That from the best information they have been able to obtain the army have not a prospect of an immediate supply of meat for more than five days at farthest.

The Commissary General hath informed your Committee that he can purchase immediately five hundred head of cattle in the State of Pennsylvania if he can be furnished with cash for the purpose: your Committee therefore are of opinion that the Committee appointed be directed to apply to the bank in this City, and request them to purchase the said cattle in lieu of part of the flour engaged by them to Congress, or to furnish the Com? Gen! with money sufficient to purchase said cattle, for which the Com? is to be accountable: a duplicate receipt to be taken and lodged with the Treasury Board. These cattle, if obtained, will make an additional supply of five days.

Your Committee further report that Eight hundred and twenty three neat cattle are indispensably necessary to be furnished weekly for supply of the present army; and that those cattle should be drawn from New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut.

But they recommend that one thousand head of cattle be called for weekly from the before mentioned States in the following proportions, to wit.

This will insure a sufficient supply for the present army, and should there be any overplus it will so far enable the Commissary to furnish Magazines of salted provisions at such posts as the Commander in Chief shall direct.

The Committee also report as their opinion that the President be requested to inclose copies of this resolution to the said States respectively in letters to be forwarded without delay by express, urging upon them the necessity of an immediate and full compliance therewith, and the fatal consequences which must inevitably fall on the army in case of failure in either.

As some time will elapse before the aforesaid States can be notified of this requisition, and their supplies reach the army, therefore your Committee report as their opinion that the States of New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware be requested immediately to furnish for an intermediate supply the following number of cattle in this proportion (to wit) New Jersey 275 Pennsylvania 1251
Delaware 530

2056

[Your Committee recommend that for defraying the expense of forwarding said cattle to the army from the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Connecticut, for a weekly supply, warrants be drawn monthly upon the Loan offices of said States, in favor of the Commissary General, until the further order of Congress in the following proportion viz: New Hampshire $418.25\text{ }\text{\textdollar} \text{ of}\text{}}$ and that the Commissary be authorized in case either of said States have not received their money of the new emissions, to apply to the Executive of the said States, who are requested to advance him upon said warrants an equivalent in other money.] 1

The order of the day was read, “to proceed to hear and examine into and finally determine the disputes and differences relative to jurisdiction between the three States, New Hampshire, Massachusetts Bay and New York, respectively, or such of them as have passed such laws as are mentioned in the resolutions of the 24 September and 2 October, 1779, on the one part, and the people of the district commonly known by the name of the New Hampshire

Another report from the Board of War was read, enclosing a return from the cloathier general; Whereupon,

WAR OFFICE Sept 16. 1780

Sir,

The Board have the honor to lay before Congress the number of articles of clothing mentioned in the last return received from the Cloathier General, which will shew the very scanty stock of clothing on hand and the distressing probability of the calamities the troops will again experience from the want of cloathing; We know of no addition to the quantities mentioned in the return, except the articles agreed for by Otis & Henley with Mess⁰ Tracey & Comp⁰, which now lie at Boston and cannot be made up for want of money to pay the workmen. There is also a small quantity of clothing arrived in the French fleet, which we hear is sent off to Head quarters; the quantity or species we are unacquainted with, but the whole of these will bear a small proportion to the quantities required. Disappointed as we are in our expectations of the arrivals from Europe of cloathing on public account, and possessed of no means of remediesing the misfortune, yet held up to the army as responsible in some degree for the provision of this essentially necessary article, we thought it our duty to lay the matter before Congress for their information and consideration, that some measures may be taken

That the States of Maryland and Virginia be informed, that Congress will use every exertion to supply them with tents and a number of arms, for the use of their respective militia; and that at the same time it be recommended, in the strongest manner, to the said states, to leave no steps untried which may have a tendency to furnish these important and necessary articles.

Congress proceeded to the order of the day, the parties being present as yesterday, except the delegate for the State of New Hampshire, who was absent through sickness; when the State of New York, by its delegates, proceeded in stating evidence to prove that the inhabitants of the tract of country known by the name of the New Hampshire Grants, west of Connecticut river, as part of the State or Colony of New York, were duly represented in and submitted to the authority, jurisdiction and government of the Congress and convention of the said State, till late in the year 1777; and that, therefore, the people inhabiting the said tract of country have no right to a separate and independent jurisdiction.

And in case the full quota of each state, respectively, shall not be enlisted and brought into the field by the first day of December next, that until recruits for the war shall be obtained, the deficiencies be supplied by the states respectively, by men to serve for not less than one year, after they join the army, unless sooner relieved by the recruits inlisted for the war.

September, 1780

A petition of Charles McCarty was read: 1
Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury.
A petition of William Murray was read:
Ordered, That it be referred to the committee appointed to report regulations relative to captures by sea. 2
A report from the Board of Treasury was read; Whereupon,
Ordered, That on the application of the Board of War, a warrant issue on Nathaniel Appleton, commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of Massachusetts Bay, for thirty thousand dollars, payable in the bills of credit subject to the orders of Congress by their resolution of the 18 March last, in favour of Joseph Carleton, paymaster to the Board of War and Ordnance, to enable Messrs. Otis & Henly, agents, cloathiers in Boston, to pay for the falling of blankets and making up cloathing, &c. for the use of the armies of the United States; and for which the said paymaster is to be accountable. 3

TREASURY OFFICE Sept 19th. 1780

The Board of Treasury Report,
That by letters and Returns lately received from the Commissioners of the Loan offices, in the States of Virginia, Maryland and Connecticut, it appears few or none of the Bills of Exchange ordered to be sent to those offices, by the Resolution of Congress of the 19 of May last, have been disposed of.

That it appears to the Board, a contract has been entered into by Messe 4 Otis & Henly of Boston; agents for purchasing Cloathing on Continental Account, with Nathaniel Tracy of New Berry Port, to a considerable sum, in sterling money of Great Britain.

That the agent of the said Tracy is now attending in consequence of his memorial to Congress referred to this Board, and offers to receive the Bills drawn by the orders of Congress on their Ministers in Europe, in discharge of the Contracts aforesaid, at Par, which appears to the Board, to be for the interest of the United States; Wherefore they beg leave to offer the following Resolution,

Resolved, That the Board of Treasury be authorised to recall from the commissioners of the loan offices, in the States of Virginia, Maryland and Connecticut, the Bills of Exchange lodged with them for sale, in pursuance of the resolution of Congress of the 19th of May last, and that they be empowered to pay the same in part discharge of the debt due to Nath'l Tracey & Co. for Cloathing purchased by Otis & Henly for the use of the army.

That on the application of Gilliam Aertson a Clerk in the War office a Warrant issue on the Treasurer in his favor for five thousand dollars on account of his salary.

The Board having taken into consideration, those parts of the memorial of Mordecai Sheftall, referred to them by Congress, beg leave to report,

That the said Sheftall in respect of the pay due to him as a deputy Commissary General of Issues, should apply to his principal, for the adjustment of his pay; and to the Commissary General of Purchases for Reimbursement of the Rum, sold him for the use of the Troops.

The Board beg leave to represent, that it would be of the worst consequence to the Public Interest to admit demands of this kind to be made here, without Certificates of the adjustment of the accounts from the proper officers, placed at the heads of the several departments, who should be charged with the sums paid at the Treasury on such Certificates.

On the application of Timothy Pickering Esq' Qua' Mast' General accompanied with an estimate of the cost of one thousand tents, the Board beg leave to report, the following resolution

Resolved, that the Board of Treasury be authorised to deliver to Colonel T. Pickering Q. M. G., bills of exchange to the amount of six thousand, five hundred and six dollars, for the purpose of purchasing Tents for the use of the Southern Army.

The Board beg leave further to Report,
September, 1780

That they have considered the memorial of David Shaffer referred to them by Congress, and are of opinion, that the present state of the Public Funds renders a compliance with the request of the memorialist impracticable.¹

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on the medical department, and on the consideration of the following paragraph, viz.

"That the several officers whose pay is established as above, except the clerks and stewards, shall at the end of the war be entitled to a certain provision of land in the proportion following, viz.

The director to have the same quantity as a brigadier general. Chief physicians and purveyors, the same as a colonel. Physicians and surgeons and apothecary the same as lieutenant colonel. Regimental surgeons and assistants to the purveyor and apothecary, the same as a major. Hospital and regimental surgeons mates, the same as a captain."

A motion was made by Mr. [Frederick A.] Muhlenberg, seconded by Mr. [Theodorick] Bland, to amend the paragraph by inserting after the words, "intitled to" the words following, viz. "half pay in the same manner and under like restrictions as officers of the line"; and on the question to agree to the amendment, the yeas and nays being required by Mr. [John] Fell, money, at the current exchange, notwithstanding any former appropriation thereof.

Ordered, That the report of Colonel Williams be referred to the Committee of Intelligence.

A letter, of 13, from General Washington was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War to take order.

Ordered, That the letter from Major General Gates be referred to a committee of three; and that the committee be instructed to consider what honours are due to the memory of the late Major General the Baron de Kalb, who died of the wounds he received in the battle of Camden, on the 16 of August last.

The members chosen, Mr. [Robert R.] Livingston, Mr. [John] Henry and Mr. [Whitmill] Hill.

The Committee to whom was referred the letter of William Bingham Esq't late Agent for the United States in the West Indies, read the 18th inst, report,

That having conferred with Mr Bingham and taken a general survey of his accounts, they find, that the settlement of them will take up some time.

That as far as appears to your Committee a considerable balance will be due to Mr Bingham, that the immediate payment of part of this balance, by advance, is necessary to enable him to fulfil certain engagements made on behalf of the United States. They therefore submit it to be resolved;

That the Board of Treasury furnish Mr. Bingham as soon as possible with Bills of Exchange on Mr. Jay for seven thousand pounds sterling, and charge the same to him in account.¹

The Committee to whom Gov. Jefferson's letter of the 8th (with its enclosure) was referred Report.

That Congress approve of the principle which induced his Excellency the Gov. of Virginia to fix a limitation of prices in his instructions for the purchase of Horses to remount Lt. Colo. White's and Colo. Baylor's Regt. of Cavalry. At the same time they are sensible of the pressing necessity which now exists of speedily bringing into the field a body of Cavalry to act with the Southern Army which induces them to request a continuance of his exertions for that purpose without confining the purchasers to such prices in future as may have a tendency to retard the purchase, or be a means of procuring horses insufficient in quantity for the purposes they are intended.

That the Style of Lt. Colo. White's letter of Sept. 2d 1780, which was addressed to the Governor of Virginia, is improper and inconsistent with the confidence which ought to be reposed in the Executive of a State, exerting itself for the advancement of the common good, by every means in its power.

Your Committee are of opinion that Congress, did not in their former recommendations think it necessary to affix a standard for the Quality of the Horses intended to remount the aforesaid Cavalry, which might probably have prevented the disagreeable effects arising from recruiting officers rejecting horses furnished for that purpose. But in order to prevent disagreeable altercation on that subject in future, and truly sensible, that the Executive of Virginia have hitherto done the best in their power as far as present circumstances will admit, to obtain proper horses for mounting the Cavalry in question; Therefore Resolve that all the horses hitherto purchased, by order of the said Executive for remounting the Regt aforesaid, and Major Nelson's Corps be appropriated to that purpose, and if on the arrival of the said Horses at the Southern Army, they shall by the Commander of that army be deemed unfit for the service of the Cavalry; That then he order the Maj. Gen. with that army to receive such horses as shall be so rejected into his Department and exchange them for others fit for the service of Cavalry if he have such in his Department, or if otherwise that he immediately provide others in lieu thereof. And it is furthermore the desire of Congress, that no horses furnished for Cavalry service shall be under fourteen hands and one inch in height, and less than five years old, or more than nine, unless the Commander of the Regiment receiving the horses so furnished shall receive them under that size and age, but that in future fourteen hands and an half, and six years old be the Standard fixed by Congress, to which all purchasers be directed to conform in their purchases as nearly as possible.

Your Committee are of opinion, that it will be more conducive to the public good that the detachment of Major Nelson's Corps, now at the Convention Barracks, should still remain on Duty at that station, if agreeable to the Executive of Virginia, and as they did not conceive that Troop to be annexed to the Southern Army, so they do not imagine it came within the perview of Major General Gates's order to L[2] Colo: White.¹

A motion being made by Mr. [Robert R.] Livingston, seconded by Mr. [James] Duane for a warrant in favour of the treasurer of the State of New York.

Resolved, that a warrant be granted in favour of the Treasurer of the State of New York for the time being on the Continental Loan officer in the said State for one hundred thousand Dollars, of the money emitted or to be emitted in the said State by virtue of the Act of Congress, passed the 18\textsuperscript{th} day of March last, and payable out of the sum of one hundred and ninety five thousand dollars, equal to four tenths of the whole sum to be emitted by the said State, under the said Act, and which was thereby to be at the disposal of Congress. Provided that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to authorise the said Loan officer to discharge the said warrant or any part thereof out of any monies now in his hands or that may become so, other than such as are or may become issuable as part of the four tenths aforesaid.

Resolved, That the said State be and hereby is authorised to discount the said sum of one hundred thousand dollars in certificates, given by any Continental Officer or Officers for purchases made or services performed in the said State. That the Treasurer of the said State shall deliver all such certificates coming into his possession with the receipts thereon indorsed to the principal officer in the State in whose Department the certificates were given, taking therefor a receipt from the said officer, at the bottom of a schedule of the said certificates in which shall be specified the dates of the certificates, the names of the persons to whom granted, and the amount of each, specifying also the aggregate amount of the Certificates so delivered, and acknowledging to have received the same from the United States by the hands of the Treasurer of the said State, which receipt countersigned by two credible witnesses and delivered to the said Loan Officer shall be a sufficient voucher for him to pay all or so much of the said one hundred thousand Dollars as such receipts shall amount to. And when the whole warrant is discharged the same shall be delivered by the said Treasurer with a discharge endorsed thereon acknowledging the receipt of the contents.¹

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Treasury, to report thereon as soon as may be.

The committee, to whom was re-committed part of the report on the hospital department, having brought in a farther report, Congress resumed the consideration thereof, and made some progress.

Ordered, That the director general report the names of all the officers in the hospital department from the director to the junior surgeons inclusive, with the dates of their respective commissions.²

September, 1780

Whereas the institution of this department hath been found of great utility to the armies of the United States: and experience hath shewn that it may be rendered still more useful by an extension of its powers and objects: Therefore

Resolved, That the former establishment by a Resolution of the 18th of February 1779, and all subsequent resolutions relative thereto, be repealed; and the departments hereafter have the following form, powers and priviledges.

There shall be an inspector general with the main army of the United States, to be appointed by Congress, who shall be allowed two secretaries, in addition to the aids he is allowed in the line of the army, to be taken from the line of captains and subalterns, who shall receive, in addition to their pay six dollars per month.

There shall be one assistant inspector general with the main army, who shall be adjutant general for the time being, and shall receive, in addition to his pay, ten dollars per month: and one to every separate army, when consisting of two or more divisions, who shall be the deputy adjutant general, and shall receive, in addition to his pay eight dollars per month.

There shall be one inspector to each division of the army of the United States, one to the corps of cavalry, and one to the corps of artillery: to be taken when the service will admit, from the line of colonels and lieutenant colonels, who shall be allowed, in addition to their pay, seven and a half dollars per month, and forage for three horses, including what they are intitled to in the line of the army, and one extra ration of provisions, when the state of the magazines will admit.

There shall be one sub-inspector to every brigade in the army of the United States; one to the corps of cavalry, and one to the corps of artillery, if thought necessary by the Commander in Chief, or commanding officer of a separate army; to be taken from the line of majors in the brigade, when the service will admit, who shall be allowed, in addition to their pay, five dollars per month, and one extra ration, when the state of the magazines will admit.

The Commander in Chief, and commanding officer of a separate army, are hereby empowered to appoint inspectors and sub-inspectors to the militia, while in actual service, agreeable to the foregoing plan, who shall have the same powers, privileges and emoluments, as those serving with the continental army.

It shall be the duty of the inspector general to frame a system of regulations for the exercise and discipline of the troops, in the manual evolutions and maneuvers, for the service of guards and detachments, and for all camp and garrison duty, and if approved of by the Commander in Chief, and ratified by Congress, such regulations shall be enforced, by the orders of the Commander in Chief throughout the army.

The assistant inspectors general shall assist in the general duties of the department, agreeable to the directions they shall receive from the inspector general (through the order of the Commander in Chief) and when the inspector is not present, shall have the chief direction of the same, agreeable to the orders they may receive as aforesaid; they shall nevertheless continue to perform their duties of adjutant and deputy adjutant general.

The inspectors shall attend to the execution of the regulations established for the army in their respective divisions, and in such garrisons as they may be ordered by the inspector general or assistant inspector general; at all times performing the duty of adjutant general to the same; and when a detachment of more than one division is sent from the army, the eldest inspector of the marching troops shall act as adjutant general to the detachment.
The sub-inspectors shall do the duty of majors of brigade to the brigades to which they belong, and attend to the execution of the regulations established for the army, in their respective brigades, and such garrisons, detachments and independent corps, as they shall be ordered by the inspector general, or assistant inspector general with a separate army.

The inspector general and the assistant inspector general shall review and muster the troops, in service, once every month, at which review he or they shall inspect the number and condition of the men, their discipline, the state of their clothes, arms, accoutrements, and camp equipage; the number of rations they have drawn since the last review; reporting such soldiers and recruits as are unfit for service, to the major general or commander of the division, the brigadier or commander of a regiment detached from the division or brigade to which such disabled soldier may belong; to be by them, or either of them, discharged, or transferred to the corps of invalids, if, on the examination of the surgeon of the regiment, they shall be found unfit for further service in the field. But no such soldier shall be deemed legally discharged or transferred, except his discharge or transference is signed by the major general, brigadier or commandant as aforesaid, and a certificate of his inability, specifying the nature of it, signed by the surgeon, is annexed thereto; noting at the same time all alterations that have happened since the last review or muster, and, as far as possible, in what manner, reporting them with the deficiencies, neglects and abuses, to the Commander in Chief, or commanding officer present, and the Board of War.

At every muster, three rolls shall be made out by the commanding officer of each troop or company, signed and sworn to by him, one of which rolls shall be returned to him, certified by the mustering officer; one shall be retained by the mustering officer; the other shall be certified and delivered to the regimental paymaster, to be affixed to the payrolls.

Each brigade shall be mustered by its sub-inspector, under the superintendency of the inspector of the division, who shall be responsible, with the sub-inspector, for the exactness and fidelity of the musters; and in like manner, all garrisons, independent corps and detachments, shall be mustered by such inspectors or subinspectors, as the inspector general, or assistant inspector general with a separate army, shall order.

The sub-inspectors shall deliver an abstract of all such musters, regimentally digested, to the inspector of the division, who shall digest them into division abstracts, in the same form, and transmit them to the assistant inspectors general, to be by them transmitted to the inspector general, and in a separate army to the commanding officer.

The inspector general shall transmit, once every month, a copy of the abstract of the musters of the whole army, to the Commander in Chief, and another to the Board of War.

No commanding officer of a regiment shall muster the regiment he commands, but another inspector shall be ordered to do that duty, by the inspector general.

The assistant inspector in a separate army, shall do the same duties in that army, as the inspector general doth in the main army, respecting the musters, according to the directions he shall receive, and orders of the commanding officer.

The commissary of issues shall be obliged to deliver to the inspector general, and assistant inspector with a separate army, an abstract, by brigades, of the rations actually issued, and of all issues to all separate corps, garrisons and detachments.

All muster rolls shall be sworn to before a general officer, or commandant of a separate post or detachment, who are hereby empowered to administer the oath, and certify it on each muster roll, in the words following, to wit: "I, A. B. do swear that this muster roll is a true state of the company under my command, without fraud to the United States, or to any individual, according to the best of my knowledge.

"A. B. capt. lieut. ensign, or cornet command't.

"Sworn before me, this day of 17 ."

The mustering officers are empowered and directed to require from all the officers whose troops are mustered, all papers and vouchers relative to the enlistments and musters.

The inspectors shall keep accounts with the officers commanding regiments, of all the arms and accoutrements delivered their regiments, and returned in by them. No arms or accoutrements shall be delivered without an order from the inspector of the division, to whom returns for arms and accoutrements wanted shall be made, in the form directed in the resolution for the order and discipline of the troops of these United States.

All officers of the inspectorship shall retain their rights of command and promotion, in the same manner as if they had not assumed the office. They are to suspend the exercise of their respective commands, except when they happen to be the superior in the division, brigade or regiment, to which they belong, or when they are appointed to execute any particular service by the Commander in Chief, or commanding officer of a separate army; and are exempt from all common camp and garrison duty, that they may attend to that of the inspection, as well in time of action as at all other times.

The inspector general, as often as the Commander in Chief shall think fit to order, shall visit every part of the army, and review the same, to see that uniformity prevails throughout the armies of these United States.

The inspector general shall keep books in which the returns, &c. passing through his office, shall be registered. He shall be charged with collecting, into one or more volumes, all the resolves of Congress, and regulations of the Board of War, relative to the army.

The travelling and other incidental expenses for the execution of the business of the office, shall be settled by the auditors with the army, upon such principles as shall be esablished by the Commander in Chief, and paid out of the military chest.

The quarter master general shall furnish all necessary books, paper, &c. for the department.

Each inspector shall be allowed, when the circumstances of the army will permit, a marquee and common tent: each sub-inspector a horseman’s and common tent, if not provided for as officers in the line.

All the regulations respecting the objects of this department, shall be finally approved and established by Congress;
but, the exigency of the service requiring it, temporary ones may, from time to time, be introduced by the inspector general, with the approbation of the Commander in Chief, and transmitted to the Board of War within one month after their introduction; that being examined and reported to Congress by them, they may be rejected, altered, amended or confirmed, as Congress shall deem proper.

Resolved, That Baron Steuben be, and hereby is, continued inspector general of the armies of the United States, and vested with power to appoint all officers necessary to carry the foregoing plan into execution, they being first approved

The committee to whom were referred the letter of 12 May, from Mr. W. Glascock, and the memorial of Mr. [George] Walton, report:

"That, in the course of their enquiry respecting the business committed to them, they have conferred with his excellency Richard Howly, the present governor of Georgia, and been attended by Mr. George Seegar, clerk of the general assembly of the said state, and have obtained from each of them a state of facts to which they beg leave to refer: that it appears that the paper containing the paragraph respecting Brigadier General M'Intosh, and dated at Augusta, in the State of Georgia, the 30 day of November, 1779, and purporting in general to be a letter or address from the assembly of that state to Congress, did originate in and ought to be considered as an act declarative of the sense of the said assembly; and that the same was officially transmitted with other public papers, by Colonel Walton, then governor of that state, to the President of Congress, and, together with the proceedings of the said governor and council, contained a sufficient ground for the act of Congress of the 15 day of February last, for dispensing with the services of the said Brigadier Gen. M'Intosh, until the farther order of Congress."²

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report.

Ordered, That a copy of the above report, and of the papers referred to, be transmitted to the governor of Georgia.

Congress took into consideration the report of the Committee on the Post office; Whereupon,

A report from the Board of War was read; Whereupon,
Resolved, That the resignation of Lieutenants George Sexton and Benjamin Butterfield and Ensign Reuben Church, of Colonel Warner's regiment, be accepted.¹

A report from the Board of War was read, respecting Mr. Garanger.

WAR OFFICE Sept 26, 1780

SIR

In pursuance of the directions of Congress contained in their Resolution of the 10th June 1779 Monsw Garanger proceeded to camp and has remained there in order to exhibit proofs of his capacity as a Bombardier and Artillerist, but as he alleges, he has not had an opportunity of evincing his "talents and merit" owing to a scarcity of powder and it being thought best by the Com. in Chief and General Knox to wait for the siege of some fortified place that the public service and the proof required might be carried on at the same expenditure of ammunition. Monsw Garanger expresses much uneasiness at his situation and is now at Philadelphia desirous of returning to the army and wants money to bear his expenses on the journey; but as he is not in the service and except his being a probationer may be considered as entitling him to some allowance, the Board do not think themselves authorized to grant his request as to money nor can we report finally on his case until he produces the certificate required in the above mentioned resolution. We therefore are under the necessity of troubling Congress with a state of the matter, that if they are of opinion Monsw Garanger should receive a sum of money they may be pleased to direct,

That a Warrant issue on the Treasurer in favor of Monsw Garanger for five thousand dollars to enable him to bear his expenses during his stay in Philadelphia and on his journey to camp.²

Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of three:
The members chosen, Mr. [John] Fell, Mr. [Ezekiel] Cornell and Mr. [Artemas] Ward.

Mr. [Theodorick] Bland laid before Congress a letter, of the 4, from John Timberlake, which was read:

² This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, IV, folio 567.
Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of War.

A letter, of this day, from Luke Knoulton, and a remonstrance of Ira Allen and Stephen R. Bradley, were read.¹

The Board of War, to whom was referred the petition of Captain Rice, for leave of absence to go to sea, in order to enable him to continue in the service, or if that cannot be obtained, to have leave to resign, report,

That they are fully sensible of the merit and services of Captain Rice, and are well assured he has injured his circumstances considerably in the service; yet the granting his request for leave of absence to go to sea, would introduce such a number of similar applications, and would also create such embarrassments about the exchange, in case of a capture, that the Board think it would be best to reject the practice in the first instance:²

Resolved, That Congress agree to the said report:

Resolved, That the resignation of Captain Joseph Rice, of the 4th regiment of artillery, be accepted.

Resolved, That the order of the day respecting the jurisdiction of the tract of country commonly called the New Hampshire Grants be postponed to 6 o’Clock.

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the motion of Mr. [Samuel] Adams;

The Committee to whom was referred the motion of Mr Adams, Report that,

Whereas her Imperial Majesty of all the Russias, animated with the clearest sentiments of Justice, equity and moderation, and a strict regard to the unquestionable rights of neutrality and the most perfect freedom of Commerce that can consist with such neutrality has notified both to the belligerent and neutral Powers, the following propositions to which his Most Christian Majesty, the Illustrious ally of these United States and his Catholic Majesty two of the Belligerent Powers, and most of the neutral maritime Powers in Europe have acceded, to wit:

1. That Neutral vessels may sail, without being liable to molestation from port to port and along the coasts of nations at war.

2. That the effects belonging to the subjects of powers at war should be free in neutral vessels, excepting only contraband.

3. That in ascertaining what shall be deemed contraband the Empress will hold herself bound by that which is declared in the 10 and 11 articles of her Treaty of Commerce with Great Britain, and extend the obligations contained in those articles to all the powers at war.

4. That to determine when a port shall be said to be blocked up, this term shall only be applied to that where a sufficient number of vessels belonging to the power that invests it are stationed so near as evidently to render the entrance into it hazardous.

5. That the principles above stated ought to serve as a rule in all proceedings whenever there is a question concerning the legality of captures.

The Congress of the United States of America willing to testify their moderation and regard to the rights of neutrality and freedom of commerce, as well as their respect for the powers and potentates who have adopted the propositions aforesaid have

Resolved, That all Neutral vessels have by the Law of Nations a right to navigate freely to and from the ports and on the coasts of powers at war, when not prohibited by treaty or municipal law.

That in the cases aforesaid the effects of belligerent powers, or belonging to their subjects shall be free in neutral vessels except always contraband. That the term contraband be confined to those articles expressly declared such by the ——— article of the Treaty of amity and Commerce of the 6th day of February 1778 between his Most Christian Majesty and these United States.

That with regard to ports or places blocked up or closely invested, none shall be considered as such but those which by a siege or blockade are so closely invested that an attempt cannot be made to enter such ports or places without evident danger.

That the above principles serve as a rule in all proceedings of justice in the United States on all questions of capture.
That all captains and commanders of armed vessels whether public or private holding commissions from and under the United States of America in Congress assembled be and hereby are strictly enjoined and required to observe the propositions above stated as a rule of conduct and govern themselves accordingly, and that the Board of Admiralty in the Instructions which they may give, and the Maritime Courts or Courts of Admiralty of the several states, and the Court of Appeals in the Cases of Captures in their several proceedings and adjudications concerning the legality of captures determine and decide agreeably to the principles aforesaid.

Ordered that the Committee of Foreign affairs transmit copies of the above act to the Minister Plenipotentiary of these States at the Court of Versailles to be by him communicated to the Neutral Powers in Europe and others whom it may concern.¹ and on the question, the same was postponed; and a motion was made by Mr. [Robert R.] Livingston, seconded by Mr. [John] Mathews in the following terms:

Congress have considered the declaration of the Empress of all the Russias, relative to the rights of neutral vessels. The regulations it contains are useful, wise and just. The acts of a sovereign who promotes the happiness of her subjects and extends her views to the welfare of nations, who forms laws for a vast empire and corrects the great code of the world, claim the earliest attention of a rising republick; therefore,

Resolved, That the Board of Admiralty report instructions for the commanders of armed vessels commissioned by the United States, conformable to the principles contained in the said declaration.

Resolved, That copies of the above resolution be transmitted to the Ministers of the United States respectively, and to Mons' de Marbois, chargé des affaires, from his Most Christian Majesty.

¹This report, in the writing of Charles Thomson, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 25, I, folio 337.

jurisdiction of the tract of country commonly called the New Hampshire Grants, all the parties being present except Ira Allen and Stephen R. Bradley, who being duly notified, deprecated to attend, when the agent for the State of New Hampshire proceeded to state evidence tending to prove, that the tract of country known by the name of the New Hampshire Grants, was within the State of New Hampshire, and that therefore the people inhabiting the said tract of country, have no right to a separate and independent jurisdi-cion. The gentlemen appearing in behalf of sundry inhab-

Congress proceeded in the consideration of the report, and the same being amended, was agreed to, as follows:¹

Whereas, the late regulations for conducting the affairs of the general hospital are in many respects defective; and it is necessary that the same be revised and amended, in order that the sick and wounded may be properly provided for and attended, and the business of the hospitals conducted with regularity and economy; therefore,

Resolved, That there be one director of the military hospitals, who shall have the general direction and superintendence of all the hospitals to the northward of North Carolina; that, within the aforesaid limits, there be three chief hospital physicians, who shall also be surgeons; one chief physician, who shall also be a surgeon, to each separate army; fifteen hospital physicians, who shall also be surgeons; twenty surgeons mates for the hospitals: one purveyor, with one assistant; one apothecary; one assistant apothecary; and to each hospital one clerk who shall also be paymaster, a steward, matron, orderly men and nurses, as heretofore:

That the director, or, in his absence, one of the chief hospital physicians, be empowered and required, with the advice and consent of the Commander in Chief, or commander of a separate army, to establish and regulate such a number of hospitals, at proper places, for the reception of the sick and wounded of the army, as may be found necessary:

That the director be authorised and instructed to enjoin the several chief hospital physicians, and other officers of the hospitals under his superintendence, to attend at such posts or stations as he may judge proper, and also to attend and perform such duties, at any post or place, as a change of the position of the army, or other circumstances, may from time to time make necessary, and shall be required by the Commander in Chief; and that, in case of any dispute concerning their seniority or precedence, the director shall determine the same in the first instance, the party supposing himself aggrieved being at liberty to appeal for redress to the Medical Committee:

That in time of action, and on any other emergency, when the regimental surgeons are not sufficient in number to attend properly to the sick and wounded that cannot be removed to the hospitals, the director, or, in his absence, the nearest chief hospital physician, be empowered and required, upon request of the chief physician and surgeon of the army, to send from the hospitals under his care, to the assistance of such sick and wounded, as many surgeons as can possibly be spared from the necessary business of the hospitals:

That the director, or, in his absence, two of the chief hospital physicians, shall make out and deliver, from time to time, to the purveyor, proper estimates of hospital stores, medicines, instruments, dressings, and such other articles as may be judged necessary for the use of the hospitals; also direct the apothecary or his assistant, to prepare and deliver medicines, instruments, dressings, and other articles in his possession to the hospitals and surgeons of the army and navy, as he or they may judge necessary:
That the director authorise and instruct the purveyor and apothecary to supply, for the use of the regimental surgeons, such medicines and refreshments as may be proper for the relief of the sick and wounded, before their removal to a general hospital, and to be dispensed under the care, and at the direction of the chief physician of the army:

That the director, or, in his absence, the chief hospital physicians, respectively, be empowered occasionally to employ second mates, when the number of the sick shall increase so as to make it necessary, and to discharge them as soon as the circumstances of the sick will admit:

That the director, or, in his absence, the chief hospital physicians, respectively, shall appoint a ward master for each hospital, to receive the spare regimental cloathing, arms, and accoutrements of each soldier admitted therein, keeping entries of and giving receipts for every article received, which, when the soldier shall be discharged, shall be accounted for by the said ward master with the commanding officer of the regiment to which such soldier belonged, or the officer directed to take charge of the convalescents from the said hospital; or, in case of the death of the soldier, shall be accounted for with, and delivered to the quartermaster of the regiment to which the said soldier belonged; and the ward master shall receive and be accountable for the hospital cloathing, and perform such other services as the chief hospital physician shall direct.

That the director shall make returns of all the sick and wounded in the hospitals, once every month, to the medical committee, together with the names and ranks of all the officers and others employed in the several hospitals:

That the director be required to employ such part of his time as may be spared from the duties before pointed out to him, in visiting and prescribing for the sick and wounded of the hospitals; and that he pay particular attention to the conduct of the several officers in the hospital department, and arrest, suspend and bring to trial, all delinquents within the same:

That the duty of the chief hospital physicians shall be, to do and perform all the duties herein before enjoined them to do in the absence of the director; to receive and obey the orders of the director, made and delivered to them in writing, to superintend the practice of physick and surgery in the hospitals put under their particular care by the director, or which, by the order of the commander in chief or the commander of a separate army, may be by them established; to see that the hospital physicians and other officers attending the same, do their duty; and make monthly returns to the director, of the state and number of the sick and wounded in the hospitals under their care; and also make returns to the director, and to the medical committee, of all delinquent officers, in order that they may be speedily removed or punished; and to take measures that all such sick and wounded as are recovered and fit for duty be delivered weekly to the officer of the guard, to be conducted to the army: when present at any hospital, to issue orders to the proper officers for supplying them with necessaries; and generally, in the absence of the director, to superintend and control the business of such hospitals, suspend delinquent and remove unnecessary non-commissioned officers, making report to the director; and, when in their power, to attend and perform or direct all capital operations:

That the hospital physicians shall take charge of such particular hospitals as may be assigned them by the director: They shall obey the orders of the director, or in his absence, of the chief hospital physician: They shall have power to suspend officers under them, and to confine other persons serving in the hospitals under their charge, for negligence or ill-behaviour, until the matter be regularly inquired into: They shall diligently attend to the cases of the sick and wounded of the hospitals under their care, administering at all times proper relief, as far as may be in their power: They shall respectively give orders, under their hands, to the assistant purveyor or steward at the hospital, for the issuing provisions and stores, as well as for the procuring any other small articles that the exigencies of the hospital may require, and which the store is not provided with, having always a strict regard to economy, as well as the welfare of the sick then to be provided for: They shall make weekly returns to the nearest chief hospital physician, of the state of the hospitals under their respective care.

The mates shall each take charge of and attend the patients assigned them, and perform such other duties as shall be directed by the director, chief or other physicians and surgeons.

The chief physician and surgeon of the army shall be subject to the orders and control of the director: His duty shall be to superintend the regimental surgeons and their mates, and to see that they do their duty: To hear all complaints against the said regimental surgeons and mates, and make report of them to the director, or, in his absence, to the Commander in Chief or commanding officer of a separate army, that they may be brought to trial by court-martial for misbehaviour: To draw for and receive from the purveyor a suitable number of large strong tents, beds, bedding and hospital stores, and from the apothecary, or his assistant, proper medicines, for such sick and wounded persons as cannot be removed to the general hospital with safety, or may be rendered fit for duty in a short time. He shall also see that the sick and wounded, while under his care, are properly attended and provided for, and conveyed, when fit to be removed, to the general hospital; for which last purpose, he shall be supplied by the quartermaster general, with a proper number of convenient waggons and drivers; he shall have a steward, which he is to appoint, to receive and properly dispense such articles of diet and refreshment as shall be procured for the sick; and also shall appoint such a number of nurses and orderly men as may be necessary for the attendance of the sick and wounded under his care. He shall cause daily returns to be made to him of all the sick and wounded which have been removed to the hospitals, all that remain in the hospital tents, all that are become fit for duty, all that are convalescent, and all who may have died, specifying the particular maladies under which the sick and wounded labour, and shall make a monthly return thereof to the director, who shall add it to his general hospital returns, to be transmitted monthly to the Medical Committee.

That whenever any regimental surgeon or mate shall be absent from his regiment, without leave from the chief physician and surgeon or commander of the army where his duty lies, the said chief physician and surgeon shall have power to remove such surgeon or mate and forthwith appoint another in his stead.

That the purveyor provide, or cause to be provided, all hospital stores, medicines, instruments, dressings, utensils, and such other articles as shall be prescribed by the written order of the director, or two of the chief hospital physicians, and deliver, or cause the same to be delivered, upon written orders, under the hands of the director, or chief hospital physician, or one of the hospital physicians, having the charge of a particular hospital, or of a chief physician and surgeon of the army, which, with receipts thereon for delivery of the same, shall be his sufficient vouchers. He shall be allowed a clerk, and as many store keepers as occasion may require, and the director shall approve of. He shall also pay the salaries of the officers, and all other expenses of the hospitals. He shall render his accounts every three months to the Board of Treasury for settlement, and make application for money to the Medical Committee, before whom he shall lay estimates of articles necessary, which shall previously have been approved and signed by the director or two of the chief hospital physicians; at the same time he shall render to them an account of the expenditure of the last sum of money advanced to him; and the said Medical Committee shall lay such estimates before Congress, with their opinion thereon:

That the assistant purveyor shall procure such supplies, and do and perform such parts of the purveyor's duty, as by him shall be particularly assigned to him.

That the apothecary and his assistant receive, prepare and deliver medicines, instruments and dressings, and such other articles of his department, to the hospitals and army, on orders in writing from the director, or either of the chief hospital physicians, or chief physician and surgeon of the army; and that he be allowed as many mates as occasion may require, and the director shall approve of:

That the director, or in his absence, the chief hospital physician, shall appoint a steward for each hospital, whose duty it shall be to purchase vegetables and other small articles, under the direction of the purveyor, and to receive hospital stores from the purveyor, and provisions from the commissary general, and issue the same for the use of the sick and wounded, agreeably to the order of the physician and surgeon attending such hospital; the steward to account with the purveyor for all such issues:

That the director, or, in his absence, the chief hospital physician, appoint a proper number of matrons, nurses, and others, necessary for the regular management of the hospitals, and fix and ascertain their pay, not exceeding the sums heretofore allowed; and point out and prescribe their particular duties and employments, in writing, which they are enjoined to observe and obey:

That the director, with two chief hospital physicians, be empowered to fix the pay of second mates, and of such clerks, store keepers, and other persons, as may occasionally be employed; and also make such regulations, and point out and enjoin, in writing, such further particular duties for the several officers in the hospital department, as they may judge necessary for the regular management of the same; which duties shall always be consistent with, and in no wise contradictory to any of the duties herein before particularly enumerated, and which being reported to, and approved of by the Medical Committee, shall thereupon become obligatory to all those concerned:

That the quartermaster general furnish the hospital department, from time to time, as occasion may require, with such a number of horses and wagons as may be necessary for removing the sick and wounded, and for transporting the hospital stores; but that no other horses than those belonging to the officers of the department, for which forage may be herein allowed, be kept seperately and at the expence of the department:

That no person concerned in trade, on his own account, shall be suffered to act as an officer in the hospital or medical department of the army:

the regimental surgeons and mates to be appointed as heretofore:

That the director, with the advice and concurrence of two of the chief hospital physicians, appoint all hospital mates, which appointments shall be certified by warrants under the hand of the director; in which appointments no person shall be admitted under the age of twenty-one years:

That all the officers in the hospital or medical departments, shall be subjected to trial by courts-martial for all offences, in the same manner as officers of the line of the army.

Report of the Com* for encreasing the powers of Congress—Application to the State Legislatures

Whereas the vigor and exertion necessary to the direction of public affairs in time of war, renders it highly important to the interests of these United States that at this crisis the common council of America should be vested with sufficient power to call forth from time to time the military resources of the said States.

Resolved that it be recommended to the Legislatures of each of the United States to invest in Congress sufficient powers to call forth men and provisions and carriages whenever they shall deem them necessary for the common defence, and to assist their officers in collecting the same.

And Whereas many of the Legislatures are not now convened and any delay in bringing into the field the necessary number of Recruits to fill up the Battalions assigned to each State agreeable to the requisition of the Committee at Head Quarters, or in procuring provisions and carriages required by the Army may be attended with the most fatal consequences.

Resolved that Congress by the authority which the nature of the trust reposed in them vests them with, will immediately take measures to procure the supplies of men provisions and carriages necessary to give vigor and success to the operations of the present campaign.

Resolved, That the executive power of every State be required when called upon by Congress or their Officers duly authorized to afford them every aid in carrying the measures that may be adopted in consequence of the above resolutions into execution.1

Ordered, That the consideration thereof be assigned for to morrow.

The committee on the petitions of P. Bensey and John S. Phillips, delivered in a report.

1 This resolution was also entered in the manuscript Secret (Domestic) Journal.
2 Slade's deposition, made Oct. 4, 1780, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 19, V, folio 487.
Congress took into consideration the report on the instructions to the delegates of Virginia, and the extract of the honorable J. Jay's letter of 26 May, which being amended, was unanimously agreed to.

On the report of a committee to whom were referred certain instructions to the delegates of Virginia by their constituents, and a letter of the 26th May, from the honourable John Jay, Congress unanimously agreed to the following instructions to the honourable John Jay, minister plenipotentiary of the United States of America at the court of Madrid.

That the said minister adhere to his former instructions respecting the right of the United States of America to the free navigation of the river Mississippi into and from the sea; which right, if an express acknowledgment of it cannot be obtained from Spain, is not by any stipulation on the part of America to be relinquished. To render the treaty to be concluded between the two nations permanent, nothing can more effectually contribute than a proper attention, not only to the present but the future reciprocal interests of the contracting powers.

The river Mississippi being the boundary of several states in the union, and their citizens, while connected with Great Britain, and since the revolution, having been accustomed to the free use thereof in common with the subjects of Spain, and no instance of complaint or dispute having resulted from it, there is no reason to fear that the future mutual use of the river by the subjects of the two nations, actuated by friendly dispositions, will occasion any interruption to that harmony which it is the desire of America, as well as of Spain, should be perpetual. That if the unlimited freedom of the navigation of the river Mississippi, with a free port or ports below the 31st degree of north latitude, accessible to merchant ships, cannot be obtained from Spain, the said minister, in that case, be at liberty to enter into such equitable regulations as may appear a necessary security against contraband; provided the right of the United States to the free navigation of the river be not relinquished, and a free port or ports, as above described, be stipulated to them.

That with respect to the boundary alluded to in his letter of the 26th of May last, the said minister be and hereby is instructed to adhere strictly to the boundaries of the United States as already fixed by Congress. Spain having by the treaty of Paris ceded to Great Britain all the country to the north-eastward of the Mississippi, the people inhabiting these states, while connected with Great Britain, and also since the revolution, have settled themselves at divers places to the westward near the Mississippi, are friendly to the revolution, and being citizens of these United States, and subject to the laws of those to which they respectively belong, Congress cannot assign them over as subjects to any other power.

That the said minister be farther informed, that in case Spain shall eventually be in possession of East and West Florida, at the termination of the war, it is of the greatest importance to these United States to have the use of the waters running out of Georgia through West Florida into the bay of Mexico, for the purpose of navigation; and that he be instructed to endeavour to obtain the same, subject to such regulations as may be agreed on between the contracting parties; and that as a compensation for this, he be and hereby is empowered to guaranty the possession of the said Floridas to the crown of Spain.¹

That with respect to the apprehension of the Board of War respecting further supplies of clothing the Board can assure Congress, that the state of the Treasury will not admit of any advances of money for the purpose of purchasing clothing. That by the Ordinance of Congress of the 23d of March 1779, for regulating the cloathing department it is directed—"When from a deficiency in the public stores, the Troops of any State shall not have received their allowance of clothing, the State Clothier is without delay to represent their wants particularly enumerated in a return for that purpose to the Executive Authority of the State to which he belongs requesting a speedy and adequate supply." The Board of War, to whom was referred an extract from General Gates' letter, of 27 September, delivered in a report, which was read:

AT A BOARD OF WAR. Oct. 10, 1780

Present Mr. Peters, Col Grayson

The Board having considered the extract from Gen' Gates' letter, referred to them are of opinion that it is indispensably necessary that there should be one or more auditors with the southern army. Indeed should it appear not inconsistent with the regulations already established by Congress, or the Treasury Board, the Board of War would recommend that a dep' Audit Gen' be chosen for the Southern Army, with greater powers than a common Auditor of Accounts, who should have under his Direction one or more Auditors of Accounts, as the case might require. But the Board conceiving that this business more properly belongs to the Treasury Board, beg leave to report—

That the Extract from Gen' Gates' letter of the 27th ult? referred to the Board of War, be referred to the Board of Treasury to report.¹

Ordered, That the same, together with the above extract be referred to the Board of Treasury.

TREASURY OFFICE OCTOBER 12th 1780

Whereas it was resolved in Congress June the 14th 1780, "that the Board of War be directed to continue their attention to the estimates for advances, to the Departments of Quarter Master General and Commissary General of purchases and of military stores, as far as circumstances will admit, in order to enable the Board of Treasury to decide on the merits of requisitions for such advances and report thereon to Congress," and whereas the plan for conducting the Quarter Master Gen." department agreed to in Congress July 15, 1780 "authorises the Ass't Q' Mas' General to apply to the Board of Treasury for such sums of money as the Quarter Mas' General shall direct and distribute the same" and does not require the attention of the Board of War to estimates for advances, whereby the resolution aforesaid of the fourteenth of June last appears to be superceded or annulled, and whereas there are now before the Board applications with estimates from the Ass' Q'r Master General for advances of considerable sums of money immediately wanted for the department which have not been submitted to the Board of War or received their approbation;

The Board of Treasury beg leave to report,

That Congress decide by a resolution for that special purpose whether the resolution of the 14th of June last respecting estimates be in force notwithstanding the plan for conducting the Q'r M. Gen' department agreed to in Congress the 15th of July last.¹

Ordered, That the Board of War continue to give the Board of Treasury the best advice in their power, respecting the necessity and propriety of advances to the quarter master general and to the commissaries general, to enable the Board of Treasury to decide on the merit of the requisitions made.

Another report from the Board of Treasury, dated the 6 instant, was read.

On motion of Mr. [William Churchill] Houston, seconded by Mr. [John] Fell, Ordered, That the first paragraph be postponed, and that the Board of Treasury be directed to enquire to whom the three hundred thousand dollars granted on the 12 of February last, for the use of the State of Georgia have been paid, and how the same has been applied, and report the facts to Congress.

A letter, of 5, from Major General Gates, with sundry papers enclosed; also a letter, of 8, from Governor Jefferson, with sundry papers enclosed, were read:²

The delegates for South Carolina laid before Congress a letter from Governor Rutledge; Whereupon,

October, 1780

And it appearing from the letters of Governors Jefferson and Rutledge, and of Major General Gates, that Colonel Morgan’s promotion to the rank of a brigadier general will remove several embarrassments which impede the public service in the southern department, and that it will otherwise greatly advance the said service:

Resolved, therefore, That Colonel Daniel Morgan be and hereby is appointed to the rank of brigadier-general in the army of the United States.

The Board of War, to whom was referred the motion for appointing a major general in the army of the United States, delivered in a report, which was read; Whereupon,

WAR OFFICE Oct 12, 1780

Sir,

The Board do themselves the honor to enclose Congress a list of Major Generals in the American service, amounting in the whole to the number of twelve, of these, Gen’l Putnam is in a bad state of health, and Gen’l Lincoln is a prisoner to the Enemy; if from the remainder two should be deducted, the one for the command in Carolina and the other for the important fortress of West Point, there will only be left eight for the subordinate commands in the line of the Northern and Southern armies, and for the Inspectorate, a number too small supposing it to be probable our army will amount to the complement voted by Congress.

The Board beg leave to refer to the list transmitted in the case of Gen’l Smallwood, by which (as Gen’l Nixon has since resigned) it will appear that Sam’l Holden Parsons Esq’ is at present the oldest Brigadier in the continental line except Gen’l Thompson, who is a prisoner to the Enemy. It is also to be observed that this gentleman is of Connecticut, which State, by the want of health of General Putnam, and the treason of General Benedict Arnold, has no officer of that rank to command their Troops.

They therefore beg leave to report the following resolve,

That Brig’l General Samuel Holden Parsons be promoted to the rank of Major General in the army of the United States.¹

¹This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 147, IV, folio 588; the enclosure is on folio 593.
Resolved, That Monday next be assigned for electing a major general in the army of the United States.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on the treasurer, in favour of Henry Dawkins, for fifteen hundred dollars, [on account for engraving and altering the border and back pieces for striking the bills of credit of the United States]¹ and for which he is to be accountable.

That on the application of William Palfrey, paymaster general, a warrant issue on the treasurer in his favour, for four thousand dollars, for the use of his department to reimburse the delegates of Virginia for a like sum advanced by them to Lieutenant Smith, late a prisoner of war; for which sum the said William Palfrey is to be accountable.²

That on the application of Mr. [John] Mathews, Mr. [Francis] Kinloch and Mr. [Isaac] Motte, delegates for the State of South Carolina, a warrant issue on the treasurer in their favour, for thirty thousand dollars, for which the said State is to be accountable.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee to whom was referred the letter of Major General Gates, to consider of the honors due to the memory of Major General Baron de Kalb and the officers and soldiers under his command; and thereupon,

in gratitude to his zeal, services and merit have erected this monument.
Resolved, That the thanks of Congress be given to Generals Smallwood and Gist, and to the officers and soldiers of the Maryland and Delaware lines; the different corps of artillery; Colonel Porterfield's and Major Armstrong's corps of light infantry, and Colonel Armand's cavalry; for their bravery and good conduct, displayed in the action of the 16th of August last, near Camden, in the State of South Carolina.

The secretary to the President of Congress, four hundred and fifty dollars per annum:

The steward to the President of Congress, five hundred and fifty dollars per annum.

[Resolved, That the salary of the secretary and comptroller of the Post-Office be eight hundred dollars per annum:

That the above salaries be paid in the same manner as those agreed to the 13th September last.]

A report from the Board of Treasury was read; Whereupon,

Treasury Office October 13th 1780

The Board of Treasury having considered the memorial of Samuel Young referred to them by Congress beg leave to report,

That it appears by said memorial and divers testimonies on oath exhibited and filed that a set of Bills of Exchange for thirty six dollars drawn by the United States on the Commissioners at Paris in favor of Nathaniel Donnell dated May the 10th 1779 numbered 838 and duly issued from the Continental Loan Office for the State of Pennsylvania were delivered by the Memorialist to Jacob Bennet Master of the Sloop Swan to be negociated in France and that the said Sloop was captured by the Privateer Spitfire of New York which afterwards foundered at sea and all on board perished. Moreover that it appears as aforesaid that a set of Bills of Exchange for one hundred and twenty dollars drawn by the United States on the Commissioners at Paris in favor of Charles Pryor dated the 24th of June 1779 numbered 829 and duly issued from the Continental Loan Office for the State of Pennsylvania were delivered by the Memorialist aforesaid to James Robertson Commander of the Continental Schooner Ferret which is supposed to be lost.

That the sets of exchange aforesaid were purchased and endorsed to the Memorialist aforesaid. The truth of all which the Board have no reason to doubt and therefore submit the following resolution,

Resolved, That the treasurer of loans sign and deliver to Thomas Smith, commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of Pennsylvania, to be by him issued to Samuel Young, two sets of exchange on the commissioners at Paris; one in favour of Nathaniel Donnell for thirty six dollars, to bear date May the 10, 1779, and be numbered 838, and the other in favour of Charles Pryor, for one hundred and twenty dollars, to bear date the 24 June, 1779, and be numbered 829, each set to consist of the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th bills, one of the eight only to be paid.

The Board of Treasury beg leave to represent—

That a report with sundry inclosures made by the Committee of foreign affairs to Congress respecting the salary or pay of Samuel Stockton Esq' late Secretary to the Honble William Lee Esq' late Commissioner for the United States at the Courts of Vienna and Berlin was read in Congress on the 17\(^{th}\) of April last, and referred to this Board, on which reference the Board reported to Congress the 23\(^{rd}\) of May following and on the 24 of the same month a resolution of Congress passed on that subject, and the accounts of the said S. Stockton were referred to the Auditor General for liquidation and in course were settled and returned to this Board allowing M' Stockton three hundred pounds sterling a year agreeably to the resolution aforesaid from the time of joining M' Lee at Vienna to the time of his leaving him at Frankfort deducting all monies received by the said M' Stockton from M' Lee and others without any consideration for his time or expences in returning from Frankfort in Germany to this City via Holland and Boston, leaving a balance due to Mr. Stockton of fifty three pound five shillings and five pence half penny sterling; to this report Mr. Stockton objected and brought his appeal before this Board which hath been heard, attentively considered, and unanimously determined; and more especially as the Board are of opinion the resolution of Congress aforesaid as to time has left the matter open that justice be done.

The following resolution is submitted.

Resolved, That Samuel W. Stockton, Esq. late secretary to the honorable William Lee, late commissioner for the United States at the Courts of Vienna and Berlin, be considered on salary, at the rate of three hundred pounds sterling per annum, from the time he left London to go to Mr. Lee, at Vienna, which was in the month of May, 1778, until he came to this city with letters to Congress, from Mr. Lee, in the month of December, 1779: That Mr. Stockton be not allowed for any expences, and that the several sums of money he has received, agreeably to his liquidated account, be deducted from the salary aforesaid, and the balance paid to Mr. Stockton, in specie, or current money equivalent; rating specie dollars at 4s 6d sterling.¹

The committee, to whom was referred the letter from the senate and house of assembly of the State of New York, of 21 September, delivered in a report, which was read; Whereupon,

The Committee to whom was referred the letter from the Senate and House of Assembly of the State of New York dated the 21 of September last, beg leave to report,

That it appears from the representation of the said Legislature to be exceedingly difficult, if not impossible, to procure the quantity of beef allotted to that State by the Act of Congress of the 25th of February last; and that they are willing to substitute flour for whatever may be its deficiency in beef estimated at the prices fixed to those articles in the said act. That your Committee are of opinion, that it will be of public advantage to procure flour in lieu of beef in the State of New York, on account of the great expense and uncertainty of transportation, from States more remote from the army and military posts, and that for this and other reasons set forth in the said representation the request of the said Legislature ought to be granted,

Your Committee therefore submit the following resolution:

Congress passed the following resolution:

Whereas the State of New York was required, by an act of Congress of the 25 February last, to furnish eleven thousand two hundred cwt. of beef; and whereas the said state by their Delegates in Congress have represented that on trial made the said Quantity of Beef cannot be procured therein, but that the Legislature are willing to substitute Flour for whatever may be its deficiency in Beef estimated at the prices affixed in the said act; and,

Whereas it will be of public advantage to procure flour as near as possible to the military posts and quarters of the army:

Resolved, That Congress do agree, that the State of New York, according to their proposal set forth in the letter above mentioned, may substitute flour in lieu of any quantity of beef which may be deficient on the 1st day of November next, of the quota allotted to the said state, at the rate of four dollars and an half for every hundred weight of flour and five dollars and an half for every hundred weight of beef; provided, nevertheless, that the said state shall continue to provide and deliver the quantity of beef requested to be furnished by the committee of Congress, lately with the army, in their letter of the 2d of June last, and eleven hundred and twenty five head of beef cattle, in addition thereto.\(^1\)

SIR

We have the honor to lay before Congress an account of the shot and shells contracted for by our orders which are very short of the quantity required. The Iron Masters have not received any part of the sum agreed to be paid them and are consequently distressed and extremely clamorous. We are informed that a sum of money is arrived from the eastward for which our paymaster has applied to the Treasurer who having so many previous Warrants cannot give a preference without a special order of Congress which we pray may be granted for at least one million of dollars, there being now due 4,580,616 3/4 dollars.

We submit to Congress the propriety or impropriety of proceeding farther in this business as perhaps some of the Iron Masters might be prevailed on to cast more than the amount of their present contracts could they depend on being paid. A speedy determination upon this subject is necessary as their furnaces when blown out cannot again be put in blast this season.¹

Ordered, That the treasurer without delay pay to the order of the Board of War one million of dollars, in part of the warrant issued in their favour to enable them to discharge their contract for shot and shells.

That the Board of War be informed that Congress judge it inexpedient to proceed farther in contracts for shot and shells.

The committee to whom was referred the application of the State of New York, and the motion of Mr. [Robert R.] Livingston for the relief of the treasury of that State, report as their opinion,

That if the application should be granted, the like benefit may be claimed for other states; that there is reason to believe that a compliance with such demands would involve the United States in the greatest difficulties, and that it cannot therefore be complied with.²

TREASURY OFFICE Oct 14, 1780

Whereas on the eighth day of March last, it was resolved by Congress "that the Board of Treasury report such sums as they may deem competent to be advanced to the Commissioners and Clerks of the several Boards, Auditors of the Army and other civil officers, for their necessary expenses to be accounted for toward their salaries, when a new Establishment thereof shall be made by Congress, which has been made by the Resolutions of the thirteenth and twenty fifth of September last; and whereas the salaries established as aforesaid are directed by a Resolution of the thirteenth of the September last to be paid in specie or other current money equivalent: Whereupon doubts have arisen whether the Resolutions aforesaid of the thirteenth and twenty fifth of September last establishing the salaries of certain Officers therein mentioned, are to have retrospect and to extend beyond the eighth day of March last, when the Board of Treasury were authorised to report advances in favor of certain officers, to be accounted for toward their salaries when a new establishment thereof should be made by Congress—Also whether in the payment of the salaries established as aforesaid, the words "Specie or other current money equivalent" are to be understood agreeably to the rate of Exchange fixed by the Resolution of the eighteenth March last, or agreeably to such rate of Exchange as has been or may be from time to time the real Exchange in the intercourse of business,

Resolved, That the salaries directed to be paid in specie, or other current money equivalent by the Resolution of the thirteenth of Sept' last, be computed agreeably to the Rate of Exchange, between Specie and Continental Currency, that from time to time has been or may be the real exchange in the intercourse of business.¹

That they have perused and considered the same, and propose thereupon that it be resolved,

That Congress have no control over the courts of the State of Massachusetts Bay, but by appeal in cases of capture, the mode of bringing which appeal and the manner of conducting it before the court of Appeals instituted for this purpose are clearly pointed out.

That it be recommended to M'r Holker to consult able Counsel on this occasion, and to procure such letters of attorney and procuration from his constituents as will enable him to prosecute with effect for their interest according to the laws of Massachusetts Bay, which appear to be equal and sufficient for Spaniards and other foreign friendly nations as well as the subjects of these United States, to afford redress in the case mentioned by him. That whether Joseph De Lano, Master of the Brigantine the Holy Martyrs and John Larriqui of Boston, Merchant, or either of them had legal authority to dispose of the said Brigantine, and her cargo, or whether M'r Holker's Powers are sufficient to recover the same or the value thereof in damages, are matters proper to be decided by the Courts, where they are drawn in question, and if such Courts should determine wrong in the opinion of Counsel, the remedy is by application to a superior Court for redress.

That it be recommended to the State of Massachusetts Bay to appoint Marshalls or other proper officers in their Courts of admiralty if such are not already appointed for the purpose of securing the vessels and Cargoes that may be libelled against or contested in said Courts, and who may be responsible for the same to the party prevailing in the suit and subject to the order and directions of the Court of appeals on pain of Contempt.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1780

A Representation from Abraham Whipple, John Peck Rathburne, Samuel Tucker and Thomas Simpson, late commanders of the continental ships of war, the Providence, Queen of France, Boston and Ranger, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the Board of Admiralty.

A report from the Board of Treasury was read:

TREASURY OFFICE Oct 14th 1780

The Board of Treasury Beg leave to Report—

That it appears by a Return of the Treasurer dated the 12th instant, that he has received into the Treasury from the Commonwealth of Virginia a certain sum of money in Specie, amounting to one thousand three hundred and eighteen pounds fifteen shillings, at the Rate of seventy five for one which is equal to two hundred and sixty three thousand seven hundred and fifty dollars Continental Currency.

That if it be the will of Congress that the aforesaid sum in Specie should be sold for Continental Currency, it may be done on the same terms on which it has been received into the Treasury²

¹ This report, in the writing of Thomas McKean, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 19, III, folio 149.

² This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, IV, folio 621.
Ordered, That it be referred to a committee of three:
The members chosen, Mr. [Theodorick] Bland, Mr. [James]
Duane and Mr. [Thomas] McKean.
On motion of the Medical Committee,
Ordered, That Doctor Isaac Forster and Doctor Jonathan
Potts deliver all public stores in their possession to Doctor Thomas Bond, purveyor of the hospitals, or his order, taking duplicate receipts for the same, and transmitting one of each to the Board of Treasury.
Congress took into consideration the draught of the letter to Mr. Jay, and agreed to the same.
The committee, appointed to prepare a letter to the Ministers Plenipotentiary of the United States at the Courts of Versailles and Madrid, explaining the reasons and principles on which the instructions to Mr. Jay the 4th instant are founded, reported a draft which was agreed to as follows:¹

Sir,
Congress having in their instructions of the 4th instant, directed you to adhere strictly to their former instructions relating to the boundaries of the United States, to insist on the navigation of the Mississippi for the citizens of the United States in common with the subjects of his Catholic Majesty, as also on a free port or ports below the northern limit of West Florida, and accessible to merchant ships for the use of the former; and being sensible of the influence which these claims on the part of the United States may have on your negotiations with the court of Madrid, have thought it expedient to explain the reasons and principles on which the same are founded, that you may be enabled to satisfy that court of the equity and justice of their intentions.

resolution directing the draught, to be also inclosed to Dr Franklin."
With respect to the first of these articles, by which the river Mississippi is fixed as the boundary between the Spanish settlements and the United States, it is unnecessary to take notice of any pretensions founded on a priority of discovery, of occupancy, or on conquest. It is sufficient that by the definitive treaty of Paris, of 1763, article seventh, all the territory now claimed by the United States was expressly and irrevocably ceded to the king of Great Britain; and that the United States are, in consequence of the revolution in their government, entitled to the benefits of that cession.

The first of these positions is proved by the treaty itself. To prove the last, it must be observed, that it is a fundamental principle in all lawful governments, and particularly in the constitution of the British empire, that all the rights of sovereignty are intended for the benefit of those from whom they are derived, and over whom they are exercised. It is known also to have been held for an inviolable principle by the United States, while they remained a part of the British empire, that the sovereignty of the king of England, with all the rights and powers included in it, did not extend to them in virtue of his being acknowledged and obeyed as king by the people of England, or of any other part of the empire, but in virtue of his being acknowledged and obeyed as king of the people of America themselves; and that this principle was the basis, first of their opposition to, and finally of their abolition of, his authority over them. From these principles it results, that all the territory lying within the limits of the states, as fixed by the sovereign himself, was held by him for their particular benefits, and must equally with his other rights and claims in quality of their sovereign, be considered as having devolved on them, in consequence of their resumption of the sovereignty to themselves.
In support of this position it may be further observed, that all the territorial rights of the king of Great Britain, within the limits of the United States, accrued to him from the enterprises, the risks, the sacrifices, the expense in blood and treasure of the present inhabitants and their progenitors. If in latter times expenses and exertions have been borne by any other part of the empire, in their immediate defence, it need only be recollected, that the ultimate object of them was the general security and advantage of the empire; that a proportional share was borne by the states themselves; and that if this had not been the case, the benefits resulting from an exclusive enjoyment of their trade have been an abundant compensation. Equity and justice therefore perfectly coincide, in the present instance, with political and constitutional principles.

No objection can be pretended against what is here said, except that the king of Great Britain was, at the time of the rupture with his Catholic Majesty, possessed of certain parts of the territory in question, and consequently that his Catholic Majesty had and still has a right to regard them as lawful objects of conquest. In answer to this objection, it is to be considered, 1. That these possessions are few in number and confined to small spots. 2. That a right founded on conquest being only coextensive with the objects of conquest, cannot comprehend the circumjacent territory. 3. That if a right to the said territory depended on the conquests of the British posts within it, the United States have already a more extensive claim to it than Spain can acquire, having by the success of their arms obtained possession of all the important posts and settlements on the Illinois and Wabash, rescued the inhabitants from British domination, and established civil government in its proper form over them. They have, moreover, established a post on a strong and commanding situation near the mouth of the Ohio: whereas Spain has a claim by conquest to no post above the northern bounds of West Florida, except that of the Natchez, nor are there any other British posts below the mouth of the Ohio for their arms to be employed against. 4. That whatever extent ought to be ascribed to the right of conquest, it must be admitted to have limitations which in the present case exclude the pretensions of his Catholick Majesty. If the occupation by the king of Great Britain of posts within the limits of the United States, as defined by charters derived from the said king when constitutionally authorized to grant them, makes them lawful objects of conquest to any other power than the United States, it follows that every other part of the United States that now is, or may hereafter fall into the hands of the enemy, is equally an object of conquest. Not only New York, Long Island, and the other islands in its vicinity, but almost the entire states of South Carolina and Georgia might, by the interposition of a foreign power at war with their enemy, be forever severed from the American confederacy, and subjected to a foreign yoke. But is such a doctrine consonant to the rights of nations, or the sentiments of humanity? Does it breathe that spirit of concord and amity which is the aim of the proposed alliance with Spain? Would it be admitted by Spain herself, if it affected her own dominions? Were, for example, a British armament by a sudden enterprise to get possession of a seaport, a trading town, or maritime province in Spain, and another power at war with Britain, should, before it could be re-conquered by Spain, wrest it from the hands of Britain, would Spain herself consider it as an extinguishment of her just pretensions? Or would any impartial nation consider it in that light? [As to the proclamation of the king of Great Britain of 1763, forbidding his governors in North America to grant lands westward of the sources of the rivers falling into the Atlantick ocean, it can by no rule of construction militate against the present claims of the United States. That proclamation, as is clear both from the title and tenor of it, was intended merely to prevent disputes with the Indians, and an irregular appropriation of vacant land to individuals; and by no means either to renounce any parts of the cessions made in the treaty of Paris, or to affect the boundaries established by ancient charters. On the contrary, it is expressly declared that the lands and territory prohibited to be granted, were within the sovereignty and dominion of that crown, notwithstanding the reservation of them to the use of the Indians.]

The right of the United States to western territory as far as the Mississippi having been shown, there are sufficient reasons for them to insist on that right, as well as for Spain not to wish a relinquishment of it.

In the first place, the river Mississippi will be a more natural, more distinguishable, and more precise boundary than any other that can be drawn eastward of it; and consequently will be less liable to become a source of those disputes which too often proceed from uncertain boundaries between nations.

Secondly, It ought not to be concealed, that although the vacant territory adjacent to the Mississippi should be relinquished by the United States to Spain, yet the fertility of its soil, and its convenient situation for trade, might be productive of intrusions by the citizens of the former, which their great distance would render it difficult to restrain; and which might lead to an interruption of that harmony which it is so much the interest and wish of both should be perpetual.

1 The paragraph in brackets is marked: "Amendment proposed to be inserted in the blank in 4th page." It was so inserted and accepted with the rest of the report.

Thirdly, As this territory lies within the charter limits of particular states, and is considered by them as no less their property than any other territory within their limits, Congress could not relinquish it without exciting discussions between themselves and those states, concerning their respective rights and powers, which might greatly embarrass the publick councils of the United States, and give advantage to the common enemy.

Fourthly, The territory in question contains a number of inhabitants, who are at present under the protection of the United States, and have sworn allegiance to them. These could not by voluntary transfer be subjected to a foreign jurisdiction, without manifest violation of the common rights of mankind, and of the genius and principles of the American governments.

Fifthly, In case the obstinacy and pride of Great Britain should for any length of time continue an obstacle to peace, a cession of this territory, rendered of so much value to the United States by its particular situation, would deprive them of one of the material funds on which they rely for pursuing the war against her. On the part of Spain, this territorial fund is not needed for, and perhaps could not be applied to, the purposes of the war; and from its situation is otherwise of much less value to her than to the United States.

Congress have the greater hopes that the pretensions of his Catholick Majesty on this subject will not be so far urged as to prove an insuperable obstacle to an alliance with the United States, because they conceive such pretensions to be incompatible with the treaties subsisting between France and them, which are to be the basis and substance of it. By article eleventh of the treaty of alliance, eventual and defensive, the possessions of the United States are guarantied to them by his Most Christian Majesty. By article twelfth of the same treaty, intended to fix more precisely the sense and application of the preceding article, it is declared, that this guaranty shall have its full force and effect the moment a rupture shall take place between France and England. All the possessions, therefore, belonging to the United States at the time of that rupture, which being prior to the rupture between Spain and England, must be prior to all claims of conquest by the former, are guarantied to them by his Most Christian Majesty.

Now, that in the possessions thus guarantied was meant, by the contracting parties, to be included all the territory within the limits assigned to the United States by the treaty of Paris, may be inferred from the fifth article of the treaty abovementioned, which declares, that if the United States should think fit to attempt the reduction of the British power remaining in the northern parts of America, or the islands of Bermudas, &c., those countries shall, in case of success, be confederated with, or dependent upon, the United States. For, if it had been understood by the parties that the western territory in question, known to be of so great importance to the United States, and a reduction of it so likely to be attempted by them, was not included in the general guaranty, can it be supposed that no notice would have been taken of it, when the parties extended their views, not only to Canada, but to the remote and unimportant island of Bermudas. It is true that these acts between France and the United States are in no respects obligatory on his Catholic Majesty, unless he shall think fit to accede to them. Yet as they show the sense of his Most Christian Majesty on this subject, with whom his Catholic Majesty is intimately allied; as it is in pursuance of an express reservation to his Catholic Majesty in a secret act subjoined to the treaties aforesaid of a power to accede to those treaties, that the present overtures are made on the part of the United States; and as it is particularly stated in that act, that any conditions which his Catholic Majesty shall think fit to add, are to be analogous to the principal aim of the alliance, and conformable to the rules of equality, reciprocity and friendship, Congress entertain too high an opinion of the equity, moderation and wisdom of his Catholic Majesty not to suppose, that, when joined to these considerations, they will prevail against any mistaken views of interest that may be suggested to him.

The next object of the instructions is the free navigation of the Mississippi for the citizens of the United States, in common with the subjects of his Catholic Majesty.

On this subject, the same inference may be made from article seventh of the treaty of Paris, which stipulates this right in the amallest manner to the king of Great Britain; and the devolution of it to the United States, as was applied to the territorial claims of the latter. Nor can Congress hesitate to believe, that even if no such right could be inferred from that treaty, that the generosity of his Catholic Majesty would not suffer the inhabitants of these states to be put into a worse condition, in this respect, by the alliance with him in the character of a sovereign people, than they were in when subjects of a power who was always ready to turn their force against his Majesty; especially as one of the great objects of the proposed alliance is to give greater effect to the common exertions for disarming that power of the faculty of disturbing others. Besides, as the United States have an indisputable right to the possession of the east bank of the Mississippi for a very great distance, and the navigation of that river will essentially tend to the prosperity and advantage of the citizens of the United States that may reside on the Mississippi, or the waters running into it, it is conceived that the circumstances of Spain's being in possession of the banks on both sides near its mouth, cannot be deemed a natural or equitable bar to the free use of the river. Such a principle would authorize a nation disposed to take advantage of circumstances to contravene the clear indications of nature and Providence, and the general good of mankind.

The usage of nations accordingly seems in such cases to have given to those holding the mouth or lower parts of a river no right against those above them, except the right of imposing a moderate toll, and that on the equitable supposition, that such toll is due for the expense and trouble the former may have been put to. "An innocent passage (says Vattel) is due to all nations with whom a state is at peace; and this duty comprehends troops equally with individuals." If a right to a passage by land through other countries may be claimed for troops, which are employed in the destruction of mankind, how much more may a passage by water be claimed for commerce, which is beneficial to all nations.
Here again it ought not to be concealed, that the inconveniences which must be felt by the inhabitants on the waters running westwardly, under an exclusion from the free use of the Mississippi, would be a constant and increasing source of disquietude on their part, of more vigorous precautions on the part of Spain, and of an irritation on both parts, which it is equally the interest and duty of both to guard against.

But notwithstanding the equitable claim of the United States to the free navigation of the Mississippi, and its great importance to them, Congress have so strong a disposition to conform to the desires of his Catholick Majesty, that they have agreed that such equitable regulations may be entered into as may be a requisite security against contraband; provided, the point of right be not relinquished, and a free port or ports below the thirty-first degree of north latitude, and accessible to merchant ships, be stipulated to them.

The reason why a port or ports, as thus described, was required must be obvious. Without such a stipulation, the free use of the Mississippi would in fact amount to no more than a free intercourse with New Orleans and other ports of Louisiana. From the rapid current of this river, it is well known that it must be navigated by vessels of a peculiar construction, and which will be unfit to go to sea. Unless, therefore, some place be assigned to the United States where the produce carried down the river, and the merchandise arriving from abroad, may be deposited till they can be respectively taken away by the proper vessels, there can be no such thing as a foreign trade.

There is a remaining consideration respecting the navigation of the Mississippi which deeply concerns the maritime powers in general, but more particularly their Most Christian and Cathlick Majesties. The country watered by the Ohio, with its large branches, having their sources near the lakes on one side, and those running north-westward and falling into it on the other side, will appear from a single glance on a map to be of vast extent. The circumstance of its being so finely watered, added to the singular fertility of its soil, and other advantages presented by a new country, will occasion a rapidity of population not easy to be conceived. The spirit of emigration has already shown itself in a very strong degree, notwithstanding the many impediments which discourage it. The principal of these impediments is the war with Britain, which cannot spare a force sufficient to protect the emigrants against the incursions of the savages. In a very few years after peace shall take place, this country will certainly be overspread with inhabitants. In like manner as in all new settlements, agriculture, not manufactures, will be their employment. They will raise wheat, corn, beef, pork, tobacco, hemp, flax, and in the southern parts, perhaps, rice and indigo, in great quantities. On the other hand, their consumption of foreign manufactures will be in proportion, if they can be exchanged for the produce of their soil. There are but two channels through which such commerce can be carried on; the first is down the river Mississippi; the other is up the rivers having their sources near the lakes, thence by short portages to the lakes, or the rivers falling into them, and thence through the lakes and down the St. Lawrence. The first of these channels is manifestly the most natural, and by far the most advantageous. Should it however be obstructed, the second will be found far from impracticable. If no obstructions should be thrown in its course down the Mississippi, the exports from this immense tract of country will not only supply an abundance of all necessaries for the West India islands, but serve for a valuable basis of general trade, of which the rising spirit of commerce in France and Spain will no doubt particularly avail itself. The imports will be proportionally extensive; and from the climate, as well as from other causes, will consist of the manufactures of the same countries. On the other hand, should obstructions in the Mississippi force this trade into a contrary direction through Canada, France and Spain, and the other maritime powers will not only lose the immediate benefit of it themselves, but they will also suffer by the advantage it will give to Great Britain. So fair a prospect could not escape the commercial sagacity of this nation. She would embrace it with avidity. She would cherish it with the most studious care. And should she succeed in fixing it in that channel, the loss of her exclusive possession of the trade of the United States might prove a much less decisive blow to her maritime pre-eminence and tyranny than has been calculated.

The last clause of the instructions, respecting the navigation of the waters running out of Georgia through West Florida, not being included in the ultimatum, nor claimed on a footing of right, requires nothing to be added to what it speaks itself.

The utility of the privileges asked to the State of Georgia, and consequently to the union, is apparent from the geographical representation of the country. The motives for Spain to grant it must be found in her equity, generosity, and disposition to cultivate our friendship and intercourse.
These observations you will readily discern are not communicated in order to be urged at all events, and as they here stand in support of the claims to which they relate. They are intended for your private information and use, and are to be urged so far, and in such forms only, as will best suit the temper and sentiments of the Court at which you reside, and best fulfil the objects of them.¹

A report from the Board of War was read; Whereupon,

Ordered, That Thomas Smith, commissioner of the continental loan office in the State of Pennsylvania, make sale of ten thousand dollars of the bills in his hands for continental currency, and furnish the same to Abraham Skinner, commissary of prisoners, to be distributed by him among the officers who are about to be exchanged.²

Ordered, That it be re-committed.

On motion of the delegates for Maryland,

Ordered, That the Board of Treasury cause payment to be made of the bill drawn by Joseph Clay, deputy paymaster general for the southern department, on his excellency Thomas Sim Lee, Governor of Maryland, for thirty thousand dollars, in favour of Peter Mallet or order, dated Headquarters, Hillsborough, the 4 September, 1780, and charge the same to the account of the said Joseph Clay.

A report from the Board of Treasury was read; Whereupon,

² In the margin, Charles Thomson noted: “Reconsidered, and report re-committed.”
Ordered, That on the application of Mr. [William] Sharpe, one of the delegates for North Carolina, a warrant issue on the treasurer in his favour, for fifteen thousand dollars, for which the said State is to be accountable:

That on the application of Edward Chinn and John Wells Extra Commissioners of Accounts a Warrant issue on Abraham Yates Commissioner of the Continental Loan Office for the State of New York in their favour for six hundred dollars, in Bills of Credit emitted pursuant to the Act of Congress of the 18th of March last, (part of the Bills aforesaid subject to the orders of Congress) to enable the said Commissioners to proceed on the execution of their duties of office and for which the aforesaid Edw Chinn and John Wells are to be accountable.¹

Ordered, That the remainder be postponed.

A letter, of 17, from the clerks in the Secretary's office, Board of War and Board of Treasury, was read:

Ordered, That it be referred to the committee on salaries.

A letter, of 18 July, from Governor Nash was read.²

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the letter, of 7 October, from General Washington; and after debate,

Ordered, That it be re-committed.

That Mr. [Whitmill] Hill be added to the committee.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on Mr. Adams's letters; and the same being debated by paragraphs, was agreed to.

On the report of a committee to whom were referred the letters of 23d and 24th March last, from the honourable John Adams, minister plenipotentiary of the United States for negotiating a treaty of peace and a treaty of commerce with Great Britain,

¹ This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 133, IV, folio 631. It is indorsed: "Second part re-committed that the Board may report some other fund from which the money may be drawn for Meers. Chinn and Wells."

² This letter, unsigned, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 72, folio 93. It is a duplicate of the letter read August 14, 1780.
Resolved, That the said minister be informed, it is clearly the opinion of Congress that a short truce would be highly dangerous to these United States.

That if a truce be proposed for so long a period, or for an indefinite period, requiring so long notice previous to a renewal of hostilities as to evince that it is, on the part of Great Britain, a virtual relinquishment of the object of the war, and an expedient only to avoid the mortification of an express acknowledgment of the independence and sovereignty of these United States, the said minister be at liberty, with the concurrence of our ally, to accede thereto; provided, the removal of the British land and naval armaments from the United States be a condition of it.

That in case a truce shall be agreed on by the belligerent parties, Congress rely on his attention and prudence to hold up the United States to the world in a style and title not derogatory to the character of an independent and sovereign people.

That with respect to those persons who have either abandoned or been banished from any of the United States, since the commencement of the war, he is to make no stipulations whatsoever for their readmission; and as to an equivalent for their property, he may attend to propositions on that subject only on a reciprocal stipulation, that Great Britain will make full compensation for all the wanton destruction which the subjects of that nation have committed on the property of the citizens of the United States.

That, in a treaty of peace, it is the wish of Congress not to be bound by any publick engagement to admit British subjects to any of the rights or privileges of citizens of the United States; but at all times to be at liberty to grant or refuse such favours, according as the publick interest and honour may dictate; and that it is their determination not to admit them to a full equality in this respect with the subjects of his Most Christian Majesty, unless such a concession should be deemed by the said minister preferable to a continuance of the war on that account.¹

Congress took into consideration the resolution reported for setting apart a day of thanksgiving and prayer, and agreed to the following draught:

Whereas² it hath pleased Almighty God, the Father of all mercies, amidst the vicissitudes and calamities of war, to bestow blessings on the people of these states, which call for their devout and thankful acknowledgments, more especially in the late remarkable interposition of his watchful providence, in rescuing the person of our Commander in Chief and the army from imminent dangers, at the moment when treason was ripened for execution; in prospering the labours of the husbandmen, and causing the earth to yield its increase in plentiful harvests; and, above all, in continuing to us the enjoyment of the gospel of peace;

It is therefore recommended to the several states to set apart Thursday, the seventh day [of December next, to be observed as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer; that all the people may assemble on that day to celebrate the praises of our Divine Benefactor; to confess our unworthiness of the least of his favours, and to offer our fervent supplications to the God of all grace; that it may please him to pardon our heinous transgressions and incline our hearts for the future to keep all his laws that it may please him still to afford us the blessing of health; to comfort and relieve our brethren who are any wise afflicted or distressed; to smile upon our husbandry and trade and establish the work of our hands; to direct our publick councils, and lead our forces, by land and sea, to victory; to take our illustrious ally under his special protection, and favor our joint councils and exertions for the establishment of speedy and permanent peace; to cherish all schools and seminaries of education, build up his churches

Three letters from Gen. Washington, all dated the 15, were read, one of them enclosing copies of proposals for appointing a commissary of prisoners to reside with the American and British armies respectively; Whereupon,²

Resolved, That the Commander in Chief be authorised to carry into effect the proposals offered on his part, or to make any other agreement for the appointment of such commissaries of prisoners as he shall judge proper.

A letter, of 17, from A. Lee was read, with sundry papers enclosed.

A motion was made by Mr. [James] Lovell, seconded by Mr. [James] McLene, that the said letter with the papers enclosed be referred to a committee. After debate, a motion was made by Mr. [John] Mathews, seconded by Mr. [John] Sullivan, that the motion for committment be postponed, which on the question passed in the negative. When the question for committment was ready to be put, a division was called for, and on the question for committing the letter exclusive of the postscript, the yeas and nays being required by Mr. [James] Duane, the letter being as follows.

"Philadelpia, October 17th, 1780

Sir, I must trouble your excellency to inform Congress of my arrival in this city, and that I shall obey their commands in giving them any information in my power, relative to the conduct of their private affairs. Your excellency will permit me to deposit with you the picture of the King of France set with diamonds, which the Minister of that monarch presented to me as a mark of his Majesty’s esteem upon my taking leave of the Court of Versailles. But as it was in consequence of my having been a commissioner of Congress at that court, I do not think it becomes me to retain this present without the express approbation of Congress. It is with infinite pain that I feel myself obliged to mention to Congress that the manner of my dismissal from the service of the United States implies a censure upon my conduct abroad and is injurious to my character. I have already laid before Congress the fullest evidence of the untruth and malice of the insinuations made against me. And as they all appear at length abandoned by those who made them, and the single assertion maintained of my having been esteemed at the French court, I desire to lay before Congress a copy of a letter from Count Vergennes in direct contradiction to that assertion, with two letters from my colleague, Mr. John Adams, as testimonials of my conduct, to which he was witness. Should any doubt remain in Congress that the insinuations made against me were groundless and malicious, and that I have discharged the public trust reposed in me with zeal and fidelity, I must beg of their justice to give me a full hearing at their bar upon the whole of the proceedings that concern my public conduct. I have the honor to be, &c."¹

A report from the Board of War was read, enclosing a letter from Samuel Hodgdon, assistant commissary general of military stores.

War Office Oct 19, 1780

Sir,
The board have the honor to lay before Congress a letter from Mr. Hodgdon, Deputy Com’r Gen’l of Military Stores, on the subject of the Department in which he acts. The plan he mentions would be eligible if current cash could be had; but the want of this is the constant bar to almost every plan. We would at this time particularly call your attention to the complaint with respect to the absolute famine which now prevails not only among the Artificers here but at all the posts at which they are employed. No work is done, the men are wandering about, some of them who can get private employment receive a support from what they earn, and others not fortunate enough to get private work, are in a state of absolute want. No discipline can be enforced under the present circumstances, as the men cannot consistent with any principle of justice be forced to work when the public cannot enable them to eat. We have in vain called on the Provision Commissary’s Department. We have no hopes held out by the Officers of that department either of present or future relief. We have therefore thought it proper to lay the matter before Congress, lest when the supplies in the Ordnance department are wanting, undeserved censure may be thrown either on the Board or the Department, for deficiencies for which under the distressed circumstances above stated, neither should be answerable. We hope from the wisdom of Congress some relief may be afforded in the article of provisions, the men being willing to work if they can be fed and wait with patience for their pay unless their repeated wants and consequent idleness should have expelled every idea of discipline and sub-ordination from among them.¹

Ordered, That the report with the letter enclosed, be referred to a committee of three:

The members chosen, Mr. [Ezekiel] Cornell, Mr. [Theodorick] Bland and Mr. [Willie] Jones.

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on Colonel Blaine's letter, of the 17th instant; and thereupon,

Resolved, That Colonel Blaine, commissary-general of purchases, be directed to make accurate returns to Congress of the supplies furnished by each State since the last day of December last.

That the state agents transmit to the Commander in Chief and to the commissary general, respectively, monthly returns of all the provisions which shall be drawn into their hands, specifying the articles and magazines or places where they shall be deposited. And as this regulation is of the utmost importance to the safety of the army and the success of military operations, it be earnestly recommended to the several legislatures to enjoin it as a duty on their state agents, under penalties which will enforce a prompt and punctual obedience; and that the commissary general transmit copies of all such returns to the Board of War without delay; and that he also lay before Congress a general monthly return of all provisions which shall hereafter be furnished by the states.

Resolved, That the States of Pennsylvania, Delaware, and Maryland, be desired to forward to camp without delay, the cattle called for by the resolution of the 15th day of September last.

October, 1780

That a copy of the letter of Colonel Blaine, and its enclosures, be transmitted without delay to the several states, who are hereby requested to take into their serious consideration the present want and distresses of the army, that they furnish and forward, by means the most efficacious, the supplies requested from them respectively; and that this subject, from the advanced season of the year, the critical state of our affairs, and the calamities consequent on the dissolution of the army, ought, in the opinion of Congress, to engage the unremitted attention of the states.

Ordered, That so much of the report as respects a grant of six hundred thousand dollars an advance to Colonel E. Blaine, commissary general, be re-committed.

On motion of Mr. [James] Duane, seconded by Mr. B[enjamin] Huntington,

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to devise ways and means by which the fleet and army of his Most Christian Majesty may be supplied with provisions, without the injury arising to the publick from interfering purchasers; and that they be instructed to confer with the Minister of France on the subject.

The members chosen, Mr. [James] Duane, Mr. [Theodorick] Bland and Mr. [John] Hanson.

Treasury Office Oct. 16, 1780

Whereas Provision is made by the Resolution of Congress of the 26th of August last only for such creditors of the United States as may have furnished supplies for the army or the transportation thereof, and there are sundry other creditors of various descriptions, who having just claims against the United States and their accounts unsettled are entitled to the same justice and for whom similar Provision should be made—

And whereas by a Resolution of the date aforesaid all debts due to the United States for monies received for their use, or otherwise, are to be paid according to the just value of the money when it was received or became due, and it is reasonable and just that all debts due from the United States should be paid according to the just value of the money at the time when it became due: the Board beg leave to submit the following Resolutions—

Resolved, That all debts due from the United States for services or supplies of any sort be paid according to the just value of the sums due in the Bills of credit emitted pursuant to the act of Congress of the 18th of March last, the value of the sums due to be ascertained in specie agreeable to the Table of depreciation prepared in pursuance of the Resolution of the 28th of June last—

That in all cases in the settlement of accounts where the value of the sums due either to or from the United States is to be ascertained in specie, the Commissioners of the several Chambers of accounts be governed by the Table of depreciation aforesaid.

That all accounts or parts of accounts of every description whatever that have been duly settled be excluded from all remedy against depreciation. Provided that nothing herein mentioned shall be construed to affect in any manner the Resolutions of Congress relative to the payment of the army.

The delegates for the State of Maryland laid before Congress a letter, of 20, from the governor of that State, which was read; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Thomas Harwood, commissioner of the continental loan office in the State of Maryland, in favour of Joseph Clay, paymaster in the southern department, for two thousand six hundred and sixty six dollars and two thirds of a dollar, to enable the extra regiment raised by the said State to proceed to the southward; and for which the said Joseph Clay is to be accountable.

The committee, to whom was referred the letter, of 29 September, from Colonel Pickering, Q. M. G. delivered in a report, which was read, and being taken into consideration,

1 This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 138, IV, folio 641. It is indorsed: "Referred to the Committee on the letter of 23d October from the Comr. of the Board of War."

2 Here Charles Thomson resumes the entries.

3 This letter is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 70, folio 431.
Resolved, That where Congress have resolved that a certain sum in specie is a proper compensation for the services of officers in the quartermaster's department, and have determined that payment shall be made either in specie or other current money equivalent, by equivalent is intended a real and not a nominal equivalent.

That when the quartermaster general shall lay before the Board of Treasury the pay rolls of his department, containing the sums due to his officers, the Board be and hereby are directed to give order for the discharge of the same out of the warrants already granted, in favour of the quartermaster general, and which remain unsatisfied.¹

Congress resumed the consideration [of] the report of the Committee of Estimat es and Ways and Means, wherein they state the following facts:

That from the report of the Board of War of the 16th of September, referred to this committee, it appears that the troops are again in danger of suffering distress from the want of cloathing; and that Congress are called upon to make every possible exertion to prevent a calamity which may be productive of the worst consequences.

That from the return of the cloathier general dated the 1st June last, and referred to in the foregoing report of the Board of War, it appears that there were in store 1196 coats, 2027 vests, 586 woolen, 971 leather, and 1256 drilling and linen breeches, and 24,645 pair of shoes.

That from an examination of different returns of the agents, the committee are of opinion there is a quantity of made shirts, and linen on hand sufficient in the whole for 35,000 shirts; and that there are also on hand 14,000 blankets;

but what part of the articles mentioned in the said returns are since expended, the committee are uninformed.

That it appears from the abovementioned report of the said Board, that they know of no addition to the quantities of cloathing specified in the cloathier general’s return, except the articles agreed for by Otis and Henley, with Messrs. Tracey & Co., which lie at Boston, and cannot be made use of, for want of money to pay the workmen; and except a small quantity of cloathing arrived in the French fleet, which they are informed is sent off to headquarters, the quantity or species they are unacquainted with; but that the whole stock of cloathing on hand will bear a small proportion to the quantities requisite. That from an estimate made by Otis and Henley, the goods purchased from them will make up 2300 suits of clothes, 4650 vests, and 267 pair of cloth breeches, exclusive of their contract for 300 pair of leather breeches.

The committee find that Mr. Beaumarchais, under the name of Roderique Hortalez and Company did, in the month of May, 1777, lade on board of the ship La Therese, at Nantes, a large quantity of cloathing for the United States, consigned to Mr. Carabasse, the correspondent of Mr. Beaumarchais, at Cape Francois, in the island of St. Domingo. That part of the said cloathing has, from time to time, been shipped by Mr. Carabasse in different small vessels consigned to the agents of Congress, most of which, it is said, have safely arrived in North and South Carolina.

That it further appears to the committee, that there still remains in the hands of Mr. Carabasse at Cape Francois, a considerable part of the said cloathing, viz. 98 bales of woolen cloths, 55 bales of thin woolen cloths, 70 bales of white linen, 25 bales of worsted hose, 23 bales of blankets, 20 bales of worsted caps, and a quantity of buttons, silk, thread, and trimmings. That by a letter from Mr. Carabasse, of the 18 May, it appears, that it was not in his power to remit the said goods for want of vessels; and that he is very importunate to be reimbursed his advances on account of the United States:

That on the 15 day of June, 1779, Congress agreed upon a representation and request to his Most Christian Majesty, setting forth that the supplies of arms, ammunition and clothing for our armies have ever since the war been irregular, fortuitous, and scanty; and therefore requesting his Majesty to furnish us with these necessary supplies, and pledging the faith of these States for the repayment with interest of whatever sums may be advanced for that purpose, as soon as the restoration of peace shall have enabled us. That on the 10th of July following, the Board of War laid before Congress an estimate of the articles of the supplies necessary for the Army and the Marine Committee, an estimate of the articles for their department, copies of which were ordered to be transmitted with the representation to his Most Christian Majesty.

That our minister at the Court of Versailles, in his despatches of the 4th of March last, assures Congress that the disposition of that court continued as favourable as ever, though it could not comply with all our demands. That the supplies required in the invoices sent to him appeared too great and numerous to be immediately furnished. That three millions of livres were however granted him, with which, after deducting what would be necessary to pay the interest bills and other late drafts of Congress, he could not venture on ordering more than 10,000 suits of clothes; and that with these he should have 15,000 arms and accoutrements; and that a great deal of cloths would go over in the Alliance purchased by Mr. Ross, which it was computed would make seven or eight thousand suits more.
That the said minister in the said letter repeats his earnest request, that some person of skill in maritime affairs may be appointed in the character of consul to take charge of them, he himself being unexperienced in such affairs; and in a letter of the 4 of October preceding, he expresses his wish that his time and attention were not taken up by any concerns in mercantile affairs, and he thereby be diverted from others more important: Whereupon,

Resolved, That the Board of War be, and hereby is, directed to order such quantities of cloth and trimmings, purchased from Messrs. Tracey and Company and now in store, as the Commander in Chief shall direct, to be forwarded, in order to be made up in the army; and that they take the necessary measures for having the rest of the cloathing made up and delivered to the cloathier general for the use of the troops, as they may be required.

That the Board of Admiralty be, and hereby is directed to despatch one of the continental frigates, as soon as can be done with any prospect of safety, to Cape François, for the cloathing and other public effects now in the care of Mr. Carabasse; and to bring the same into such port as the said Board shall judge to be most safe and convenient.

That it be referred to the Commercial Committee to report the ways and means for reimbursing Mr. Carabasse the money he has advanced for the United States.

That it is necessary to obtain as far as possible the supplies of cloathing, medicines, arms, and ammunition requested from his most Christian Majesty on loan; as well as without loss of time to import such of the cloathing and other articles as have been granted, or purchased in France for the public use. That for these and other purposes a consul be appointed to reside in France, whose duty it shall be, in addition to his consular functions, to receive and forward all supplies to be obtained in that kingdom for the use of the United States, and to assist in directing our naval affairs.¹

That the Board of Admiralty be and hereby is directed, to report to Congress the reasons that the public cloathing and military stores have not been imported agreeably to the intentions of our minister at the Court of Versailles.

That in addition to the measures taken by Congress it be and hereby is recommended to the respective states to exert their utmost endeavours to furnish their quotas of troops in ¹This paragraph was written separately from the rest of the report by James Duane. It is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 31, folio 69. As embodied in the committee’s report it read: “That for these and other purposes a Secretary be forthwith appointed to the minister-pleni-potentiary at the Court of Versailles and that he be invested also with the office of consul for the United States and in that character be charged to take upon himself an active part in procuring and forwarding all loans and supplies from France for the use of these States, and in conducting our naval and commercial affairs in that kingdom.” Thomson gives the clause and postponement as follows: “That for these and other purposes a be forthwith appointed, whose duty it shall be in addition to his Consular functions to provide and forward for the use of the United States all such supplies as he may be enabled to do either by loans procured by the Minister Pleni-potentiary at the Court of Versailles or advances transmitted by Congress for that purpose. To which it was moved by Mt [James] Duane seconded by Mt [Theodoric] Bland to add.

That he shall carry on no private trade or business for himself or others, and shall be entitled to a salary of per annum, in lieu of all commissions.

The committee, to whom was referred the letter, of this day, from E. Blaine, commissary general of purchases, delivered in a report; whereupon, Congress agreed to the following resolution.
Whereas the commissary general of purchases has represented to Congress, that 5000 bushels of salt, which is lodged in the public magazines in the State of Massachusetts Bay, is immediately wanted for public service; that a dispute has arisen whether it is the property of the United States or of Abraham Livingston, continental agent in South Carolina, and that it has been agreed that it should remain in store until the determination of Congress should be known: and whereas it is impracticable to ascertain the grounds of Mr. Livingston's claim, he being now a prisoner of war in Charlestown:
Resolved, therefore, That the said salt be delivered to the commissary general of purchases, or his order, for the public use; and if it shall hereafter appear that the salt, or any part of it, is the rightful property of Mr. Livingston, that he shall receive a just compensation for the same.1

The Board beg leave to lay before Congress an account of Fancy work exhibited by Francis Hopkinson Esq; Treasurer of Loans which were referred to them by Congress on the 25th of May last with the following State of facts

That the said account with a letter to the Board of Admiralty on the subject of it numbered 1 and 2 were referred to the Auditor General as usual for liquidation, and on the 12th June William Govett and John D. Mercier Esq" two of the Commissioners of the chambers of accounts, report thereon, as appears by their report N° 840

That the Board taking notice that the said Commissioners in this case had neglected to require the vouchers to support the charges conformable to the Ordinance of the 30th July 1779, remanded the said account on the 24th of June to the auditor general to be reconsidered, and with it sent another account N° 4 and 5 which the said Treasurer of Loans desired by his letter N° 6 to be substituted in the room of his aforesaid account

That on the 29th of the same month William Geddes and George Measam other Commissioners of the Chambers report they had examined the account of Francis Hopkinson Esq, referred to them by the Auditor General and call for the former report of the Commiss-oners to be laid before them

That on the 4th of August the Board remanded this last mentioned report to the Auditor General

That on the 7th of August the last mentioned Commissioners report, without any alteration of circumstances the sum first reported, as will appear by the paper N° 8

That upon this last report the Board proceeded to consider the said account, and on the 12th inst: rejected it for want of vouchers to support the charges

The Board beg leave further to observe that they should not have thought themselves authorized to allow the said account, had the Treas-urier of Loans produced vouchers of his having been employed about the several matters he charged for.

1st Because it is within the knowledge of one of the Members of the Board, that with respect to the charges of the works incidental to the Treasury, the said Francis Hopkinson was not the only person consulted on those exhibitions of Fancy, and therefore cannot claim the sole merit of them and not entitled in this respect to the full sum charged.

2nd Because the Board are of opinion the public is entitled to those little assistances given by Gentlemen who enjoy a very considerable salary under Congress without Fee or further reward: and lastly because it appears to the Board by a relation of a conversation that passed between the said Treasurer of Loans and one of the Members of the Board just after the said Treasurer had wrote to the Admiralty the letter N° 1 that he viewed the success of his application for the

The committee, to whom was referred the report of the Board of Treasury of 14 October, delivered in a report, which was read:

The Committee to whom was referred the Report from the Treasury of the 14th of October beg leave to Report—

That the money mentioned therein to have been received into the Treasury (in specie) from the Commonwealth of Virginia, was received at the rate of seventy five for one, as part of the said State's quota, and that the said specie was paid into the Treasury at sundry times, by the agents of a gentleman who was indebted to the said State, as will appear from information obtained from the Commissioners of the Treasury which is hereto annexed, and which your Committee beg leave to make part of their Report—

Vide information from the Commissioners &c.

Your Committee being clearly of opinion, that the receiving specie into the Treasury, either from a State as its quota, or an individual debtor to a particular State, or to the United States, at a higher rate than the difference allowed between money of the old and new emissions by the Resolution of Congress of the 18th of March last, would be most destructive to the credit of the new emission, and have a fatal tendency to depreciate it, they therefore submit the following Resolution—

Resolved, that the Commissioners of the Treasury take especial care, that all debts due to the United States treasury or moneys deposited there be received at no higher rate than that fixed by the resolution of March last—

Resolved, that the State of Virginia be informed, that the money paid into the Treasury in specie at the supposed depreciation of seventy five for one, by the agents of Mr. Carter Braxton cannot be received consistently with the faith of the United States pledged by Congress in their Resolution of the 18th of March 1780 at any higher rate than is therein specified. Congress is nevertheless sensible, that the specie paid into the Treasury at the above depreciation was not paid by any order, or warranted by a connivance of that State, but was an act of an Individual intermediately discharging a debt due from him to the State and to be paid into the Continental Treasury from the State—which was unguardedly permitted to be paid at the current depreciation by the Commissioners of the Treasury, and is now ready to be refunded, on receiving an equivalent in Continental money, according to the Resolution of Congress of March last.\(^1\)

Present Mr. Peters, Col. Grayson

AT A BOARD OF WAR.

The board have been honored with a reference from Congress of a letter from Major Genl Greene on the subject of the promotions of Major Lee and Captain Peyton in the Legion commanded by Major Lee. On a former application for promotions, the Board wrote to General Washington on the subject, and an extract of his letter in answer is inclosed. The request then went no further as to Major Lee than a desire to have the assistance of another field Officer or of two, if it could be done, and he to remain where he was. The proposed addition of Field Officers were Capt. McLane to be Major and to command the infantry, and Capt. Peyton to be Major and to command the cavalry under Major Lee. The General's objections were grounded on the formation of the Corps, and the jealousies the promotions would create among the Cavalry Officers. The objections as to the number of Field Officers seem to be obviated by the present formation of regiments, but whether the causes of jealousies have decreased (if these are to continue objections) we cannot determine. How other Officers of cavalry will be affected by Captain Peyton's promotion, not having an arrangement of the Cavalry, we cannot determine. It appears to us however, that there is a necessity of at least two field Officers in Major Lee's Legion and as he is the oldest Major in the Cavalry, and would have been promoted had he remained in the line, it should seem that he is entitled to the rank of a Lieutenant Colonel, whether it is, or is not proper to make any promotions until the proposed arrangement shall take place, we cannot undertake to decide, but submit to the determination of Congress with this observation that no promotion can be had in the line of the cavalry by the officers of an independent Legion, and their rising in their own Corps ought to cause jealousies no more than if a new regiment had been raised in which accidental preferences from casualties or length of service would happen. Should Congress be of opinion that the promotion should take place they will be pleased to resolve.

Resolved, That the partizan corps commanded by Major Lee in future have two field officers, a lieutenant colonel and a major.

Resolved, That Major Lee be, and hereby is, promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel of cavalry in the army of the United States, retaining the command of his present corps:
That the farther arrangement of the said corps be referred to the commanding officer of the Southern army Commander in Chief, to take order.¹

The committee to whom was referred the report of the Board of Treasury, on the memorial of R. Pomeroy, delivered in a report; Whereupon,

A report from the Board of Treasury was read; Whereupon,

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Joseph Borden, commissioner of the continental loan office in the State of New Jersey, in favour of Thomas Bond, purveyor of the general hospital, for four thousand two hundred and seventy six dollars and 60/90, in bills of credit emitted pursuant to the act of Congress of the 18 of March last; for which sum the said Thomas Bond is to be accountable.

The Board on the requisition of the Board of War of this day for one thousand two hundred and eighty dollars and 38/90 for the Commissary General of military stores further report—That a Warrant issue on Nathaniel Appleton Esq Commissioner of the Continental Loan Office for the State of Massachusetts Bay, in favor of Colö Benj: Flower Commissary General of military stores, for the afs sum of one thousand two hundred and eighty dollars and 38/90 in Bills of credit emitted pursuant to the Act of Congress of the 18th of March last to enable the said Commissary General to discharge the balance of Thomas Dickinson's account, claimed in the new Bills under the resolution of the 26th of August last, for which sum the afs Colö Benj: Flower is to be accountable.

The Board further report,

That they have considered the letter from Colö George Morgan Commissary General of purchases in the western department dated Oct 29 last with its inclosures referred to them by Congress and are of opinion that the said letter and inclosures ought to be referred to the Board of War, as it appears by the afs letter, that he has acted under the particular Directions of Congress and that Board.¹

Ordered, That the Board of Treasury charge the hon. Arthur Lee, Esq. in their books, with the moneys supplied him by Mr. John Bradford; that so much of their report as relates to Col. George Morgan's accounts be re-committed, and that the Board be informed,

That interest heretofore paid on loan office certificates, under the resolutions of Congress previous to the 28 June last, was paid and received as full compensation for interest due, agreeably to the said resolutions, that all money loaned under the said resolutions was paid in on a dependence that the said resolutions would be complied with; and therefore that no retrospect in additional interest, where the interest has been duly paid agreeably to the resolutions aforesaid, ought to take place, but that from and after the 28 of June last, all interest on loan office certificates be paid agreeably to the resolution of the 28 June, on which the table for ascertaining the value of money loaned is founded.

The members chosen, Mr. [John] Sullivan, Mr. [Theodorick] Bland, Mr. [John] Mathews, Mr. [Timothy] Matlack and Mr. [Abraham] Clark.

Congress resumed the consideration of the report of the committee on General Washington’s letter, of 7th October; and thereupon came to the following resolutions:²

The Committee to whom General Washington’s Letter of the 7th Instant with sundry other papers were referred beg Leave to Report—

That considering the sufferings of the American officers and soldiers in captivity, the expense and difficulty of supporting and guarding the Convention troops, and the daily desertions which take place among them, Principles of Humanity and Policy unite in pointing out the necessity of a general exchange upon Liberal and Equitable Terms. Your committee therefore submit the following Resolutions, viz.

Resolved, That General Washington be and hereby is authorised and instructed to effect an exchange of all continental prisoners of war and now in possession of the enemy, and of the hostages given in Canada, as well as of all officers on parole and officers violators of parole, and militia actually taken in arms and admitted to parole under the capitulations of Charlestown and Fort Moultrie and remaining prisoners of war, for an equal number of the Convention troops and other prisoners in our hands, rank for rank; and where similar rank will not apply, to pursue the exchange on the footing of composition according to the valuation or tariff agreed on by the commissioners at Amboy in March last.

² This paragraph and the succeeding resolutions and vote were also entered in the manuscript Secret (Domestic) Journal.

That the exchange of officers next in rank to such as cannot be exchanged on the principle of equality, be considered and made on the principles of composition.

That all prisoners taken by the American forces in the northern department, and permitted to return home on parole, be considered and exchanged, agreeably to their rank and order of capture.

That the expense incurred for removing and supporting the Convention troops from the time of their capture be adjusted by commissioners to be appointed for effecting the said exchange, and the balance, after deducting the expense due for support of our prisoners in the hands of the enemy, paid prior to the exchange of any part of the said troops.

That General Washington empower the commissioners appointed on his part, in case any dispute should arise respecting the support of the Convention troops, to submit the same to some proper arbitrating power for determination, and to give hostages as a security to refund, in case any part thereof shall be adjudged to have been over paid. But in case the commissioners which may be appointed by the British Commander in Chief will not accede to the above terms, the commissioners appointed by General Washington may propose to them the exchanging the said troops without payment of expense, upon their submitting the same as aforesaid and giving hostages for securing the payment of such sums as may be adjudged justly due.

That all officers be exchanged according to the rank they held at the time of capture; and such of the military as have no regimental rank, by composition, to be settled by the commissioners.
That a brigadier general be exchanged with each division of the Convention troops, one major general with the first and one with the last divisions; and that Lieutenant General Burgoyne be included in and exchanged with the second division, as his remaining to be exchanged with the third or last is altogether unmilitary and inadmissible.

That hostages be mutually given as a security that the Convention troops and those received in exchange for them do not bear arms prior to the first day of May next.

That General Washington be informed it is not the sense of Congress to make this last article an ultimatum, unless from the present state of our army, the improbability of his being joined by the French troops, or other circumstances, he shall be convinced that the Convention troops will by the exchange be put in a situation to act with the British army at the southward, prior to our having an equal force in readiness to oppose them.¹

Present Mr. Peters Col. Grayson, Genl Ward

The board have the honor to enclose a letter from Col Henry Lee, requesting payment for three horses which he purchased, immediately after purchasing the six Congress ordered payment for on the 22d of July last—but previous to the determination of Congress thereon—It would have been lucky had these horses been included in the former application. Col. Lee alleges that immediately after purchasing them, he was ordered to Camp, and neglected to apply for payment, trusting that as in former cases, he could have the matter settled at any time he had leisure to attend to it. Should it be the

That it appears by a certificate from the pay office of the army dated the 25th of October last that he has drawn his pay only to the 21st of October 1779 and that since that period he has received 2000 dollars on account from the pay office, and that 2000 dollars more were advanced him on the order of the Commander in Chief to defray his expences to Philadelphia.

That by a certificate from the Commander in Chief communicated to your Committee and dated the 29th of October last, it appears that Mr. Lawrence has uniformly discharged the duties of his office with great uprightness diligence and ability, by which he has acquired the esteem of the army and merited the consideration of his Country.

That by a certificate of Mr. Lawrence herewith presented it further appears that John Strang has acted as Deputy Judge Advocate since some time in the year 1779, under the appointment of Major General McDougall, then commanding West Point and its dependencies in which Department he has been ever since employed, and that he does not belong to the line of the army.

That Lt. Thomas Edwards has acted as Deputy Judge Advocate with the main army since some time in April Last under the appointment of the Commander in Chief and that Lieutenant Edwards belongs to the Line of the Army.

That no pay has hitherto been provided by Congress for either of the said Deputies.

On this State of Facts your Committee beg leave to submit the following Resolutions.

Resolved, that the salary of John Lawrence Esq. as Judge Advocate be settled at the rate of sixty dollars per month from the time of his appointment to the 27th March 1778 and from that day to the 1st of August last at the rate of 75 dollars per month. That the depreciation on his pay shall be adjusted on the same principles as are directed with respect to that part of the Line of the army which is to be provided for by Congress. That from the 1st of August last the pay and appointments of the Judge advocate of the Army in lieu of all other provision heretofore made shall be the same in all respects as are established for the Chief Physician of the army.

That Mr. Edwards besides his pay as a Lieutenant shall be entitled to an addition of fifteen dollars per month as Deputy Judge Advocate for the time he has or shall discharge the duties of that office; and that Mr. Strang shall in all respects excepting the Rank of Lieutenant be entitled to the pay and appointments provided for Mr. Edwards.
for the time he hath or shall continue to discharge the office of a Deputy Judge Advocate.

Ordered, That a warrant issue in favour of the paymaster general, for twenty thousand dollars, to be paid to John Lawrence, judge advocate general, on account of his pay; and for which the said paymaster general is to be accountable.¹

Ordered, That the farther consideration of the report be postponed.

Congress resumed the consideration of the draught of a circular letter to the states, and agreed to the same, as follows:

SIR,

Fully convinced of our inability to obtain the grand object of the federal union without the vigorous exertions of the several states, we have thought it our duty to make the requisitions contained in the enclosed resolutions; and we wish our constituents to be impressed with the necessity of a speedy and punctual compliance. For although, by the blessing of Providence, we have been conducted thus far in a war with a powerful and enraged enemy, yet the events of the present year have not enabled us to speak the language of triumph. This indeed may be attributed to a variety of causes; but we cannot refrain from observing, that the unpunctuality of the states in their supplies of men, money, and provisions, is not one of the least. It is unnecessary to point out the public wants and distresses. They are too well known, too generally felt. Hitherto the war has been carried on principally by emissions of paper money. This being depreciated, and Congress having, in compliance with the general inclination and voice of their constituents, resolved to stop farther emissions, we are compelled to call upon the states for taxes and specific supplies.

November, 1780

An opinion seems to prevail, that foreign loans can be obtained; and we perceive with regret that some are disposed to place too great reliance on this precarious event resource. Duty compels us to be explicit with our constituents on a subject of such interesting importance. Every effort has been made for the purpose of procuring loans, but without sufficient success to justify a relaxation of our own most vigorous exertions.

We are now urging to his most Christian Majesty the pressing necessities of these United States. But sensible as we are of the expensive and vigorous co-operations of our ally against the common enemy, wisdom forbids a reliance on him for further aids of money. What we have principally to hope from our generous ally is a credit for arms, ammunition and clothing. Everything else necessary to expel the enemy except the military co-operations of France and Spain must depend on our own internal resources and efforts under the blessing of divine providence and we trust that from a due attention to the inestimable rights of America the States will be reaped to these efforts.

It is to be observed, that a powerful armed neutrality appears to be formed in Europe, determined to support the freedom of commerce. Should overtures of peace be the result of a convention of the neutral powers, is it not our interest, is it not our indispensible duty, to be prepared for such an event? Our object is of the greatest magnitude—the security, freedom and independence of the United States; and experience evinces that no nation can promise itself a safe and honorable peace which is not in condition to maintain a war with vigour. We are confident there is no want of ability in the states to do this. Can arguments then be necessary to call forth every internal resource, which may contribute to put a happy period to the war? Is it not high time to expel from our country an enemy, whose progress is marked with blood and desolation, and whose successes inspire them only with redoubled vengeance?
Journals of Congress

The estimates may appear large, but we conceive them to be absolutely necessary. To the utmost of our power we have endeavoured to correct abuses in the public expenditures. We have called for the aid of the respective executives. Again we recommend this essential object to their attention. Nothing on our part shall be wanting which may contribute to promote the strictest economy in dispensing the supplies now required. We have only to add our earnest desire that no time may be lost; and should the legislature of your State not be in session on the receipt of this letter, that it may be immediately convened.

By order, and on behalf of the United States in Congress assembled. ¹

¹ This circular letter was also entered in the manuscript Secret (Domestic) Journal. A copy in Thomson’s writing is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 24, folio 297. A rough draft, also in Thomson’s writing, is in No. 47, folio 515. The original draft of the letter, in the writing of John Morin Scott, is in No. 24, folios 283–289. The following version of the letter, in Thomson’s hand, is in No. 24, folio 290; it was made from the rough draft in John Morin Scott’s hand, with slight amendments:

Sir,

Strongly impressed by the urgent necessity of a compliance with the enclosed estimate and fully convinced of the total inability of Congress to obtain the grand objects of the war without the vigorous exertions of these United States upon the plan therein proposed, they have thought it their indispensable duty to lay it before their constituents. They wish in doing this, the reasons they now offer in its favor may command an attention proportionate to their importance.

For though with a variety of successes and misfortunes we have hitherto waged a war against one of the most powerful nations on earth, Congress must observe that the events of the present year have not enabled them to speak the language of triumph. This may indeed be attributed to a variety of causes, among which they cannot refrain from observing that the unpunctuality of the states in their supplies of men, money and provisions is not one of the least.

A powerful armed neutrality formed in Europe appears determined to support the freedom of commerce. Should overtures of peace be the consequence of a convention of the neutral powers, is it not the interest, is it not the indispensable duty of these United States to be prepared for such an event. Our object is of the greatest magnitude, no less than the security of the freedom and independence of the United States, and experience evinces that no nation can promise itself an honorable peace which is not in condition to carry on the war with vigour.

Congress with regret perceive that an opinion prevails that foreign Loans will enable us to prosecute the war with vigour and success. They are therefore bound in duty to undeceive their constituents. The truth is, they have made every possible exertion to obtain them; but those exertions have hitherto proved inadequate. They are now urging to his most Christian Majesty the pressing necessities of these United States, supported by every argument in favor of a loan, which the common cause and sound policy can suggest. But sensible as they are of the generous aids of our good and great ally, it is not to be concealed that expensive and vigorous co-operations against our common enemy deprive his most Christian Majesty of the pleasure of complying with all our requisitions, and as the effect of our applications is dubious, wisdom forbids too great a reliance on the endeavours of Congress in this respect. What they have principally to hope from their generous ally is a credit for arms, ammunition and clothing. Everything else necessary to expel the Enemy except the military co-operations of France and Spain must chiefly depend on our own internal resources and efforts. This is the summary of our affairs, and the question is whether by a combination of exertions, these states are determined to expel the enemy. Congress is confident that there is no want of ability in them to do it. They are, on the contrary, convinced that nothing but a non-exertion of those powers which they enjoy will prevent.

A compliance with the estimate they enclose will, they conceive, be absolutely necessary. Congress cannot be charged with a remissness on their part. Should unhappily the liberties of America be in any degree impaired, this besides former testimonials on their journals will show the world that they have done every thing in their power to preserve them.

Congress wish to add that those legislatures which will not be in session on the receipt of this circular letter may be immediately convened. Duty compels Congress to be explicit with their constituents on a subject of such interesting importance. Not only they, but the people at large, feel the public distresses. Congress are therefore constrained to point out the particular causes.

The war has hitherto been carried on by emissions of paper currency. Those emissions by means well known to the public have been depreciated. Congress resolved in compliance with the general inclination of their constituents, to stop their emissions of continental money; in consequence of which they are obliged to call on them for taxes and specific supplies. Upon this basis therefore, until our late plan of finance and such auxiliaries as may be necessary can have proper effect, our efforts in the war must necessarily depend. Shall we not then from a due attention to the inestimable rights of America, be roused to every effort? These rights, for their support, principally depend upon our internal exertions under the blessing of providence; and too great a reliance on foreign powers may render them precarious.

To the utmost of our power we have endeavored to correct abuses in the expenditure of public money. We have called for the aid of the respective executives. Again we recommend this essential object to their attention. Nothing on our part shall be wanting, which may contribute to promote the strictest economy in dispensing the supplies which are now required.

On the application of the Board of Admiralty,

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the letters from Colonel Pickering, Q. M. G. and J. Neilson; and thereupon,

The Committee to whom was referred the letter from Timothy Pickering Esq' Quarter Master Genl: and also the letter from John Neilson Esq. Deputy Quarter Master Genl: in the State of N. Jersey: beg leave to Report—

That the letters referred represent the extreme scarcity of Forage with the Army and at the several posts in the Jerseys, and the utter impracticability of procuring the same in any degree proportioned to the demand: and it being a fact well ascertained, that the scarcity complained of is owing wholly to a deficiency of Hay in the Country occasioned by a failure of crops the last season. That for the above reason it is become absolutely necessary to remove from the Army a large proportion of the horses, all of which for some time past having been principally supplied with Forage obtained by Military force: a measure ever disagreeable, and in the present case, highly injurious to individuals, and detrimental to the publick cause. That as the Campaign is now drawing to a close, and the Army going into Winter Quarters, the officers Sensible of the absolute necessity of the measure, will it is expected, cheerfully dispense with keeping more horses in the Army than the Commander in Chief may judge indispensably necessary for publick and immediate service. That in case the inhabitants are suffered to retain a sufficiency of Forage for their own teams and stocks free from forcible exactions, they will be enabled and induced to transport the most, if not all the stores necessary for the Army, on which account the number of draft horses in the Army, may be greatly reduced. Whereupon

Resolved, That the Commander in Chief be, and hereby is fully authorised and directed to cause all horses in the army, whether of public or private property, to be immediately removed from thence, which in his opinion are not absolutely necessary to be retained for public use:

That all horses belonging to officers, for which forage is allowed, shall, in case they are removed beyond the distance from which long forage is brought to the army, be furnished with their rations of forage during the winter, or an equivalent in money paid for the same, if kept at the expense of the owners:

That the quartermaster general take immediate measures for removing all horses, the property of the United States, which, in the opinion of the Commander in Chief, can be spared from the army, into some one or more of the said states where he can provide the said horses with forage on reasonable terms:

That if it be deemed preferable by the Commander in Chief, that a proportion of the public horses should be disposed of for draft oxen, to be provided for the ensuing campaign, he be authorised to direct the quartermaster general to effect the same, in such manner as may be most beneficial to the public service.

That the quarter master general immediately apply to the executive authority of the states nearest to the quarters of the main army, to furnish such quantities of forage as may be in their power, to enable him to lay up proper magazines for the use of the army; and that he also apply to the more distant states to furnish the intermediate posts with forage for the purpose of transporting provisions and stores to the army, and provide forage for the horses removed from the army:

Resolved, That it is the fixed intention of Congress that the Bills of the New Emission of March last shall be made good to those who receive them in Specie Value and finally redeemed with Specie agreeable to the Resolutions of the 18th of March last; and that whenever Continental money of the old emissions is paid in discharge of publick Debts, the same shall pass at the Current exchange between that and Specie at the time it issues from the Treasury, at what Valuations

That, as soon as the foregoing resolutions for the removal of the horses in camp are carried into effect, the Commander in Chief cause returns to be made to the Board of War, of all horses, both of public and private property, kept in camp at the public expense, and also of those removed, noting at what places kept and on what business employed.¹

That it was an established rule of the Marine Committee which has been adopted by this Board, in appointing Commanders to their Ships of War to give preference to seniority when merit is equal.

That Captain James Nicholson was at Sea, when Captain John Barry was appointed to Command the Alliance and the Board were induced to be immediate in that appointment, as from his great activity and popularity with Seamen, they had reason to expect the Service would be benefitted therefrom. That in the case of Captain Harding's appointment the Board are restricted as it is singular, being particularly appointed to the Frigate Confederacy, by an act of Congress of the 25th September 1778, altho there were then many Captains unemployed.

The Board are of opinion that Captain Nicholson's claim is reasonable and conformable to the rule established by the Marine Committee and adopted by this Board; and are fully of opinion that when he now appointed to command the Confederacy, it would be of public utility, as under him she might be immediately manned which is of great importance at this autumn season before the navigation of this river is obstructed by the ice. 2

A letter, of 12, from E. Blaine, commissary general, was read:

The members chosen, Mr. [James] Duane, Mr. [John] Henry and Mr. [Jared] Ingersol.
The committee, to whom was referred the letter, of 7, from General Washington, delivered in a report; Whereupon,

Resolved, That Congress approve the mode suggested by the Commander in Chief, of incorporating the remainder of the men of the late Brigadier General Pulaski’s legion, and as many of the officers as there are vacancies for, into Colonel Armand’s corps; and that a return be made to the Board of War of the deficiency of that corps, that measures may be taken to compleat it according to the late establishment; and that Lieutenant Colonel Lee make a return of the deficiency of his corps, for the same purpose.

That the Commander in Chief be directed to lay before Congress a return of the officers of the engineering department, including those of the companies of sappers and miners, and distinguishing such as, in his judgment, it will be necessary to retain in the service, in order that the officers of that department, who shall be continued in service, may be put on an equal establishment with the officers of the line, and that provision may be made for such as shall be reduced.

Resolved, That the clause of the letter from the Commander in Chief of the 7, which respects the laying in magazines of provisions contiguous to the army, while the season admits of transportation, be forwarded to the executives of the States of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland; that they be informed the efforts of those States are become the more essential from the destruction of the grain upon the western frontiers of the State of New York in the late incursion of the enemy; and

That they be earnestly required to urge forward, without loss of time, as great a proportion of the provisions assigned to their quota as can be procured, that the army may no longer be exposed to want, or Congress to complaints, which it is out of their power to redress.

And whereas it is represented by the Commander in Chief, that the enemy at New York derive great supplies of provisions from a trade with the adjacent states, and that the penalty upon this criminal commerce, by the laws now existing, is either so slight or so little attended to, that it does not prevent the practice: and that by these means the enemy have often been enabled to bear the disappointment of the arrival of their provision fleets, and to avoid the distress which they must have experienced had the resources of the country been effectually cut off from them; and
whereas most nations have made it capital for their subjects to furnish the enemy with provisions and military stores during war:

Resolved, therefore, that it be earnestly recommended to the legislatures of the respective States, wherein it hath not already effectually been done to pass Laws: enacting that every person who shall directly or indirectly sell, give, furnish or supply the enemy within any of their posts in these United States, or on the high seas, with horses, carriages, provisions, forage Military Stores, timber or Naval Stores of any kind or shall aid or assist therein or in any wise countenance or procure it to be done: Such person so offending shall on due conviction suffer the pains of death without benefit of Clergy.

Resolved, That it be, and hereby is, recommended to the legislatures of the respective States, by whom it hath not already been done, to inflict capital punishment on all such persons as shall, directly or indirectly, supply the enemy with provisions or military or naval stores; and that the most effectual measures be adopted by the respective States for the vigorous execution of such laws.¹

Rutledge Esq. Governor of the Said State dated the last, and who were instructed to report whether it will be proper to continue the loan offices on the present establishment, beg leave to submit the following resolution,

Resolved, That the Continental Loan officers of the respective States be and they are hereby directed not to receive any further loans of money into their several offices until the further orders of Congress, and they are directed forthwith to settle their several accounts and transmit them to the Treasury to be reported to Congress.¹

The committee on the report of the Board of Treasury, of the 14 of October; and

The Committee to whom was referred the report from the Treasury of the 14th of Oct' beg leave to report,

That the money mentioned therein to have been received into the Treasury in Specie from the Commonwealth of Virginia, was received at the rate of seventy five for one as part of the State's Quota; to the receipt of which on those terms the Commissioners inadvertently consented it being then the current depreciation that the money of the old emission passed for in relation to specie, without maturely considering the effect that such a step might have on the money of the new Emission.

That it was paid into the Treasury at sundry times by the Agents of a Gentleman who was indebted to the said State as will appear from information in writing communicated to your Committee by the Commissioners of the Treasury which is hereunto annexed and which your Committee beg leave to make part of their report.

Vide information from the Commissioners &c.—

Your Committee are of opinion that no act of Congress authorises the Commissioners of the Treasury or the Treasurer of the United States to credit or receive specie into the treasury at a higher rate than the difference allowed between money of the new emissions and that of the old by the resolution of Congress of the 18th of March last, and that the toleration of any negotiation invalidating that resolution in the Continental Treasury would [be] most destructive to the credit of the new emission, they therefore submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, that the Commissioners of the treasury take special care that all debts due to the United States treasury on moneys deposited there, be received in no other manner than is directed by the act of Congress of the 18th of March last for fixing the value of specie and bills of the new emission.

Resolved, that a copy of this report be inclosed and sent to the Executive of the State of Virginia, and that Congress inform the said State that they are ready to credit the said State for the specie on the principles of the Resolution of March last or to reimburse the specie aforementioned to the said State on receiving money of the old or new emission on the principles of the aforesaid resolution.

Resolved, that Congress are sensible that the specie mentioned to have been paid as above at the supposed depreciation of seventy five for one by the agents of Mr. Carter Braxton, was not done in that mode by any authority of the Said State.¹

The committee on the letter, of 13, from Colonel Armand, delivered in their respective reports.

Tis the opinion of your Committee that Congress having signified their pleasure on this subject on the 4th inst, they cannot without manifest injustice to the Officers in the army, and a violation of the resolutions of 4th, establishing the rank and rule of promotion in the army reverse their resolution of the aforesaid date.²

Mr. [George] Plater withdrew his nomination of Colonel Stewart for the office of secretary.

The Committee to whom was referred the Report of the Board of Treasury of 9 November inst. and other papers, submit the following report:

November, 1780

That a warrant issue on the managers of the United States Lottery in favour of John Gibson, one of the Commissioners of the Board of Treasury, for thirty thousand dollars in part of the balance of Salary due to him.

It is the opinion of the Committee that the report of the Board of Treasury for payment of a quantity of Rum seized for the use of the Garrison at West Point is accurate and agreeable to the Contracts exhibited by the owners, and that to the said report ought to be annexed the following resolution:

That where payment cannot be made in the present bills of credit, an equivalent be paid in other current money.

That a warrant issue on the Treasurer in favor of George Measam, one of the Commissioners of the Chamber of Accounts for fifteen thousand dollars, part of the balance of salary due to him.

A letter, of 10, from Charles Stewart, commissary general of issues, was read, respecting the resignation and settlement of the accounts of James Gray, deputy commissary general, at Albany, and proposing that James Gamble, who is now in the department with the grand army, may be appointed to conduct the business heretofore under the charge of Mr. Gray, until the settlement of Mr. Gray’s account; Whereupon,

A report from the Board of Treasury was read; Whereupon,

The Board beg leave to represent to Congress,

That on the Application and Estimate of Ephraim Blaine, Esq., Commissary General of Purchases approved by the Board of War with the memorial of Matthew McConnell, Robert Burns, Samuel Alexander, Charles White and John James to Congress and referred to this Board, with sundry other papers relative to the buying & seizing of Rum for the Use of the Army; also Major General How's Letter of the 17th of October last on the Subject also referred from Congress; all which papers appear to be regular and are filed at this Board, the several Claimants preferring Payment in the old Currency agreeably to the Resolution of Congress of the 26th of August last, The Board submit the following Resolution:

Resolved, That the following warrants issue in favor of Ephraim Blaine Esq. Commissary General of Purchases and for which he is to be accountable:

Ordered, That on the application and estimate of Ephraim Blaine, commissary general of purchases, approved by the Board of War, and a memorial of Matthew McConnell, Robert Burns, Samuel Alexander, Charles White and John James to Congress for the payment of rum seized for the use of the army, the following warrants issue in favour of the said Ephraim Blaine; for which he is to be accountable; viz.

hundred and sixty eight thousand and forty nine dollars and thirty ninetieths of a dollar, part of the monies raised in the said States respectively for the use of the United States.¹

The committee appointed the 13 of April last, to repair to headquarters, laid before Congress their proceedings and a report thereon.

The Committee who were appointed on the 13th day of April, 1780, to repair to Head Quarters, and whose powers were extended by subsequent acts of Congress, beg leave to report,

That such of their proceedings as were deemed necessary to be made matter of record, are contained in the preceding pages from No. 1 to 338 inclusive.

The Committee beg leave to observe, that in their letter of the 16th day of July last, to General Greene, Q. M. General, copy whereof they transmitted to Congress, on the 18th of the same month, they assigned the reasons which induced them to give an opinion on the degree of responsibility to which the Quarter Master General ought to be held; That at the time they gave their opinion Congress had not determined on the matter; and it appears by the Journals of Congress that no resolution was passed on the subject until the 24th day of July; nor did the Committee receive the resolution passed on the day last mentioned, until the 3rd day of August; That although the Committee was advised that General Greene had requested the sense of Congress on the subject, prior to their opinion, yet they trusted that not only the urgent necessity of the case, at a most critical Juncture, when the Quarter Master General refused to act without the decision of the Committee, would have fully justified the proceeding on the part of the Committee; but they conceived themselves fully authorized to give an opinion on the subject by the Instructions of the 13th day of April, in which they were "fully empowered to carry into execution any plan for conducting the Quarter Master's and Commissary's department, which upon advice with the Commander in Chief, and the heads thereof, the Committee shall approve;" That, it appears to this Committee, they might under those instructions have made the degree of responsibility alluded to, a part of the system, had they deemed it necessary, and have established and published such system, with the advice of the Commander in Chief, even without referring the same to Congress for approbation, because they were not required by the Instructions to request such approbation, and that for the reasons now assigned, had no other been given, they cannot conceive their conduct reprehensible for interfering in the business, as Congress implies it was in their resolution of the 2d of August.

That the Committee, in their letter of the 18th of July, addressed Congress in the words following: "Colo. Hazen has presented us a memorial, accompanied with other papers marked E; as it is far from being within the line of our duty to decide upon the contents, we transmit them to your Excellency for the inspection of Congress. A Monsieur Garanger has also put into our hands a memorial F, which for similar reasons we also transmit." That the Committee can not possibly discover, that the mere transmission of papers, which did not convey the most remote insult on Congress, would have drawn on them from their compeers, the severe censure conveyed in the following extract from their other resolution of the said 2d day of August: "That the memorial of Colonel Hazen, with the papers enclosed, and the letter from Lewis Garanger, both which are enclosed and referred to, in the letter from the Committee, be referred to the consideration of the Board of War; but, that the Committee, at Camp, be informed that the said memorial and letter, together with other applications made to them, and which seem to have employed their time and attention, should have been made directly to Congress, and the Committee should have thus informed the applicants."

Congress took into consideration the report of the committee on the letter, of 12, from E. Blaine; during the debate,

The delegates for Pensylvania laid before Congress an extract from the minutes of the general assembly of the State of Pensylvania, which was read in the words following:

1 This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, Committee Book, 1780, Proceedings of the Committee appointed the 13th of April, 1780, folio 339; a draft, in the writing of Philip Schuyler, is in No. 39, I, folio 296.
November, 1780

"IN GENERAL ASSEMBLY,
Thursday, 16 November, 1780, A. M.

Resolved, That a committee of five be appointed to request the honorable Congress to appoint a committee of their body to confer with them on the expediency of taking off the embargo on provisions in this State.

The gentlemen appointed were Mr. Delany, Mr. Wynkoop, Mr. Mifflin, Mr. Galbraith and Mr. Slough.

Extract from the minutes,

SAMUEL STERETT, Clerk."

Whereupon,

Ordered, That the report be re-committed, and that the committee be empowered to confer with the committee of the honorable the general assembly of Pensylvania on the subject mentioned in their resolution above recited.

A petition of Ezekiel Forman and John Gibson was read;

Whereupon,

On motion of Mr. [Thomas] McKean,

Ordered, That three members be added to the Committee on the Treasury affairs, in order to hear the complaint of the commissioners of the Board of Treasury against the commissioners of the chambers of accounts.

The members chosen, Mr. [Thomas] Bee, Mr. [Artemas] Ward and Mr. [William] Sharp.

Ordered, That the report of the Board of War, of 11th, respecting powder and their report, of the 4, respecting cloathing, be referred to the Committee of Estimates and Ways and Means.

WAR OFFICE, Nov: 11, 1780

Sir,

The Board do themselves the honor to lay before Congress, a State of the powder now in the Ordnance department, as also the estimate of Genl Knox transmitted to them, the last summer, when the Commander in Chief had it in contemplation to lay siege to New York: by which it will appear that there is still a deficiency of 7779 barrels, on a supposition that an attempt of this sort will be made in the course of the ensuing year.
The Board have not been made acquainted with the views of Congress with respect to the future operations of the War, but from the number of troops voted, and other circumstances which have come to their knowledge, they are led to suppose that an offensive campaign is intended; in which case the garrison of New York will naturally become an object; if it is designed that our operations shall be confined altogether to the attainment of this particular end, it will in that case be absolutely necessary that the quantity above mentioned should be previously imported; but if Congress mean to extend their views farther, and also meditate the reduction of Charlestown, it will then be proper to provide a double quantity.

The Board beg leave to inform Congress, that application has already been made to the Court of France by the estimate of June 30, 1779, for 5000 barrels of Cannon powder. If this should be complied with there will still be a deficiency of 2779 barrels in the quantity necessary for the operations against New York. Should Congress think proper to make provision for the siege of Charlestown, the farther quantity of 11,720 barrels ought to be procured.¹

SIR,

The Board beg leave to lay before Congress, the enclosed letter from Major Gen¹ the Baron Steuben mentioning the disposition of the Minister of France to transmit a requisition for clothing and other necessaries for the Officers and Soldiers of the American army.

The Board beg leave to recommend that Congress would be pleased to request the Court of France to complete such part of the estimate heretofore sent as has not been already complied with.

This measure we offer with much deference and request that it may be considered as flowing from our anxiety for the service and not from any desire to interfere in arrangements not immediately committed to us by Congress. We conceive it will be impracticable to collect estimates from the several departments in time, tho' we have called for them agreeable to the directions of Congress so soon as their orders were signified to us, but we have not yet received them. We are of opinion that a more accurate estimate cannot be made out at this time. It is for more articles than the supply of the army in its present establishment demands, but considering the risques of their not wholly arriving and that if we are fortunate enough to receive them all they will be wanted in a future campaign, we are convinced the estimate is not inordinate. It has also the advantage of being in possession of the Commissioner or Minister of these States in France and therefore not subject to miscarriage.

It will too be, no new demand. But these arguments if the measure is approved of will no doubt suggest themselves to Congress.¹

AT A BOARD OF WAR Nov 13 1780

Present Mr. Peters Col Grayson

The Board having reconsidered their letter on the subject of Officers sent on command, beg leave to add the following clause—

Provided that if it shall at any time be necessary for an Officer to proceed on public business by order of the Commandant of a separate post or detachment not being part of the cantonments or out posts or in the vicinity of the grand or separate army, but at such a distance from the same that application cannot be made to the Commander in Chief or Commander of a separate army, or the Adjutant General or Deputy Adjutant General thereof, the expences of such Officer shall be paid by the United States on the certificate of the commanding officer of such separate post or detachment and the accounts settled by the Auditors of the army in the manner aforesaid, or the Officer having such accounts joining either of the said armies, or in case there shall be an Auditor attached to such separate post or detachment then the accounts shall be settled by such Auditor.²

That they have considered the letter from Doctor William Rickman of the 4th of October last (referred to them by Congress) and are of opinion,

That the medical committee only are competent to determine the expediency of accepting the resignation of Doctor Rickman. No account is open in the public books against Doctor Rickman, but Benjamin Harrison Dep' Pay Master General in the Southern department has advanced considerable sums of money, for the use of the Hospitals, and that until the said Dep' Pay Master General renders his accounts, no account with Doctor Rickman can be settled at the Treasury.²

Ordered, That a warrant be drawn on the treasurer of the State of New York for the sum of six thousand four hundred and sixty four dollars in the new emissions, in favour of the commissioners of Indian affairs in the northern department; for which they are to be accountable, for the purpose of purchasing clothing for four hundred and six friendly Indians of the Oneida, Tuscarora and Caghnawaga Nations, who have been obliged by the enemy to abandon their habitations and take refuge in the State of New York.¹

Sir

The Board have been honored by a reference from Congress of an extract of a letter from th[e] Com⁵ in Chief enclosing copy of a letter from Gen⁴ Knox relative to Col⁵ David Mason being detained in public service for the making of Fuzes. The Board beg leave to observe that if Mr Mason's abilities are indispensable in this branch he may be hired as a private citizen and that it is not therefore necessary for him to hold his rank and appointments merely on this account. But the Commissary General of military stores at Philadelphia if furnished with money and the men supplied with provisions will undertake to provide all the Fuzes necessary for the next campaign as well as all other articles in the Ordnance department. We therefore offer to the consideration of Congress the following resolve,

That Gen⁴ Washington be informed in answer to that part of his letter of Oct⁵ 21 which respects Lieut Col⁵ David Mason that Congress do not consider the reasons assigned for his continuance in the public service sufficiently strong to induce an alteration of their Resolution for the removal of Col. Mason from the public service of the 26th July last on the subject.²

banks, be reconsidered, and that the ultimatum of these states, to the Court of Madrid, be given to the purport and in the manner following:

Whereas a powerful armed neutrality hath been formed in Europe, for the extensible avowed purpose of vindicating and preserving the rights of a free commerce, and a congress of the neutral powers is said intended to be held in the ensuing winter: by which, it is not improbable, overtures of peace may be made, and that the principle, uti possidetis, may be the foundation, a principle utterly inadmissible by these States;

And Whereas it has been represented, that the only bar to an alliance with Spain, which it is our great interest to effect, is, the navigation of the river Mississippi;

Resolved, therefore, that Mr. Jay be instructed, in case he shall find it indissolubly necessary, to yield in his instructions heretofore given, upon this subject; and that he be empowered to cede to the Crown of Spain, the entire Navigation of the river Mississippi, together with a tract of territory, to begin upon the eastern bank of the said river, where the southern line of Georgia strikes it, running along the said line Eastwardly to the river Alabama Mobile, and thence Northwardly to Cape Anthony on the said river: provided his Catholic Majesty shall, at the same time, enter into a Treaty with these States, to be approved by Mr. Jay, and shall grant an annual subsidy of half a million of pounds sterling for twenty-five years, or make a loan of double that sum annually during the war, and shall agree not to accede to proposals of peace upon the principle aforesaid without the concurrence of these States in Congress by their Minister Plenipotentiary, appointed for that purpose.

Resolved, That an Envoy extraordinary be appointed to go to the Court of Versailles, to make, in concert with Mr. Franklin, the public representations of the United States, and that he be charged also with the dispatches for Mr. Jay, which he is to send by a trusty courier, or, in case of his arriving upon or near the coast of Spain, he shall proceed first to the Court of Madrid, and deliver them in person.

Ordered, That the Board of Admiralty be directed to have a frigate in readiness, to carry the said Envoy and dispatches to Europe.

The committee, to whom was re-committed their report on Mr. Blaine's letter of the 12th; and

The Committee to whom was recommitted their Report on the letter from Ephraim Blaine Commissary General, of the 12th instant, and a letter from Robert Forsyth one of his Deputies, of the 13 instant, submit the following report,

That there are emergencies in which a general Embargo may be necessary for the publick safety, the experience of all commercial nations hath evinced.

That this power ought to be exercised by Congress, as the supreme superintending government over the United States, seems manifest; from the distance of many of the States from Congress; the different periods of assembling their Legislatures; their remoteness in some instances from information; the possibility of one or a few States not seeing, or being unwilling to yield to the necessity of the restraint, however obvious to the General Council; and the danger that, without the cooperation of all, the good end of the embargo might be totally frustrated, and a foundation laid for jealousy and distrust.

That upon these principles Congress by their Act of the 8th day of June 1778; Resolved, that an embargo should be and it thereby was laid, prohibiting the exportation of the articles of provision therein enumerated for a limited time, and it was recommended to the respective States to take the most effectual measures for carrying the said resolution into immediate execution.

That Congress have found it necessary from time to time to renew the said embargo and that it now remains in full force. And that it has met with the approbation of, and been enforced by the respective States,

That on the 22d of May last on a representation of his Excellency: Joseph Reed Esq' President of the State of Pennsylvania, Congress resolved, that it was highly inexpedient for any of the States to permit

the exportation of provisions to foreign parts until the exigencies of the publick service should be more fully ascertained and provided for; That it was thereby most earnestly recommended to the State of Delaware to permit the exportation of provision from that State and to continue the same until it shall be consistent with the publick safety that the like embargoes should be discontinued in all the United States.

That reiterated representations have been made by the Commander in Chief that the army is distressed for provisions, and that no time ought to be lost in forming magazines for their subsistence, while the season admits of transportation. That the most urgent requisitions are daily making by Congress to the respective States to send forward their quotas of supplies, but without adequate success. That notwithstanding the embargo; the pressing calls of the publick; the deficiency of the magazines, and the distresses of the army; it hath been represented by the Commissary General that several vessels loaded with provisions now lie in the river Delaware ready to proceed to sea. That this is a circumstance the more alarming as it appears by a proclamation of the Governor of Maryland dated the 30th day of September last that the embargo shall only remain in force within that State upon condition that the trade of Delaware Bay shall not be open for the emolument of the people residing on its waters, or in its vicinity.

That it is impracticable to carry on the war with vigour or success unless the resolutions of Congress dictated by a sense of duty and of the publick necessities are carried into effect, and that it ought to be expected that every State will cheerfully concur in the measures which at this critical conjuncture shall be directed for the supply of the army, and the publick safety.

That the supreme executive council of the State of Pensylvania have on the 17th of this instant November, represented to Congress the injustice of exporting provisions from the State of Delaware while the embargo was rigorously observed in the Port of Philadelphia. That if the flour so exported had been the product of the State of Delaware, it would have been of little consequence, but that it was well known that much of the greater part of these exports, probably four fifths were the produce of Pensylvania. That this conduct appears to the said Supreme executive council to be the more extraordinary as the Commissary General had informed them that the State of Delaware had not furnished a single barrel of the quantity required from them by Congress, and that the injury done to the trade of Pennsylvania, as well as to the supply of the army, would not suffer them any longer to be unconcerned spectators, and that Congress would be too just and reasonable to expect a restriction to be observed in Pennsylvania which only tended to distress that State without any publick benefit. That there were six or seven vessels belonging to Philadelphia then loading at Wilmington in the Delaware State with supplies designed for the army and actually paid for by the State of Pennsylvania, and which were diverted from their destination, so that unless some more efficacious method to enforce the recommendations of Congress in that respect could be adopted they saw no prospect of affording any further supplies to the army, and that the continuance of the embargo in Pennsylvania must entirely depend on the observance of similar restrictions in the adjoining States.

And lastly your Committee are of opinion that it is a duty incumbent on Congress to cause the strictest enquiry to be made into a breach of the embargo of such magnitude and which must be attended with the most dangerous consequences.

Whereupon

Resolved, That Congress agree to the report of their Committee,

Resolved, That the Board of Admiralty be directed to take immediate and effectual measures to seize all vessels in the river Delaware loaded for exportation with any of the articles of provisions enumerated in the before recited resolution of the 8th day of June 1778, and for bringing the same into the port of Philadelphia to be proceeded against according to law, and that the said board also take especial care that no vessel loaded with such provision be suffered to proceed to sea until the embargo shall be repealed by Congress.

Resolved that it be earnestly recommended to the State of Delaware to take effectual measures for maintaining the said embargo, and for bringing to condign punishment all persons who have been or shall be guilty of an infraction thereof.

Resolved, that as soon as it shall be made manifest to Congress by the Executive of the respective States that the supplies required from them for the subsistence of the army are effectually secured, the embargo shall be taken off and every possible encouragement afforded to trade and navigation.

Resolved, that an extract of that part of the letter from the Commissary General which respects the supplies from Delaware be transmitted to the President of the said State and earnestly recommended to his attention.¹

The committee, to whom were referred the letters of the 22 and 23 August from the honorable J. Adams; and

The Committee to whom were referred the letters of Mr. John Adams, of the 22 and 23 of August last, report,

That it evidently appears the British Ministry have abandoned the Idea of conquering the Northern and Eastern states, but that they have serious views (in which they are encouraged to persevere, by their successes in South Carolina and Georgia) of subjugating the Southern states. That the principal part of the British force will be employed, and the most vigorous efforts made for that purpose in North Carolina and Virginia, during the ensuing Winter and Spring. It is therefore become indispensably necessary to use every means in our power, effectually to reinforce the Southern army, that the dangerous designs of the enemy in that quarter may be defeated. For this purpose your committee beg leave to offer the following resolutions—

Resolved, That the Commander in Chief be informed, it is the opinion of Congress, his taking the Command of the Southern army in person will be highly important to the welfare of those states.

Resolved, That the Commander in Chief be required immediately to order the Pennsylvania line, and Artillery, to join the Southern army.

Resolved, That the Commander in Chief be directed to take the most effectual measures for an immediate Co-operation of the troops of his most Christian Majesty with the troops of these United States.²

On the report of a committee, Congress agreed to the following letter and representation to his Most Christian Majesty.

The United States of America in Congress assembled, to their Great, Faithful and Beloved Friend and Ally,

Lewis the sixteenth, King of France and Navarre.

Great, faithful and beloved friend and ally,

Persuaded of your Majesty's friendship, and of your earnest desire to prosecute the war with glory and advantage to the alliance, we ought not to conceal from your Majesty the embarrassments which have attended our national affairs, and rendered the last campaign unsuccessful.

A naval superiority in the American seas having enabled the enemy, in the midst of last winter, to divide their army, and further extend the war to in the southern states, Charles Town was subdued before a sufficient force could be assembled for its relief.

With unabated ardour, and at a vast expense, we prepared for the succeeding campaign; a campaign from which, in a dependence on the co-operation of the squadron and troops generously destined by your majesty for our assistance, we had formed the highest expectations. Again the naval superiority of enemy frustrated our measures. Your majesty's succours were confined within the harbour of Newport, while the main body of the British army took refuge in their fortresses, and under protection of their marine, afraid declining to hazard a battle in the open field; and, regardless of their rank among civilized nations, they descended to wage a predatory war. Britons and savages united in sudden irruptions on our northern and western frontiers, and marked their progress with blood and desolation.

The acquisition of Charles Town, with the advantages gained in Georgia, and the defeat of a small army composed chiefly of militia, which had been hastily collected to check their operations, encouraged the British commander in that quarter to penetrate through South Carolina into the interior parts of North Carolina. And the ordinary calamities of war were imbittered by implacable vengeance. They did not, however, long enjoy their triumph. Instead of being depressed, impending danger served only to rouse our citizens to correspondent exertions; and by a series of gallant and successful enterprises they compelled the enemy to retreat with precipitation and disgrace.

They seem however resolved, by all possible efforts, not only to retain their posts in Georgia and South Carolina, but to renew their attempts on North Carolina. To divert the reinforcements destined for those states, they are now executing an enterprise against the seacoast of Virginia; and from their preparations at New York, and intelligence from Europe, it is manifest that the four southern states will now become a principal object of their hostilities.

It is the voice of the people, and the resolution of Congress, to open the next campaign prosecute the war with redoubled vigour, and to draw into the field a powerful permanent and well appointed army of thirty-five thousand regular troops on a first establishment. By this decisive effort, we trust that we shall be able, under the divine blessing, so effectually to co-operate with your Majesty's marine and land forces, as to expel the common enemy from our country, and render the great object of the alliance secure and perpetual. But to accomplish an enterprise of such magnitude, and so interesting to both nations, whatever may be our spirit and our exertions, we know that our internal resources must prove incompetent. The sincerity of this declaration will be manifest from a short review of our circumstances.

Unpractised in military arts, and unprepared with every accommodation the means of defence, we were suddenly invaded by a formidable and vindictive nation. We supported the unequal conflict for years with very little foreign aid but what was derived from your Majesty's disinterested generous friendship. And exertions uncommon, even among the richest most wealthy and best established governments, necessarily exhausted our finances, plunged us into debt, and anticipated our taxes; while the depredations of an active enemy by sea and land made deep impression on our commerce and our productions. Thus encompassed with difficulties, in our representation to your Majesty of June 15, 1779, we disclosed our wants, and requested your majesty to furnish us with clothing, arms and ammunition for the last campaign, on the credit of the United States. We entertain a lively sense of your Majesty's friendly disposition in enabling our minister to secure a part of those supplies, but while we return our thanks for this proof of your distinguished regard, your majesty ought not to be unapprized that a very small proportion hath hitherto arrived of which, through unfortunate events, a very small proportion hath arrived. The sufferings of our army, from this misfortune, disappointment, have been so severe that we must rely on your Majesty's attention to our welfare for effectual assistance. The articles of the estimate now presented transmitted to our minister are essential to the existence of our army; and we flatter ourselves that, through your Majesty's interposition, they will be procured and sent over with safety and dispatch supplied.

At a time when we feel ourselves strongly impressed by the weight of past obligations, it is with the utmost reluctance that we yield to the emergency of our affairs in requesting additional favours. An unreserved confidence in your majesty's friendship, experience of the virtues which have given you the exalted title of the friend of mankind, Majesty and a well-grounded assurance that we ask no more than is necessary to enable us effectually to co-operate with your Majesty in terminating the war with glory and success, must be our justification.

It is well known that when the king of Great Britain found himself unable to subdue the populous states of North America by force, or to seduce them by art to retract relinquish the alliance with your Majesty, he resolved to protract the war, in expectation that the loss of our commerce, and the derangement of our finances, must eventually compel us to submit to his domination. Apprised of the necessity of foreign aids of money to support us in a contest with a nation so rich and powerful, we have long since authorized our minister to borrow a sufficient sum in your majesty's dominions, and in Spain, and in Holland, on the credit of these United States.

We now view the prospect of a disappointment with the deeper concern, as the late misfortunes in the southern states, and the ravages of the northern and western frontiers have, in a very considerable degree, impaired our internal resources. From a full investigation of our circumstances it is manifest, that in aid of our utmost exertions a foreign loan of specie, at least to the amount of twenty-five millions of livres, will be indispensably necessary for a vigorous prosecution of the war. On an occasion in which our happiness the independence of these United States and your Majesty's glory are so intimately connected, may we be permitted we are constrained to request your majesty effectually to support the applications of our ministers for that loan. So essential is it to the common cause, that we shall without it be pressed with wants and distresses, which will may render a campaign of all our efforts languid, precarious, and indecisive. Whether it shall please your Majesty to stipulate for this necessary aid as our security, or to advance it from your royal coffers, we do hereby solemnly pledge the faith of these United States to indemnify, or reimburse your Majesty, according to the nature of the case, both for principal and interest, the last to be paid in such manner as shall be agreed upon with our minister at your Majesty's court.

We beseech the Supreme Disposer of events to keep your Majesty in his holy protection, and long to continue to France the blessings arising from the administration of a prince who nobly asserts the rights of mankind.

Done at Philadelphia, the 22d day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1780, by the Congress of the United States of North America, and in the fifth year of our independence.
Your faithful friends and allies.

A memorial and representation of the legislature of the State of New Jersey was read,

To the United States in Congress assembled
The Memorial and Representation of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, Sheweth;
That the Legislature of this State ready at all times to accede to any measures that may be thought to be of General Utility, did pass a law in compliance with the resolutions of Congress of the eighteenth of March last, by which the Treasurer of this State was directed to exchange one Dollar of the money ordered to be issued on the credit of this State for forty Dollars of the Continental currency, and to receive the said new money, in the payment of Taxes in like Proportion. Had the relative value of the Continental currency to Gold and Silver remained the same, which we suppose to have been the expectation of Congress there would have been no necessity for an alteration of the law of this State but the Continental currency being now depreciated as low as eighty or ninety for one; the Legislature sensible of the great loss the public must sustain by having the new money sent out under such evident disadvantages, have thought proper to repeal that part of the Law which fixes a proportionate value between the new money aforesaid and the Continental currency, in order thereby to establish the value of the said new money equal to that of specie: the propriety of this measure we doubt not, has already occurred to Congress; but as there is a necessity that there should be an uniformity in the value of the money issued by the several States, we would beg leave to suggest to Congress the propriety of recommending this measure to the consideration of the other States in the Union.

The Legislature would further represent that the Inhabitants of this State have from time to time, with the greatest readiness, furnished the Army of the United States, with such articles of supply as have been in their Power; in payment for which, they have received little else than certificates: and as chief part of the Inhabitants of this State are Farmers, and depend upon the sale of their produce for money, and the mode of giving certificates effectually putting it out of the power of a great part of the People to pay their Taxes, unless in certificates; this being the case, but little Continental money will be brought into the Treasury, and this State in consequence has but little prospect, in the mode prescribed by Congress, of drawing out its proportion of the New Money, or the People of receiving what is, and may become, justly due to them from the publick, we wish Congress to take this matter into Consideration, and to devise some means, either by paying the people their just dues from the Continental Treasury, or by enabling this State to receive its proportion of the new money in exchange for the certificates which may be brought into the Treasury by Taxes, by which we might be enabled to satisfy the just demands of the people on account of present Debts, and procure supplies more readily on future requisitions.

The Legislature would further represent, that, notwithstanding the extraordinary exertions of the Inhabitants of this State in furnishing supplies; notwithstanding they have reduced their own stores to a very scanty allowance for themselves and their domestic Dependents; yet such is the situation of New Jersey, that on every want of the

Army, from what cause soever it may arise, she is first called upon to furnish a supply, and her Inhabitants are often obliged to see their Provisions and forage impressed and taken from them by force whilst their Families and cattle are reduced to absolute want: perhaps such a measure may be justifiable in the Commander in Chief, as the comfort and health of his soldiery, are and ought to be, principal objects of his care; but it is owing to a defect somewhere. We would then in justice to our constituents earnestly request, that Congress would take the premises under their consideration and by requiring other States to forward their full proportion of supplies, relieve this State from a burden which will otherwise in a little time become insupportable.

The committee, to whom was re-committed their report on the letter from F. Hopkinson, treasurer of loans;

The Committee to whom the report on the letter of Francis Hopkinson Esq. Treasurer of loans was recommitted begs leave to report,

That upon the recommitment Messrs. Forman and Gibson two of the Commissioners of the Treasury attended the summons of your Committee.

That your Committee has met with great difficulties in the course of this Enquiry, the Commissioners of the Treasury having in sundry instances attempted to dictate to them, the manner in which the Enquiry should be made, which has laid your Committee under the necessity of repeatedly enjoining the said Commissioners to forbear that attempt and to permit the Committee to exercise their own judgment in the case referred to them.

That great jealousies and animosities have arisen amongst the officers of the Treasury Department from a variety of orders and regulations proposed or issued by the Board of Treasury, and from the manner in which those orders have been executed, and those jealousies and animosities have considerably increased the difficulties of your Committee.

That it appears on examination, those orders have passed, when a majority of the Board consisted of members of Congress, and therefore the Commissioners of the Treasury may be considered as responsible only for the execution of those orders so far as comes within their particular duties.

That it is not within the duty of this Committee to determine upon the propriety or impropriety of orders and Regulations adopted by any other Committee of Congress; but your Committee is clearly of opinion, that it required much more delicacy and attention than were used on the occasion to carry those orders into execution, without giving just cause of offence.

That the several errors in acct. which have been laid before your Committee by the Treasurer of loans and the Commissioners of the

That it is the opinion of your Committee, the Treasury should be under the direction of a single officer, accountable to Congress for the Conduct of his Department; but that the arrangement of the Executive Departments having been referred to a Special Committee, it is not within the duty of this Committee to propose an arrangement for this purpose.¹

Mr Peters, Gen Cornell,

The Board having considered the motion referred to them for discontinuing the Post at Carlisle, are of opinion, that as the public are already possessed of very considerable buildings at that place; and as almost every article necessary for the support of a post can be obtained there on much better terms than in this City, that it would be more to the advantage of the public to send all the artificers in the State of Pennsylvania to Carlisle, and depend entirely upon that post for all the principal supplies, keeping up in Philadelphia only an issuing store, and an Elaboratory for fixing ammunition.

Should Congress concur in opinion, the Board report,

Resolved, That all the artificers in the department of military stores in Pennsylvania, be removed to Carlisle; and that in future only an issuing store and an elaboratory for fixing ammunition be kept in Philadelphia.

That General Washington detach a field officer of artillery to take the command and superintend the business at Carlisle, and under the orders of the Board of War.

That the commissary general of purchases be directed to form a sufficient magazine of provisions at Carlisle for the supply of the post.

That the Board of Treasury take immediate measures for furnishing such sums of money as shall be necessary for supplying the department of military stores, agreeably to an estimate approved by the Board of War.¹

The memorial letter to his most Christian Majesty which accompanies these instructions you will present deliver without loss of time. and exert your utmost abilities and diligence and exertions to give it success. campaign instead of repressing, have redoubled their ardour. That Congress are resolved to employ every resource in their power to expel the enemy from every part of the United States, by the most vigorous and decisive co-operation with the marine and troops of their illustrious ally. That they have called for a large powerful army, and ample supplies of provisions, and that the states are disposed effectually to comply with their requisitions. That, if in aid of our own exertions, the Court of France can be prevailed on to assume a naval superiority in the American seas, to furnish the arms, ammunition and clothing specified in the estimate herewith transmitted, and to assist us with the loan mentioned in the memorial letter, we flatter ourselves, that under the divine blessing, the war must be speedily terminated with glory and advantage to both nations. To procure these necessary aids you will employ unremitting attention, and your utmost abilities. Your own knowledge of our circumstances, and the facts suggested in the memorial letter, will supply you with abundant arguments to support enforce our requisition.

2. You will give Colonel Palfrey, lately paymaster general for our armies, and now our consul general for the Kingdom of in France, all the support which is necessary for the exercise of his consular functions, as well as for the effectual execution of the special authority and instructions which he will communicate. The past sufferings of our army for want of the clothing and arms which the grant of his Most Christian Majesty and your own despatches gave us reason to expect, and the absolute and increasing necessity of their being immediately forwarded, to give efficacy to our future operations, will sufficiently impress upon you the dangerous consequences of a further disappointment.

You may agree for an interest not exceeding the terms allowed or given on national security in France and Holland, Europe, endeavouring to suspend the discharge of the interest for two or three years, if possible.

the most respectful to the emperor, that we entertain a sincere disposition to cultivate the most perfect friend-

That the hides mentioned in the memorial were the property of the memorialist, and were bartered with his consent by Major Lee when stationed at Burlington for Boots for his corps; so that an equivalent for the hides is due to the memorialist, and the Board conceive it ought to be paid, wherefore the following report is submitted Ordered, That the Board of War take order for the repayment to Jacob Watson for a quantity of hides delivered to Major Lee.

The board beg leave to represent to Congress that a practice has long subsisted whereby great confusion has been introduced into the public accounts, and however well meant, is too frequently attended with bad consequences. The practice alluded to, is that of officers bartering public hides for supplies for their men, or purchasing articles from the citizens, and drawing for payment on public departments, whereby partial supplies are obtained, which always create jealousies, and the public purchasers being multiplied, prices are of course enhanced, nor will it ever be in the power of the Board, or of the officers at the heads of the civil departments to conduct the business thereof, or know what public property is on hand, if it is subject to the disposal of any others than those Congress have authorized for that purpose. We therefore submit the following resolution,

Resolved, That no officer of the line of the army of the United States, without express authority from Congress for that purpose, make any contract or bargain, or give any orders, for the purchase of articles for the use of the troops in the departments of the cloathier general, quartermaster general or commissary general of purchases, except in cases of necessity for provisions and forage for detachments or parties in places where the same cannot be drawn from the public stores or magazines.¹

While Congress are sensible of the patriotism, courage, and perseverance of the officers and privates of their regular forces, as well as of the militia throughout these United States, and of the military conduct of the principal commanders in both; it gives them pleasure to be so frequently called upon to confer marks of distinction and applause for enterprizes which do honor to the profession of arms, and claim a high rank among military achievements: in this light they view the enterprize against fort St. George, on Long Island, planned and conducted with wisdom and great gallantry, by Major Talmadge, of the light dragoons, and executed with intrepidity and complete success by the officers and soldiers of his detachment.

And the victory obtained by Genl Sumpter at the head of a party of brave militia, over the British Cavalry and Infantry under Major Wemyss on the West side of the Wateree in South Carolina.

WAR OFFICE Decr. 6, 1780

SIR,

The Board have received information from Colr Rawlins Comr of prisoners at Fort Frederick in Maryland of the approach of about eight hundred of the Convention Troops from Charlottesville towards that post, which he represents as exceedingly distressed on the score of provisions. We have directed the Dep't Comr Genl of purchases, 1This report, in the writing of James Duane, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 19, VI, folio 323.

December, 1780

Major Forsythe, to take the charge of supplying all these troops both at their former station and those at Fort Frederick, and have requested the governments of Virginia and Maryland to give orders to their purchasers respectively in those parts of the said States convenient to Fort Frederick to furnish the necessary supplies to the orders of Major Forsythe, in part of the quotas called for by Congress for the army—Virginia supplying one half for the prisoners at Fort Frederick, and Maryland the other half. The Barracks at Fort Frederick are in very bad condition—they will not cover all the prisoners now there, and those of the first division of the Convention Troops, ordered by the executive of Virginia to that post. We therefore beg leave to ask the opinion of Congress on the subject; as the covering of the prisoners will be very expensive at Fort Frederick, nor is it clear that a greater number than those who must of necessity now reside there (amounting to near 1100 including 280 who have been at the post for a long time past) can be supported from the supplies convenient to the post. The removal of the prisoners from Charlottesville seems now to be rendered unnecessary by the departure of the enemy from Virginia, and there being buildings already erected at that post, for the accommodation of the prisoners, it should seem that it is most expedient for those of them who have not been removed to remain there. Should Congress be of this opinion it may be proper to resolve,

Resolved, That such of the Convention troops as are not already removed from the barracks near Charlottesville, in the State of Virginia, remain at that post until the farther order of Congress.¹

The committee on the letter from Parsons, Alston and Company, delivered in their respective reports.

Decr 5th 1780

The Committee to whom were referred two letters, dated from Martinique 16 and 30 of October last and directed to the Committee of Foreign Affairs, beg leave to state as follows—

That the Crops of the present year having been, in general, so plentiful as to afford not only a full supply for every purpose of home consumption, but also a considerable surplus for foreign Market, it is, for this reason, unnecessary to continue the embargo on the exportation of Provisions.

That the sufferings of the West India Islands by the late violent Hurricane furnish an additional reason for taking off the said embargo, in order that the inhabitants of such of the said Islands as are friendly to these States, may be supplied with the necessary articles of subsistence.

That the discontinuing of the embargo will greatly extend the trade of these States, and, of course, have a beneficial effect upon their Agriculture, Finances and Navigation.

That the exportation of provisions may, by laws enacted for that end, be so regulated and restricted, as to prevent, in a great degree, clandestine Commerce and the capture of supplies by the enemy: in so great a degree, at least, as that the advantages of a freer trade will more than counterbalance the disadvantages arising from that circumstance.

From the foregoing view of facts the Committee report the following Resolutions:

That the embargo laid the day of to prohibit the exportation of provisions from the ports of these States to foreign parts, and continued, from time to time, by divers resolutions of Congress, be taken off under the following qualifications and restrictions, that is to say:

That all persons in allegiance to any of these States and the subjects of Powers friendly to them, trading to and from any port of the said States be allowed to Ship and transport on board Armed vessels carrying not less than sixteen carriage Guns, well mounted and manned, none of the said Guns being less than 4lbder, such provisions as the said States, on a careful consideration of circumstances, may in their discretion, judge can be spared from their Territories respectively.

That each vessel be allowed to take on Board 25 barrels of Flour for every 4lbder carriage gun, 40 for every 6lbbeer and so progressively in that proportion; and the proper quantities of other species of provisions comparing them with the said stated quantity of Flour.

That each vessel be manned as follows, 4 men to every 4lbder, 5 to every 6lbder and in suitable proportion to guns of a larger size: Officers not to be reckoned in the said complements.

That these regulations be not construed as extending to prevent the taking on board such provisions as may be necessary for the Stores only, of vessels not included in the meaning of the aforesaid descriptions: or provisions, bonâ fide laden on publick Account, for the use of the fleets and Armies of Nations engaged in the present War against Great Britain, though they should not be Armed and Manned as aforesaid. And in order the more effectually to prevent the discontinuing of the said embargo from affecting the supplies of the Army,

Resolved, That it is expedient to lay a duty of 3 per cent payable in Kind and not otherwise, on the exportation of every species of Provisions suitable for the Army and enumerated in the quotas assigned to the States respectively, to be paid into the hands of the principal Commissioner, Contractor or Purchaser in each State, or his Order, and reckoned towards the quota of such State.

That it be recommended to the several States to enact Laws, with adequate penalties, for carrying into strict and effectual execution the regulations aforesaid.¹

Captain Pickles was very anxious to pay his people their prize money before he went away, but had it not in his power. Captain Pickles was obliged to borrow money for his expenses here which is yet unpaid. The Committee to whom was referred the Motion from the Delegates of Georgia, Beg leave to report

That the several acts of the 29th of March 1779, recommending the Levy of Blacks for the defence of Georgia and South Carolina, were never received by the Legislature of the former, and consequently, could not be carried into execution by that State. That although the measure was not adopted in South Carolina at that time, the necessity of the present juncture, and the difficulty of compleating the Continental quotas of those States in the ordinary method makes it incumbent on them to employ this resource for their own and the general Interest.

Your Committee therefore submit the following Resolutions viz.

Resolved, That an officer be appointed to levy a Corps of one thousand able bodied negroes in Georgia and South Carolina, under the authority of the Executives of those States and that the said Executives be requested to give every possible support to the measure.

Resolved, That the said Corps be officered and organized under the directions of the Commanding officer in the Southern Department, who is to give every necessary assistance in procuring the said Levies.

That the officers be taken from such as may be spared from the Continental Line in the first instance and then from reduced officers, the preference being given to those of Georgia and South Carolina in proportion to the number of Levies obtained which officers are to be entitled to the same pay and Emoluments as other officers of equal rank in the Continental army.

Resolved, That the conditions offered to the Black Soldiers, be the same as expressed in the act of the 29th of March 1779, and that Congress will make provision for paying a reasonable price to the proprietors of such negroes, provided they be not adherents to the Enemy.

Resolved, That the Board of War be directed as soon as possible to procure and send forward a sufficient number of arms and accoutrements together with the necessary cloathing for the said Corps.¹

INSTRUCTIONS TO WILLIAM PALFREY, ESQUIRE.

SIR,

Herewith you will receive a commission constituting you our consul in France during our pleasure.¹

² The committee report had the following: "You will be very careful in your appointments of vice-consuls, to choose men of undoubted attachment to the interest and honor of these United States and of suitable abilities to promote both."

You will receive from America, according as good opportunities present, funds for the discharge of your duties as our commercial agent. But at your first arrival, and in cases of absolute necessity, you are authorized to draw upon our minister plenipotentiary in France, taking care always to give him early notice of such necessities, that he may aid you from funds procured on our account, without doing injury to our other concerns.

You may also draw, under like circumstances, upon other funds which you shall know to have been procured for us in Europe.

You are hereby authorized and instructed to call for any property belonging to these United States, and now in the hands of any persons who have acted as agents for us in France, so that you may obtain a comprehensive view of our effects there, and may contrive the best modes of transmitting them to America.

You will also carefully attend to such instructions as we shall from time to time communicate to you, either directly, or through our minister plenipotentiary.

Done in Congress, the ninth day of December, in the year of our Lord, one thousand seven hundred and eighty, and in the fifth year of the independence of North America.¹

John Young Esquire commander of the Continental Ship Saratoga has informed this Board that he had received verbal orders from Captain James Nicholson of the Continental Frigate Trumbull to take up and secure any of the crew of that Frigate, who were not regularly discharged, That in consequence of that order, and the laws of the Marine Service, he conceived himself justifiable in entering on board any private armed or Merchant Vessel in this Harbour either sailing out or into Port, and examine their papers, as well as to observe whether they may have contraband goods on board. That in consequence of those powers which he supposes cannot be disputed, he entered on board a small shallop passing by his Ship on her way down the River on the 7\(^{th}\) Instant, and found on board said shallop five Seamen part of the late crew of the Frigate Trumbull, who had not been discharged, which Seamen he took out and put on board the Saratoga.

That the Penalty mentioned in the Sheriff's Bail is five hundred thousand pounds, which he thinks is excessive and unreasonable Security, that he has applied to sundry of his acquaintance, who are generally merchants in this City, who refuse becoming his security, and therefore expects he has no other alternative, but to go to Goal, which treatment for acting in what he conceives to be his duty, would be cruel, and he claims protection and justice from this Board.

The Board on the foregoing State of facts begs leave to report as their opinion, that Capt. Young ought to be supported by Congress against such litigious suits; and that he may not be thereby delayed from executing the orders of this Board which he has received for proceeding immediately to Sea to cruise against the Common Enemy.1

Whereas it appears by the certificate of Tho: Smith Esq. commissioner of the Continental Loan Office for the State of Pennsylvania, that he issued sundry bills of exchange for the payment of interest drawn by Francis Hopkinson Esq. Treasurer of Loans on the commissioner of the United States at Paris; in favor of Blair M'Clenachan of the City of Philad: Merchant dated the 10th of June 1779 to the amount of three thousand six hundred and seventy eight dollars in the following numbers Viz. No. 118, 119, 120, 121, 124, 125 for six hundred dollars each No. 594 for sixty dollars and No. 729 for eighteen dollars.

And whereas it appears by the deposition of the said Blair M'Clenachan, that the said Bills were indorsed by him, and made payable to the order of Aull & Morson, of the Island of St. Eustatias delivered to Joseph Erwin, Clerk to the said Blair [M'Clenachan] with directions to enclose them in a packet and send them forward. And whereas it further appears from the deposition of the said Joseph Erwin that he did enclose and deliver in a packet directed to Aull & Morson the specific bills mentioned in the aforesaid deposition of Blair M'Clenachan to John Burrows late Master of the Sloop Tryall.

1 This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, IV, folio 753.
And it appearing also by the deposition of the said John Burrows that he "received some time in June 1779 a Packet from Joseph Erwin directed to Aull & Morson of the Island of S¹ Eustatia, the contents of which were unknown to him but said to contain sundry sets of bills of Exchange; that in the course of his passage he was captured by one of the Enemies Privateers previous to which he threw over board into the Sea a number of his letters and never afterwards having seen or heard of the Packet above alluded to he supposes it to have been among the number" tho' of this, the deponent could not be certain. For renewing of the said bills to the said Blair McClenachan without injury to these United States;

Ordered, That the treasurer of loans sign and deliver to Thomas Smith, commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of Pensylvania, to be by him issued to Blair McClenaghan, eight sets of exchange, viz. The committee to whom was referred the letter from the Board of War, of 28th November, delivered in a report; Whereupon,

The Committee to whom was referred the letter from the Board of War of the 28 Nov. 1780, beg leave to report.

That in their opinion the causes of the distress under which the Garrison of Wyoming now labors, and has for some time past, originate from a jealousy subsisting between the States of Connecticut and Pennsylvania on account of a territorial claim. They find however that the Post of Wyoming was originally established by Congress as a necessary means for the defence of a frontier and for the purpose of protecting the inhabitants of that Quarter from the encroachments of the savages. That ever since its establishment it has been under the direction of Congress, the Board of War, or the Commander in Chief, has been garrisoned by Continental Officers and Soldiers and supplied with provisions from the Continental Stores. They do not therefore think it advisable that this post should be discontinued by Congress, until they are informed by the Commander in Chief, that it is unnecessary for the general defence. But your Committee are of opinion that it is becoming the wisdom of Congress, at the same time that they carefully guard the Citizens of these States against the attacks of the common enemy, to remove as far as is in their power every cause of Jealousy or discontent between States, which might endanger the harmony of the general union.

¹This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, V, folio 99.
Resolved, That the Commander in Chief be directed to report to Congress his opinion of the expediency of continuing the post and garrison of Wyoming, and how far that post may be considered as contributing to the general defence of the frontier of one or more of these states.

Resolved that should it be the opinion of the Commander in Chief that the said post is necessary for the defence of the frontier against the encroachments of the enemy that the officers and men composing if he shall judge the post at Wyoming necessary, to relieve the garrison there as soon as may be, by troops from the continental army, not belonging to the lines of Pensylvania or Connecticut, or citizens of either of the said states; and that the present and future garrison continue to be supplied by the commissary general from the magazines of the continent, by purchase, or out of the quota of provisions raised by any State for the use of the continent.

Resolved, That the State of Pensylvania be informed of the steps Congress have taken to remove every subject of jealousy or discontent, and that they be requested to order the supplies which were stopped by Lieutenant Hunter, on their progress to Wyoming, to be immediately forwarded to that garrison, to relieve its present urgent distresses.¹ such monies as stand charged to such Officers and Deputies as aforesaid, so justified by receipts and vouchers as aforesaid. The Board therefore submit the following Resolution.

Resolved, That the Board of Treasury be, and hereby are, enabled to make a final settlement with William Palfrey, late paymaster general, upon the principles of their report of this day, and upon such final settlement, to grant the said William Palfrey a quietus, under the seal of the Board of Treasury.\(^1\)

On motion of Mr. [John] Sullivan, seconded by Mr. [Samuel] Adams, Ordered, That the memorial and other papers of Colonel Loring be referred to the Commander in Chief.

The committee, to whom was referred the memorial of Sir James Jay, delivered in a report; Whereupon,

The Com\(^*\) to whom was referred the letter of Sir James Jay of the 4th of Sep! last beg leave to lay before Congress the following state of facts.

That on the 16th day of July 1778 Sir James Jay advanced 20,000 Dollars to Otis & Andrews Continental Cloathiers in Boston for public use taking their draught for that sum upon James Mease Esq! Cloathier General residing in Philadelphia payable at five days sight. That upon tender of said draughts the same became payable on the ninth day of August following at which time the Cloathier General appears not to have been in Cash for discharging the same. That upon application to the Treasury Board a Warrant was reported and granted to said James Mease for the 20,000 Dollars dated August 18, 1778, to enable him as therein set forth to answer the above mentioned draughts in favor of Sir James. That said Warrant being endorsed and delivered to Sir James he on the 8th day of Oct: 1779, disposed of the same for the sum therein mentioned; which Warrant was soon after discharged by the Treasurer. That the depreciation on the said 20,000 Dollars between the time the draught became payable and granting the Warrant was equal to 219\(\frac{1}{2}\) dollars in specie, and between the time the said draught became payable and the time Sir James disposed of the Warrant was equal to 4586‡‡ dollars in specie.

\(^1\) This report is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 136, IV, folio 763.
December, 1780

Upon which state of facts your Committee beg leave to observe that at the time Sir James advanced his money to the Clothiers in Boston it does not appear he had any private Interest in view other than transferring that sum with safety and convenience to Philadelphia. That the Clothiers inability to discharge the draught is alleged and probably might be attended with some disappointment and damage to Sir James over and above the depreciation. That his delay in not recovering his money sooner than he did can be imputed to no other cause than his own neglect but in as much as the United States were taking in money on Loan at the time said Warrant remained unpaid it is alleged that the money due thereon ought to be considered as a Loan and the depreciation be made good on the same. But on the other hand your Committee have not been able to discover any advantage derived to the United States from Sir James money remaining in the Treasury between the issuing and paying the warrants as the Treasury was constantly liable for the same.

Upon the whole, considering Sir James’s case as somewhat singular, and his loss by depreciation great, Occasioned partly by delay in paying his first draught, your Committee are of Opinion that some allowance on that account ought to be made. Whereupon the following Resolution is submitted.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Abraham Yates, commissioner of the continental loan office in the State of New York, in favour of Sir James Jay for four hundred dollars in bills of credit emitted pursuant to the resolution of Congress of the 18 March, in full compensation for the damage he sustained by depreciation and otherwise in the money advanced to Otis & Andrews, clothiers in Boston on the 16 July, 1778.¹

their Most Christian and Cathlick Majesties, and several of the neutral maritime powers of Europe have declared their approbation: And whereas Congress, willing to testify their regard to the rights of commerce, and their respect for the sovereign who hath proposed, and the powers who have approved the said regulations, did, by an act passed on the fifth day of October last, empower the minister plenipotentiary from these United States, if invited thereto, to accede to such regulations conformable to the spirit of the said declaration, as might be agreed on by the Congress expected to assemble in pursuance of her Imperial Majesty's invitation: And whereas it is the desire of these United States to cultivate the friendship of her Imperial Majesty, and to lay a foundation for a good understanding and friendly intercourse between the subjects of her Imperial Majesty and the citizens of these states, to the mutual advantage of both nations: KNOW YE, THEREFORE, That we, confiding in the integrity, prudence and ability of [the honourable Francis Dana, late a delegate in Congress from the State of Massachusetts Bay, and a member of the council of said state,] have nominated and constituted, and by these presents do nominate and constitute him the said Francis Dana to be our minister at the Court of her said Imperial Majesty, with full power in our name, and in behalf of these United States, to accede as principals to the convention of the said neutral and belligerent powers for protecting the freedom of commerce and the rights of nations, and to subscribe any treaty for that purpose conformable to the spirit of her said Imperial Majesty's declaration, and which shall be consistent with the dignity and sovereignty of the United States as a free and independent nation, either with her Imperial Majesty conjunctly with the other neutral or belligerent powers, or if that shall be inadmissible, separately with her Imperial Majesty, and or any one of those powers. And he is further authorized and empowered in our name, and on behalf of the United States, to propose a treaty of alliance and amity and commerce between these United States and her said Imperial Majesty, and to confer and treat thereon with her ministers, vested with equal powers, so as the same shall be founded on principles of equality and reciprocity, and for the mutual advantage of both nations, and agreeable to the spirit of the treaties subsisting between these United States and his Most Christian Majesty; transmitting such treaty for our final ratification. CH. THOMSON, Sec'y.¹

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE HONOURABLE FRANCIS DANA, ESQUIRE

SIR,

The great object of your negotiation is to engage her imperial majesty to favour and support the sovereignty and independence of these United States, and to lay a foundation for a good understanding and friendly intercourse between the subjects of her Imperial Majesty and the citizens of these United States, to the mutual advantage of both nations.

You will readily perceive, that it must be a leading and capital point, if these United States shall be formally admitted as a party to the convention of the neutral maritime powers for maintaining the freedom of commerce. This regulation in which the Empress is deeply interested, and from which she had derived so much glory, will open the way for your favourable reception, which we have the greater reason to expect, as she has publickly invited the belligerent powers to accede thereto.

And you will give it an attention suitable to its importance. Your success will, however, depend on a variety of sources and contingencies; on a more perfect knowledge of the state of Europe than can be obtained at this distance; on the ultimate views of her Imperial Majesty, the temper of her cabinet, the avenues to their confidence, the dispositions of the neutral powers with whom she is connected, and the events of war. Under such circumstances, precise instructions for your conduct cannot be expected: on the contrary, the greatest room must be left for the exercise of your own penetration and assiduity in gaining proper information, and for your prudence and address in improving it to the best advantage. Your zeal for the publick interest will lead you to embrace every favourable incident and expedient, which may recommend these states to the friendship of her Imperial Majesty and her ministers. Your attachment to the honour and independence of your country will restrain you from every concession unbecoming the dignity of a free people. The diplomatick order in which you are placed by your commission, will prevent embarrassments, which, in so delicate a case might arise from the punctilio of ceremony; while it entitles you to all the confidence and protection essential to the office of a publick minister.

For the further execution of your trust, you will conform, as far as possible, to the following instructions:

1. You shall communicate your powers and instructions to our ministers plenipotentiary, at the court of Versailles, and for negotiating peace, and avail yourself of their advice and information; and it may be prudent through them to obtain the sense of the Court of France thereon.

2. You shall communicate the general object of your mission to the minister of his Most Christian Majesty at the Court of Petersburg, and endeavour through his mediation to sound the disposition of her Imperial Majesty, or her ministers, towards these United States.

3. If the result of your inquiries should point out a fair prospect of an honourable reception, you are to announce your publick character, and deliver your letters of credence in the usual form.

4. You are to manifest on all proper occasions the high respect which Congress entertain for her Imperial Majesty; for the lustre of her character, and the liberality of her sentiments and her views; and particularly you are, in the strongest terms, to testify our approbation of the measures which her Imperial Majesty has suggested and matured for the protection of commerce against the arbitrary violations of the British Court. You will present the act of Congress herewith transmitted, declaring our assent to her imperial majesty's regulations on this subject, and use every means which can be devised to obtain the consent and influence of that Court that these United States shall be formally invited, or admitted, to accede as principals and as an independent nation to the said convention. In that event, you are authorized to subscribe the treaty or convention for the protection of commerce in behalf of these United States, either with her Imperial Majesty conjunctly with the other neutral powers, or if that shall be inadmissible, separately with her Imperial Majesty, or any one of those powers.

5. You are to impress her Imperial Majesty and her ministers with a sense of the justice of our cause, the nature and stability of our union, and the solemn engagements by which not only the states, but his Most Christian Majesty, are reciprocally bound to maintain the sovereignty, rights and jurisdiction of each of the thirteen states inviolably; and the utter impracticability of our acceding to any treaty of peace with Great Britain, on the principles of a uti possidetis, or on any other terms than such as shall imply an express or tacit acknowledgment of the sovereignty of each and every part, and which shall be consistent with the letter and spirit of our treaty of alliance and friendship and commerce with his most christian majesty. You shall represent, in pointed terms, the barbarous manner in which, contrary to the laws of all civilized nations, the war has been conducted by the enemy, the difficulties which we have surmounted, and the certain prospect, under the divine blessing, of expelling our enemies, and establishing our independence on such basis as will render us useful to the whole commercial world, and happy in ourselves. You shall assure her Imperial Majesty of our ambition to number so wise and magnanimous a princess among our friends, and to assign her a distinguished place among those illustrious personages of ancient and modern times, who have delighted in promoting the happiness of mankind, and in disarming tyranny of the power of doing mischief.

6. You shall assure her Imperial Majesty and her ministers of the sincere disposition of these United States to enter into a treaty of friendship and commerce with her on terms of the most perfect equality, reciprocity and mutual advantage, and similar to those expressed in our treaty with his Most Christian Majesty; and you are authorized to communicate with her Imperial Majesty's ministers on the form and terms of such treaty, and transmit the same to Congress for their ratification.

7. You shall communicate punctually with our respective ministers in Europe, and avail yourself of their advice and information, and of the success of their respective negotiations to raise our importance and support our interest at the Court of Petersburg.

8. You shall endeavour to acquire a perfect knowledge of the manners and etiquette of the court at which you reside, and particularly in the diplomatick line; and of the manufactures and commerce of that empire; and point out in your correspondence how far and on what conditions the two nations can be mutually beneficial to or improve each other in commerce or policy, arts or agriculture.

Lastly. And, in general, you shall pursue all such measures as shall appear to you conducive to the interests of the United States, to the faithful discharge of your important trust, and which circumstances may point out to be salutary and beneficial. ¹

We beseech your Imperial Majesty to give entire credit to every thing which he shall deliver on our part, especially when he shall assure you of the sincerity of our friendship. We pray God to keep your Imperial Majesty in his holy protection.

Done by the United States of North America assembled in Congress, at Philadelphia, the 19th day of December, in the year of our Lord, 1780, and in the 5th year of our independence.

Mr. [Theodorick] Bland laid before Congress an extract of a letter from the governor of Virginia, dated 17 November, 1780.¹

On motion of Mr. [James] Madison, seconded by Mr. [Theodorick] Bland,

Ordered, That so much of the said letter as respects the receiving into the continental treasury, specie, at the rate of 75 continental dollars for one of specie, be referred to the Board of Treasury, and that they be directed to have the transaction stated in their books, and in the books of the treasurer, in such manner that the State of Virginia may not be included in it.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1780 ²

On motion of Mr. [Thomas] Bee, seconded by Mr. [John] Mathews,

Ordered, That the treasurer pay to the Board of War the balance of silver and gold in his hands, and that in the settlement of his accounts, he have credit in continental currency, according to the rate of exchange at which he received the said silver and gold.

Resolved, That the President furnish the Minister appointed to the Court of Petersburgh with letters of credit on the Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at the Court of Versailles, for fifteen hundred pounds sterling as his salary for one year; provided the said Minister shall proceed to the Court of Petersburgh.³

The committee appointed to confer with a committee of the general assembly of the State of Pensylvania on the subject of their quota of the new emission of paper bills of credit, presented to Congress a representation to them from the said committee of the assembly on the subject matter of the said conference, and the answer proposed to be given thereto, on which they requested the sense of Congress.

The Committee appointed by Congress to confer with a Committee of the General assembly of Pennsylvania, on the subject of the New Emission of money assigned to that State have received their State of facts, and have now the honor of laying before the said Committee the following information.

That the debt of 20,000,000 of Dollars computed to be due to the Inhabitants of Pennsylvania upon Quarter Masters and Commissaries' certificates have not been unprovided for by Congress, but arises from the unpunctuality of the respective States in complying with the requisitions of Congress. It appears from a general abstract of the Treasury Books now before this Committee, that the States are in arrear on the respective Requisitions, as far as the accounts were furnished to the 4th of Dec' last, 176,955,367.11 2/3 Dollars, a sum sufficient to have discharged the Loan office, Quarter Masters and Commissaries Certificates, and supported the public credit in a very great degree.

That the supplies of the Inhabitants on the credit of the Certificates, extend to all the other States, as well as Pennsylvania and is the same obstacle in all to the payment of Taxes. New York and New Jersey in particular are represented to be as much in advance on those certificates as Pennsylvania; and it is also represented that their Treasuries are equally exhausted, and there can therefore be no prospect that any of them will be in a condition to supply the public exigencies if their certificates should pass in payment of the Taxes directed to be levied for the purpose of issuing and giving credit to the new Emissions. That by the abstract from the Books of the Treasury the account of Pennsylvania is thus stated

State of Pennsylvania.

Congress on the 1 July 1780 drew two warrants on the President and Supreme Executive Council in favour of Michael Hillegas Treasurer of the United States one for and the other for the balance due from that state up to the 1 March 1780

4,569,040
Both the said Warrants Unpaid.
Taxes due from 1 March 1780 to the 1
December following agreeable to the Resolution of Congress of the 18 March 1780, 9 months, the Quota being 2,300,000 Dollars per month amounting to 20,700,000 from which is to be deducted a warrant drawn No! 17, 1780 in favour of Commis7
Blaine, 288,049$7
20,431,950$7
26,797,940$7

If this is a just state it will be found that supposing the Inhabitants of Pennsylvania to be creditors of the public to the amount of 20,000,000. Dollars on Certificates, there is still a large arrear due from them on their quota of the Taxes.

Congress rely on a compliance with the act of the 18th of March for the support of the war; they foresee the deepest distress if it should not be carried into effect with the utmost dispatch.

The Public Treasury is exhausted; the public debt considerable:
the army unpaid for near a year, the Quarter Master's branch distressed.

Under these circumstances the Committee of the assembly of Pennsylvania, will consider the objects of the Regulations proposed in their Representation and give the weight to our suggestions, which they shall appear to merit.

upon,

The Board of Treasury represent to Congress,
That the Sheriff for the City and county of Philad{a} has this day levied execution on the Commissioners of the Board for the rent damages &c as adjudged by the Court and Jury for the house in which the Treasury was lately held.

Ordered, That a warrant issue on Thomas Smith, commissioner of the continental loan office for the State of Pennsylvania, for thirteen thousand two hundred and twenty five dollars and one third of a dollar, in favour of John L. Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to take into consideration the case of the hon. On motion of Mr. [Samuel] Adams, seconded by Mr. [Thomas] Bee, Ordered, That the President write to our ministers pleni-potentiary at the Courts of Versailles and Madrid, desiring them to apply to the courts at which they respectively reside, to use means for obtaining the release and exchange of the hon. Henry Laurens.

The committee on certain bills of exchange, drawn on the President of Congress, by a person subscribing himself Baron de Wulffen, brought in a report; Whereupon,

The Committee on certain Bills of Exchange drawn on the President of Congress by Baron de Wulffen beg leave to report,

That a Bill is presented for acceptance subscribed Baron de Wulffen on the President and members of Congress dated the 3rd of August last for 794 guilders and ten stivers Bank money payable to John de Neufville & Son of Amsterdam or their order and expressed to be for value received from them for the drawer's expenses in Amsterdam and for embarking. That another Bill is presented drawn by the same person and in the like manner dated the 9th of August last for 100 Guilders Bank money payable to Messrs. De Neufville & Son for the same purpose. That both the said Bills are endorsed by Messrs. De Neufville & Son. That it appears by the annexed certificate of one of the members of the Board of War that the Person styling himself Baron Wulffen never had any commission in the service of the United States, that he produced no satisfactory credentials, but it being conceived that he was acquainted with the inferior parts of discipline he was sent to the Baron Steuben at Camp, that a judgment might be formed whether he could or could not be usefully employed; the Baron finding him unqualified for the inspectorate turned him over to Capt. Vanheer of the Marechassé Corps who nominated him as a Lieutenant, and as such he was returned to the Board of War who knowing the impropriety of the appointment refused to recommend a confirmation of it to Congress. That Baron Steuben after this transaction informed the Board that for a small sum he could enable and persuade Wulffen to leave the Country the Board furnished him with 200 dollars or thereabouts and it was supposed he went to Europe. That the said Messrs. De Neufville & Son in the absence of the Honorable Mr. Laurens accepted the public bills of Exchange to a considerable amount, for the honor of Congress, and in the opinion of your Committee they are entitled to a like mark of respect from Congress. That a letter ought to be written to them by the President acknowledging and thanking them for their good offices and friendly disposition, and acquainting them that de Wulffen had no authority to draw upon Congress on any account, that they have ordered the Bill to be protested, but for the honor of Messrs. De Neufville & Son have directed it to be paid out of the public treasury and charged to their account and also cautioning them not to accept drafts on Congress in future unless they shall be satisfied that they are drawn by the immediate advice or authority of Congress or of one of their public ministers, and desiring that they will take the necessary measures to oblige de Wulffen to repay the money now advanced for their Honor as the endorsers, and your Committee submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the two bills of exchange, the one dated the 3 August last, for 794 gilders and ten stivers, and the other the 9th of the same month, for 100 gilders, bank money, and signed Baron de Wulffen, both drawn on the President and members of Congress, in favour of Messrs. John de Neuville & Son, of Amsterdam, and expressed to be for value received from them for the drawer’s expenses, and for his embarking, and tendered to the President, be protested for non-acceptance; but that, in consideration of Messrs. de Neuville & Son having accepted of several of the bills of exchange drawn by Congress on Henry Laurens, esq. in his absence, and for the honor of Congress, the Board of Treasury be, and hereby are, directed to take up the said bills, (paying the amount thereof to the present holders,) for the honor of Messrs. de Neувилль & Son, who have endorsed them, and charge the same to their account in the treasury books, and that they inform those gentlemen of this transaction.¹

A report from the Board of Treasury was read; Whereupon,

The Board of Treasury beg leave to report,

That the said Board be authorized to dispose of as many Bills of Exchange, to be drawn on the Honble Benjamin Franklin Esq' At Ninety Days Sight as will be sufficient to Pay the Rent of the Treasury Offices.

December 14, 1780.²

WAR OFFICE, Dec 21, 1780

Sir,

The Flag for Charlestown is ready to sail, but an unexpected embarrassment has arisen, in which if not thought too troublesome, Congress will be pleased to give their directions. The name of Sheftal Sheftal was inserted as Flag Master in the passport under an idea that this person would be obliged by a permission to act in that character, and that he would undertake to do the business merely for the sake of having an opportunity of bringing out his family from Charlestown, but he now demands the most extravagant terms and privileges, and refuses to go unless they are granted. Wherefore it is proposed to send the Flag without him, making the Sailing Master who is a confidential man also Flag Master, and setting forth in the passport that the Flag Master mentioned in Gen Clinton’s pass was prevented from going the voyage. Whether this will or not be wrong is left to the determination of Congress. Should they approve of it they will please to resolve

That the Board of War be informed that Congress approve of their sending the sloop Carolina Packet as a flag to Charlestown under the care of John Durry who is to act both as Sailing and Flag Master.¹

COMMISSION TO COLONEL JOHN LAURENS

We, reposing especial trust and confidence in your fidelity, zeal, prudence and abilities, have nominated and constituted, and by these presents do nominate and constitute you our minister, for the special purpose of proceeding to the Court of Versailles, and representing to his Most Christian Majesty the present state of our publick affairs, with the necessity and mutual advantage of his maintaining a naval superiority in the American seas; and also of soliciting from him, and forwarding to the United States, certain aids in money and stores according to an estimate herewith delivered to you, the better to enable us to prosecute the war with vigour, and co-operate with the arms of our ally with effect.

Witness his excellency Samuel Huntington, esquire, President, the 23d day of December, in the year of our Lord, 1780, and in the 5th year of our independence.

INSTRUCTIONS TO COLONEL JOHN LAURENS

SIR,

You will herewith receive a commission appointing you our minister at the Court of Versailles; in pursuing

the objects of which, you will conform to the following instructions:

Upon your arrival you will communicate fully to our minister plenipotentiary at that court the business on which you are sent, and avail yourself of his information and influence for obtaining the aids mentioned in the estimate delivered to you. Instructions to him for that purpose are herewith transmitted, which you will deliver immediately on your arrival. You will convey to his Most Christian Majesty the grateful sense Congress have of the noble and generous part he has taken with regard to the United States, and use every possible means to impress him with the urgent and critical state of our affairs at present, which induced the appointment of a special minister to solicit his effectual aid.

You will, in particular, give him full information of the present state of our military affairs, and the measures taken for providing a respectable force for the ensuing campaign. It will be proper, at the same time, to point out the causes which rendered the last campaign unsuccessful.

You are to use every effort in your power to convince his most Christian Majesty of the necessity and mutual advantages to enforce the necessity of maintaining a naval superiority in the American seas, without which it seems impracticable to rescue from the enemy such parts of the United States as are now in their possession, and the pretexts which that possession will afford to embarrass a negotiation for peace. You will assure his Most Christian Majesty on our part, that if he will please to communicate to us his intentions respecting the next campaign in America, we will use every effort in our power to cooperate effectually with the forces which he may think proper to send for an effectual co-operation. You will lay before his majesty the present distressing state of our army and finances that he may be convinced of the necessity for granting the aids mentioned to enable us to prosecute the war with vigor and success. You are to give his Majesty the most positive and pointed assurances of our determination to prosecute the war for the great purposes of the alliance agreeable to our engagements.

Should his Majesty grant the aids requested, and send to our assistance a naval force, you will take advantage of that conveyance for forwarding the articles furnished. If no naval armament should be ordered to America, you will endeavour to obtain some vessels of force to transport the said articles, or take advantage of some convoy to America which may render the transportation less hazardous. You will call upon William Palfrey, esquire, our consul in that kingdom, for such assistance as you may stand in need of for forwarding any supplies which you may obtain. You will obtain an exact account from our minister Plenipotentiary of the supplies which have been already furnished and the time when granted and inform yourself of the causes which have prevented or delayed their being forwarded. You are authorized to draw upon our minister plenipotentiary for such sums as you may from time to time stand in need of, giving him early notice thereof that he may aid you from funds procured on our account, without doing injury to our other concerns. You may also draw upon any other funds which you may know to have been procured for us in Europe.

[You will, on your arrival at the Court of Versailles, present the letter to his Most Christian Majesty which] you will herewith receive.\footnote{This sentence offered separately, in the writing of John Mathews, is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 25, I, folio 402.} Previous to your departure from the United States, you are to confer with the Commander in Chief of the American army, the minister plenipotentiary of France, the commanders in chief of his Most Christian Majesty’s fleet and army at Rhode Island, the Marquis de la Fayette, if it should not retard your voyage, upon the subject of your commission, and avail yourself of every information you may obtain from them respectively.\footnote{This sentence, offered separately, is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 25, I, folio 401. Also offered separately and marked “Postponed” was the following, in the writing of James Madison. It is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 25, I, folio 402: “You will, before your departure, confer with the Minister Plenipotentiary of his Most Christian Majesty to the United States and with the Hon. Major General the Marquis de la Fayette on the general subject of your mission and avail yourself of such information and advice as may tend to facilitate its success. You will also apply to the Commander in Chief for his opinions and information respecting the state of the army and the most effectual mode of rendering the cooperation of France and the United States during the next campaign decisive against the common enemy.”} You will embrace every opportunity of informing us of the success of your negotiations, and receive and obey such instructions as you may from time to time receive from Congress.

[When the purpose of your mission shall be as fully effected as you may deem practicable, you are to return, and report your success to Congress without delay, unless you shall previously receive other orders.]\footnote{This sentence, offered separately, is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 25, I, folio 404.}

We pray God to further you with his goodness in the several objects hereby recommended, and that he will have you in his holy keeping.\footnote{This report, in the writing of John Sullivan, is in the \textit{Papers of the Continental Congress}, No. 25, I, folio 397; the parts in brackets were inserted by Congress and were not in the committee’s draft. LETTERS OF CREDENCE TO COLONEL J. LAURENS.

GREAT AND BELOVED FRIEND AND ALLY,

The United States of America in Congress assembled, impressed with the magnanimity of your Majesty, and of the repeated proofs you have given of your friendly disposition towards these states, and also feeling the necessity of giving your Majesty full information of the present state of our affairs, have appointed the honourable John Laurens, esquire, a lieutenant colonel in the army of these states, to repair to your court, in quality of minister, to solicit the aids requested by us; and that he may give your Majesty more particular and further assurances of the high regard we continue to entertain for your Majesty. We beseech your Majesty to give entire credit to everything he shall deliver on our part, especially when he shall assure you of the sincerity of our friendship.

And we pray God that he will keep your Majesty in his most holy protection.

Done at Philadelphia, the 23d day of December, in the year of our Lord, 1780, and in the 5th year of our independence. By the Congress of the United States of North America. Your good friends and allies.

ADMIRALTY OFFICE 19th Dec. 1780.

The Board beg leave to inform Congress that the Brigantine Active Packet belonging to the United States, arrived yesterday from Boston, and that the Board propose to send her immediately to Amsterdam, with a view to the importation of Naval Stores which are much wanted. That they are possessed of a small quantity of Pearl-Ash, which they intend to send in her, and to fill up with tobacco on freight as they have not money to purchase it. That the amount of her Freight, and of the Pearl-Ash will not be sufficient to procure the several articles wanted and load the Active back. The Board therefore request the Honorable Congress to order that a sett of exchange be issued in favor of the Board of Admiralty for the use of the United States of America upon the Honorable John Adams, or whom else, for one thousand pounds Sterling to enable the Board to load the Active on her return voyage.

A Bill for £1000 Sterl. was the last summer issued by order of Congress, upon the Honorable John Jay Esq. in favor of the Honorable Henry Laurens Esq. for the purpose of procuring a cargo for the Mercury Packet, which was unfortunately taken on her voyage to Amsterdam.

The Board suppose that the capture of Mr. Laurens has put it out of his power, to negotiate that Bill, and that if it should be negotiated it cannot be applied to answer the present purposes of the Board.¹

The Board of War delivered in sundry reports:

One on the letter, of 11, from Colonel Armand; and four respecting the business under their direction.

And that the other part of said letter respecting a warrant for Money &c be referred to the Board of Treasury.¹

Report, that on examining the Journals of Congress they find the sum of 30,000 dollars advanced to Mr. Lee on the 7th day of October 1776. Your Committee have also enquired of Mr. Robt Morris for the state of the account between the United States and Mr. Lee and were informed by him, that he is unacquainted with the transactions relative to this matter further than to receive from Mr. Lee the money furnished him by Congress to reimburse himself for monies advanced by him to Mr. Lee.

Your Committee further observe that the degree of responsibility in which Congress stand bound for the losses sustained by Mr. Lee in consequence of his engaging in the service of the U. S. extend no further than to indemnify him for his losses whenever he shall make the same known to Congress, that he has not as yet done so. Therefore your Committee are of opinion Mr. Lee has no just pretensions to demand of Congress money for his present support.

As to the part of Mr. Lee's letter requiring to be taken under the protection of Congress your Committee are of opinion it would be most advisable to pass it over in silence.

That Mr. Lee be informed that Congress are fully persuaded of his attachment to the interest and well being of the United States of America, therefore are of opinion the illiberal insinuations complained of by him are unworthy either of his or the attention of Congress.²

The committee on the memorial and representation of the legislature of New Jersey, delivered in their respective reports:

The Committee to whom was referred the Memorial and representation from the Legislature of the State of New Jersey read the 24th of November last beg leave to report the following resolutions:

Resolved, that altho Congress highly approve of the zeal and attention to the public interest manifested by the Legislature of New Jersey in their attempt to fix and preserve the value of their quota of the bills of credit emitted pursuant to the act of the 18th of March last. Yet as the measures they have adopted for the purpose are fundamentally repugnant to the general tenor of those resolutions on the vigorous execution of which Congress place their chief reliance for carrying on the war, they cannot comply with the desire of the said State, that an adoption of their measures should be recommended to the other States; but on the contrary earnestly recommend it to New Jersey as well as the other States, to devise such wise and vigorous remedies as will produce the great and salutary purposes intended by the said act.¹

That the Legislature of New Jersey be informed, that Congress have taken every measure in their power enforced by repeated and pressing remonstrances to induce the several States to be punctual in forwarding their respective quotas of supplies for the army, and it is with regret they perceive that the States in and near to the seat of war, have been subjected to the inconveniences complained of by the Legislature of New Jersey on account of the deficiencies of the States more remote. That it is the sense of Congress, that it must be attended with fatal effects to public credit, and the currency of the new bills to issue any of them before a proportionate quantity of the old is brought in to be cancelled; that these objects would be certain and unavoidable, even if the new bills should be exchanged for certificates; that Congress are very desirous that the debts contracted by those certificates for supplies furnished the Army should be discharged—that ample provision for that purpose would have been made had the respective States raised and transmitted to the public treasury the taxes from time to time required from them for the support of the war.

That Congress are willing if it shall be indispensably necessary that those certificates shall be received into the treasuries of the respective States in discharge of the Quotas of their pecuniary taxes levied by any act of Congress prior to the 18th of March, and that every practicable means will be improved to pay the remainder as soon as possible.¹

¹ This report, in the writing of James Duane, is in the Papers of the Continental Congress, No. 20, I, folio 307. It is indorsed: “Presented 22d December, 1780; read. August 24, 1781, not to be acted upon.” Another version of the report, in the writing of William Churchill Houston, in No. 41, VII, folio 61, is as follows:

Dec. 4th 1780

The Committee to whom was referred the Memorial and representation from the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, read the 24 ult report.

That Congress highly approve the attention of the State of New Jersey to the general interest, manifested by the measures they have taken for establishing the value of their Quota of the Bills of Credit emitted pursuant to the Resolutions of 18 March last in a Manner so accommodated to present Circumstances as that the Publick may not be subjected to Loss from the Difference between the present value of the Continental Bills of Credit, and that current when the aforesaid Resolutions were passed.

That it be recommended to the several States who have passed Laws for issuing the said New Bills, to so alter and amend them, if found to require it, as that the Bills may pass at equal value with Specie, and at the like comparative Rate with Continental Bills of Credit in Lieu of which they are emitted: and to those States who have not yet enacted such laws, to frame them with due attention to that object.

That it be also recommended to the said States to invest some proper Person or Persons within them respectively with competent authority to fix and make known, from Time to Time, the Exchange, or comparative value between Specie or the New Bills and the Continental Bills of Credit, until the latter shall be all brought in by Taxes or otherwise to be destroyed as recommended in the aforesaid Resolutions of 18 March last.

That the several States be strictly required to be punctual in forwarding their respective Quotas of supplies for the Army, so that those in, or near to which the seat of War shall from time to time, be, may not be subjected to Inconveniences from the Inattention and failure of those who are more remote.

That the President inform the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, Congress are of the opinion it would be attended with the most fatal effects to Public Credit and the currency of the new Bills, to issue any of them before a proportionate quantity of the old are Brought in to be cancelled, that these effects would be certain and unavoidable even if the said New Bills were exchanged for Certificates, that Congress are desirous the certificates given for supplies furnished to the Army should continue to be received in Taxes, and that every practicable means will be improved to discharge the residue as soon as possible.

The following paragraph in the writing of James Duane, is in No. 41, VII, folio 63.

Resolved, That it is the sense of Congress that the Resolution of the 18 of March last ought to be carried into full effect, and that every measure for that end ought to be adopted by the respective Legislatures and to meet with support: But that Congress apprehend that the law of New Jersey recommended for their approbation altho' passed with the best intention may eventually be productive of great Inconveniences.

Sir,

Since your last instructions, Congress have thought it expedient to send Colonel John Laurens with powers to negotiate specially the important affairs to which they more immediately relate. This gentleman, from the nature of his services and situation, has had opportunities of information which peculiarly qualify him for giving to his Most Christian Majesty a more lively idea of our circumstances, of our indispensable wants, and of the great advantages which must result to the allies from his majesty's complying with our requests.

The negotiation is besides so critically important that it was deemed highly requisite, by the mission of this special minister, to guard against the accident of your want of health, and the consequent delay in making the application.

Notwithstanding this appointment, should the duplicates of the despatches reach you before this minister's arrival, you will consider it as the desire of Congress, that you take, with all possible expedition, every step in your power for effecting the business, or at least for disposing his Most Christian Majesty and his ministers to take a favourable impression from the representation which Colonel Laurens, from his advantages of fuller information, may be better able to make. He is instructed, and it is well known to be his own disposition, to avail himself of your information and influence. And Congress having a high sense of your experience, wisdom, love of your country, and the esteem entertained for you by the Court at which you reside, doubt not that the success of this measure will be much promoted by the assistance he will derive from you. And they desire you to consider your attention to him, as a matter which

AT A BOARD OF WAR Dec 27, 1780

Present, Mr. Peters, Gen 1 Ward

The Board having considered the memorial of William Peck beg leave to inform Congress, That Mr. Peck is entitled to the rank and to receive a commission as Major in the line of the army from his appointment as Aid de Camp to General Spencer and therefore they conceive that his case so far as relates to his depretiation is already provided for by Congress. If he belongs to the quota of any State that State will provide for him. If he belongs to the line at large and not to the quota of any State he will be returned in the list of officers of this description now preparing for Congress. His pay as D Aj 1 General he must receive by Warrant from the Paymaster General as other Officers do. But if Congress think there is any thing peculiar in his case which will make it an exception to the cases of Officers apparently in the same situation they will be pleased to resolve,

That the memorial of William Peck be referred to a special committee. 1

Ordered, That the memorial of William Peck which was referred to the Board of War and returned, be referred to a committee of three:

The members Mr. [John] Sullivan, Mr. [James M.] Varnum, Mr. [Jesse] Root.

Congress took into consideration the report of the Board of War on the representation of Florat Florimont, submitting that a sum of money be granted to him to enable him to proceed to the West Indies.

War Office Dec. 20, 1780

Sir,

On conversing with Capt. Florimont on the subject of his application to Congress either to be employed in the army, or furnished with the means of proceeding to the West Indies, and from the papers he produces, it appears that his services have not been constant or very distinguished. He has been some times employed on occasional commands by different officers—but most commonly he has been in the country retired from the army as he says to perfect himself in the English language. He alleges that he has received but six months pay as Captain and one month as Lieutenant but has never had a commission from Congress. He has supported himself at his own expense as he represents and there is nothing appears to the contrary. He is now reduced in his circumstances and of course much distressed.

¹ This resolution was also entered in the manuscript Secret Journal, Foreign Affairs.
² See January 2, 1781.
If Congress under the above state of his case think proper to make him an allowance, they will please to resolve

That the sum of 1 Dollars be paid to Mons' Florat de Florimont to enable him to proceed to the West Indies, Congress having no means of employing him in the Army of the United States consistent with the present arrangement thereof.¹

The question to agree thereto passed in the negative.

War Office, Dec. 20, 1780.

Sir,

The Iron Masters in Pennsylvania and Jersey have completed their contracts for shot and shells, and are incessantly importuning the Board to procure the money for the Commissary General of Military Stores to enable him to pay them. They point out the distresses to which they are subjected by the failure of payment in the strongest terms, and do not forget to mention the positive assurances they received from the Board, that no public embarrassments should prevent their receiving the first payment which it was intended to give them at all events. Many of them had suffered so severely by their former contracts, that it required the individual interest of some of the members of the Board to prevail on them to undertake the execution of the present agreements, and therefore their reproaches fall on us both in our public and private characters. Thus situated it is hoped that Congress will be pleased to fall on some measures to satisfy the pressing demands of the Contractors, and thereby relieve the Board from a very disagreeable situation. The proportion of articles provided under General Knox's Estimates, bears but a small relation to the amount of it, and if the proposed enterprise should be undertaken next year it will be utterly impossible to prevail on the Iron Masters again to undertake the business if they do not receive what was so solemnly stipulated to be paid them. An account of the quantities of shot and shells cast, of the monies paid in part, and of the sum due on the first payment is enclosed for the perusal of Congress.²

Ordered, That a report from the Board of War relating to their contracts with iron masters be referred to the Board of Treasury.

THE COMMISSION TO MR. J. ADAMS

The United States of America in Congress assembled, to all who shall see these presents, send greeting.

Whereas an intercourse between the citizens of the United Provinces of the low countries and the citizens of these United States, founded on the principles of equality and reciprocity, may be of mutual advantage to both nations:

KNOW YE, THEREFORE, That we, confiding in the integrity, prudence and ability of the honourable John Adams, late commissioner of the United States of America at the Court of Versailles, late delegate in Congress from the State of Massachusetts Bay, and chief justice of the said State, have nominated, constituted and appointed, and by these presents do nominate, constitute and appoint him the said John Adams our commissioner, giving him full power, general and special, to act in that quality, to confer, treat, agree and conclude with the person or persons vested with equal powers by the States General of the said United Provinces, of and concerning a treaty of amity and commerce; and whatever shall be so agreed and concluded for us, and in our name, to sign, and thereupon make such treaty, conventions and agreements as he shall judge conformable to the ends we have in view; hereby promising in good faith that we will accept, ratify and execute whatever shall be agreed, concluded and signed by our said minister.

In witness whereof we have caused these presents to be given in Congress, at Philadelphia, the 29th day of December, in the year of our Lord, 1780, and in the 5th year of our independence.

INSTRUCTIONS TO THE HONOURABLE JOHN ADAMS

SIR,

You will herewith receive a commission, authorizing you to negotiate a treaty of amity and commerce with the United Provinces of the low countries.

You will also receive a plan, in articles, which you are to adopt in whole, or without any essential alteration, being always cautious not to admit any thing inconsistent with the treaties already concluded between the United States and France, and being particularly attentive to the ninth, tenth and seventeenth articles of our treaty of amity and commerce with France, numbered as they were finally ratified.

In settling regulations respecting contraband, you will regard not only the enumeration made in our treaty with France, but conform to such regulations as shall be agreed upon by the Congress of the northern powers, concerning which we have expressed our intentions by resolves passed the 5th of October last, and herewith transmitted.

Done at Philadelphia, this 29th day of December, in the year of our Lord, 1780, and in the 5th year of our independence. By the Congress of the United States. (Signed) SAMUEL HUNTINGTON, President.

On these principles the parties, after mature deliberation, have agreed to the following articles:

ARTICLE II

The subjects of the said states of Holland the low countries shall pay in the ports, havens, roads, countries, islands, cities or towns of the United States of North America, or any of them, no other or greater duties or imposts, of what nature soever they may be, or by what name soever called, than those which the nations most favoured are or shall be obliged to pay; and they shall enjoy all the rights, liberties, privileges, immunities and exemptions in trade, navigation and commerce, whether in passing from one port in the said states to another, or in going to and from the same, from and

The converse of article II.

ARTICLE IV

There shall be a full, perfect and entire liberty of conscience allowed to the subjects of each party, and to their families, as to matters of religion, and a full and entire liberty to worship in their own way, without any kind of molestation. Moreover, liberty shall be given to the subjects of either party, who die in the territories of the other, to be interred in convenient and decent places to be appointed for that purpose as occasion shall require; neither shall the dead bodies of those that are buried be any wise molested.

ARTICLE V

Their High Mightinesses the States of the seven United Provinces of Holland the low countries shall endeavour, by all the means in their power, to protect and defend all vessels and other effects belonging to the subjects citizens, people or inhabitants of the said United States of America, or any of them, being in their ports, havens or roads, or on the seas near to their countries, islands, cities or towns; and to recover, and cause to be restored to the right owners, their vessels and effects, as shall be taken within their jurisdiction. And their ships of war, or any convoy sailing under their authority, shall, upon all occasions, take under their protection all vessels belonging to the subjects, people or inhabitants of the said United States of America, or any of them, holding the same course, or going the same way, and shall defend such vessels as long as they hold the same course, or go the same way, against all attacks, force and violence, in the same manner as they ought to protect and defend vessels belonging to the subjects of their said High Mightinesses.

ARTICLE V

A reciprocal stipulation.

ARTICLE VI

It shall be lawful and free for merchants and others being subjects either of the said seven United Provinces of Holland, the low countries, or of the said United States of America, by will, or any other disposition, made either during the time of sickness or at any other time before, or at the point of death, to devise or give away to such person or persons as to them shall seem good, their effects, merchandise, money, debts or goods, moveable or immovable, which they have or ought to have at the time of their death, or at any time before, within the countries, islands, cities, towns or dominions belonging to either of the said contracting parties. Moreover, whether they die having made their wills, or intestate, their lawful heirs, executors or administrators residing in the dominions of either of the contracting parties, or coming from any other part, although they be not naturalized, and without having their right contested or impeded under pretext of any rights or prerogatives of provinces, cities or private persons, shall freely and quietly receive and take possession of all the said goods and effects whatsoever, according to the laws of each country respectively, in such manner however that the wills and right of entering upon the inherances of persons dying intestate must be proved, according to the law in those places where such persons may happen to die, as well by the subjects of one as of the other contracting party, any law, statute, edict, custom or ordinance droit-d’oubaine or right whatsoever notwithstanding.

ARTICLE VII

It shall be lawful and free for the subjects of each party to employ such advocates, attorneys, notaries, solicitors or factors as they shall think fit, to which end the said advocates, and others abovementioned, may be appointed by the ordinary judges, if it be needful, and the judges be thereunto required.

ARTICLE VIII

Merchants, masters of ships, owners, mariners, men of all kinds, ships and vessels, and all merchandise and goods in general, and effects of one of the confederates, or of the subjects thereof, shall not be seized or detained in any of the countries, lands, islands, cities, towns, ports, havens, shores or dominions whatsoever of the other confederate, for publick use, warlike expeditions, or the private use of any one, by arrests, violence, or any colour thereof. Moreover, it shall be unlawful for the subjects of either party to take any thing, or to extort it by force from the subjects of the other party, without the consent of the person to whom it belongs. Which, however, is not to be understood of that seizure and detention which shall be made by the command and authority of justice, and by the ordinary methods, on account of debt or crimes, in respect whereof the proceedings must be by way of law, according to the forms of justice.
December, 1780

ARTICLE IX

It is further agreed and concluded, that it shall be wholly free for all merchants, commanders of ships, and other subjects of their High Mightinesses the States of the seven United Provinces of Holland the low countries, in all places subject to the dominion and jurisdiction of the said United States of America, to manage their own business themselves, or to employ whomsoever they please to manage it for them; nor shall they be obliged to make use of any interpreter, or broker, nor to pay any salary or fees, unless they choose to make use of them. Moreover, masters of ships shall not be obliged, in loading or unloading their ships, to make use of those workmen that may be appointed by publick authority for that purpose; but it shall be entirely free for them to load or unload their ships by themselves, or to make use of such persons in loading or unloading the same as they shall think fit, without paying any fees or salary to any other whomsoever. Neither shall they be forced to unload any sort of merchandises, either into other ships, or to receive them into their own, or to wait for their being loaded longer than they please. And all and every the subjects citizens, people and inhabitants of the said United States of America shall reciprocally have and enjoy the same privileges and liberties in all places whatsoever subject to the domination and jurisdiction of their High Mightinesses the States of the seven United Provinces of Holland the low countries.

ARTICLE X

The merchant ships of either of the parties which shall be making into a port belonging to the enemy of the other ally, and concerning whose voyage, and the species of goods on board her, there shall be just grounds of suspicion, shall be obliged to exhibit as well upon the high seas, as in the ports and havens, not only her passports, but likewise certificates expressly showing that her goods are not of the number of those which have been prohibited as contraband.

ARTICLE XI

If by exhibiting the above said certificates the other party discover there are any of those sorts of goods which are prohibited and declared contraband, and consigned for a port under the obedience of his enemy, it shall not be lawful to break up the hatches of such ship, or to open any chest, coffer, packs, caaks or any other vessel found therein, or to remove the smallest parcel of her goods, whether such ship belongs to the subjects of France, their High Mightinesses the States of the seven United Provinces of the low countries, or the citizens or inhabitants of the said United States of America, unless the lading be brought on shore in the presence of the officers of the court of admiralty, and an inventory thereof made. But there shall be no allowance to sell, exchange or alienate the same in any manner until after that due and lawful process shall have been had against such prohibited goods, and the court of admiralty shall, by a sentence pronounced, have confiscated the same, saving always as well the ship itself, as any other goods found therein, which by this Treaty are to be esteemed free; neither may they be detained on pretence of their being, as it were, infected by prohibited goods; much less shall they be confiscated as lawful prize; but if not the whole cargo, but only part thereof, shall consist of prohibited or contraband goods, and the commander of the ship shall be ready and willing to deliver them to the captor who has discovered them, in such case, the captor having received those goods, shall forthwith discharge the ship, and not hinder her, by any means, freely to prosecute the voyage on which she was bound. But in case the contraband merchandises cannot be all received on board the vessel of the captor, then the captor may, notwithstanding the offer of delivering him the contraband goods, carry the vessel into the nearest port, agreeably to what is above directed.

ARTICLE XII

On the contrary, it is agreed that whatever shall be found to be laden by the subjects and inhabitants of either party, on any ship belonging to the enemies of the other, or to their subjects, the whole, though it be not of the sort of prohibited goods, may be confiscated in the same manner as if it belonged to the enemy, except such goods and merchandises as were put on board such ship before the declaration of war, or even after such declaration, without the knowledge of it, so that the goods of the subjects and people of either party, whether they be of the nature of such as are prohibited, or otherwise, which, as is aforesaid, were put on board any ship belonging to an enemy before the war, or after the declaration of the same, without the knowledge of it, shall no wise be liable to confiscation, but shall well and truly be restored without delay to the proprietors demanding the same; but so as that, if the said merchandises be contraband, it shall not be any way lawful to carry them afterwards to any ports belonging to the enemy. The two contracting parties agree that the term of two months being passed after the declaration of war, their respective subjects from whatever part of the world they come shall not plead the ignorance mentioned in this article.

ARTICLE XIII

And that more effectual care may be taken for the security of the subjects and people of either party, that they do not suffer any injury by the men of war or privateers of the other party, all the commanders of the ships of war and the armed vessels of the said states of the seven United Provinces of Holland the low countries, and of the said United States of America, and all their subjects and people, shall be forbid doing any injury or damage to the other side; and if they act to the contrary, they shall be punished, and shall moreover be bound to make satisfaction for all matter of damage, and the interest thereof, by reparation under the pain and obligation of their persons and goods.

ARTICLE XIV

All ships and merchandise of what nature soever, which shall be rescued out of the hands of any pirates or robbers on the high seas, shall be brought into some port of either state, and shall be delivered to the custody of the officers of that port, in order to be restored entire to the true proprietor, as soon as due and sufficient proof shall be made concerning the property thereof.

ARTICLE XV

If any ships or vessels belonging to either of the parties, their subjects or people, shall, within the coasts or dominions of the other, stick upon the sands, or be wrecked, or suffer any other damage, all friendly assistance and relief shall be given to the persons shipwrecked, or such as shall be in danger thereof; and letters of safe conduct shall likewise be given to them for their free and quiet passage from thence, and the return of every one of them to his own country.

ARTICLE XVI

In case the subjects or people of either party, with their shipping, whether of publick and of war, or private and of merchants be forced through stress of weather, pursuit of pirates or enemies, or any other urgent necessity, for seeking of shelter and harbour, to retreat and enter into any of the rivers, creeks, bays, havens, roads, ports or shores belonging to the other party, they shall be received and treated with all humanity and kindness, and enjoy all friendly protection and help; and they shall be permitted to refresh and provide themselves at reasonable rates with victuals and all things needful for the sustenance of their persons, or reparation of their ships; and they shall no ways be detained, or hindered from returning out of the said ports or roads, but may remove and depart when and whither they please, without any let or hindrance.

ARTICLE XVII

For the better promoting of commerce on both sides, it is agreed, that if a war should break out between the said two nations, six months after the proclamation of war shall be allowed to the merchants, in the cities and towns where they live, for selling and transporting their goods and merchandises; and if any thing be taken from them, or any injury be done to them, within that term, by either party, or the people or subjects of either, full satisfaction shall be made for the same.
ARTICLE XVIII.

No subjects of their High Mightinesses the States of the seven United Provinces of Holland the low countries shall apply for, or take any commission or letters of marque for arming any ship or ships, to act as privateers against the said United States of America, or any of them, or against the subjects, people or inhabitants of the said United States, or any of them, or against the property of the inhabitants of any of them, from any prince or state with which the said United States of America shall happen to be at war; nor shall any citizen, subject or inhabitant of the said United States of America, or any of them, apply for or take any commission or letters of marque for arming any ship or ships to act as privateers against the subjects of the most Christian King their said High Mightinesses, or any of them, or the property of any of them, from any prince or state with which the said King state shall be at war; and if any person of either nation shall take such commission or letters of marque, he shall be punished as a pirate.

ARTICLE XIX

The ships of the subjects and inhabitants of either of the parties coming upon any coast belonging to either of the said allies, but not willing to enter into port, or being entered into port, and not willing to unload their cargoes or break bulk, shall be treated agreeable to the general rules prescribed, or to be prescribed, relative to the object in question.

ARTICLE XX

The two contracting parties grant to each other the liberty of having, each in the ports of the other, consuls, vice-consuls and commissaries of their own appointing, whose functions shall be regulated by particular agreement, whenever either party chooses to make such appointment.

ARTICLE XXI

It is agreed between the two contracting parties, that no clause, article, matter or thing herein contained, shall be taken or understood, either in present or future, contrary to the clauses, articles, covenants and stipulations in a treaty between the said United States of America and the Most Christian King, executed at Paris on the 6th day of February, 1778, or any of them, but the same shall be taken and understood consistently with, and conformably to, the said treaty.1

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed to collect and cause to be published 200 correct copies of the declaration of independence, the articles of confederation and perpetual union, the alliances between these United States and his Most Christian Majesty, with the constitutions or forms of government of the several states, to be bound together in boards.
