaction. If any of yours hurt us, be you ready to repair the wrong or punish the aggressor. Above all, shut your ears against liars and deceivers, who, like false meteors, strive to lead you astray, and to set us at variance. Believe no evil of us, till you have taken pains to discover the truth. Our council-fire always burns clear and bright in Pennsylvania. Our commissioners and agents are near your country. We shall not be blinded by false reports or false appearances.

Brothers: What may be farther necessary at this time for our common good, you will learn from our commissioners, who sit round our council-fire at Albany. Hear what they say, and treasure it up in your hearts. Farewell.

From our great council-fire in Pennsylvania, the 3 day of December, 1777.

By order of Congress.

Instructions to the commissioners for Indian affairs in the northern department.

The glorious successes of our arms in the north, and the severe chastisement which the unfriendly Indians have received, will dispose the Six Nations to dread our resentment, and to value our protection. While they are under these impressions, will be the proper season to urge them to some decisive enterprize, which will effectually tie them to our cause and promote the public service.

Congress have therefore sent them a speech, which is to be communicated to the different nations, and their feelings upon it attentively watched; and every possible advantage derived to the states from favorable circumstances.
Congress have at present two great objects in view from their assistance, &c. &c.

1. As the Ottawas, Chippawas, Wiandots and Mingoes at Pluggy's town are now actually carrying on a predatory war against the inhabitants of the western frontiers of Virginia and Pennsylvania, the Six Nations are to be prevailed upon to oblige them immediately to desist; in case of refusal, to declare war against them and surprize and destroy their towns. If the latter plan should be agreed to, they will be aided by General Hand, should that be convenient.

2. They are to be induced to surprize Niagara, which will be practicable, if the Senecas heartily embrace the measure and it is conducted with prudence and secrecy.

These are capital objects, in the execution of which, great circumspection is necessary; and especially in broaching them to the Indians. And they therefore will demand the utmost attention of the Commissioners.

Resolved, That Mr. [James] Duane be requested to confer with the commissioners for Indian affairs in the northern department and to give them every aid and assistance in his power, in their deliberations, conferences and treaties with the Indians.

Congress proceeded to the election of two commissioners for auditing claims at the Board of Treasury and the ballots being taken,

Whereas¹

The Committee to whom it was referred to consider of a proposition for surprizing and destroying the enemies shipping at S' John's or elsewhere, on Lake Champlain, during the winter season have duly considered thereof, and being of opinion that such an enterprise is of the utmost importance, and promises the greatest Prospect of Success; provided it can be conducted with Prudence, Resolution and Secrecy, Report the following Plan for carrying it into effect.

I. That the Hon." J[a]t Duane Esq. be authorized and directed in a personal Conference to communicate the Enterprize to Brigadier General Stark, who is appointed to the Command: and to consider with him of the best and most practicable means for its accomplishment.

II. That Brigadier General Starke be authorized with the utmost Secrecy to Select or Raise a competent number of Volunteers for this Service; and to receive from the commanding officer of the Northern Department a sufficient Quantity of Military Stores, Carriages and provisions: or if more convenient to hire Carriages and to purchase provisions: and that the sum of Five thousand dollars for these and other contingent expenses shall be advanced out of the Military Chest, in the said Department to him or his order for the Expenditure whereof he is to be accountable.

III. That if the Enterprize should prove successful the sum of Twenty thousand dollars shall be paid to the said General Starke and his officers and men, to be divided among them in proportion as the pay of Continental Officers and Privates bears to each other as a Reward for their services and in full satisfaction of all Wages and Claims: or in such proportions more advantageous to the privates as the general and his officers shall ascertain. But if stipulated wages should be preferred to the Chance of such Reward, the general shall be at Liberty to retain the officers and men at double continental pay and Rations during the Expedition, in Consideration of the inclemency of the season and the importance of the service.

IV. That General Starke be ingaged to keep secret the said Enterprize, and not to communicate it untill the nature of the operations shall render it necessary.

V. That a Warrant in the Words following, subscribed by the President, shall be transmitted to General Starke; viz:

"IN CONGRESS YORK TOWN
the 3d day of Dec. 1777.

"Whereas Brig' General Starke is appointed to command a secret expedition during the Winter season: you are therefore directed and required upon his order to supply him with such sums of money not exceeding Five thousand dollars: and such Carriages, Military Stores and Provisions as he may require, taking his vouchers for the same and for which he is to be accountable.

"By order of Congress.

"To the Commanding officer, Pay Master General, Quarter Master General and Commissaries of Stores and Provisions, in the Northern Department."
December, 1777

VI. That if from any unforeseen accident General Starkes should be unable or unwilling to engage in the said Enterprize: The Commanding officer in the Northern Department be in such case directed and authorized to appoint some other brave and diligent officer to the said Command and that the officer so Commanding shall have the same powers and with the other officers and Men the same Rewards or Pay as are before proposed.

VII. That all officers in the Service of the United States be required, and all civil officers and others requested, to give every aid and assistance in their power for forwarding and securing the success of the said Enterprize.¹

Resolved, That the report of the Board of Treasury, on the regulations for the payment of the army, be referred to the new Board of War.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; whereupon, Congress came to the following resolution:

Whereas, experience hath evidenced that the laws which have been enacted in the State of Pennsylvania, permitting the furnishing of substitutes to perform militia duty, have not only tended to impede the march of the militia on critical occasions, but likewise to impede the recruiting service, and to encourage desertions from the continental army:

Resolved, That it be submitted to the consideration of the legislature of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, forthwith to repeal the clause in the said laws which permits the hiring of substitutes to perform militia duty; and, in lieu thereof, to impose and lay such fines on those persons who neglect, or refuse to march when called forth on duty, as the said legislature shall deem adequate to personal service; the fines so levied to be appropriated as a fund for granting such additional bounties to continental recruits as the legislature may deem expedient, in order to complete the deficiencies in their quota of continental troops.¹

Resolved, That the commissioners for Indian affairs in the northern department be authorised to offer the Indians, whom they may engage to undertake the reduction of the fort and garrison of Niagara, such reward, whether of money or goods, as they may think adequate to the purpose, having in contemplation as well the Economy necessary to be observed, as the importance of the object: And for this purpose, that they have authority to draw on the military chest in the northern department for a sum not exceeding 15,000 dollars, and also to receive out of the public stores in the northern department such a reasonable quantity of ammunition for the use of the said nations as may, in the opinion of the commissioners, be necessary to promote the public service.

Resolved, That if the commissioners of Indian affairs in the northern department cannot engage the Indians to undertake the enterprise against Niagara, unless a promise is previously made, that the fort, if taken shall be entirely dismantled, in such case, they be authorised to make this Convention.¹

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq; auditor general, in favour of Michael Hillegas, Esq; for three hundred and eighty dollars, for cash he advanced to Lieutenant Allen, and the price of a horse and chair to convey 300,000 dollars to North Carolina in July last; the same to be accounted for by the State of North Carolina, and to be considered as a part of the 500,000 dollars appropriated for the use of that State:

Ordered, That a warrant issue on John Gibson, Esq; auditor general, in favour of Lieutenant John Allen, for 90 60/90 dollars, the balance of his expenses to and from North Carolina with 300,000 dollars to that State in July last; the State to be accountable, and to be considered as a part of the 500,000 dollars ordered to that State:

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1777

A memorial from Baron de Fry was read:

Ordered, That the consideration thereof be postponed.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was read, and, after debate,

AT A BOARD OF WAR 5th Dec 1777

Present: Mr. Lee, Mr. Duer, Mr. Harvey and Mr. Smith.

The Board beg leave to report that they have taken into Consideration the Letters which have passed betwixt General Washington and General Howe from the 4th to the 26th of November relative to the exchange and treatment of Prisoners, and submit to the consideration of Congress the following Resolutions:

That General Washington be informed that General Howe’s answer to his Letters of the 14th and 23rd of November remonstrating against 1 This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, I, folio 513.

December, 1777

the inhuman treatment of the American Prisoners, is in the opinion of Congress by no means explicit and satisfactory, since it neither invalidates the truth of the Depositions of Joseph Cloyd and William Dewes, citizens of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or gives assurance of a more humane attention in future to the American Prisoners in General Howe's power than has been hitherto shewn to them.

That General Washington be directed to require of General Howe a speedy and explicit explanation of the following passages in his Letter, in answer to those of General Washington of the 14th and the 23rd November:

"As every Man in my opinion who comes fairly under the description of a Prisoner of War, without any aggravating Circumstance on his part, is undoubtedly entitled to good Treatment, and every Indulgence which can in prudence be granted: but that Indulgence can only be regulated by the situation of the place, in which Prisoners happen to reside.

"If ever any Officer or Commissary under my Command has deviated from the Civility, Care and Attention, due to Prisoners of War, under the above Description, it is not consistent with my knowledge, and is contrary to my Directions and Intention.

"The Provision issued to the Prisoners which are or have been in my hands, has been uniformly the same, and is agreeable to a Regulation, which has long been established for victualling British Troops, when they are on board Men of War or Transports; they surely must receive that allowance, as a Field Officer visits them every morning, who has orders to hear their Complaints, and to report to me. You cannot suppose there could be an intention of deviating from this Rule, in the case of Joseph Cloyd and William Dewes."

As there are several passages in the above cited Paragraphs which strongly imply General Howe's intention of making a distinction in treatment between Persons taken in Arms and the faithful and leige Citizens of these States, who by chance or the fortune of War may fall into his power; an intention utterly irreconcileable, not only with the principle of humanity but with the Spirit of General Howe's former Sentiments on this subject, as expressed in the following paragraph of his Letter to General Washington, dated Staten Island, August 1st, 1776

"Wishing sincerely to give Relief to the Distresses of all Prisoners, I shall readily consent to the mode of exchange you are pleased to propose; vizt, Officers for those of equal Rank, Soldier for Soldier, Citizen for Citizen, the choice to be made by the respective Commanders for their own Officers and Men.\footnote{This report is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 147, I, folio 407. The members present were Francis Lightfoot Lee, William Duer, John Harvie, and Jonathan Bayard Smith. It is endorsed by Henry Laurens: "One motion confirmed as an amendment. Resolution offered 8 December. Postponed to 15th."} \textit{Ordered,} That the farther consideration thereof be postponed to Monday next.

Adjourned to 10 o’Clock on Monday.

\textbf{MONDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1777}

A letter, of the 6, from General Stephen, was read:

A letter from the Chevalier de Failly, with a letter in his favour from General Gates, was read.

And a petition from Michael Welsh, was read.\footnote{The letter of Stephen is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 162, folio 236; that of Failly, in No. 78, IX, folio 145; that of Welsh, in No. 59, III, folio 193.}

\textit{Ordered,} That the letter from the Chevalier de Failly and the petition of Michael Welsh be referred to the Board of War.

Sundry intercepted letters from Owen Jones, Jun’ to sundry persons at Lancaster, were laid before Congress:

\textit{Ordered,} That they be referred to a committee of three.

The members chosen, Mr. [William] Ellery, Mr. [William] Duer, and Mr. [John] Harvie.

Whereas, it is of the greatest importance that Congress should, at this critical conjuncture, be well informed of the state of affairs in Europe; and whereas, Congress have resolved that the Hon. Silas Deane, Esq’ be recalled from the Court of France, and have appointed another commissioner to supply his place there:
December, 1777

Ordered, That the committee for foreign affairs write to the Hon'ble Silas Deane, and direct him to embrace the first opportunity of returning to America, and upon his arrival, to repair with all possible despatch to Congress.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report from the Board of War; Whereupon,

Resolved, That General Washington be informed that General Howe's answer to his letters of the 14 and 23d November, remonstrating against the inhuman treatment of the American prisoners, is, in the opinion of Congress, by no means explicit and satisfactory; since it does not invalidate the truth of the depositions of Joseph Cloyd and William Dewees, citizens of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and strongly implies General Howe's intentions of making a distinction in treatment between persons taken in arms and the faithful and liege citizens of these states, who, by stratagem or the fortune of war, may fall into his power; an intention not only subversive of the principles of humanity, but inconsistent with the spirit of General Howe's former sentiments on this subject, as expressed in his letter dated Staten Island, August 1, 1776, viz. "Wishing sincerely to give relief to the distresses of all prisoners, I shall readily consent to the mode of exchange you are pleased to propose, viz. officers for those of equal rank; soldier for soldier; citizen for citizen; the choice to be made by the respective commanders for their own officers and men."

It was then moved, "That General Washington be directed to demand of General Howe a speedy and explicit explanation of the line of conduct which he hath adopted, and means to observe in future to such persons, whether officers, soldiers, or citizens of these states, as may be subjected to his power:"
It was then moved, That the consideration thereof be postponed to Monday next; and the yeas and nays being required:

So it was resolved that the consideration of the motion be accordingly postponed.

The committee appointed to repair to Lancaster to confer with the general assembly of the State of Pennsylvania, report,

That they have executed the business committed to them, and beg leave to refer to the resolves of the said assembly, of the 3d and 6th instant, accompanying this report.

The committee farther report that they have despatched an express to Governor Clinton, to be informed whether the salt ordered to be sent to the North river is arrived there, in order to regulate the movement of the waggons to bring it forward.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to take into consideration the state of those counties in the states of Pennsylvania, Jersey, and Delaware, which border on the enemy, or are in the neighbourhood of General
Washington's army, and report the most effectual and vigorous measures for subsisting the army under the command of General Washington, and distressing that of the enemy.

The members chosen, Mr. [William] Duer, Mr. [William] Ellery, Mr. [Francis] Dana, Mr. F[francis] L[ightfoot] Lee, and Mr. [Eliphalet] Dyer.

A letter from the Viscount de Mauroy, at Boston, and one of the 6th, from the committee at camp, were read.\(^1\)

An application from Mrs. Duggan, for a supply of money, was read. Also a bill of exchange drawn at Boston, June 17, 1777, by Abraham Livingston, for himself and William Turnbull, in favour of Captain Pierre de Campe, was laid before Congress:

Ordered, That the application of Mrs. Duggan and the bill be referred to the Board of Treasury.

The Board of War laid before Congress a correspondence that passed between them and the supreme executive council of Pennsylvania, relative to supplying the hospital and army with blankets and cloathing; Whereupon,

Resolved, That the legislature of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania be informed, that, in the opinion of Congress, the means which have been pursued in consequence of the ordinance of the council of safety, November 8, 1777,

\(^1\)The letter of De Mauroy is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, XV, folio 279. That of the committee at camp, in the writing of Elbridge Gerry, is in No. 137, Appendix, folio 198.
have by no means been adequate to the laudable designs the council had in view:

That the situation of the army and of the hospitals, for want of blankets and other cloathing, is really deplorable, and, if not speedily remedied, must be attended with the most prejudicial consequences not only to this State but to the general interest:

That Congress, therefore, submit it to the assembly of the State of Pennsylvannia, whether under these critical, distressing circumstances, it would not be advisable to vest the continental Board of War, or such persons as the said Board may, for that purpose, appoint, with full powers to collect cloathing, and blankets, &c. agreeable to the restrictions in the ordinance of council of the 8 November, 1777.

Ordered, That the Board of War transmit the foregoing resolution to the legislature aforesaid.

A motion being made to recommend it to sundry states to offer pardons and give encouragement to such of the members of their respective states as they judge proper, who having joined the enemy, are willing to return to their allegiance:

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of four:

The members chosen, Mr. [Francis] Dana, Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau, Mr. [William] Duer, and Mr. [Eliphalet] Dyer.

The committee to whom were referred the intercepted letters from Owen Jones, Jun: to sundry persons at Lancaster, brought in a partial report, and desired leave to sit again on the business.

Resolved, That the letters from Owen Jones, Jun: a prisoner of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, confined at Winchester in Virginia, to sundry persons at Lancaster, be transmitted by the Board of War to the president of the supreme executive council of the State of Pennsylvania; and that it be recommended to the executive authority of the said State, to take such measures on the premises, as they, in their wisdom, shall deem meet.

Ordered, That the committee have leave to sit again:

Resolved, That the president write letters to the several states of Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland and South Carolina, representing to them the great and important matters to be transacted in Congress during the winter, and the few members now attending, and that he request them to send forward, without delay, an additional number of members.

That he also write in pressing terms to the states of New Jersey and Delaware, who are unrepresented, to send delegates immediately to Congress.

Wednesday, December 10, 1777

A petition from Christopher, Junr. and Charles Marshall, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.

The committee to whom it was referred to take into consideration the state of those counties in the states of Pennsylvania, Jersey and Delaware, which border on the enemy, &c. brought in a report, which was taken into consideration, and agreed to as follows:

Resolved, That General Washington be informed, that Congress have observed, with deep concern, that the principal supplies for the army under his command have, since the loss of Philadelphia, been drawn from distant quarters, whereby great expence has accrued to the public, the army has been irregularly and [often] scantily supplied, and the established magazines greatly reduced, while large quantities of stock, provision and forage, are still remaining in the counties of Philadelphia, Bucks and Chester, which, by the fortune of war, may be soon subjected to the power of the enemy:

That Congress, firmly persuaded of General Washington’s zeal and attachment to the interest of these states, can only impute his forbearance in exercising the powers vested in him by Congress, by their resolutions of the 17 September and 14 November, to a delicacy in exerting military authority on the citizens of these states; a delicacy, which though highly laudable in general, may, on critical exigencies, prove destructive to the army and prejudicial to the general liberties of America:

That from these considerations, it is the desire and expectation of Congress, that General Washington should, for the future, endeavour as much as possible to subsist his army from such parts of the country as are in its vicinity, and especially from such quarters as he shall deem most likely to be subjected to the power or depredations of the enemy: and that he issue orders for such purpose to the commissaries and quarter masters belonging to the army:

That General Washington be directed to order every kind of stock and provisions in the country above-mentioned, which may be beneficial to the army or serviceable to the enemy, to be taken from all persons without distinction, leaving such quantities only as he shall judge necessary for the maintenance of their families; the stock and provisions so taken to be removed to places of security under the care of proper persons to be appointed for that purpose; and that he issue a proclamation, requiring all persons within seventy miles of head quarters, forthwith to thresh out their grain within such limited periods of time, as he shall deem reasonable, on penalty, in case of failure, of having the same seized by the commissaries and quarter masters of the army and paid for as straw:

That General Washington be directed to cause all provisions, stock, forage, waggons and teams, which may be, at any time, in the route of the enemy, and which cannot be seasonably removed, to be destroyed.

Whereas, it is essentially necessary, that magazines should be seasonably provided in the interior part of the country, and many inhabitants, through motives of avarice or disaffection, refuse to thresh out their grain.¹

Resolved, That it be earnestly recommended to the legislature of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania, forthwith to enact a law, requiring all persons within the county of York, their State, at the distance of seventy miles and upwards, from General Washington's head quarters, and below the Blue Mountains, to thresh out their wheat and other grain, within as short a period of time as the said legislature shall deem sufficient for that purpose; and, in case of failure, to subject the same to seizure by the commissaries and quarter masters of the American army, to be paid for at the price of straw only, excepting from such penalty, such families only, who, from the absence of the master, sons or servants, in the service of their country, can give good proof that their compliance with the said law was not practicable.²

Resolved, That a member be added to the Committee on Appeals:

The member chosen, Mr. [Benjamin] Rumsey.

Resolved, That two members be added to the Medical Committee:

The members chosen, Mr. [Francis] Lewis and Mr. [John] Penn.

Congress having received information that the inoculation of recruits in the hospital in the State of Virginia has of late been attended with much ill success;

Resolved, That the Medical Committee make strict enquiry into the truth of this information, and report to Congress, with all possible despatch.

Ordered, That to morrow morning, Congress proceed to the election of a commissioner to proceed to the western frontiers in the room of Colonel J. Reed.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report;

Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasury in favour of Mons' Lotbinier, a Canadian chaplain, for 144 dollars, being for his pay and rations from the 10th September to 10 December instant.

That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of Captain Martin Pfifer, for 1,000 dollars, for the use of his own, Captain Ashe and Captain Medici's troops North Carolina light-horse; the said Captain Pfifer to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of the delegates, of the State of Georgia, for 2,000 dollars; 1,500 dollars of the said sum being advanced on the application of Mr. [Joseph] Wood, and 500 on the application of Mr. [Edward] Langworthy, two of the delegates of the said State, which sum is to be considered as a part of the 300,000 appropriated for the use of the said State:

That a warrant issue on Thomas Smith, Esq: commissioner of the continental loan office in the State of Pennsylvania, in favour of James Mease, Esq: cloather general, for 12,000 dollars, advanced him towards the payment of cloathing, purchased by Mr. Zantzinger, for the use of Brigadier General Wayne's division; the said cloathier general to be accountable:
December, 1777

That a warrant issue on the treasury in favour of John Brown, for 1,844 dollars, in discharge of John Ashe's four drafts, dated in the State of North Carolina, the 15 March, 1777, in favour of John Fragneau; one for 410, one for 442, one for 500, and the other for 510 dollars; the said State to be accountable, and to be considered as a part of the 500,000 dollars heretofore ordered for the use of that State.¹

Mr. A[braham] Clark, a delegate from New Jersey, attended, and produced the credentials of his appointment, which were read as follows:

At a joint meeting of the legislative council and general assembly of the state of New Jersey, held at Princeton, on the 20th day of November, 1777: The joint meeting proceeded to the election of five delegates, to represent the state in the general Congress of the United States, and, the ballots being taken, the honorable John Witherspoon, Abraham Clark, Jonathan Elmer, Nathaniel Scudder, and Elias Boudinot, esqrs. were duly elected.

Resolved, therefore, That the said John Witherspoon, Abraham Clark, Jonathan Elmer, Nathaniel Scudder, and Elias Boudinot, or any one or more of them, be empowered to represent and vote in behalf of this state, in the general Congress of the United States of North America, until the first day of December, which will be in the year of our Lord, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, unless a new appointment shall sooner take place. It is, nevertheless, expected, that three of the said delegates do constantly attend Congress, unless prevented by sickness or other accident.

By order of the joint meeting,

JOHN STEVENS, Chairman.

Attest.

CHARLES PETTIT, Secretary.

According to the order of the day, Congress proceeded to the election of a commissioner to go to Fort Pitt, in the room of Colonel Reed, who is excused, and, the ballots being taken, George Clymer, Esq.' was elected.

The Board of War report,

"That, in their opinion, the public interest will be promoted by erecting in the town of York, temporary barracks or sheds sufficient for containing 600 men, for the purpose of accommodating such recruits, and other troops, as may be, from time to time, stationed or detained at the said place, either as guards, or for the purpose of equipment and discipline:" Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Board of War be directed to cause the said barracks or sheds to be erected, with all possible despach, and in the most reasonable manner they can device.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report;
Whereupon,

Resolved, That a warrant issue on the Treasurer in favour of Lt.
Col. Failer, for four hundred Dollars advanced to him on his pay, he to be accountable.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of William Hurrie, for 84 dollars, for his attendance as door keeper to Congress, from first August to 19
September, for nursing wounded soldiers, &c.1

general officers conducting such expedition, report as their opinion:

That five commissioners be appointed, and that they or any three of them be empowered to conduct the enquiry; that they meet for that purpose on the first Monday in February next, at Providence, in the state of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations; that they summon before them the commanding officer and all the general officers concerned in the conduct of the said expedition, and all such other officers and persons as they may think proper:

That the mode of their enquiry be by question and answer:

That they enquire what number of troops were assembled for the expedition; what number of continental troops, of fifteen months' men, of militia, of volunteers, of artillerists or train, and what was the quantity and species of ordnance and ordnance stores; whether any extra militia were called forth, when, why, for what time; and what number of them did appear at the posts in arms, and when they were dismissed; how long before the time fixed for their rendezvous, the commander in chief had knowledge of the number of troops to be employed in the expedition; whether the necessary preparations were made for a descent on Rhode Island previous to the time of rendezvous, or at any time afterwards; and what those preparations were; when they were in readiness for an attack; and if, at any time, they were ready, why the attack was postponed from day to day, until the time expired for which the militia were ordered out; and the particular reasons why it was each day postponed; what was the force of the enemy on Rhode Island during the time the expedition aforesaid was on foot?
That they enquire whether any councils of war were held during the said time, and whether their proceedings and determinations were committed to writing, and if they were, that they require the commanding officer to lay the same before them?

That they enquire what was the quantity of provisions expended during the time the troops were assembled for carrying on the expedition; what proportion of the provisions was salted, and from what magazines supplied; and if any and what quantity of fresh provisions might have been obtained for the use of the army under the command of General Spencer?¹

That they ask all such further questions, and make such further enquiries, by correspondence or otherwise, as they may think will tend to discover the causes of the failure of the said expedition; and that they report to Congress the questions asked, and the answers made, and also a copy of the proceedings and determinations of any and all councils of war that were held during the time aforesaid, together with the opinions of each member of such council upon matters proposed and debated, if practicable to be obtained, and of all other papers that may be laid before them, or which they may otherwise procure respecting the said expedition?²

The said report being read, was agreed to.

Congress proceeded to the election of commissioners, and, the ballots being taken, General William Whipple, of New Hampshire, R. T. Paine, Esq. of Massachusetts bay, Egbert Benson, Esq. of New York, Oliver Ellsworth, Esq. of Connecticut, and Henry Marchant, Esq. of Rhode Island, were elected.

A letter, of the 10, from General Washington, at White Marsh, was read.¹

Mr. [William] Smith, a member of the Committee of Commerce, informed Congress that, in pursuance of the orders of Congress, the committee have entered into an agreement with Mr. Gillon, and that he is desirous of having a draught on the loan office for the State of South Carolina, for the first year's advance; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the commissioner of the loan office for the State of South Carolina, in favour of Alexander Gillon, Esq. for the sum of 125,000 dollars, to enable him to execute the contract entered into with the Committee of Commerce; and that the said sum be charged to the account of the said committee, which is to be accountable:

Resolved, That three members be added to the Committee of Commerce:

The members chosen, Mr. [Francis] Lewis, Mr. [William] Ellery, and Mr. [Cornelius] Harnett.

The Board of War, to whom were referred the letters from Brigadier General Conway, brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon, be made of inspectors general, agreeable to the practice of the best disciplined European armies:

Resolved, That this appointment be conferred on experienced and vigilant general officers, who are acquainted with whatever relates to the general economy, manoeuvres and discipline of a well regulated army.

Resolved, That the duty of these officers be as follows:

To review, from time to time, the troops, and to see that every officer and soldier be instructed in the exercise and manoeuvres which may be established by the Board of War: that the rules of discipline are strictly observed, and that the officers command their soldiers properly, and do them justice.

Resolved, That the inspectors general, respectively, shall give notice to the commanders of regiments, of the time which shall be fixed on for such reviews, who are to prepare the following returns, models of which are previously to be furnished by the inspector general, viz.

A return of cloathing;

A return of recruits, with an account of the money laid out for that purpose;

A return of the number and names of the wounded men, distinguishing such as are fit for the corps of invalids, and such as are totally unfit for service;

A return of the loss sustained in the regiment by death, desertion, or otherwise;

A return of the pay and rations drawn by each regiment;

A return of all the officers of each regiment, with observations upon the behaviour, capacity and assiduity of every individual:

general, who, after having made and added his remarks upon the same, is to sign and transmit them to Congress.

Resolved, That the inspectors general shall make these reviews in the beginning and at the latter end of every campaign, and at such other times as the commander in chief shall direct, or as they themselves shall severally judge proper, or shall receive orders for that purpose from the Board of War, first giving notice thereof to the commander in chief, and obtaining his leave for reviewing the said troops.

Resolved, That the inspectors general, respectively, shall make this review minutely, man by man, attending to the complaints and representations of both soldier and officer, and transmitting to Congress what petitions and grievances he shall think worthy of notice: that not depending solely upon the accounts and characters of officers as given him by the colonels of regiments, the inspectors general shall examine the said officers in person, direct them to command different manoeuvres, and take such measures as shall enable him to give an exact account to Congress.

Resolved, That these reviews, when closed, be transmitted to Congress by the inspector general making the review, who is to furnish the major of the respective regiments with a copy of the same, and to keep another for his own government and assistance in proceeding to the next reviews.

Resolved, That the inspectors general shall examine, from time to time, the pay-books of the respective regiments, which are to be kept in an uniform manner, agreeable to such regulations as may be established for that purpose, giving immediate notice to Congress of any malversation or mismanagement which he may discover.

Resolved, That it be referred to the commissioners of the war office to report such further regulations for this office, as they shall seem calculated to extend its utility, and to promote the end of its institution.¹

Resolved, That two inspectors general be now appointed:

Congress proceeded to the election, and, the ballots being taken, Brigadier General Conway was unanimously elected.

Resolved, That the election of the other inspector general be postponed to Monday next.

Resolved, That General Conway be promoted to the another major general be appointed in the army of the United States.

The ballots being taken, Brigadier General Conway was elected.

A letter, of the 5, from B. Harrison, Esq; deputy pay master general in Virginia; and one, of the same date, from William Finnie, Esq; deputy quarter master general, to the Board of War, were laid before Congress, and read:²

Ordered, That they be referred to the Board of Treasury.

The secretary informed Congress that Mr. Clymer accepted the appointment of commissioner, and would proceed to Fort Pitt as soon as he could get ready:

Ordered, That the States of Pensylvania and Virginia be informed of Mr. Clymer’s appointment and acceptance.

¹ This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 413. The members of the Board present were: Francis Lightfoot Lee, William Duer, Jonathan Bayard Smith, and John Harvie. The original report contemplated only one inspector general.

December, 1777

The Board of Treasury brought in a report; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of the delegates of the State of Georgia, for 6,807 dollars, to enable them to discharge the demands on them from the said State for that sum, which is to be considered as a part of the money appropriated for the use of the said State, which State is to be accountable.¹

The Board of Treasury laid before Congress a letter of the 24 November, directed to them, from General Heath, which was read:²

Ordered, That the said letter be referred to a committee of five, and that they be directed to enquire into the rise of the expedition against Rhode Island.

The members chosen, Mr. [Eliphalet] Dyer, Mr. [William] Ellery, Mr. [Francis] Dana, Mr. [James] Lovell, and Mr. [John] Harvie.

Mr. [Daniel] Roberdeau, a delegate from Pennslyvania, laid before Congress credentials of the appointment of delegates from that State, which were read as follows:

(L. S.) In the name and by the authority of the freemen of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania: the supreme executive council of the said state, to all whom it may concern, sendeth greeting: Whereas, the general assembly of representatives of the freemen of Pennsylvania have elected Dr. Benjamin Franklin, Robert Morris, Daniel Roberdeau, Jonathan Bayard Smith, James Smith, of York-town, William Clingan, and Joseph Reed, esqrs. to represent this state in Congress, and hath made the same known to this council: these are, therefore, to certify, that the said Dr. Benjamin Franklin, Robert Morris, Daniel Roberdeau, Jonathan Bayard Smith, James Smith, of York-town, William Clingan, and Joseph Reed, esqrs. are appointed and authorized to represent the freemen of the state of Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States of Amer-

Attest, T. Matlack, Secretary.

Congress having received information that large quantities of cattle have been driven down upon the marshes of the county of Kent, in the State of Delaware, and into other parts of the said county, which are exposed to the depredations of the enemy; and the present situation of the State of Delaware, with respect to its internal and open enemies, rendering it impracticable that any measures, which may be devised by the government of the said State, for securing the said stock, can be executed with secrecy and despatch:

Resolved, That the Board of War be authorized and directed to give such orders for securing the said stock as they shall deem most effectual:

That the owners of the stock so removed be paid for the same at reasonable rates.

Congress took into consideration a report of the Board of War, and, after debate ||after some time spent thereon,||

Resolved, That the consideration thereof be postponed.

James Smith, of York town, a delegate from Pensylvania, attended, and took his seat in Congress.

A letter from Edward Kennedy, an inhabitant of Providence, one of the Bahama Islands, dated at Boston, the
December, 1777

28th October, was laid before Congress, with samples of green indigo, a new manufacture discovered by him:

Ordered, That the same be referred to the delegates of South Carolina and Georgia.

A memorial from Ephraim Marsh, of Elizabeth town, with an account enclosed, was laid before Congress, and read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.

Resolved, That Colonel Rawlins be desired to attend Congress to morrow morning, at eleven o’Clock, in order to give such information, as has come to his knowledge, respecting the treatment our prisoners in the hands of the enemy receive from them.

The committee appointed to repair to the camp, having returned, made a report, which was read:

The Committee appointed to repair to the army and confer with General Washington on the best and most practicable means of carrying on a Winter’s Campaign with vigor and success, and with his concurrence to direct every measure which circumstances might require for promoting the public service, have attended that business, and beg leave to report:

That your committee arrived on the 3rd instant at White Marsh, where the Army was then encamped, and communicated to the General the resolution of Congress respecting their appointment, and were informed by him that he would attend them on the Business the next day, and at the same time received from him for their perusal sundry Letters containing the Opinions of his General Officers “Respecting the propriety of an attack upon the Enemy’s lines;” and also other Letters declaring their sentiments on the “necessity of putting the Troops into Winter Quarters, and the properest place to canton them;” which several opinions of the Officers on the questions stated were formed and given in previous to the arrival of your Committee.

That your Committee suggested to the General the necessity of resuming the consideration of a Winter’s Campaign, and of calling in large reinforcements of the Militia, to render it vigorous and successful; which induced the General again to require the Opinions of his

General Officers on these points; and several of their opinions in writing being given in before, and others during the Conference with the General on the 4th were likewise laid before your Committee.

That it appears to your Committee from a perusal of the said Letters, that the General Officers considered an attack upon the Enemy's Lines and Redoubts as an enterprise too dangerous, and not to be hazarded but in case of absolute necessity.

That the numbers of the Enemy nearly equalled that of the continental Army, which should be double to attempt to force lines defended by veteran Troops.

That an attack on the City over the Schuylkill, when frozen, supported by a large Body of Militia, was liable to the same objections, as it was probable the Enemy would be informed of the design, and form a line of redoubts round the City as soon as they knew such an attack was meditated.

That the season was too far advanced to call in large Bodies of Militia in time from the distant States to cooperate with the continental Army, and sufficient force could not be collected from the adjoining States. That if a sufficient aid of Militia could be collected in time, it was doubtful whether they could be furnished with provisions and Forage, and brought to act in concert with the regular Army.

That the Officers and Soldiers were badly clothed, the former in general discontented with the service, and averse to a Winter's Campaign.

That it would be most advisable to retire to Winter Quarters, to afford time for reforming the army, refreshing and disciplining the Troops, that they might take the Field early in the spring in health and vigor, and thereby prove more essentially useful to the American cause than by being exposed to a Winter's Campaign at the risque of a certain evil for an uncertain good.

Your Committee after deliberating upon these Reasons, hearing the sentiments of the General upon the subject, and considering the want of necessary Clothing and Blankets to enable the Troops to endure the hardships of a Winter's Campaign, the uneasiness that on many accounts prevailed among the Officers, their indifference to the Service, and universal aversion to continue in the Field during the Winter, the shortness of time for calling forth a Body of Militia properly equipped to aid the continental Army, the want of military apparatus to invest and make regular approaches to the city, and the evil consequences that would result from raising the expectations of the continent without accomplishing the purpose, the great expence that would be incurred and the certain prejudice to the recruiting Service, came to the following resolutions, which they inclosed to the General in a Letter, a copy of which is hereunto annexed.

That an attempt on Philadelphia with the present Force under Gen'l Washington, either by storming the Lines and Redoubts, crossing the Schuykill, or by regular approaches to the City, is an enterprise under the circumstances of the Army attended with such a variety of difficulties, as to render it ineligible.

That the Season is so far advanced as to render very precarious large reinforcements of Militia from the distant States to cooperate with the regular Army in any attempt across the Schuykill upon the Ice, and it is apprehended sufficient reinforcements cannot be obtained from the neighbouring States.

That there being time for Congress to determine on the properest mode of reinforcing the Army before the intended enterprise can be carried into execution, It is expedient for the Committee to adopt measures for that purpose.

That until sufficient reinforcements can be obtained, such a post should be taken by the Army as will be most likely to overawe the Enemy, afford supplies of provision, wood, Water, and Forage, be secure from surprise, and best calculated for covering the Country from the ravages of the Enemy, as well as provide comfortable Quarters for the Officers and Soldiers. ¹

Ordered, To lie on the table.

Resolved, That Congress meet twice a-day:

That at one o’Clock, Congress be adjourned of course, to three, at which time Congress shall meet in the afternoon.

A petition from Colonel [John] Green was read:²

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

The committee, to whom the letters from Mr. Otis, &c. were referred, brought in a report:

Ordered, That the consideration thereof be postponed till to morrow.

Mr. Jonathan B[ayard] Smith, a delegate from Pennsylvania, attended and took his seat [in Congress.]

A letter, of the 3d, from General Gates, enclosing a letter to him from General Burgoyne, dated Cambridge, November 14, together with a list of the British and German troops, that surrendered by the convention of Saratoga; also, a letter of the 12, and one, of the 28 November, from R. Varick, Esq' deputy muster master general in the northern department, with muster rolls of the northern ||army||, were read: 1

Ordered, That the letter from General Gates, with the papers enclosed, be referred to a committee of five.

The members chosen, Mr. [John] Witherspoon, Mr. [William] Duer, Mr. [Francis] Dana, Mr. F[rancis] L[ightfoot] Lee, and Mr. J[onathan] B[ayard] Smith.

Resolved, That Mr. [John] Harvie be added to the Marine Committee, in the room of Mr. R[ichard] H[enry] Lee, who is absent.

Congress took into consideration the report from the committee sent to confer with General Washington, and the remonstrance from the executive council and assembly of Pensylvania, and, after some time spent thereon,

Resolved, That the farther consideration thereof be postponed till to morrow.

A letter, of the 7, from General Heath, at Boston was read. 2

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1777

Ordered, That the letters from R. Varick, ||read yesterday,|| with the muster rolls enclosed, be referred to the Board of War.

A letter, of the 15, from Monsieur de la Balme, was read.¹

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee sent to confer with General Washington, and the remonstrance from the council and assembly of Pennsylvania:

Mention being made in the report, of letters containing the opinions of the general officers, on different subjects, which were laid before the committees by the General, and on which they had founded their opinion: the committee were asked whether they had those letters?

The committee replied that they had brought the letters with them, but that the General, when he delivered them the letters, mentioned that they might keep them to satisfy themselves and form their judgment, and return them to him when they had done with them. And therefore, they considered themselves obliged to return them to the General.

Ordered, That the committee lay the said letters on the table for the perusal of the members.

The letters were accordingly brought and laid on the table.

Adjourned to 3 o’Clock.

THREE O’CLOCK, P. M.

A certificate from Major General Gates, certifying that he has promoted Dennis John de Bouchet, to the rank of major, was laid before Congress:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

¹ This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 78, VII, folio 145.
Congress resumed the consideration of the report from the committee sent to confer with General Washington, and the remonstrance from the executive council and assembly of Pensylvania; Whereupon,

Resolved, That a copy of the remonstrance be transmitted by express to General Washington, and that he be desired to inform Congress whether he has come to a fixed resolution to canton the army; and if he has, what line of cantonment he has proposed; in particular, what measures are agreed on for the protection of that part of Pensylvania which lies on the easterly side of Schuylkill, and of the State of New Jersey:

That General Washington be farther informed, that, in the opinion of Congress, the State of New Jersey demands, in a peculiar degree, the protection of the armies of the United States, so far as the same can possibly be extended, consistent with the safety of the army and the general welfare; as that State lies open to attacks from so many quarters, and the struggles which have been made by the brave and virtuous inhabitants of that State, in defence of the common cause, cannot fail of exposing them to the particular resentment of a merciless enemy.

Congress took into consideration the report of the Board of War of the 12, and thereupon, came to the following resolution:

Whereas, Sir William Howe, commander in chief of his Britannic majesty's forces, has required that provisions should be sent in for the subsistence of the American prisoners in his possession, and for the purchase of such necessaries as they may stand in need of, and has prohibited the circulation of the money struck by the authority of these states, within such parts of the country as are at present subjected to his power; whereby great difficulties have occurred in relieving the distresses of the American prisoners; and whereas large sums of continental bills of credit\(^1\) have been counterfeited and issued by the agents, emissaries and abettors of Sir William Howe:\(^2\)

Resolved, That the accounts of all provisions and other necessaries which already have been, or which hereafter may be supplied by the public to prisoners in the power of these states, shall be discharged by either receiving from the British commissary of prisoners or any of his agents, provisions or other necessaries, equal in quality and kind to what have been supplied, or the amount thereof in gold and silver, at the rate of four shillings and six pence sterling for every dollar of the currency of these states: and that all these accounts be liquidated and discharged, previous to the release of any prisoners to whom provisions or other necessaries shall have been supplied.

The Board taking into Consideration the Letter from General Heath of the 1st Instant with the Petition and Papers enclosed from the Canadian Prisoners, beg leave to report as their opinion, that Congress take into their immediate Consideration a report of a Committee of Congress respecting the establishment of a French Legion, as the most eligible mode of providing for the said Prisoners.\(^3\)

Ordered, That Monday next be assigned for taking into consideration the report of the committee, respecting the establishment of a French legion.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report; Whereon,

\(^1\) The original report here read: "Which have been plundered by the enemy from the Citizens of these States.

\(^2\) The original report added: "have not only facilitated to them the means of supplying the Prisoners in the Power of these States at a very low Rate, whilst great obstructions have been thrown in our way, but have likewise tended to encourage the circulation of counterfeit Continental Bills."

\(^3\) This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 417. The members of the Board present were: Francis Lightfoot Lee, William Duer, John Harvie, and Jonathan Bayard Smith.
Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of John Gibson, Esq' auditor general, for six thousand dollars, to enable him to discharge a part of the warrant of Congress of 1st September last, drawn on him in favour of the delegates of Georgia; the said auditor general to be accountable.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of the Honorable Henry Laurens, Esq' for 400 dollars, to discharge William Palfrey, pay master general, his draft, of the 11 December, in favour of Colonel Moses Rawlins; the said pay master general to be accountable.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of Isaac Wikoff, for 600 dollars, to discharge John Ashe his draft, dated State of North Carolina, 5th of March last, in favour of William Dry, expressed to be for the payment and support of continental troops; the said State to be accountable, and to be considered as a part of the 500,000 dollars, appropriated for the use of that State.

supply the men; and it is represented that the men are willing to take money in lieu of the cloaths that cannot be supplied, and to furnish themselves with necessary cloathing:

Resolved, That the Board of Treasury be directed to settle the accounts of the said men, and to pay or order them to be paid for the articles of cloathing, with which they cannot be supplied by the cloathier general, agreeable to the estimate fixed by Congress.

The Medical Committee, to whom it was referred to enquire into the conduct of the director of the hospitals at Alexandria, reported, "That from the information of several officers in the Virginia and North Carolina regiments, which are annexed, it appears obvious to the committee that Dr. Rickman, director of the said hospitals, has been guilty of great neglect in not giving proper attendance to the officers and soldiers under inoculation at Alexandria:" The said report and the informations being read, Resolved, That Dr. Rickman be immediately suspended, and that he attend the Medical Committee, to answer the several complaints exhibited against him.

Ordered, That the Medical Committee transmit to Dr. Rickman a copy of the complaints against him, and direct his attendance:

That the said committee write to Dr. Shippen, director general, and direct him to send immediately a skilful physician to take care of the sick and superintend the inoculation of the soldiers at Alexandria.

Application being made by Robert Yancey, to be reimbursed a sum of public money entrusted to him as pay master of Colonel Bland's regiment, and which he lost;

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury to enquire into the circumstances, and report specially thereon.

Resolved, That Mr. [George] Frost be added to the Marine Committee, in the room of Mr. [Nathaniel] Folsom, who being engaged at the treasury, desires to be excused.

A letter, of the 2, from Brigadier Parsons, with a copy of a letter from him to Major General Tryon, and General Tryon’s answer, ||were read.||

Ordered, That Brigadier General Parsons be directed to send to Congress an authentic account of the treatment which John and Philip Vantassel and their families received from the enemy.

A letter, of the 14, from the navy board at Bordentown, in New Jersey, directed to the Marine Committee, was laid before Congress, and read:

Ordered, That it be returned to the Marine Committee, and that they be directed to prepare proper resolutions for supporting the authority of the navy board, and report the same to Congress.

A letter from Flobergue de la Rocatelle, with a memoir annexed, was laid before Congress, ||and read:||

Ordered, That it be referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report;

Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of Patrick M’Closkey, for 68 dollars, the price of a horse which belonged to him, and was sent with an express to the eastward in February last, and not returned, as appears by the certificate of Mr. [John] Hancock, and Mr. Abeel, assistant quarter master general:

December, 1777

That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of Mr. A. Clark, for the amount of the expences of himself and others, with the public papers, &c. at Bristol, for 39 65/90 dollars.

That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of William Buchanan, Esq: commissary general of purchases, for 600,000 dollars; 200,000 dollars of which to be sent to Mr. Cuyler, his deputy in the northern department, 200,000 to his deputy, Mr. Colt, in the eastern department, and 200,000 to his deputy in the southern department; the said commissary general of purchases to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on John Lawrence, Esq: commissioner of the continental loan office in the State of Connecticut, in favour of the hon. the governor and council of safety of the said State, for 200,000 dollars, for the purpose of purchasing provisions agreeable to a resolution of Congress; the said governor and council to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on Thomas Smith, Esq: commissioner of the loan office in the State of Pensylvania in favour of Elias Boudinot, for five thousand dollars, to be paid in continental loan office certificates, to bear date the 21 day of May last, it being in discharge of so much borrowed of the said Elias Boudinot at that time by William Palfrey, Esq: pay master general, the said pay master general to be accountable:

That another warrant issue on Thomas Smith, Esq: commissioner of the loan office in the State of Pensylvania, in favour of Elias Boudinot, for 1,200 dollars, to be paid him in loan office certificates, to be dated the 7th July last, it being so much borrowed of him at that time by William Palfrey, Esq: pay master general, the said pay master general to be accountable:

That the following warrants issue in favour of John Morton, Esq: for the payment [of] William Palfrey's two receipts amounting to 14,970½ dollars, which sum was borrowed of the said J. Morton by Mr. Palfrey, payable with interest; one receipt dated Morristown, the 27 day of May last, for 4,700 dollars; the other bearing date, the 27 day of May, for 10,270½ dollars, for which sums the said W. Palfrey, pay master general is to be accountable, viz:

One on Thomas Smith, Esq: commissioner of the loan office in the state of Pensylvania, for 14,900 dollars, to be paid in loan office certificates bearing date 27th of May last; and

One on the treasurer, to be paid to Elias Boudinot, Esq: for 70½ dollars, with interest thereon from 27 May to 20 December, instant, amounting in the whole to 72 80/90 dollars.

The said committee having represented to Congress, that the warrant drawn in favour of William Buchanan, commissary general of purchases, on the 16 September last, by the president of Congress, on John Lawrence, Esq: commissioner of the loan office in the State of Connecticut, for 200,000 dollars, is returned for want of payment, and that Mr. Buchanan desires the same may be cancelled; it was, thereupon,

Resolved, That the said warrant be cancelled, and proper entries made accordingly in the public books at the treasury office.¹

The committee to whom was re-committed the report of the committee on the letters from S. A. Otis, brought in their report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, 1. That it be most earnestly recommended to the respective legislatures of the United States, forthwith to enact laws, appointing suitable persons to seize and take, for the use of the continental army of the said states, all woollen cloths, blankets, linens, shoes, stockings, hats, and other necessary articles of cloathing, suitable for the army, which may be in the possession of any persons inhabitants of, or residents within, their respective states, for the purpose of sale and not for their own private use or family consumption, giving them certificates or receipts for the same, expressing the quantity and quality of the goods; provided, that such laws do not extend to any goods, wares, or merchandise which are, or shall be, bona fide, imported into the respective states on account of any persons not citizens of any of these United States, so long as the same shall continue their property, and no longer: and that they inflict such penalties as may be deemed proper on such persons possessed of any of the above enumerated goods, wares, and merchandise, or other articles of cloathing suitable for the army, who, to evade the good intention of the said laws, shall falsely affirm or declare the same to be the property of persons not citizens of any of the said United States.

2. That it be further recommended to make provision in the said laws to empower the commissary general of purchases, or any of his deputies, or such other persons as the respective legislatures may deem expedient, to seize all stock and every kind of provision necessary for the army, which may have been purchased up or engrossed by any person with a view of selling the same, giving to the person, from whom such stock or provisions have been taken, certificates as aforesaid.

3. That the value of all such goods, wares, and merchandise as are above enumerated, or other articles of cloathing, stock, or provisions necessary for the army, which shall be so seized and taken, be ascertained at the rate at which the said articles shall be stated by the convention of the committees of the several states, to be held agreeable to the recommendation of Congress of the 22 day of November last: the articles of cloathing to be paid for by draughts made by the respective states upon the cloathier general; and the stock or provisions by the purchasing commissaries receiving them.
4. And it is further recommended to the respective states, to cause to be made up so much of the cloathing aforesaid as they can complete within a reasonable time, and to send the whole of the cloathing so taken or seized, as well that part which may be made up, as that which may remain unmade, excepting so much as may be necessary for cloathing the recruits inlisted in the states for their respective battalions in the continental service, to the cloather general, to be distributed in the first instance to the supply of the troops belonging to the State furnishing such cloathing, and the residue in such manner as the commissioners of the war office or the cloather general shall, from time to time, direct: provided, that this resolution shall not repeal or affect any part of the seventh proposition recommended to the legislatures of the respective states, the 22d November last, relative to the additional cloathing to be furnished by the several states to their respective battalions. And it is further resolved, that the cloather general transmit, from time to time, to the respective states, an account of the cloathing furnished to their battalions out of the stock by them collected and sent forward, in order that each State may be satisfactorily informed that their troops receive immediate advantage from its exertions in the common cause.

5. And whereas, great waste of cloathing has arisen from the want of fidelity or skill in the persons employed to make up the same:

Resolved, That it be recommended to the respective states to appoint one or more suitable persons to superintend and direct the tradesmen employed to make up the cloaths to be collected as aforesaid, who shall conform themselves to the instructions of the Board of War relative to the form thereof, provided that no delays be suffered to take place from the want of such instructions.

6. And whereas, the comfortable support of the army of these states may hereafter greatly depend on the supplies which they may be able to draw from their own internal resources; it is therefore most earnestly recommended to the said states, to employ a sufficient number of manufacturers and tradesmen to supply the cloathing wanted for their respective battalions, exempting them, under proper regulations, from military duty; and authorizing suitable persons to collect and supply, at the stipulated prices, cotton, wool, flax, leather, and other articles for carrying on the said manufactures.

7. And whereas, certain persons, devoid of, and in repugnance to every principle of public virtue and humanity, instigated by the lust of avarice, are, in each State, assiduously endeavouring, by every means of oppression, sharpening, and extortion, to accumulate enormous gain to themselves, to the great distress of private families in general, and especially of the poorer and more dependent part of the community, as well as to the great injury of the public service. For the effectual suppression of such nefarious practices it is most seriously recom-pended to the several legislatures aforesaid, forthwith to enact laws, limiting the number of retailers of goods, wares, and merchandise in their several counties, towns, and districts, and obliging them to take license and enter into bonds for the observance of all laws made for their regulation; to make provision in the said laws that no person be allowed to sell by wholesale except the importer, and he only to persons having such licenses, or the certificates hereafter mentioned; and that such of their inhabitants as are not licensed as aforesaid, be restrained from purchasing a greater quantity of such goods, wares, or merchandise than is requisite for their own private or family's use or consumption. And that it be farther recommended to the several states to prohibit any persons whatever, not citizens of their respective states, to purchase within the same, any articles of cloathing or provision necessary for the use of the army, (unless so much as may be requisite for their own private or family's use or consumption,) excepting only such person or persons as shall produce a certificate, under the seal and sign manual of the supreme executive authority of the respective states, purporting that the said person or persons are employed or permitted to make purchases either on account of the public or for the use or benefit of the inhabitants of the State of which he or they are members; and to inflict such punishment upon all atrocious offenders before described, as shall brand them with indelible infamy.

8. And whereas, there is good reason to apprehend that many of the emissaries and abettors of General Howe are dispersed through the United States, under various pretences of amusement or business, whereby they are enabled to spread disaffection, intimidate the people by false news, depreciate the currency of the United States, and avoid serving in the militia, or paying their fines; to prevent these mischiefs it is most earnestly recommended to the supreme executive power of each State, to take the most effectual measures to cause all persons whose character and business is not well known and approved of, to be apprehended, and if they cannot give a good and satisfactory account of themselves, that they be obliged immediately to return to their own states, or be confined in gaol.
The committee having prepared a circular letter to accompany the foregoing resolutions, submitted it to Congress, and the same being read, and approved, is as follows:

Sir: I am directed by Congress to transmit to your honorable body the enclosed resolutions, which the pressing wants of the army, and the arts and avarice of engrossers and extortioners have rendered indispensably necessary to the general welfare.

It is with deep concern that Congress, after having for some time contemplated, in painful silence, the mischiefs which threatened this extended Continent from the growing avarice of the times, feel themselves constrained to recommend measures which the virtue of all classes of men rendered not long since unnecessary, and which a scrupulous regard for security of property to every citizen of these states has hitherto restrained from adopting. But, unhappy the case of America! laws unworthy the character of infant republics are become necessary to supply the defect of public virtue, and to correct the vices of some of her sons; and she is called upon by the grand principle of self preservation, to guard against the parricide of those whom she has fostered in her own bosom.

To minds whose reflections are employed on the importance of the cause in which we are engaged, and which feel for every circumstance which may affect the honour and safety of these states, it must give the most painful sensations to consider that, at a time when the late signal successes we have been blest with, the reduced numbers of the enemy, the difficulties they meet with in procuring foreign levies, and the political complexion of affairs in Europe, have deprived Britain of many of those resources on which she so much depended; when the numbers and improving discipline of our army, the prodigious augmentation of our military stores, the quantity of provisions with which this country abounds, and the large supplies of clothing which have of late been imported by private persons, afford not only the opportunity but the means, under Divine Providence, of establishing our liberties by a few exertions; this bright prospect should be clouded over, and this great and glorious event endangered by the languor of too many, and by the arts and avarice of designing individuals, who, like the British nabobs of the east, are corrupting the manners of a whole nation, and building vast fortunes on the destruction of the liberties of the western world.

It is to be hoped, however, that the wise and spirited laws of the different states, aided by the influence and exertions of the real patriots, will apply effectual remedies to these alarming evils; that the old and hardened offenders will be punished; that those in whose bosoms the sparks of public virtue are not yet extinguished, will be reclaimed, the languid roused from their present apathy; and that all classes of men will unite with their former spirit and virtue against an enemy whose progress is marked with every vestige of barbarity, and whose determined object is to establish a tyranny of the most dangerous and debasing nature over the inhabitants of a vast Continent.

Congress flatter themselves that the resolutions herewith transmitted will tend to accomplish some of these valuable purposes, and they therefore esteem it their duty to recommend them to the serious consideration of your honorable house, and hope they will be carried into execution as secretly and expeditiously as possible.

By order of Congress.

AT A BOARD OF WAR, 20th December, 1777.

Present, Mr. Lee, Mr. Duer, Mr. Harvey and Mr. Jones.

The Board taking into Consideration the Petitions of Colonels Green and Sumner, and other Officers in the Army who have lost their Horses in actual service,

Beg leave to report to Congress,

That every Officer in the Army of the United States whose Duty requires his being on Horseback in time of Action, be allowed the sum of , as a compensation for any horse he shall have killed by the Enemy in Battle. This Resolution to have retrospect, and the Quarter Master General be authorized to pay the said sum to the respective sufferers on the fact being properly authenticated.

That in the opinion of the Board the expenses incurred by Colonel John Green for keeping two Horses during the time his wounds rendered his removal last Campaign out of the Jersies necessary, be allowed him and that the same be referred to the Treasury Board for Settlement.

That the part of General Heath's letter of the 19th ultimo respecting money wanted in the Eastern Department be referred to the Treasury Board.

That Elias Boudinot, Esq., Commissary General of Prisoners be empowered to contract with a proper person or persons for erecting in such part of the State of Connecticut as Governor Trumbull shall think proper, Barracks sufficient for the accommodation of fifteen hundred Men, having special regard, that the Barracks be constructed in the most economical manner possible, and erected in a place where the Prisoners may be cheaply and securely maintained.¹

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report: Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer, in favour of General Conway, for four hundred dollars, to be advanced on his pay, to be delivered to Major Mullen; the general to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on the treasurer, in favour of the Rev. John Hurt, chaplain of Brigadier General Weedon’s

That a warrant issue on the treasurer, in favour of the Board of War, for fifty thousand dollars to be by them transmitted to Benjamin Harrison, Jun' Esq' deputy pay master general in Virginia, for the use of his department, and for which he is to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on Thomas Smith, Esq' commisioner of the loan office in the State of Pensylvania, in favour of Colonel William Buchanan, commissary general, for fifty thousand dollars, for the use of his department; the said commissionary general to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on the treasurer, in favour of Mons' Rouilhac, for 47,813 25/90 dollars, being in discharge of the principal and interest of Abraham Livingston and William Turnbull, their draught, dated Boston 17 June last, in favour of Captain Pierre de Campe, for value received of James Price, Esq' in sundry merchandise for public service, which draught is directed to the Hon. Robert Morris, Esq' chairman of the Secret Committee of Congress, and for payment, to apply to James Mease, cloathier general; for which sum the said cloathier general is to be accountable. 1

Congress resolved itself into a committee of the whole, to consider farther the report of the committee to whom were referred the letters that passed between General Heath and General Burgoyne, relative to the resolution of Congress of the 8 November, and the letter of General Burgoyne to General Gates, 14 November, 1777; and, after some time spent thereon, the president resumed the chair, and Mr. F[rancis] L[ightfoot] Lee reported, that the committee have had under their farther consideration the report referred to them, and have come to two resolutions thereon, which he was ready to report, when Congress would receive them:

Ordered, That they be now received:

The report and resolutions are as follows:

The Committee to whom was referred the consideration of the letters which have just past betwixt General Heath and General Burgoyne, relative to the resolution of Congress, of the 8 November, and the letter from General Burgoyne to General Gates, of the 14th November, 1777, beg leave to report:

That they have considered with mature attention the Convention entered into at Saratoga, betwixt General Gates and Lieutenant General Burgoyne, in October last, and the manner in which the same has been complied with, and are clearly of opinion; That the cartouch boxes and every other species of military accoutrements annexed to the persons of the non commissioned officers and soldiers in General Burgoyne's army, ought, agreeably to the spirit of the Convention, and the technical interpretation of the word arms in similar cases, to have been delivered up. That this opinion is sanctified by the judgment of the most distinguished writers on the law of nations, and by former precedents, particularly by that of the capitulation of St Johns to General Montgomery, on the 2 November, 1775, by virtue of which, though the surrender of arms only is specified, and the private baggage and effects of the garrison are secured from plunder, yet the cartouch boxes and other military accoutrements belonging to the non commissioned officers and privates were without hesitation delivered to the commissaries of the American Army. That, in the opinion of this committee the delivery of the colours belonging to the respective regiments in General Burgoyne's army is likewise comprehended in the said Convention. But as Lieutenant General Burgoyne has declared on his honor to General Gates, that they were left in Canada, your committee are disposed to believe that what a person of such

Their duty, however, obliges them to suggest that this is not to be easily reconciled with that air of triumph and confidence of success, in which that commander invaded these States, or with the following passage in General Burgoyne's journal, extracted from the London Gazette extraordinary, said to be published by authority, and reprinted in the Boston Gazette, November 24, 1777, No. 1212. "July 6. Soon after day light an officer arrived, express, on board the royal George, where in the night I took quarters, as the most central situation, with information from Brigadier Frazier, that the enemy were retiring, and that he was advancing with his piquets, leaving orders for his brigade to follow as soon as they could accoutre. This movement was very soon discernable, as were the British colours which the Brigadier had fixed upon the Fort of Ticonderoga." That, in the opinion of this committee, if a proper inquiry were made into the execution of the Convention of Saratoga, it would appear in other instances, that it has not been strictly complied with on the part of General Burgoyne, agreeable to its true spirit and the intention of the contracting parties; but as it is evident, that the cartouch boxes and other military accoutrements have not been delivered up, and as an infringement of any one article, would justify these States in considering the whole treaty a nullity, if their love of substantial justice and their determination of avoiding even the suspicion of want of good faith on their part, did not prevent them from availing themselves of this advantage, your committee deem it unnecessary to enter at present into a farther investigation of this matter.

Your committee beg leave further to report that they have carefully considered the resolution of Congress of the 8 November, directing General Heath to cause to be taken down the name and rank of every commissioned officer, and the name, former place of abode, occupation, size, age, and description of every non commissioned officer and private soldier, and all other persons comprehended in the Convention of Saratoga, and are of opinion: That it cannot be considered as imposing any new condition in the articles of Convention, entered into betwixt Lieutenant General Burgoyne and Major General Gates, but as a measure naturally resulting from the articles of Convention, which the conquering party has a right to avail itself of for its own security, and that this measure would have been strictly justifiable had no just suspicion of the want of good faith in the party surrendering, presented itself: That General Burgoyne is totally mistaken in his appeal to the conduct of Sir Guy Carlton and himself, with respect to the prisoners released from Canada in August, 1776, when he declares in his letter to General Heath, of the 23 November, "That they were released on their bare parole of not serving against the King, until they were exchanged, and that they have since had no other dependance than that of public faith that those men have not been indiscriminately in arms;" since from the original list of the prisoners released from Canada in the possession of Elias Boudinot, Esq', American commissary of prisoners (and herewith presented), it appears that the provinces, counties and towns to which the prisoners released belonged were annexed to their respective names, which, for the greater security of the conquering party, were in the handwriting of the respective prisoners. Your committee therefore cannot but consider General Burgoyne's refusal to give descriptive lists of the non-commissioned officers and privates, belonging to his army, when connected with his former conduct and declaration, in a very suspicious and alarming point of view.

Your committee beg leave further to report, that the apprehensions of General Burgoyne's future intentions, which result naturally from the circumstances above mentioned, are confirmed by his express declaration in his letter to General Gates, of the 14 November, wherein he declares the public faith plighted in the Convention of Saratoga, to have been broken on the part of these States, alleging, as the cause of this declaration, that the officers and men included in that treaty have not since their arrival at Boston been accommodated with quarters, agreeable to their respective ranks, and to the stipulations made in the seventh article of the Convention.

Your committee beg leave to observe, that the number of persons in continental service quartered in the town of Boston, and the great concourse of strangers to the capital of that State, render it extremely difficult to procure at a short notice, quarters strictly suitable to the rank of the General and other officers, included in the Convention of Saratoga; and therefore, that it is to be supposed that their situation since their arrival could not have been so agreeable as their own desires, and the intention of the public, could wish it to have been; yet, when they admit this circumstance, they beg leave to suggest that General Burgoyne's painting of the sufferings of himself and officers appears to them highly wrought, and that his charge of the breach of public faith is by no means warranted either by the letter of the preliminary articles agreed on betwixt himself and General Gates on the 14 October, or by the spirit of the Convention, signed on the 16 of the same month. Since, by an examination of these articles, it will appear, that the stipulation with respect to the quartering of officers was not to be construed in that rigorous sense in which General Burgoyne at present affects to consider it, but on the contrary, that it was to be complied with as far as circumstances would admit.

Your committee forbear to lay any stress on the attempt of the enemy to alter the place of embarkation from the port of Boston to that of Rhode island, so contiguous to the port of New York at present in their possession, on the seemingly inadequate number of transports and other vessels properly victualled for a winter's voyage to Europe, for an army consisting of 5,642 men including officers and followers of the army (being only 26 in number, as it appears in a letter from General Pigot to Lieutenant General Burgoyne, dated 5 December;) or on the probability there is of the ability of the enemy, who, from authentic accounts, have been deficient in the article of flour, to victual such an army for a voyage of such length on so short a notice; the intelligence of the surrender of General Burgoyne's army having been communicated to General Howe on the 14 October, and the vessels for the transportation of General Burgoyne and his army having arrived at Rhode island on the day of December; Since these suspicions however strong unless accompanied with the express declaration of Lieutenant General Burgoyne in his letter to General Gates of the 14 November, would not in their opinion be a warrantable ground to a nation, justly tenacious of its public faith, to delay in any manner whatsoever the execution of this Convention.

These facts and opinions your committee, in a matter of such high moment to the honour and safety of these States, esteem it their duty to report specially to Congress: And considering that it is evident that General Burgoyne has not in every particular complied with the Convention of Saratoga, agreeable to its true spirit; that he has expressly and without foundation, charged these States with a breach of public faith; that in consequence of this declaration whilst in our power, he may deem himself and the army under him absolved from their compact when released; that from the distance betwixt America and Great Britain there is no opportunity of accommodating this dispute with the sovereign of the state, in whose behalf this Convention was made within any reasonable period of time; and that the operations of General Burgoyne's army in America would not only defeat the main object of the Convention, but imminently endanger, at this crisis, the liberties of these States, your committee beg leave to recommend to the consideration of Congress the following resolution:

Resolved, That the charge made by Lieutenant General Burgoyne in his letter to Major General Gates, of the 14 November, of a breach of public faith on the part of these States is not warranted by the just construction any article of the Convention of Saratoga; That it betrays a disposition of availing himself of such declaration in order to disengage himself and the army under him of the obligations they are under to these United States, and that the security which these States have hitherto had in his personal honor is hereby destroyed.

2. Resolved, That Lieutenant General Burgoyne in not having ordered the cartouch boxes and several other articles of military accoutrements annexed to the persons of the non commissioned officers and privates in his army to be delivered up has not complied with the articles of Convention entered into betwixt him and General Gates on 16 October.

3. Resolved, That there is just ground of suspicion notwithstanding the declaration of Lieutenant General Burgoyne that all the standards and colours belonging to his army were not left in Canada previous to the march of the army from that province.

4. Resolved, Nevertheless, that the Congress of these United States will not avail themselves of any noncompliance with the articles of the Convention of Saratoga, which may hitherto have happened on the part of Lieutenant General Burgoyne, but that they will solemnly ratify the same and cause the prisoners surrendered by virtue of it to be released, whenever the King of Great Britain shall on his part cause his ratification of the said agreement to be properly notified to these States without availing himself of the unwarrantable charge of the breach of public faith, which has been alledged against these States by Lieutenant General Burgoyne.

In Committee of the whole,

Resolved, as the opinion of the whole,

A letter, of the 3, and two, of the 4th November, from General R. Howe at Charleston, South Carolina, were read:
Ordered, That they be referred to the Board of War.

The delegates from Virginia laid before Congress a resolution of the two houses of general assembly of that commonwealth, which was read as follows:

VIRGINIA, IN HOUSE OF DELEGATES, December 12, 1777.

Although it is the wish of the general assembly that the representation of this commonwealth in Congress should consist of three members at least, yet as it may sometimes happen from unforeseen accidents that three may not be present and the State thereby unrepresented,
Resolved, therefore, that from this time until the end of two months after the expiration of this session of general Assembly, any two of the delegates from this commonwealth be empowered to give the vote of this State on any question in Congress, whenever there shall happen to be none other of the said delegates attending.

JOHN TAZEWELL, C. H. D.

The Marine Committee, to whom was referred a letter from the navy board at Bordentown, dated the 11 instant, complaining of the disreputable and ill treatment one of the said board lately received from John Barry, Esq., commander of the frigate Effingham, brought in a report; Whereupon,

Resolved, That Captain John Barry be required immediately to attend Congress, to answer the complaint exhibited against him, and that he be furnished with an extract from the letter of the navy board as far as it relates to the said complaint.

Whereas, it is essentially necessary to the marine service, that the officers of the navy of the United States of America should pay obedience to such orders as the navy boards in the respective departments may at any time find necessary to give them, for promoting the pub...

service; and that all the officers in the said navy should treat the said navy boards with decency and respect:

Resolved, That the navy boards be, and they are hereby empowered to suspend any officer of the navy within their respective districts, who shall refuse to pay obedience to such orders as they may think necessary to issue, or who shall treat them with indecency and disrespect: and the said navy boards are hereby required to give immediate notice to the Marine Committee of any such suspension, with the reasons thereof.

The Marine Committee farther reported, that they have taken into consideration the proceeding and sentence of a court martial, held on board the ship Lion, at Bordentown, in New Jersey, for the trial of John Stewart, master's mate of the ship Repulse, and James Ledlie, master at arms of the said ship, and John Pemberton, armourer, John Campbell, quarter master, and Michael Tarney, a boy, all belonging to the said ship Repulse; and it appearing that the criminals, previous to the offences for which they are under condemnation, had behaved themselves as became their stations, and no positive proof appearing that they intended to desert to the enemy; and they being recommended as proper subjects of mercy, it is their opinion that they be pardoned, on condition they will enlist to serve as privates in the navy during the war:

Resolved, That Congress concur with the committee.

has rendered it necessary for the army to take post in a part of the country not provided with houses, and in consequence thereof to reside in huts; Congress approving of their soldierly patience, fidelity and zeal, in the cause of their country, have directed one month's extraordinary pay to be given to each, and are exerting themselves to remedy the inconveniences which the army have lately experienced from the defects of the commissary and cloathier's departments:

That, after the 1st day of January next, the commissary general of purchases be directed, from time to time, to compute the cost of each part of a ration, agreeable to the prime cost of the several articles composing the same; and that he send a certificate thereof to the Board of Treasury, and also to the commissary general of issues, who is thereupon directed to publish the same to the issuing commissaries, to be by them observed, in lieu of the estimate made in the 38 article of the commissary's regulation, passed by Congress the 10th June last:

That General Washington be directed to recommend to the officers of the army to draw such a part of their rations only as may be necessary for their respective subsistence, and to receive the residue in money, at the estimated cost aforesaid, until the difficulties arising from the present deficiency in the commissary's department shall be removed.¹

Resolved, That the powers vested in General Washington by the resolutions of the 17 September and 8th of October last, and of the 10th inst. be extended from the last day of the present month to the 10th day of April next, unless sooner revoked by Congress.²

A letter of the 22, and one of the 25, from Governor Livingston, were read:¹

Application being made by the delegates of Virginia, for five field pieces for the use of their State,

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

Adjourned to 3 o'Clock.

The Committee on the Treasury brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of the delegates of Virginia, for 100,000 dollars, to be advanced to the said State for the purpose of paying for goods collected and seized for the continental army, in consequence of a recommendation of Congress; the said State to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on William Armistead, commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of Virginia, in favour of the delegates of the said State, for 50,000 dollars, for the purpose of paying for goods collected and seized for the continental army, in consequence of a recommendation of Congress; the said State to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of the Board of War for 20,000 dollars, to be transmitted by the said Board to John Smith, Esq.; county lieutenant of Frederick, in the State of Virginia, to defray the expenses of building barracks, purchasing provisions for prisoners of war in the county aforesaid, and the guards over them, and also for paying the guards, it being agreeable to his excellency Governor Henry’s letter of the 23 October, to Colonel William Kennedy, the said John Smith to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on Joseph Borden, Esq.; commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of New Jersey, for 50,000 dollars, to be advanced to, and for which the said State is to be accountable, and to be drawn in favour of the delegates of the said State.

That a warrant issue on the treasurer for 5,898 dollars in favour of Captain Williams, of the North Carolina batillion, to be paid to the officers and recruits belonging to the several Virginia battalions, under the command of Colonel John Williams, now detained in this place, by direction of the Board of War; for which purpose the said Captain Williams is specially appointed pay master.

Resolved, That the said Captain Williams be directed forthwith to pay off the said recruits, according to the muster rolls attested by General Conway, and to produce receipts from each of the officers and soldiers receiving the advance aforesaid, specifying the regiment or corps to which they belong, to be transmitted by the auditor general to the pay master general, who is to be accountable for the said sums.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer in favour of William Buchanan, commissary general of purchases, for 300,000 dollars, for the use of the middle department; the said commissary general to be accountable:

That a warrant issue on Nathaniel Appleton, commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of Massachusetts bay for 200,000 dollars, in favour of James Mease, Esq; cloathier general, for the use of his deputy, Samuel Allen Otis, Esq; in the said State; the said cloathier general to be accountable.

Resolved, That the said cloathier general be directed to authorize Samuel Allen Otis, Esq; to draw on him for such sums in bills of credit as shall be necessary to answer the demands on the said Mr. Otis for cloathing, which cannot be discharged by the preceding draught on the commissioners of the loan office.

Whereas, Samuel Allen Otis, Esq; deputy cloathier general in the State of Massachusetts bay, hath signified to Congress, that he hath contracted with sundry persons in the said State for a large quantity of cloathing for the use of the continental troops, at the most extravagant rate of 10 to 18 hundred per cent. and that some of the holders of the said goods have even refused to deliver him the same until they shall receive the cash, thereby adding to extortion the crime of wounding the public credit as far as in them lay, and manifesting a disposition callous to the feelings of humanity and untouched by the severe sufferings of their countrymen, exposed to a winter campaign, in defence of the common liberties of the country: Therefore,

Resolved, That Mr. Otis be directed to pay only for such of the said cloathing as he may have actually received,¹ at the rate for which he may have contracted for such cloathing.

Resolved, That it be most earnestly recommended to the legislative authority of the said State of Massachusetts bay, immediately to take and seize the residue of the cloathing which the holders thereof have refused to deliver to the said Samuel Allen Otis, until paid for the same, agreeable to the resolutions of Congress of the 20 inst., which cloathing shall be paid for in manner and at the rate mentioned therein and not otherwise.²

Ordered, That the president write to the president of the council of Massachusetts bay, in the terms following:

It is with inexpressible concern that Congress learn the extortionate views and demands of the proprietors of cloathing lately purchased or attempted to be purchased within your State by Mr. S. Allen Otis, deputy cloather general, for the use of the continental troops, now exposed in the field to the severities of the season; and that those individuals should even add to the crime of extortion a greater, if possible, that of refusing to deliver the goods upon the credit of the thirteen United States, whereby they not only wound the public credit, but in all probability will be the means of many brave soldiers perishing in the field, merely for want of necessary cloaths.

This irrefrangible evidence of the depravity of morals, in so many of the citizens of these states, is a most alarming circumstance; and if the several governments do not speedily exert their authority to effectually suppress such unheard of extortion, it will unquestionably issue, and at no very distant period, too, in the destruction of the liberties of this Continent. Congress feel themselves obliged to sound the alarm, however distressing it may be, to the several legislatures of these states, that their revenues cannot support such astonishing extravagance. Shall we then tamely see ourselves compelled, by the wicked conduct of some of the citizens of these states, to the cruel necessity of submitting to the mercy of an enraged tyrant?

This must, however, inevitably be our fate should we delay applying a remedy to so dangerous an evil. Congress have judged it indispensably necessary to come into the resolutions enclosed herein, and those lately transmitted on a like subject, which you are desired immediately to lay before the general assembly for their consideration, who are requested to keep these resolutions, and their proceedings thereon, secret till carried into execution.

The Board of War brought in a report, which was taken into consideration; Whereupon,

Resolved, That as it is expedient to promote a speedy reformation in the army, as well for the purpose of discipline as economy; and the number of officers being already out of all proportion to that of the privates, to avoid further embarrassments in this respect, it be recommended to the governments of the several states, to suspend filling up any vacancies in their respective regiments, until they shall hear further from Congress on the subject. ¹

A motion being made and debated, ||for sending a committee to camp:||

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of three.

¹This report, in the writing of Richard Peters, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, I, folio 429. The members of the Board present were Francis Lightfoot Lee, William Duer, and John Harvie.
The members chosen, Mr. [Francis] Dana, Mr. [William] Duer and Mr. [Eliphalet] Dyer.

Resolved, That the appointment of an adjutant general be farther postponed.

A letter, of this day, from Brigadier de Roche Fermoy;
One, of the 8 November, from Nicholas Cooke, president of the council of war for the State of Rhode Island;
One, of the 17 inst. from Jeremiah Powell, president of the council of Massachusetts bay, were read.

Conduct of the Enemy.

175. [Report of the Committee appointed to enquire into the conduct of the enemy, with affidavits.]

"4,000 copies in English and 2,000 copies in German were ordered ‘published in a pamphlet’ by the Congress, but it is questionable if it ever was done, as no copy is now known to exist."—Paul Leicester Ford.

The following is taken from Franklin’s correspondence:

"You may have heard that Accounts upon Oath have been taken in America by Order of Congress, of the British Barbarities committed there. It is expected of me to make a School Book of them, and to have 35 Prints designed here by good artists and engraved each expressing one or more of the different horrid facts, to be inserted in the Book, in order to impress the minds of Children and Posterity with a deep sense of your bloody and inestiable Malice and Wickedness. Every kindness I hear of done by an Englishman to an American Prisoner, makes me resolve not to proceed in the Work, hoping a Reconciliation may yet take place. But every fresh Instance of your Devilism weakens that resolution, and makes me abominate the Thought of a Reunion with such a People." Benjamin Franklin to David Hartley, 2 February, 1780.
